In addition to delegates from these unions there were also present delegates from Mexican mutual aid societies, which lent their support to the organization of the Confederation.

Sr. Emelio Mujica came to the convention from Mexico as fraternal delegate of the Confederacion Regional Obrera Mexicana, the CROM, but there was no delegate from the American Federation of Labor or from any other American labor union present at the convention.⁴

Among the subjects covered by the resolutions introduced at the convention were the following:

1. That in view of the fact that thousands of Mexican laborers in the United States were already suffering want and deprivations, because of lack of work, the Mexican government and the CROM be urged to obstruct and discourage all further immigration of Mexicans into the United States.

2. That each member of the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions in the United States write at once to his relatives and friends in Mexico urging them not to come to the United States, because of the desperate position in which the Mexican laborers in the United States find themselves.

3. That the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions observe the first day of May, as a labor holiday, instead of Labor day in September.

4. That schools be established by each local labor union for the children of Mexicans.

5. That a pact of solidarity with the American Federation of Labor be negotiated, and

6. That an intensive campaign of organization be instituted.

Other resolutions introduced at the convention condemned several California industrial companies for the manner in which they treat their Mexican laborers.

The convention elected a central committee to carry on the work of the Confederation and to suggest changes to the constitution for consideration by the next convention.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION

The principles enunciated in the new constitution prepared by the Central Committee for submission to the next convention of the Confederation scheduled to be held in Los Angeles in May, 1929,⁵ also emphasizes the class struggle and maintains that "the exploitees, to which belong the greater part of the laborers, have the right to organize the struggle between classes (class struggle) in order to obtain the moral and economical betterment of their conditions up to the complete liberation from the capitalistic tyranny."^{5a}

Article 1 of the General Program of this revised constitution explains that since "the results in the industry are obtained through the efforts of the man, the Confederacion de Uniones Obreras Mexicanas does acknowledge that the industries must be in the hands of those who are capable of maintaining said industries in production." In the fifth and sixth articles of the general program of the new constitution, the Confederation undertakes to "study and determine, in accordance with the Government of Mexico, the best systems of repatriations . . . in order that the laborers that return to Mexico do constitute agricultural cooperatives, and they may obtain land in good condition, and the necessary material help, and to bring action before the Mexican Government for the purpose that the immigration of Mexican laborers into the United States should be duly regulated and limited."

The constitution of the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions calls for the formation of local Federations to be composed of the unions within regions in which there are several local unions. Each Federation must send two delegates to the Central Committee. These delegates, together with a Secretary General, a Secretary for the Interior, a Secretary for the Exterior, a Secretary-Treasurer, and a Secretary for the Acts, constitute the Central Committee. The secretaries of the Central Committee are to be elected at the annual convention of the Confederation.

The Central Committee appoints permanent committees to carry on the work of the Confederation, among which is the Committee of Labor, whose duties are described in the constitution as follows:

To watch over the welfare of the members of the Confederation seeing that the wages are in proportion to the necessities, and to take, when necessary, the legal steps for the purpose but proceeding always with tact and diplomacy.

To try to solve the conflicts between patrons and laborers which may arise because of wages, excessive work, ill treatments, incompetency, unjustifiable discharge, ill behavior, etc., and to assist when necessary the committees of the kind of all and each one of the groups forming the Confederation for the solution of similar cases.

To keep a book of registry of all the conflicts of this nature in which the committee have meddled, and have been solved as well as of those whose solution is pending.⁶

⁵ The Central Committee later decided not to hold the convention until 1930.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE CONFEDERATION

If the importance of the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions in California is to be judged solely by its present membership, it must be considered relatively insignificant. According to a statement made to an investigator for the Fact-Finding Committee by Pascual S. Rodriguez, the present secretary general of the Confederation, the total membership of the Confederation was between 2000 and 3000 in May, 1928, but that its present (March, 1929) dues paying membership is only about 200. The secretary general, however, explained that the membership of the local unions constituting the Confederation fluctuates with the amount of employment which their members have during the year. In the winter months, work is slack, and the Mexican labor unions register small membership, but the membership increases when Mexicans are employed.⁷

The fact that the Mexican laborers are beginning to organize into unions is significant from the standpoint of those employers who look upon Mexican laborers as tractable and docile persons. It appears probable that, if these labor unions will be able to retain and enlarge their membership, they will make attempts to secure better wages and working conditions to justify the existence of their organizations.

Whatever the facts regarding the adequacy of the supply of Mexican labor for the harvesting of California farm products and for the requirements of railroads and industries, it seems that the Mexicans themselves consider that there is already an oversupply of Mexican workers in California, as evidenced by the fact that they have incorporated in their constitution articles pertaining to the limiting of further Mexican immigration into the United States.

Thus far, the several locals of the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions have not affiliated with American city labor councils, but the Central Committee of the Confederation is at present considering affiliation with the Central Labor Council of Los Angeles.⁸

Although the Declaration of Principles of the Confederation's constitution urges the importance of the "class struggle" and the "complete liberation [of the proletariat] from the capitalistic tyranny," it also recognizes the need of organizing "Unions of resistance, under the provisions of the laws of this country." It is interesting that the officials of the Central Committee and of the local Mexican unions interviewed by an investigator for the Fact-Finding Committee reiterated that it was their purpose to carry on the organization of Mexican laborers only as permitted by the laws of the United States. In fact, to insure that their organization is functioning within the laws of California, the question of incorporating the Confederation was the main subject of discussion at the meeting of the Central Committee, held in the Labor Temple in Los Angeles on March 17, 1929. The officials of the Central Committee advised the meeting that such incorporation was not required by law and would serve no useful purpose. It was therefore decided not to incorporate.

⁷ In April, 1929, the Confederacion de Uniones Obreras Mexicanas had under its jurisdiction eleven local unions located in El Modena, Anaheim, Santa Monica, Santa Ana, La Habra, San Bernardino, Glorietta, and Buena Park. There were two locals in Santa Monica and three locals in Santa Ana. In addition, there was also affiliated with the Confederation the Federacion de Uniones del Este, located in El Modena.

THE CONTRACT SYSTEM AND OTHER GRIEVANCES

Prognostications as to the probable future activities of the Mexican labor unions are not within the scope of this report. But the formation of Mexican labor unions in the State of California was considered a fact worth describing. It is equally important to describe some of the working conditions of which the Mexican laborers frequently complain and which give rise to grievances which furnish the ammunition for the Mexican labor propagandists.

It was already noted in a preceding chapter that the large interstate railroads depend primarily upon commissary companies for their Mexican track and section laborers. These commissary companies are afforded the privilege of furnishing to the Mexican track and section laborers board, groceries, and other necessities of life.

These commissary companies do not themselves hire all the Mexican laborers, but instead they depend upon private fee-charging employment agencies to recruit for them the needed numbers of track and section laborers. The Mexican laborers pay fees to the agencies for the railroad jobs. If the laborer happens to be hired directly by the employment office of a commissary company, he does not pay a fee for the same job for which he would have to pay a fee if he were hired through the private employment agency.

The reference to exploitation of Mexican laborers by private employment agencies in the manifesto quoted above relates to the fees which the Mexican laborers pay for railroad and other jobs, which they buy from private employment agencies.

The Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement of the Department of Industrial Relations receives repeated complaints from Mexican laborers regarding overcharges made by agents of commissary companies. These complaints frequently charge that Mexican laborers are coerced into buying supplies from these commissary companies, and that the laborers who refuse to patronize the commissary companies are discharged, or otherwise discriminated against.

The Mexican laborers hired by the commissary companies are given free railroad passes to the places where they are needed by the railroad companies. While en route to their places of work, the commissary company furnishes lunches to the hired laborers for which the laborers are expected to pay. Complaints that the charges for these meals are exorbitant and that they are in effect fees for the jobs were received by the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement. In one case, at least, the division found, upon investigation, that these charges for meals were exorbitant and were disguised employment agency fees.⁹ In a similar case, the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the state of Oregon prosecuted an agent of the same commissary company for charging exorbitant rates for lunches, which the bureau held was in the nature of an employment agency fee. The prosecuted agent was in this case convicted by an Oregon court.

But the thing most frequently complained of by Mexican laborers employed in agricultural pursuits is the labor contract system used in the harvesting of agricultural crops. It is customary for the owner of the crop to enter into an agreement with a labor contractor for the harvesting of the crop. The owner of the crop, who is the land owner, or the lessee of the farm land, agrees to pay to the contractor a stipulated sum of money for the faithful performance of the contract. This contract usually provides for the making of progress payments for the products harvested. The contract also stipulates that a certain percentage of the money (often 25 per cent) which may become due and payable to the contractor for the products harvested is to be retained by the owner of the crop as a guarantee of the proper completion of the contract. The labor contractor hires the laborers and undertakes to pay them their wages, but the laborers must agree that a certain percentage of their wages, equal to the percentage withheld by the owner of the crop, will be withheld until the end of the harvesting, or the completion of the contract.

It is a notorious fact that as a result of this labor contract system many agricultural laborers, Mexicans and others, are often deprived of their full wages. Every now and then one of these labor contractors absconds with the progress payments given him by the crop owner, without paying his laborers. Sometimes, the labor contractor runs off with the final payment which includes the money withheld as a guarantee of the fulfillment of the contract. It also happens that the owner of the crop is unable to meet his payments to the contractor, with the result that the laborers are not paid their wages.

Under the terms of the contract between the labor contractor and the owner of the crop, the latter can not be legally held for the wages lost by the laborers. But the contractor is usually financially irresponsible; so that it is impossible to collect unpaid wages from him. Neither can the laborers resort to the mechanic's lien law, as there is no lien on the crop for labor performed on it.

This labor contract system, in one form or another, is widespread throughout the state and is used in the harvesting of most of the California agricultural crops. The secretary of the San Bernardino local of the Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions told an investigator for the Fact-Finding Committee that it was the main purpose of the local to "fight against the labor contractor." The secretary explained that in picking oranges, the Mexican laborers get from five to eight cents per box, out of which the labor contractor, himself a Mexican, gets one cent. In addition the labor contractor gets twenty-five cents for the transportation of the Mexican laborers from San Bernardino to and from the orange groves, often only a distance of a few miles. He felt that this charge for transportation was too high considering the fact that dozens of Mexicans are transported in motor trucks only short distances. He pointed out that often, on short jobs, when there are only 1000 boxes to pick, the labor contractor gets as many as thirty men to do the work. He collects from every man twenty-five cents for the round trip to and from the orange grove and one cent per box picked. Since thirty men are employed on the job, their earnings are small and inadequate. He also averred that the Mexican laborers have no way of checking whether they get full credit for the boxes of oranges picked by them, and that many boxes get "lost."¹⁰

Whether or not this complaint has merit, the fact is that the Mexican laborers feel that the contract system works to their disadvantage and is used as an unfair means of exploiting them.

On May 24, 1928, the local union of Mexican laborers in Santa Ana issued the following appeal for redress against the labor contractor:

A PETITION FROM THE UNION OF MEXICAN LABORING MEN OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, THE LABOR COMMISSION, AND THE AMERICAN PUBLIC IN GENERAL:

In view of the fact that the Mexican, because of not being acquainted with the language, customs, and laws of the United States, is becoming the prey of professional despoilers, the Mexican laboring people of this city are directing this petition to the Chamber of Commerce, the Labor Commission and to the American people in general:

To the Chamber of Commerce, we solicit your cooperation and influence as far as possible in reaching the proper authorities who can put an end to acts of certain individuals who, in an unjust and arbitrary manner, are taking away from the Mexican workmen much of their wages—even a half, in some cases.

As consumers, the Mexican people can not get along with the small wages received and they contract debts which they can not pay.

Having learned the true conditions, we trust the Chamber of Commerce will cooperate with us in attaining the reasonable ends we desire.

To the Labor Commission we beg that you begin an investigation of two individuals who control our labor, and deprive the Mexican workingman of a large part of his wages. The undersigned is glad and willing to cooperate with your Commission and furnish to you all the necessary information within his reach.

To the American Public: We ask your moral support to the end that this unjust treatment of Mexican workmen may stop. This element, which is a large producer, has the right to obtain the necessities of life.

The American people, with that spirit of justice which has always characterized it can, by showing its interest and influence, help us to win out and secure that to which we feel, we are justly entitled.

Respectfully,

May 28, 1928.

The "two individuals who control our labor" referred to in this petition are labor contractors, themselves Mexicans, through whom some growers of Orange County were hiring Mexican workers. Mr. L. Lucio appeared before the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and charged that the Mexican laborers were receiving only $2.50 per day from the labor contractors, while they were receiving $3.75 per day, per man, from the grower, thus making a profit of $1.25 per day.

After investigating this complaint, the Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana found that the contractors were receiving from the grower

¹⁰ The secretary of this union also said that labor contractors on ditch work for which Mexican laborers were paid at the rate of twelve cents per foot, also frequently cheat the laborers as to the number of feet they dig.

$3 per day for every Mexican laborer furnished by the contractor, and that the contractor was paying these laborers $2.50 per day. The fifty cents retained by the contractor was to cover his transportation charges, to and from work, compensation insurance, and other expenses.

This, and similar complaints of exploitation of Mexican laborers by contractors, was investigated by the Long Beach District Office of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement. The investigation disclosed that the Mexican labor contractor was in effect the employer and that he was hiring laborers at the rate of $2.50 per day, which he was actually paying them. The contractor was not legally obliged to pay his laborers more than he bargained for. The fact that he was receiving $3 per day per man from the grower did not change the situation. He could not be considered an employment agent under the California private employment agency act, because the contractor himself was paying wages to the Mexican laborers whom he hired and whose employer he claimed to be.

In Imperial County, where, as will be seen in the next chapter, the labor contract system was responsible for an abortive strike of Mexican laborers, the growers have recognized some of the evils of the contract system and have taken steps to remedy them.

CHAPTER VII

THE STRIKE OF MEXICAN CANTALOUPE PICKERS

Early in May, 1928, while the Fact-Finding Committee was carrying on its investigation of the Mexican immigration problem in California, there occurred a labor disturbance in the Imperial Valley which attracted state-wide attention. This disturbance, as will be seen in the following report, manifested itself in an abortive strike of Mexican cantaloupe pickers against the provision of the labor contract in the Imperial Valley. As soon as this labor trouble began, Mr. Will J. French, Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, sent the statistician of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement to make a complete investigation of the causes and effects of the difficulties which the growers were experiencing with their Mexican laborers. Since the investigator's report, heretofore unpublished, has a direct bearing upon the Mexican labor problem in California, it is made the subject of this chapter and is produced below substantially in its original form.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS
DIVISION OF LABOR STATISTICS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT
STATE BUILDING, SAN FRANCISCO

May 26, 1928.

REPORT ON THE STRIKE OF THE IMPERIAL VALLEY CANTALOUPE PICKERS

Hon. Will J. French, Director,
Department of Industrial Relations,
State of California,
State Building, San Francisco.

Sir:

In compliance with your instructions, I visited the Imperial Valley to investigate the causes and conditions of employment which led to the strike of the cantaloupe pickers and to ascertain the facts surrounding the arrests of many Mexican laborers. In order to secure an impartial and unbiased account of facts which resulted in the incarceration and subsequent release of about sixty cantaloupe pickers, I interviewed Mr. Elmer W. Heald, district attorney of the Imperial County, Mr. Charles L. Gillett, sheriff of the Imperial County, officials of the Union of Workers of the Imperial Valley, officials, superintendents and field men of employers, and several jailed workers. I also conferred with Messrs. Hermolao E. Torres, vice consul of Mexico, and Alfred Blaisdell, attorney for the vice consul and for the arrested Mexican workers.

While I hesitate burdening you with a lengthy report on a labor disturbance which already appears to have been practically settled, I feel that a thorough understanding of the origin of this labor trouble requires a detailed explanation of the working conditions of cantaloupe pickers, who are mostly immigrant alien Mexican laborers.

The Picking Agreement

The picking of cantaloupes in the Imperial Valley begins early in May and lasts about eight weeks. Approximately, between 4500 to 5000 male workers are engaged in the harvesting of this crop. The preponderant majority of these men are Mexicans, but Filipinos and other Orientals are also working on some ranches as cantaloupe pickers. The bulk of the cantaloupe acreage is around Brawley, Westmoreland, and Holtville.

Before the season's picking begins, the grower of the melons, who in most cases leases the land from an absentee landlord, enter into a picking agreement with a labor contractor. This contractor is usually a Mexican, but there are also Japanese, Filipino, and Hindoo contractors. There is a standard picking agreement in the Imperial Valley which is used with slight variations by all growers, large or small. This agreement makes it obligatory upon the labor contractor to furnish sufficient help to harvest the crop in a workmanlike manner. The grower obligates himself to make weekly payments to the labor contractor, who is referred to as the "picker," for all crates of melons accepted by the distributor, less 25 per cent of the total amount of money which may become due to the contractor. This percentage is retained by the grower until the completion of the contract as a guarantee of the fulfillment of its conditions. The contract emphasizes the fact that "the picker" is an "independent contractor" and stipulates that the pickers hired by the contractor are his own employees for whose acts or omissions the grower is not responsible. The contract further provides that the contractor, not the grower, must comply with the requirements of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

It is a fact that in most cases, the labor contractor, is financially no more responsible than are the Mexican laborers whom he hires to do the picking. If the contractor gets from the grower $13\frac{1}{2}$ cents per standard crate of melons, he usually retains half a cent for his work of hiring others and for his responsibility of handling and distributing the money received from the grower. Some contractors board the pickers and before paying them they make the proper deductions to cover the board bills. Several of the growers whom I interviewed professed that they did not know how the contractor distributed the money among his workers. It is more or less of a cooperative arrangement whereby the contractor acts as the intermediary between the growers and the pickers. It saves the grower the trouble of hiring each worker and of keeping a record of his account. At the end of the season, the grower pays to the contractor for the last week's crates marketed plus the percentage held to insure the completion of the contract.

The difficulties with the contract usually start towards the end of the season. Sometimes the contractor absconds with the last payment he receives from the grower and leaves his workers stranded without the wages for their last week's work and minus the 25 per cent withheld from season's wages. If the contractor is honest enough and willing to pay his workers, his intentions are sometimes checkmated by the failure of the grower to make the last payment to the contractor. The growers are often financed by other persons and a bad market, poor management, or an unsuccessful crop leaves them without funds before the season is over. There is another aspect to this situation. In some cases the grower makes a contract with a Japanese contractor to cultivate, pick, and pack the crop. The Japanese contractor in turn lets out the picking and the packing contracts to other contractors. In some cases, this Japanese contractor fails to pay the picking or packing contractor to the detriment of their respective workers.

These defalcations are not infrequent, and the Mexican laborers in the Imperial Valley have suffered considerably on account of them. The records of the El Centro office of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement are replete with cases of defaulting contractors. Where the contractor absconds with the last payment received from the grower, it is almost next to impossible to do anything for the laborers affected. The grower can not be held, because it was the contractor, not the grower, who hired them and who was supposed to pay them their wages. If a crop failure, a bad market, or poor management is responsible for the financial reverses of the grower, and the contractor does not get paid, the workers are deprived not only of their last week's pay but also of the 25 per cent of the season's wages. The perennial defalcations of the contractors or of the growers have resulted in genuine dissatisfaction with the contract system on the part of Mexican laborers. Not only do they complain that they often do not get their wages at the end of the season, but they also claim that the contractor often shorts them and pays them for less crates than they pick.

Although the labor contractor is not a new phenomenon in the Imperial Valley, at least one of the provisions of the picking agreement, and of similar agreements, is probably illegal. It is very doubtful whether the contractor who hires the picker on a piece work basis may legally withhold 25 per cent of every week's wages.¹

La Union de Trabajadores Del Valle Imperial (The Union of Workers of the Imperial Valley)

The difficulties which the Mexican laborers have been experiencing with the labor contractors are undoubtedly, in large measure, responsible for the organization of the Union of Workers of the Imperial Valley. I was told by Sr. Hermolao E. Torres, vice consul of Mexico, that Sr. Carlos V. Ariza, former consul of Mexico in Calexico conceived the idea of organizing the Mexican laborers. Mr. Ariza was consul of Mexico in Calexico for several years and during his term of office he was frequently called upon by his countrymen to help them collect their wages from defaulting contractors. Mr. Ariza would naturally call upon the El Centro office of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement for assistance in these matters. While our El Centro office collected many thousands of dollars for the Mexican laborers, in many instances our El Centro office was unable to collect the wages of workers of the Imperial Valley whose employers were irresponsible labor contractors, or growers. Mr. Ariza was aware of the facts surrounding the working conditions of the Mexican workers in the Imperial Valley, and he apparently considered these conditions as justifying the formation of a Union of Mexican Workers. I was told by Mr. Torres that Mr. Ariza had addressed several organization meetings which resulted in the formation of La Union de Trabajadores Del Valle Imperial.²

When Mr. Carlos V. Ariza ceased to be consul of Mexico he joined a firm of American attorneys in El Centro, to act as Spanish interpreter and to get an enlarged Mexican clientele. The services of this firm of attorneys were engaged to incorporate the union under the laws of the State of California. It is the belief of Mr. Elmer Heald, district attorney of the Imperial county, that Mr. Ariza was not directly responsible for the strike which followed the organization of the union. From what I could gather on this subject, the former Mexican consul of Calexico decided that he would have nothing further to do with the union as soon as its members went on strike and a number of its members got into difficulties and public opinion was aroused against them. I am citing Mr. Ariza's part in the formation of the union only because many people in the Imperial Valley blamed him for the strike of the Mexican laborers. Personally, I believe that if it were not for Mr. Ariza, the union would probably have been organized anyway. I am basing my belief upon the fact that similar Mexican unions have been very recently organized throughout southern California and that one of the principal aims of these unions is to do away with the labor contracting system. (I am referring to the Confederacion De Uniones Obreras Mexicanas.)

The Incorporation of the Union

The union was organized in the latter part of April. Its board of directors was selected on April 22, 1928. Its birth was announced in the Imperial Valley under the name of the "Mexican Labor Union of the Imperial Valley, Inc." or as the "Union of United Workers of Imperial Valley." The original articles of incorporation as prepared by the firm of attorneys referred to in the preceding paragraph carried the name of "Union of United Workers of the Imperial Valley, Inc." But the original articles were returned by our Secretary of State because they did not specify under which Civil Code the incorporation was wanted. The attorneys took advantage of it and changed the name of the union to "Mexican Mutual Aid Society of Imperial Valley." The revised articles of incorporation were sent to the Secretary of State at Sacramento on May 15, 1928. The objects of this society as set forth in article II of the articles of incorporation are, among others, "to assist and protect the members in their dealings with other persons and to counsel and advise the members in all matters pertaining to their respective contracts of employment, and to assist the members in the collection of moneys and wages due the *members as a result of their work and employment in Imperial Valley.*³ The headquarters of this union are in El Centro, but the location of its largest local is in Brawley. Branches of the union were also organized in Westmoreland and in Calipatria. The officers of the union claimed to have 1200 members, as of May 4, 1928, in El Centro, Brawley, Westmoreland and Calipatria. Branches of the union have been organized in these places.

The Demands

During the first week in May, when the growers were getting ready to sign up the labor contractors, they were surprised to receive written demands from the union of Mexican laborers. These demands, which were delivered by messengers to the principal companies operating in the Imperial Valley, were couched in very respectful language. The officers of the Brawley branch of the union visited the secretary of the Brawley Chamber of Commerce, and asked him to help them negotiate with the employers. While the secretary did not consider all their demands excessive, he declined the honor of acting as their intermediary. A statement of the wages and working conditions wanted by the union, signed by the president, secretary, and treasurer, was also addressed to the Chamber of Commerce of El Centro. The officers of the union asked the cooperation of the El Centro Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to secure improved working conditions. The following is an exact copy of the statement of wages and working conditions requested by the union and delivered to the principal cantaloupe growers during the first week in May, 1928:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN :

Hereby we make to your acknowledgement, that on the 22d day of April, of the year 1928, was formed the board of directors of the Union of United Workers of Imperial Valley, State of California.

By the same means we opportunely believe on directing to you, soliciting your valuable help for a convenience agreement to the picking season of cantaloupes, tomatoes and watermelons.

In accordance with the bad occasions that we've had in the past years, it makes us necessary of a better understanding of our business among the Mexican people residing as strangers in the United States. We want to keep on cooperating with our hand of labor, but we claim a more liberal wages, enough to cover our most urgent necessities of the actual situations, and we hereby propose to you gentlemen the points of our wishes.

During the year we scarcely work 185 days, of which we acquire the sum of $555 in which we couldn't meet our expenses of alimentation, clothing, house rent, medicine, automobile, and other small exigents.

As you understand, with this amount above stated, we live in the most unhonorable and miserable way, in our concept. For instance, you know that the picking season of cantaloupes is at hand, and we make to your acknowledgment that the prices we are asking for are very reasonable according to justice of the companies and we union laborers.

We hereby note the prices in accordance with all the laborers and were approved convenient, and we hereby wait for the approval of the honorable companies. The fact is that in the past years in cases like the present, they have demonstrated their willing attitude as we've said before in our sacrifices, in compliments of our labors, for such reason we wish that the prices we ask for will be approved.

Therefore, we ask of your valuable moral and material influence to our petition before the companies.

³ The italics are mine.

For the above anticipated, this union retires, giving you many thanks for the present.

Yours truly,

When these demands were delivered, several of the companies had already signed up their labor contractors at the rate of $13\frac{1}{2}$ cents per standard crate. The union asked for 15 cents per crate. In addition, the union also asked that the companies give the workers free ice for the drinking water in the fields and also that the companies furnish the picking sacks free of charge. In some cases the growers furnished a certain amount of ice free; other growers furnished sacks free; still other growers charged the cantaloupe pickers for the ice and sacks. The growers did not consider the demand for 15 cents and free ice and sacks too unreasonable, but they felt that the demand for 75 cents per hour and other demands were exorbitant. The prevailing hourly rate last year and in former years for cantaloupe picking was between 50 and 60 cents.⁴ The growers did not want to recognize, or negotiate with, the union, because they felt that the union did not represent the preponderant majority of the Mexican cantaloupe pickers who were willing to work under the established working conditions.

Refusal to Sign the Picking Agreement

The presentation of the union's demands was synchronized with and was followed by the refusal of cantaloupe pickers to go to work on the basis of the old working conditions. From what I could gather the union did not plan a strike at this time, but hoped to come to an agreement with the employers through conciliatory means. The union, however, lost control of its members and of its sympathizers, with the result that a spontaneous strike occurred on most of the ranches in and about Brawley and Westmoreland. The Mexican laborers who were already on the ranches preparatory to their going to work were not united as to their desire to strike for better working conditions. According to the reports I could gather, some of them refused to work; while most of them were willing to start, or continue picking melons.

The growers became genuinely alarmed. Heretofore they have been accustomed to considering the Mexican workers as bovine and tractable individuals, best adapted to the climatic conditions in the Imperial Valley and therefore the most desirable workers in the valley. The organization of a union of Mexican laborers seems to have evoked in the growers an ardent wish for its earliest demise. While the growers recognize the right of the Mexican laborers to organize into a legitimate union, they feel that such union might hamper the orderly and amicable relations which had heretofore existed between them and their Mexican laborers.

Arrests on the Sears Ranch

The first four Mexican laborers arrested were Juan Barcelo, David Lopez, Pamila Merano and Jose Diaz. They were arrested on May 7, and arraigned before Hon. H. B. Griffin, Justice of the Peace of the Brawley Township. These four defendants were charged by Deputy Sheriff Geo. W. Wright with disturbing the peace, but they pleaded "not guilty" and were confined in the county jail in default of $1,000 bail each, fixed by Judge Griffin. These four Mexicans were arrested on the Baughman ranch of Sears Bros. Co.⁵ The circumstances surrounding this arrest were related to me by Mr. E. L. Sears himself. The facts in the case as given me by Mr. Sears are substantially as follows:

The Sears Bros. Co. had already signed up with the labor contractor at the rate of $13\frac{1}{2}$ cents per crate. The company always furnished 100 pounds of free ice daily, but did not furnish the picking sacks. For about three or four days prior to May the seventh the Mexicans argued whether they should or should not go to work on the basis of the labor contract already signed. About half of the thirty laborers on the ranch were willing to work; while the other half insisted on the union contract.⁶ The recalcitrant workers harangued and argued with willing workers and prevented them from beginning to pick the melons. The fifteen union workers threatened and tried to take away the sacks from the other fifteen pickers who were ready to start working. My informant, Mr. Sears, lost patience with the disturbers and discharged them, ordering them to leave the company's property. The discharged laborers, however, insisted that they had a right to remain in the camp, on the company's property, and produced a letter from the union authorizing them to remain on the premises. Needless to say, this letter did not exercise a profound influence upon Mr. Sears. He called upon the district attorney and immediately secured the services of the sheriff, who came to the ranch and arrested the four defendants already referred to. These four were the only ones who were left on the ranch out of the fifteen laborers who had first refused to move off the company's property. Eleven laborers had apparently left the premises before the sheriff arrived on the scene.

Deputy Sheriffs Mobilized

What transpired on the Sears' ranch is typical of what took place on other ranches in the disturbed cantaloupe district about Brawley and Westmoreland. The Mexican laborers were agitated and were eagerly awaiting the outcome of their first efforts at organization. They gathered in pool rooms and on street corners in Brawley and Westmoreland, discussing loudly and vociferously the affairs of their union, their difficulties with their employers, and the jailing of their countrymen. Although the weather was rather cool and the melons were not ripening as rapidly as they would have, had it been warmer, the growers became anxious lest they would suffer partial loss of their crop. The full weight of the law was called into action. The sheriff was authorized to deputize willing assistants. About forty men were made deputy sheriffs, some of whom were the field inspectors, foremen and superintendents of the growers.⁷

The Arrest of the District Attorney's Visitors

Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney of the Imperial County, sent for a number of Mexican laborers to come to his office to tell him what the trouble was about, and to advise them of their duties and rights under the laws. On May 8th, about three o'clock in the afternoon, twelve Mexican laborers assembled in front of the county courthouse in El Centro preparatory to their meeting with the district attorney. Sheriff Gillett was not aware of the purpose of these men's visit in El Centro; so he arrested them and booked them "held for investigation." But when about an hour later the district attorney missed his invited visitors, the sheriff discovered his error and released the prisoners.⁸

Other Arrests

The county officials were determined to stamp out all signs of law-breaking and to prevent possible violence and possible serious damage to the crops. On May 9th, the sheriff and his deputies were most active in their efforts to enforce the law. On that day they arrested thirty-six Mexican laborers. Most of these men were picked up on a ranch four miles north of Westmoreland, under circumstances similar to those attending the arrest of the first four laborers on the Sears ranch. Thirty-three of the jailed Mexican laborers were booked by the sheriff as "vagrants," but the complaint which was filed against them by Geo. W. Wright, deputy sheriff, on May 11th, charged them with "disturbing the peace."⁹ These laborers were held in jail until May 17th, in default of $250 bail each.¹⁰ On that day they were ⁷ I did not ascertain the exact number of men who were deputized by the sheriff, but the newspapers in the valley said that between 40 and 60 men were deputized. I heard the sheriff testify in the superior court that he deputized about forty citizens.

⁹ The following Mexican laborers were arrested on May 9th. M. S. Turazas, M. Comocho, Filberto Rico, Jose Garcia, Julio Lozano, Jose Chavez, E. Garcia, A. Martinez, E. Guin, Agapito Arroyo, Francisco Sistos, B. Ramirez, Anolinio Perez, L. Chavez, Jesus Chaves, Martin Perez, Joaquin Somaudio, C. B. Billala, Abalino Guillen, Julian Perez, A. Arazco, Undeladia Riello, Mart Samudio, Robilo Eschario, Louis Escaran, Juan Sepulvia, Salvador Modehka, V. Ramirez, Pino Pacheco, Portfoilo Estrado, Antonio Artiz, Elardio Humanez, Louis Torres, Juan Vega, Jose Gonzales, Apolino Guterez.

¹⁰ Filberto Rico was held until May 14th in default of $1,000 bail. He was charged with disturbing the peace, but was released "by order of the district attorney" on May 14th. Jose Gonzales, Apolino Guterez, M. C. Turazaz, and Mr. Comocho were released on May 11th. The sheriff's record shows that they were released "by order of the district attorney." Louis Torres and Juan Vega pleaded guilty on May 16th, and were given 30 days suspended jail sentences.

Arrested for Resisting an Officer

On May 10th, Sheriff Charles L. Gillett arrested Abraham Perez, Thomas Rodriguez, Felix Rodriguez, and his wife, Francisca Rodriguez. These defendants were booked in the sheriff's office for "resisting an officer." The complaint filed against them by Geo. W. Wright charged them with "disturbing the peace."

The sheriff said that when he entered the Westmoreland pool hall owned by Thomas Rodriguez he was shoved out of the place by the crowd of Mexicans who were assembled there. He thereupon arrested the three Rodriguez and Abraham Perez. An entirely different version of the story was given me by Mrs. Francisca Rodriguez. This is substantially her story: On May 10th, at about ten-thirty in the morning, the sheriff entered the pool hall and found about six Mexican laborers chatting. The sheriff ordered Felix Rodriguez to tell the assembled Mexicans to leave the pool hall and to go to work. Her husband refused to do it. Mr. Gillett then informed Rodriguez that he was the sheriff, and repeated his order. Rodriguez still refused to order his customers out of the pool hall. Thereupon, the sheriff drew his gun. Mrs. Francisca Rodriguez grabbed the sheriff's arm to prevent him from striking or shooting her husband. The sheriff thereupon arrested the three Rodriguez, and Abraham Perez, who was also on the premises. On May 11th, these four defendants were released by order of Justice F. T. Cook of Westmoreland, who accepted their own bonds of $250 each. Their trial is still pending, but the trial date is not set.

More Arrests

On May 11th Frank Hernandez was arrested in El Centro and was charged with "disturbing the peace." His bail was set at $1,000, which he could not furnish. Frank Hernandez was one of the strike leaders, and was born in Arizona. Manuel Alcantar was arrested in Westmoreland on May 13th, was charged with disturbing the peace, and was released on May 14th "by order of the sheriff." Jesus Avalos was arrested in Brawley on May 13th, and was charged with disturbing the peace. He was turned over to the U. S. Immigration authorities in Calexico.¹¹ Manuel Murietta was arrested in Brawley on May 13th, and was charged with disturbing the peace. On May 16th, he pleaded guilty and was given a ninety days suspended jail sentence. A. M. Maldonado was arrested in Brawley on May 14th. He was booked "held for investigation," and was released on May 16th.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings

The trials of Juan Barcello, David Lopez, Pamilla Merano and Jose Diaz, who were arrested in Brawley on May 7th and were lodged in jail in default of $1,000 bail each, was set for June 7, 1928. The trial of Frank Hernandez, arrested on May 11th and held in default of $1,000 bail, was also set for June 7, 1928. Attorney Alfred Blaisdell of Calexico, who was retained to defend the jailed Mexican laborers, filed two writs of habeas corpus in the superior court in El Centro; one on behalf of Frank Hernandez; the other on behalf of Barcello, Lopez, Merano and Diaz.

The hearings on these writs took place on May 15th before Judge A. C. Finney.¹² The hearings disclosed that the immediate reason for the arrest of Frank Hernandez was that one of Sheriff Gillett's secret service men had spotted Hernandez as one of the chief labor agitators responsible for the Mexican labor trouble. Sheriff Gillett also testified that several years ago the same Hernandez was wanted by the county authorities for having run away with a pay roll and the wife of one of his employees. But it was also revealed during the hearings on this writ of habeas corpus that Hernandez was not a recent arrival in the Imperial Valley and that the county authorities could have apprehended him long before he was arrested in El Centro. Judge Finney held that under the circumstances the bail of $1,000 was not excessive and that the date of the trial, June 7th, was only less than thirty days after his arrest and was therefore reasonable under the circumstances. The upshot of this decision was that the next day Frank Hernandez appeared in Judge Mayfield's court in El Centro, pleaded guilty and took a six months' suspended jail sentence. This was the result of an understanding with the district attorney's office, who offered to recommend a suspended sentence for him if he would plead guilty and if he would return to Arizona where he was born. Frank Hernandez left the Imperial County.

¹¹ On May 16th, Mr. Herbert Hadley, Inspector in Charge of the port of entry in Calexico, told me that of two Mexicans turned over to him by Sheriff Gillett, he released one and returned the other into the custody of the sheriff. Neither of the two were subject to deportation.

David Lopez, one of the other four defendants, on whose behalf the second writ of habeas corpus was filed, was not brought into court. I subsequently learned that on the morning of the fifteenth of June, he decided to plead guilty and to accept a six months' suspended jail sentence. The district attorney recommended that the sentence be suspended during good behavior.

As regards Barcelo, Merano and Diaz, Judge Finney ruled that the bail be reduced from $1,000 to $500. The bail might have remained at $1,000, as Merano and Diaz remained in jail until May 19th. On that day they changed their plea of not guilty to guilty, and were sentenced to ninety days in the county jail by Judge H. B. Griffin of Brawley. The sentences were suspended upon the recommendation of the district attorney. Juan Barcelo furnished bond for his appearance and was released on May 18th. It should be added that after the hearing in the superior court on May 15th, the defendants, Barcelo, Merano and Diaz, were moved to less desirable quarters in the county jail. Whether this was calculated to expedite their plea of guilty, or whether it was necessary as a disciplinary measure, I did not ascertain.

Stern Justice

Mr. Charles L. Gillett has been sheriff of the Imperial County for about six years, but the hot sun of the Imperial Valley did not vitiate his ardent enthusiasm for law enforcement. Prompted by an intuitive sense of justice and spurred on by the requirements of the occasion, he sallied forth undauntedly to bring order out of the chaos which threatened to engulf the land of the cantaloupes. Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney, told me that he believed that oppression breeds radicalism "but that under the circumstances I did not know how else I could handle the situation." Neither could the sheriff see any other way of handling the situation. He stated time and again that he did not care how many unions the Mexicans organized, but that so long as he was sheriff he would permit no agitation, intimidation, or interference with the harvesting of the cantaloupe crop by the willing workers. By virtue of his office of Sheriff of the Imperial County, he ordered three Mexican and one Negro pool halls in Westmoreland closed, and he instructed his deputy in Westmoreland to arrest the proprietors should they dare to violate his injunction. The reason for this order was that pool halls are the workers' gathering places, and in times of labor trouble, pool halls might be used for meetings, at which fiery and gesticulating orators might agitate. The sheriff also ordered the union office at Brawley closed, and advised the union officers and others that he would arrest those who would attempt to open the union office. Neither the pool halls nor the union office were open on May 18th, when I left the Imperial Valley.¹⁹

In a preceding paragraph I have already pointed out that Sheriff Gillett had turned over two of his prisoners to the U. S. Immigration authorities. Further evidence of his determination to stamp out the labor trouble may be gleaned from the following quotation from Imperial Valley Press of May 9, 1928: "In warning the men at the jail yesterday afternoon, the sheriff made it clear that quick justice would be meted out to anyone caught seeking to bring about a riotous gathering and warned those that are not satisfied with conditions here that they might better return to Mexico. He intimated that at the first outbreak of any kind as a result of the movement now afoot, a general deportation movement of all Mexican laborers employed in the valley would begin. In closing his talk the sheriff made it clear that those abiding by the laws and not taking part in the strike movement would not be molested in any way."

The sheriff's talk did not fall upon deaf ears. What the Mexicans thought of it can be learned by reading the article translated from a Spanish newspaper published in Mexicali. The article suggests, in part, that if the Mexicans are threatened with deportation for "their peaceful demand * * * to have their salaries raised one cent * * * the North-American oilmen, who have made such strenuous efforts in Mexico for the reformation of our oil legislation, will find it much more practical to leave Mexico if they do not like our way of handling matters." Another paragraph in this article reads as follows: "When the people of the United States stood before the formidable problem of agricultural domination by the Japanese in California, they stopped the yellow immigrants without a moment's hesitation. Why should our Mexican laborers not be allowed to organize according to the law of the United States for the better protection against those Japanese ranchers who, in the Imperial Valley, have been a source of constant trouble to our consul and to the North American authorities on account of non-fulfillment of labor contracts with Mexicans and of nonpayment of their salaries." No mention is made in the article of defaulting Mexican labor contractors.

¹⁹ The district attorney told me on May 18th that he had advised the sheriff on that day to permit the pool halls to be opened. If the pool halls will become disorderly, he will recommend the revocation of their licenses.

I have quoted these paragraphs to depict the feelings which were engendered during the labor trouble in the Imperial Valley.

The county authorities were determined to stop what threatened to become a general strike and what might have resulted in serious riots. Undoubtedly many innocent Mexican laborers were arrested on charges of vagrancy and disturbing the peace, but it is equally certain the arrests would have been made if the strikers were other aliens or were native-born citizens. Of the three prisoners I interviewed, one, Juan Vega, was born in Clifton, Arizona; another, Manuel Camacho, 19 years old, has been 11 years in the United States; while the third, C. B. Bilalos, 18 years old, has been 8 years in the United States. The trio were picked up, with many others, on the Larson ranch, four miles north of Westmoreland. They claimed that they did not know what they were arrested for and averred that they were entirely innocent.

While, as I have just stated, many of the arrested Mexicans were undoubtedly innocent of either vagrancy or disturbing the peace, it is also unquestionably true that others were guilty as charged—at least, technically. In the melee the authorities found it impractical to separate the culprits from the innocent and therefore resorted to the expedient of wholesale arrests. Refugio Rios, secretary of the Brawley branch of the Mexican Labor Union of the Imperial Valley, issued a statement which was published in the Imperial Valley Press and in the Brawley News, on May 10, 1928, disavowing all overt acts on the part of the members of the union and reiterating that the union was established for the betterment of the living conditions of the members and to "protect them and help them in the difficulties, principally in matters connected with the payment of their wages for day labor or of their compensation for contract work, from which contracts during a number of years, our people have experienced considerable trouble in getting full payment for the work performed by them."

The sheriff's decisiveness in rounding up and incarcerating actual and potential disturbers of the peace undoubtedly had the effect of stopping a movement which might have resulted in an effective general strike and in heavy losses to the growers.

Anonymous Circulars

Not one of the many persons whom I interviewed in the Imperial Valley could give me a coherent account of the causes which led to the strike and of the incidents which brought about the numerous arrests. Every one seemed to have another version of the story; so that I had to gather documentary evidence to check up the conclusions which I was forming during my investigation.

I secured, among other documents, copies of anonymous circulars which were apparently printed by the growers. In one of these circulars the attention of the Mexican laborers is called to the fact that they owed loyalty to the growers and shippers of the Imperial Valley in return for their united opposition to legislation proposed in congress to put Mexicans under the quota restriction laws. Two other circulars are not so conciliatory in tone. They warn the Mexican laborers of the Imperial Valley that thousands of outside Mexican and other laborers are ready to be imported into the valley to take the place of the striking cantaloupe pickers. Since these circulars are not too long, I am quoting them below in full.

MEXICANS:

WORKERS LOOK OUT!

Federal officers of the United States are watching the working conditions in the Imperial Valley.

You know that the Imperial Valley growers and shippers have expended thousands of dollars for their cause. They have sent representatives to Washington in order to fight legislation which may prevent you from entering this country.

Many of you, who are now in the Imperial Valley, would have to return to your country with little chance of coming back to the United States, were it not for the valley growers and shippers who have spent their time and money in your behalf.

Remember this. If you fail to cooperate, the same men who have given their time and their money to get you into this country and to protect you here, the same men will turn against you. They will use their funds and their influence to have you brought back to your country and your chances of seeing the United States again will be rather remote. Remember this carefully before cooperating with those who are working solely for their own interests and who enrich themselves at your expense. They have nothing to lose. You lose everything and gain nothing.

ATTENTION MEXICAN WORKERS:

The organization of the Imperial Valley Growers and Shippers of Melons offers you a regular wage scale which you pay to organizers who defraud you and who are not interested in your personal wellbeing. Remember the sufferings you had to endure several years ago. You were then persuaded to enter an organization which seized your money and deprived you of your profits.

At the present time the Imperial Valley planters have mobilized, all through Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, thousands of Mexican laborers who are ready to come to the Imperial Valley at short notice and who will seize your work. The railway company is prepared to bring these workers to the valley within twenty-four hours.

The manager of the union of said organized districts tells them not to be afraid. This is true. Many of you know that, just now, more men are out of work in the West than in former years.

So don't be deceived. Many of you have your families and your homes in the Imperial Valley. If they introduce outside workers there, you and your families will have to suffer. Even though you might be willing to work and to accept the wage scale offered by the growers and shippers, the laborers from outside will, nevertheless, seize your work and you will then be in need.

This information is furnished you by experts who are interested in your welfare, while the paid organizers merely try to defraud you and to have you included in their lists.

Many of you have prospects of obtaining work. Accept it at once. Tomorrow it may be too late.

ATTENTION MEXICAN WORKERS:

In reply to these circulars, the Imperial Valley Workers' Union issued a circular warning the "companions" to be on guard against "knaves," and "Isariots" and assuring striking cantaloupe pickers that "no workers will arrive from other parts."

Suspended Sentences in Exchange for Pleas of Guilty

When the arrests of the Mexican laborers started, Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney, made it clear that he would be willing to recommend suspended jail sentences for those who would voluntarily plead guilty.¹⁴ Mr. Heald felt that he had sufficient evidence to convict the arrested laborers; that if they could be released it would save the county the expense of feeding them; and that if they did not behave after their release, it would be a relatively easy matter to return them to jail to serve their suspended sentences. In several cases, as shown in a foregoing section of this report, the defendants pleaded guilty and received the suspended sentences. I am inclined to believe that in these cases the defendants did not consider themselves guilty, but decided that, since they could not furnish the bail, it was best for them to accept the bargain offered by the county officials.

The trial of the thirty-three laborers was scheduled to take place on May 17th before F. T. Cook, justice of the peace of Westmoreland Township. But the prisoners were not brought into court. Mr. Law, a deputy district attorney, explained that Sheriff Gillett had to appear in a federal court in San Diego and that therefore they could not try the cases. He asked that the trial be put off for about ten days, because the district attorney's office was too busy to go to trial sooner. In the meantime, he asked the judge that the prisoners be kept in jail in default of bail. Mr. Blaisdell strongly objected to the failure of the sheriff to bring the prisoners into court and pointed to that fact as proof that the district attorney's office and the sheriff took it for granted that the court would grant the postponement. He asked that the prisoners be released on their own recognizances. The judge did not want the prisoners "to go out and raise hell," but neither was he inclined to feed them at the expense of the county. Mr. Law, the deputy district attorney, would not approve of the idea of the letting out of the prisoners on their own recognizances; however, he withdrew his objections to Mr. Blaisdell's motion. The judge then ruled in favor of the prisoners, and the trial was set for June 6, 1928.

Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney, was not pleased with the release of the laborers without bond. "If the judge would hold them on bail," Mr. Heald told me the day after the release of the prisoners, "they would enter pleas of guilty next day and would go to work and behave themselves. I instructed the deputy to insist on bail."

Conclusion

Mr. Gillett asserted, and several company officials alleged, that radicals and "reds" were directing the strike of the cantaloupe pickers and were causing dissatisfaction among them. But I could find no tangible evidence to support this view. Certainly, the fact that the union officials sought to enlist the Chambers of Commerce as their go-between does not lend credence to this theory.

However, with the exception of the subdued anxiety and interest which hovers about the pending trials of the thirty-three men, released on their own recognizances, and of the pending trials of Abraham Perez, Felix Rodriguez, his wife Francisca Rodriguez, Tomas Rodriguez, and Juan Barcelo, things are now relatively quiet in the Imperial Valley. The growers, of course, would not deal with the union, although most of them decided to pay the 15 cents per standard crate, as demanded by the union.

But, although the incident of the strike is over, the major issues involved in the strike remain. Further consideration must be given to the requests of the Mexican laborers: (1) for better housing conditions; (2) for safeguards against defaulting contractors, and (3) for proper insurance under the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of the State of California.

Mr. Elmer Heald, who, as district attorney, handled many cases of defaulting labor contractors, expressed his opinion to the effect that the contract system must go. He felt that the growers must find a way of protecting the wages earned by their pickers and other laborers. If the agreement, which permits the contractor to withhold 20 or 25 per cent from the laborers' wages is illegal, that portion of the contract should be changed or amended, or, else, the amount withheld should be deposited in the bank, as requested by the Mexican laborers. These matters deserve the immediate and serious attention on the part of the employers of labor in the Imperial Valley. Working conditions which give rise to real and justifiable grievances can not be remedied by rough threats of deportation or by smooth talk of loyalty to the employers in exchange for past favors. Better future amicable relations between the growers and their laborers will be assured only by directing attention to the fundamental causes of the strike, rather than by resorting to the easier expedient of hurling time-worn and ineffective accusations of radicalism and red propagandism.

Respectfully submitted.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

On May 31, 1928, Mr. Louis Bloch handed the preceding report on the strike to Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney of Imperial County. On the same day, after reading the report. Mr. Heald, in an interview with Mr. Bloch, said the following regarding his own position during the strike.

Mr. Heald felt that while the report was on the whole correct and accurate as to details, it gave the erroneous impression that the district attorney's office was unreasonable in its conduct during the labor troubles described in the report. "I told you," said Mr. Heald, "that I had nothing against the Mexicans organizing; that they had a perfect right to form a union and demand more wages from their employers. I told this to the organizers of the union who came to my office, and I made my position in the matter quite clear to them." It was the intention of the district attorney's office, according to Mr. Heald, to prevent possible violence or bloodshed as a result of the strike. The cantaloupe pickers use knives in their work, and he was afraid that these knives might be used against one another if the strike would assume violent proportions. Mr. Heald told the Mexicans who came to his office that they had a right to strike, but that they had to move off the employer's property if they did not want to work for the employer, and that they had no right whatever to interfere with the men who wished to work. He denied also that he had given any encouragement to Sheriff Gillett to arrest Mexican laborers indiscriminately. Mr. Heald said that he had no hand whatever in the arrest of the thirty-three Mexicans in Westmoreland and Brawley—he knew nothing of their arrest until he saw them in jail through his office window. The sheriff acted on his own initiative in this connection, and the sheriff did not ask the advice of the district attorney before arresting these Mexicans.

Mr. Heald said that he could have convicted Frank Hernandez, but that he recommended a suspended sentence for him because he wanted to be lenient with him. He said that Frank Hernandez was known to be all over the valley during the strike. He ran about between Westmoreland and Brawley and was on all ranches instigating trouble.

Mr. Heald repeated that it was his policy to be lenient with all those who volunteered to plead guilty, because he was interested primarily in preventing threatened violence and possible bloodshed.

In this interview Mr. Heald again stated his belief that something should be done to rectify the present iniquitous provisions of the labor contract. He said that he would be willing to cooperate with the Department of Industrial Relations to the full extent in preventing abuses which arise as a result of the present labor contract prevalent in the Imperial Valley.

DISMISSAL OF CHARGES

The trial of the thirty-three Mexican laborers, released on their own recognizances on May 17th, by Justice Cook of Westmoreland, which was set for June 6, 1928, did not take place because, several days before the trial, the district attorney recommended to Justice Cook that the charges against the defendants be dismissed, to which the justice readily assented. This disposed of all cases of arrest which followed the formation of the Mexican labor union in the Imperial Valley and the subsequent undeveloped strike of cantaloupe pickers.

THE REVISION OF THE PICKING AGREEMENT

The principal complaint of the cantaloupe pickers, as was seen in the foregoing report, was against the provisions of the picking agreement under which 25 per cent of the wages earned by them were withheld until the end of the picking season and under which the labor contractor, not the grower, was responsible for the wages of the laborers. These are the provisions of the picking agreement in the Imperial Valley, and of agricultural labor contracts in other places in California, which have caused dissatisfaction and loss of wages among Mexican and other agricultural laborers in California.

Since the California laws relating to payment of wages provide that wages must be paid in full at least twice a month,¹⁵ the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement of the Department of Industrial Relations undertook to enlist the cooperation of the growers of the Imperial Valley in its effort to change these provisions of the picking agreement. Accordingly, the Division called a mass meeting of growers of the Imperial Valley. This meeting was held in the court house at El Centro on December 13, 1928. It was presided over by Mr. Elmer Heald, the district attorney of Imperial County. Mr. Walter G. Mathewson, Chief of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement, explained to the growers who were present at the meeting the labor law requirements regarding payment of wages and the necessity of changing the picking agreement in conformity with the law. The growers' meeting expressed themselves as being in favor of modifying the picking agreement to meet with the desires of the Department of Industrial Relations.

The meeting elected a committee of five growers, Messrs. Fred R. Bright, J. P. Carter, A. N. Jack, L. C. Seibert, and George Swink, to cooperate with the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement in the preparation of a substitute picking agreement which would do away with the objectionable provisions of the picking agreement then in use.

This committee of growers, together with Louis Bloch, statistician for the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement, held several conferences and formulated a new "Standard Picking Agreement" in lieu of the former picking agreement. It was agreed by the committee of growers that it would not be obligatory upon all growers in the Imperial Valley to use the same uniform "Standard Picking Agreement," but that all picking agreements used would conform to the following five principles adopted by the committee:

1. Under the present picking agreement it has been the custom to withhold from wages earned 25 or more per cent to guarantee the completion of the agreement, and the picking of the melons. This practice shall be discontinued hereafter. Instead, wages will be paid weekly after proper deductions are made for all advances made for material, supplies, and necessities of life..

2. The full price to be paid for the various kinds of melons shall be specified in the contract. But in addition and apart from the wages to be paid for picking, the grower will offer a bonus of not exceeding one cent for each packed standard, pony and jumbo crate of cantaloupes and one-half cent for each packed flat crate of cantaloupes and each packed crate of Honey Dews accepted by the grower.

3. This bonus will be paid at the discretion of the grower at the end of the season and will be prorated among all laborers who complied with the contract according to their respective earnings under the contract during the season.

4. The grower, not the contractor, shall assume full responsibility for the payment of all wages earned under the contract.

5. The grower shall continue to be the sole and exclusive judge as to the sufficiency of the number of laborers employed under the agreement, as to the full and complete fulfillment of the contract, and as to the proper workmanship of the laborers performing the work under the agreement.

The "Standard Picking Agreement" adopted by the committee of growers which embodies the five principles just enumerated, was approved by the Department of Industrial Relations in the following letter:

December 28, 1928.

Mr. A. N. Jack, Chairman,
Growers' Committee for the Revision of the Picking Agreement,
Jack Bros. & McBurney Co.,
Brawley, California.

Dear Sir:

This is to advise you that the STANDARD PICKING AGREEMENT worked out by the committee of five growers elected at the mass meeting held in the superior court room, and submitted to us through our Dr. Louis Bloch, in El Centro, on December 13, 1928, meets with the approval of the Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement of the Department of Industrial Relations because it does away with the provisions of the Picking Agreement heretofore used under which growers withheld from contractors certain percentages of the weekly payments, thereby causing the contractors to withhold wages from laborers in violation of the California payment of wages laws, and because under the STANDARD PICKING AGREEMENT, the growers, not the contractors, will pay to the laborers all wages earned under the agreement.

Thanking you for your cooperation in this matter, I remain,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WALTER G. MATHEWSON,
Chief of Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement,
Department of Industrial Relations.

FUTURE LABOR RELATIONS

The revision of the labor contract in the Imperial Valley by removing the clauses which frequently resulted in wage losses by Mexican and other laborers in the valley, should bring about better labor relations between the growers and their workers. Much depends upon the general recognition and adoption by the growers of the Imperial Valley of the value of the Standard Picking Agreement which seeks to safeguard the earnings of their agricultural laborers.

There are already several influential larger growers in the Imperial Valley who did away entirely with the labor contractor and who hire their Mexican laborers without the intervention of any labor agent. These growers find that best results and better labor relations can be secured by dealing directly with their own laborers, instead of through a middleman or a labor contractor. There are also many large growers in the Imperial Valley who carry workmen's compensation insurance for their agricultural laborers and who feel that that is better policy than is the policy of applying for exemption under the workmen's compensation law.

The Mexican Mutual Aid Society of Imperial Valley, Inc., which is the union of Mexican laborers, was not done away with by the arresting of strikers, or would-be strikers, during the labor trouble described in this chapter. This union now (April, 1929) has offices in Brawley, and it seems to have the support of the Mexican agricultural workers of Imperial County. Its principal objectives, according to the pronouncements of its officials, appear to be the bettering and safeguarding of wages, the securing of the benefits of the workmen's compensation law, and the improving of housing conditions. No doubt, any progress made by the growers themselves in these matters will lead in the direction of stable and satisfactory labor relations in the Imperial Valley.

INTRODUCTION

This report entitled "Labor Needs in California Crop Production with Particular Reference to the Mexican" is in answer to a request made upon the College of Agriculture, University of California, in May, 1928, by Mr. George H. Hecke, Director of Agriculture, State Department of Agriculture, in his capacity as a member of a committee appointed by Governor C. C. Young to study the Mexican situation. This request was concurred in and emphasized by R. N. Wilson of the California Development Board, R. H. Taylor of the California Legislative Committee and Alex. Johnson of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

The contents of this report are largely a compilation of information obtained from many personal interviews and several hundred lengthy questionnaires. The scope of the study was confined to the economic influence and need of Mexican labor and its effect upon agriculture. The social aspects, and the needs for and effect upon industries other than agriculture was eliminated from this study. The inquiry was carefully planned and extensively conducted.

These data indicate a number of pertinent findings, these being set forth on the succeeding pages of this report.

Manual Labor Needs of California Crop Enterprises.

To provide the necessary labor for handling soils; caring for trees, vines, and bushes; caring for growing crops; harvesting of the final crops; and for other details incident to a production of an annual output estimated at over eleven million tons of field, fruit, and truck crops valued at more than $474,000,000, necessitates the employing of tens of thousands of men, women, and children. Growers augment the work of themselves and their families by hiring a veritable army of hands. They tap all available supplies of workers willing and able to do the different tasks involved in so great a farm production. This means use of white workers, of Mexicans and Japanese, of Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Chinese, Negroes, East Indians, American Indians, Armenians, Portuguese, Italians, Greeks, and on through a long list of races and nationalities.

The amount of manual labor required to produce California crops can be measured by combining:

- a. Acreages of crops.
- b. Rate of work for different operations.

Tables 1 and 2 are indicative of the acreages of California's more important crops and the manual labor needs in connection therewith.

In addition to the crops listed in Table 1 labor is also required in the production of other crops. Labor is likewise needed for many special farm operations, such as preparing products for market (sorting, wrapping and packing, cleaning, resacking, etc.) details of which are not listed here.

Table 2 is an indication of the amount of man labor required to handle specified details of production and harvest for a number of crops. This table, compiled from data collected over a period of years by workers in Farm Management, shows total man labor requirements (in man-days—"M.D." in the table) for the crops specified and operations indicated without reference to whether the work is done by owner, tenant, members of the operator's family, by exchange with neighbors, or through the hiring of labor. Crops and operations have been chosen, however, for which much labor is hired, this labor including Mexicans, Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Japanese, East Indians, Negroes, etc., as well as white. The data are for mature plantings. They show total man labor needs amounting to thousands of man-days for the operations listed. The listing does not include pruning and other care of small fruits, or harvesting small fruits. It does not include a vast amount of man labor needed to plant and care for young orchards, new plantings of alfalfa, hops, asparagus, rhubarb, and other perennial plantings, nor all operations incident to the proper production of the different products listed below. It omits tractor and truck work, and teamsters' work.

The last column of Table 2 indicates something of the need of California crop producers for labor including "common labor," a term which is used to designate the class of help used for such tasks as thinning fruit, picking fruit, hoeing and chopping of cotton; picking cotton; hoeing and thinning of sugar beets; pulling, topping and loading of sugar beets; thinning onions; harvesting and topping onions; picking corn, gathering lettuce, cauliflower, cabbage, etc., etc.

The amount of common labor which must be hired, summarized from 1320 questionnaires returned by farm operators, was as follows:

Total acreage reported 406,447 acres.

Acreage—crops requiring hand labor 301,659 acres (74+per cent).

Workers employed regularly 178,775 man months (a man month being the equivalent to one man employed for one month).

Workers employed at "peak" periods 98,759 man months (55.2 per cent of regular needs).

In other words the regular needs of this group of farm operators call for the equivalent of 14,900 men the year around, plus peak needs equivalent to 16,450 men for six months. By comparing the acreage given by this group with total acreages for the state as shown above, some idea can be got of the vast amount of man-power needed by California farmers.

Need for Labor Fluctuates During Year.

The need for farm labor by California farm operators fluctuates during the year. This is due to the seasonal nature of many of the operations incident to the production of most crops of high man-labor requirements. There are certain time limits within which the work must be done. This applies to pruning, to spraying, to planting time, to soil handling, and particularly to the harvesting of perishable crops, truck and fruit being heavily represented in the list of perishables.

This point is illustrated in the following table of selected operations showing the time limits (generally for the state) when these tasks must be performed in order to insure best results:

Data gleaned from 768 questionnaires covering employment amounting to 88,275 man months and tabulated by months shows the distribution of labor needs over a year period. Classification of this labor by months (measured as man months; that is, one man employed for one month constitutes one man month; thus if three men are employed for two months the use amounts to six man months; if two men are employed for three months and one man for twelve months the use amounts to 18 man months):

	Use of labor
	Man months	Pctg. of total
January -----	3,627	4.1
February -----	3,764	4.3
March -----	6,601	7.5
April -----	6,370	7.2
May -----	7,716	8.7
June -----	7,479	8.4
July -----	11,700	13.2
August -----	8,178	9.3
September -----	12,733	14.5
October -----	8,852	10.0
November -----	6,951	7.9
December -----	4,304	4.9

It is evident, from these data, that the slack need for men occurs in December, January, and February. The need in March, April May and June, and in November, is over 90 per cent greater than in the slack time. The period of greatest need is July, August, September, and October, with nearly three times the need of the slack period. September is outstanding in its requirement of farm labor.

Extent of Employment of Farm Labor (Other Than White).

In order to collect data concerning the use by California farmers of farm labor other than white workers, a questionnaire was submitted to 5166 farm operators in all parts of California. The inquiry was designed to develop information concerning the use of Mexicans, Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Japanese, East Indians, Chinese, and Negroes.

The lists of names to whom this questionnaire was submitted were drawn from the membership lists of the various agricultural cooperative associations in the state, supplemented by carefully selected lists of representative growers for products not covered by cooperative organizations. In addition to the canvass of farm operators, questionnaires were submitted to 92 secretaries of California Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade; to 50 Horticultural Commissioners belonging to the agricultural counties; to 460 chairmen of the various farm centers of the California Farm Bureau Federation; and to 42 presidents of the County Farm Bureaus. From a total of 1395 replies from farmers, 55 replies from secretaries of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade, 27 replies from Horticultural Commissioners, and 143 replies from presidents and chairmen of California Farm Bureau Federation farm centers, supplemented by field studies, it is possible to obtain a rather definite idea of the extent to which these people are used.

The returns from 1320 farm operators apply to a total of 458,357 acres, including the following table:

Extent of Employment According to Questionnaire Returns from Farm Operators.

Of 1287 returns giving data concerning employment, 27 stated that they hired no help, while 330 more stated that they used none of the groups under consideration; i. e., Mexicans, Filipinos, Japanese, Chinese, Porto Ricans, East Indians, and Negroes. The number employing some one or more of these groups was 930.

The replies from these 930 employing farm operators indicated use of the different groups as follows:

Mexicans by 814 operators
 Japanese by 247 operators
 Filipinos by 194 operators
 Chinese by 52 operators
 East Indians by 48 operators

 Porto Ricans by 18 operators

Use of Farm Labor Other Than White Workers According to Locality.

The greatest use of labor (other than white) is shown in the following table, made up from 891 records:

TABLE 4. USE OF FARM LABOR OTHER THAN WHITE, GROUPED ACCORDING TO LOCALITY, ACCORDING TO PERCENTAGE OF REPLIES

	Number of reports	Mexican	Porto Rican	Chinese	Negro	Filipino	Jap- anese	Hindu
Imperial and Coachella Valleys -----	27	75	0	0	11	7	7	0
Southern California----	405	84	*	2	*	6	5	2
Central Coast -----	134	47	6	6	0	18	21	1
Northern Coast -----	87	36	3	14	2	15	28	2
Sacramento Valley ---	196	32	*	6	2	18	29	12
San Joaquin Valley----	503	56	*	3	4	17	17	2
Mountain and Desert--	27	21	0	3	0	15	29	32

* Less than 1%.

Attention is called to the extent that Mexicans are used in the Imperial and Coachella valleys and in southern California generally. The negro is second. The use of labor in the Coast sections and the San Joaquin Valley shows that Japanese are a close second to Mexicans, with a generous use of Filipinos (in third place), and some use of Chinese. The Sacramento Valley shows a greater use of Japanese than is reported for any of the other sections except the mountain and desert (the small number of records, however, limiting the usefulness of this data pertaining to this area). In the Sacramento Valley the use of Japanese is second only to the Mexicans, while the use of Hindus shows a marked gain.

The locality classification as used in these various tables is arbitrary and as follows:

1. Imperial and Coachella valleys, consisting of Imperial County and the Coachella Valley in Riverside County.

2. Southern California, consisting of the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino (eastern portion), Riverside County (eastern portion), and San Diego.

3. Central Coast counties; i. e., Contra Costa, Alameda, Santa Clara, San Benito, Santa Cruz, Monterey, and San Luis Obispo.

4. Northern Coast counties; i. e., Marin, Napa, Solano, Sonoma, Mendocino, Humboldt, and Trinity.

5. Sacramento Valley, consisting of Shasta, Tehama, Glenn, Butte, Colusa, Sutter, Yolo, Yuba, and Sacramento counties.

6. San Joaquin Valley, consisting of San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, and Kern counties.

7. The mountainous or desert counties; i. e., Placer, El Dorado, Inyo, Mono, Mariposa, Amador, Alpine, Calaveras, Sierra, Plumas, Lassen, Modoc, Siskiyou, and Nevada.

Use of Farm Labor Other Than White According to Type of Business.

The greatest dependence on labor, other than white, in the production of crops is placed upon Mexicans. This is shown in percentages in the following table (based on 933 records):

	Number of records	Mexican	Porto Rican	Chinese	Negro	Filipino	Jap- anese	Hindu
Deciduous fruit -----	628	51%	2%	5%	2%	15%	21%	4%
Grapes -----	506	55%	*	5%	2%	13%	20%	4%
Citrus fruits -----	220	76%	*	2%	1%	12%	7%	1%
Field crops -----	459	60%	1%	5%	4%	12%	14%	4%
Truck crops -----	45	63%	0	2%	2%	14%	15%	4%
Diversified -----	129	61%	3%	3%	2%	16%	9%	6%
Nuts -----	174	71%	*	2%	2%	8%	16%	1%

* Less than 1%.

In the industries set forth above answers to our questionnaires indicate that the use of Mexicans is particularly marked in the production and care of citrus fruits and orchards, and of nuts and nut trees, and in the production of truck and field crops. The use of Japanese is greatest in the production of deciduous fruits, including nuts and grapes, and in truck and field crops. The use of Filipinos is fairly well distributed over the entire field of agriculture. The use of Chinese is in the deciduous fruit, and in the grape and field crop enterprises. The use of Porto Ricans, Negroes, and Hindus is here too slight to warrant analysis.

Use of Farm Labor Other Than White Labor According to Size of Business.

A study of labor (other than white) classified according to the size of the farm business is shown as percentages in the tabulating below of 891 records:

Size of farm	Number of records	Mexican	Porto Rican	Chinese	Negro	Filipino	Jap- anese	Hindu
5-19 acres -----	86	75%	1%	2%	1%	4%	17%	0%
20-39 acres -----	193	71%	1%	4%	*	9%	14%	0%
40-79 acres -----	229	63%	1%	2%	2%	13%	17%	2%
80 acres and over -----	875	53%	2%	4%	2%	16%	18%	5%

* Less than 1%.

According to these data use of Mexicans is proportionally greater on the smaller-sized farms. Next to Mexicans the Japanese are employed the greatest number of times irrespective of farm size. Use of the Filipino tends to increase as the size of the farm business increases. It is somewhat remarkable, the rapidity with which the employment of the Filipino increased with the size of the business; and, conversely, the small amount of his employment by operators on small acreages. The use of Porto Rican, Chinese, Negro, and Hindu labor, while relatively unimportant, is largely confined to the large holdings.

Employers' Use of Different Groups for Specific Tasks.

Employers who have had experience with several sorts of labor find that different tasks can oftentimes be best performed by different groups. Thus our field inquiries developed that a number of sugar beet growers prefer Filipinos for thinning, and Mexicans for pulling, topping, and loading; some rice growers prefer white labor for binding, but Mexicans or East Indians for shocking; some almond growers will use

Mexicans for hoeing and weeding but prefer whites in the harvest; orchardists tend to favor Mexicans for picking, but Japanese for pruning; grape growers give Mexicans as their first choice for picking, with Japanese a second and Filipinos a third choice; for pruning, grape men place Japanese first; the great majority of citrus growers prefer Mexicans for picking; one tomato grower prefers Japanese in growing the plants but Filipinos for picking; one orchardist selects whites for picking apricots but Mexicans for knocking almonds; another employer uses Mexicans for teaming, irrigating, and harvesting corn and fruit, but employs Japanese for pruning orchard trees and packing fruit; another prefers Mexicans for grapes and figs and whites for drying peaches; another prefers whites for teaming, tray work, and pruning, but uses Mexicans for hoeing and piling beans and for general ranch work; another uses Negroes for teaming, tractor, and general land work, with Mexicans for picking walnuts, oranges, and lemons; another uses Mexicans for orange picking and Japanese for olive harvest. Carrying this study forward another step, it is interesting to note the use of different classes, Stanislaus County growers appear to favor Mexicans, Porto Ricans, or Filipinos, for thinning peaches, and picking peaches and grapes, but prefer Japanese for melon work; in Santa Clara County Japanese are preferred as laborers for seed farms.

Employers' Conception of Satisfactory Labor.

The preceding paragraphs have shown the need of an available labor supply able and willing to do the work essential to industry and crop production. What, now, do employers consider satisfactory labor to be?

The specifications that follow come from many employers. No order is observed, since views differ and the half dozen outstanding requirements of one employer will not be the half dozen of another. Employers do not agree upon any single type of labor as best, because the individual employer's opinion reflects all his own contacts, demands, ideals, capacity for sympathy and charitableness, command of funds, experience of the worker's attitude towards fellow-workers, etc., and between no two employers are such factors just the same in either kind or degree.

The following list is, however, suggestive:

1. Willingness to take wages employer feels he can pay.

The farmer recognizes differences of wage scale as between the farm, railroad maintenance of way and car-cleaning, warehouse jobs, unskilled and semiskilled town jobs, road, logging, and construction camps, and the like. What he must pay is governed in part by wages prevailing in industries competing in the same labor market as his own; what he can pay is governed by the size of his business, i.e., by the amount of production he can obtain with his knowledge and equipment. And his production in turn is influenced heavily by weather, pests, and other factors beyond his control, by the prices at which he must sell, and by the proportion of gross income that he can afford to pay for labor.

2. Willingness to put up with the housing provided.

Employers of large numbers for some short period, e. g., two weeks to two months, feel unable to supply living quarters as durable and otherwise satisfactory as they could if their labor need were year-long. Others think employees do not in general appreciate better housing enough to warrant such investments.

3. Willingness to accept the board furnished.

4. Ability to do the work, to "deliver;" skill in operations; in short, dependability.

5. Physical capacity, physical adequacy for the job.

6. Freedom from communicable disease.

7. Willingness to do the job set.

8. Some initiative.

9. Morality—at least to the safeguarding of women and children.

10. If a married man, a wife to fit in with the ranch group.

11. Kindness to animals.

12. Carefulness with equipment.

13. Loyalty.

14. Willingness to stick until the work or season is done.

15. A labor market as cheap as possible with respect to cash wages.

16. A supply great enough to make for quick replacements without undue interference with the progress of the job.

17. Availability.

Farm Operators' Reasons for Using Labor Other Than White.

The dozen predominating reasons why farm operators employ Mexican, Filipino, Japanese, etc., in place of white labor are as follows, the number indicating times that the particular reply was given:

Available	328 times
Dependable	119 times
Not enough white help	60 times
Work at tasks repugnant to white workers	55 times
Better workers	42 times
Stay with job	37 times
More satisfactory	33 times
Cheaper	24 times
Steady	19 times
More efficient	16 times
Stand heat better	14 times
Willing	11 times

Other reasons advanced, though only in limited numbers, once, twice, or up to a dozen times, center on such things as that they board selves, house selves, furnish own transportation, are more reasonable, seek work, work Sundays, mind own affairs, follow instructions, are not liable to strike, are better adapted, take short period jobs, are tractable, intelligent, and industrious.

Thus the employers who favor the use of groups other than white labor find in them a closer approach to five outstanding requirements that employers have constantly in mind, these being :

Availability.
 Capability.
 Dependability.
 Tractability.
 Economicalness.

Employers' Experiences With White Labor for Work Now Being Done by Mexicans, Filipinos, Etc.

A compilation of the experiences of employing farm operators with white labor doing work for which Mexicans, Filipinos, and others of the groups under study are frequently hired, covers a wide variety of reasons for preferring the nonwhite groups. Conspicuous is the objection that white labor will not stay with the job—that it is given to leaving at any time, owing, as many believe, to a roving disposition. Fully 25 per cent of the various reasons advanced center in this one thing alone. Closely associated, in number of times advanced, is the statement that white labor is unsatisfactory because it is inefficient, shiftless, slow, lazy and unreliable. Nearly 25 per cent of the views so state. And of those nearly half add that the Mexicans or Japanese, or some other indicated group, is superior in their workmanship and general satisfactoriness. The next reason, in order of numbers of times advanced, is the difficulty of getting white labor when needed. Ten per cent of the reasons stress nonavailability. In the experience of 10 per cent of the employers, white labor is unable to, or will not, do “stoop” labor, usually because of the nature of the work but at times because of heat or other adverse working conditions. Five per cent find white labor too costly.

Other reasons advanced cover: bad habits; unwillingness to follow instructions; more exacting as to working and living conditions; sensitive; tend to “stir up trouble,” and liable to strike when employer needs all the help he can get.

Farm Operators' Reasons for Not Using Groups Other Than White.

Farm operators who hire men give the following reasons for not employing these groups. (We present this, like the above set of reasons, merely to show what farmers are thinking, without any attempt on our part to draw conclusions):

Sufficient white help	119 times
Prefer white men	62 times
White help superior	21 times
Not available	16 times
Dislike them	16 times
Do not need them	13 times
Thieving	12 times
Inability to comprehend	10 times

Other reasons, given a few times, center on such items as: ignorant, require close supervision, poor workers, lazy, unhygienic, dirty, less faithful, lack interest, clannish, tend to create friction with white workers.

Preference of Farm Operators for Various Kinds of Labor.

In order to determine employers' preferences for the various groups under study, replies from 669 employing farm operators, complete enough to be tabulated, were assembled with the following results:

Preferences (in order of frequency in replies)	Number	Proportion of total replies— percentage

According to preferences as expressed by this group of farm operators—and the group is probably a typical cross section of the employing farmers of California—the dominant desire for labor able to handle the common tasks incident to the production of crops requiring considerable man labor is for some group other than white. This is shown with considerable force when the different opinions are weighed in order to include the double, triple, or quadruple replies:

Total preferences	703
Total favoring use of white labor	169 24%
Total favoring use of some group other than white labor	534 76%

A development of this study is the showing of a marked preference for the Mexican above any other single group (aside from the white) that farm operators deem suited to their requirements. This is shown statistically below:

	Extent of preferences
	Number	Percentages
Mexicans -----	303	53.0
Japanese -----	128	22.4
Filipinos -----	65	11.4

East Indians -----	20	3.5

Employers' Preferences According to Locality.

The following table classifies employers' preferences according to the locality where they are operating:

		White	Mexican	Filipino	Porto Rican	Chinese	Japanese	East Indian	Negro
Imperial and Coachella Valleys ---	21	42	46	0	4	0	8	0	0

* Due to fewness of records, "Mountain and Desert Counties" not included.

Employers' Preferences According to Type of Business.

The next table shows the preferences of employing farm operators according to the types of business. Attention is confined to the four groups of whites, Mexicans, Filipinos and Japanese. Replies were included which indicated but a single preference in each case; double, triple or quadruple opinions being ignored in the preparation of this table:

Type of farming	No. of replies	Employers' preferences (percentages) for
		Whites	Mexicans	Filipinos	Japanese
Deciduous tree fruits -----	119	47	33	4	16
Grapes -----	39	15	55	15	15
Subtropical fruits -----	49	8	86	4	2
Diversified (combination of fruits, truck and field crops) -----	190	28	53	4	15

Employers' Preferences According to Size of Business.

The table which follows shows preferences of employing farm operators classified according to the size of farm with which each is concerned. In this classification attention obviously centers on the desire for whites, Mexicans, Filipinos and Japanese. The table is built from 458 replies indicating but a single preference (double, triple and quadruple preferences being ignored):

Size of farm business (acres)	Number of replies	Employers' preferences in percentages
		Whites	Mexicans	Filipinos	Japanese	Porto Ricans	Hindus	Chinese	Negroes

Analysis of Employers' Views Concerning Mexican Labor.

In the preceding section, reasons were set forth as to why farm operators in California either do or do not hire some group other than white workers. The opinions dealt with all groups. In order to get at the views of employing farm operators, a special inquiry was made to determine the advantages of and objections to Mexicans as a source of common labor.

The views expressed are given below under headings:

- (a) Advantages of Mexicans as farm hands.
- (b) Objections to Mexicans as farm hands.

The listing follows in the order of the greatest number of times that each statement was given by employing farm operators.

Advantages of Mexicans as Farm Hands.

The striking advantages of Mexicans as farm hands are their availability in numbers when needed and their characteristic of staying with the job. More than 25 per cent of the various opinions put emphasis on availability. "Staying with the job" made up 10 per cent of the opinions. From this point the list dropped on down through such advantages as:

- Dependable, steady, and reliable.
- Good workers and willing to work.
- Adapted to, can and will do, stoop labor.
- Willing to work.
- Move off when not needed.
- Cheaper.
- Less trouble.
- Board and house themselves.
- Experienced.
- Tractable and cheerful.
- Easily satisfied.
- Will follow instructions.
- Can stand heat.
- Require less watching.
- Will do work by contract.

Objections to Mexicans as Farm Hands.

A number of objections to Mexicans as farm hands are advanced by employing farm operators. Sometimes one employer gives both good and bad points, but usually each individual statement contains only advantages or objections. Of a total of 543 opinions setting forth both favorable and unfavorable reactions, 288 were of a favorable and 255 of an unfavorable nature. These figures apply to the number of opinions advanced and not to the number of reporting employers.

Marked among the objections are:

- Require herding, driving, and constant watching.
- Dirty.
- Lazy.
- Slow.
- Unreliable.
- Limited intelligence.
- Thieving.
- Untrustworthy and tricky.
- Dishonest.

Other objections, in order of relative importance, but less frequently mentioned than items of the list given above, put stress on:

Not thorough.

Diseased.

Bad habits.

Too many children.

Not dependable.

Strike readily.

Lack sense of duty and responsibility.

Effect Upon Agriculture Generally If Mexicans Are Placed on a Quota Basis.

In order to discover the reaction of farm operators to the possible effect upon their farming if Mexicans were placed upon a quota basis, a question on this phase of the subject was inserted in the questionnaire sent out. The outcome of our assembling of the replies may show what employers feel would be the effect of curtailing Mexican immigration upon agriculture generally as followed in California. This table reflects the views of 719 employers of farm labor:

Opinion	Number of replies	Percentages of total
No effect -----	197	27
Would make difficulties -----	480	67
Would help situation -----	42	6
Totals -----	719	100

A more comprehensive idea of the conditions likely to result, in the opinions as listed above, follows if a reassembling of the replies is made in accordance with (a) locality, (b) type of industry being followed, and (c) size of holdings. The findings thus classified are shown in the next three tables:

Effect of Placing Mexicans Upon a Quota Basis: Replies Grouped According to Locality.

Replies classified according to where the answering employers are operating are given in the next table:

Employers* located in	Number of records	Percentage of employers reporting:
		"No effect"	"Presents difficulties"	"Probably would help"
Southern California -----	182	29	65	6
San Joaquin Valley -----	314	19	75	6
Sacramento Valley -----	97	42	53	5
Central coast counties -----	44	32	61	7

* Omitted localities represented by too few records to justify their inclusion.

Effect of Placing Mexicans Upon a Quota Basis: Replies Grouped According to Type of Business.

The next table shows the findings grouped according to the outstanding type of business being conducted by the answering employers:

Principal type of business	Number of replies	Percentage of employers reporting:
		"No effect"	"Presents difficulties"	"Probably would help"
Deciduous tree fruits -----	302	36	56	8
Grapes -----	195	13	82	5
Citrus and subtropical fruits -----	95	28	71	1
Truck crops -----	51	29	67	4
Diversified -----	54	29	67	4

The next table shows the influence of size of farm being operated by the answering employers as this affects the replies:

Size of farm	Number of replies	Percentage of employers reporting:
		"No effect"	"Presents difficulties"	"Probably would help"
Under 20 acres but not under 5 acres	90	53	34	13
20 to 40 acres-----	197	30	62	8
40 to 80 acres-----	142	30	65	5
Over 80 acres-----	290	18	78	4

Effect on Specific Farming Operations of Farm Operators If Mexicans Are Placed Upon Quota Basis.

To a question as to the specific effect upon the farming operations of the individual employers, replies ran as follows:

Would affect farming operations—

Adversely -----	449
Advantageously -----	42
Temporarily disadvantageously -----	9
Do not know-----	33

The effect of limiting the numbers of incoming Mexicans (the result that placing Mexicans upon a quota basis is expected to have) would, in the opinion of the majority, be disadvantageous. The outstanding bad effects as listed in the replies center in a belief that farmers could not get their work done, on account of labor scarcity. This was asserted 173 times. The next opinion, repeated time and again, was to the effect that costs would increase. This was declared 79 times. The other reasons were either very few in number or indefinite in nature. A dozen replies stated "disastrous"; others see in curtailment "increased waste" and "inefficiency"; "change to some other type of farming"; "necessity to quit"; "reduction in acreage"; "bankruptcy for all but family farms," and "replacement of Mexicans by Negroes." Those who see an advantage in the curtailing of Mexican immigration are likewise few in number, but their replies reflect beliefs that such curtailment would result in "a better community to live in"; "better chance for white labor"; "help unemployment situation," and "would help the over-production problem."

Another set of replies, bearing upon the effect on farming should Mexicans be placed upon a quota basis, answers the question whether the employer now using Mexicans would resort to white labor upon the curtailment of the Mexican supply. Of 656 offering an opinion, 458 answered "yes," 198 "no." Of the 458 answering "yes," 74 qualified with some such phrase as "if available," "would have to," "would try," "if I can get white labor," and "if they'd work." And many of those answering "yes" made some comment such as "would just drive me out of the business," "doubt if there would be enough white labor to go round," and "would not get away from present inefficiency of white laborers." Some who answer "no" give as reasons the probability of an insufficient supply, inability of white men to labor under their climatic or working conditions, and general dissatisfaction with the present available supply of white labor.

Comparison of Wages Paid to Different Groups of Laborers.

The 1321 questionnaires returned by employers who reported their wage scale, give the following comparable data as to wages paid to Mexicans, Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Japanese, Negroes, and Hindus, and also to white labor. Wages as reported below include a charge for board and lodging.

The tabulation of wage scales, as just given, shows the relationship between wages paid to different groups as compiled from records showing at least two groups of laborers doing comparable work.

The Japanese was the only group paid consistently more money than the group with which it was compared. This applied not only to Mexicans, Filipinos, and Chinese, in competition with Japanese, but also to white workers, in competition with Japanese. The daily wage paid to Japanese was higher by 6 cents than to Chinese or whites; 15 cents higher than to Filipinos, and 30 cents higher than the Mexican wage scale. The hourly rate shows very little difference. The differences are tabulated below:

	By day	By hour
Increase paid Japanese compared with whites-----	6 cents	---
Increase paid Japanese compared with Mexicans-----	30 cents	3.4 cents
Increase paid Japanese compared with Filipinos-----	15 cents	.4 cents
Increase paid Japanese compared with Chinese-----	6 cents	1.4 cents

The wage schedule for whites in comparison with Mexicans, Filipinos, Chinese, and Negroes was higher on both a day and an hour basis. The differences appear below:

	Day basis	Hour basis
Increase over Mexicans-----	23 cents	1.6 cents
Increase over Filipinos-----	23 cents	1.3 cents
Increase over Chinese-----	13 cents	1.6 cents
Increase over Negroes-----	21 cents	2.5 cents

Whites and Porto Ricans.
 Whites and Hindus.
 Mexicans and Filipinos.
 Mexicans and Hindus.
 Porto Ricans and Filipinos.
 Porto Ricans and Chinese.
 Porto Ricans and Japanese.
 Porto Ricans and Hindus.
 Porto Ricans and Negroes.
 Filipinos and Chinese.
 Filipinos and Hindus.
 Filipinos and Negroes.
 Chinese and Negroes.
 Chinese and Hindus.
 Japanese and Hindus.

The range in wage schedules was found to be as follows:

For—	Per day	Per hour
Whites-----	$3.00—$6.00	35—50 cents
Mexicans-----	2.75— 6.00	30—45 cents

Japanese-----	3.15— 5.00	35—45 cents
Negroes-----	2.80— 4.20	35—40 cents

The greatest frequency in wage scales was as follows:

For—	Per day	Per hour
Whites-----	$3.50	40 cents
Mexicans-----	3.50	35 cents
Filipinos-----	3.50	35 cents
Chinese-----	3.50	35 cents
Japanese-----	3.50	40 cents
Negroes-----	3.50	35 cents

Comparison of Output of Workers.

A tabulation was attempted of employers' ideas concerning the amount of work these different peoples usually accomplish in comparison with white laborers. The results follow:

Number of replies	Group	Opinions: Output compared with white laborers
		Same	More	Less
576	Mexicans -----	258	151	167
50	Porto Ricans -----	16	8	26
181	Filipinos -----	60	56	65

244	Japanese -----	71	145	28
69	Negroes -----	29	7	33
1,220		464	398	358

Opinion concerning the Filipino output per day is about equally divided as between "same," "more," and "less"; and likewise for the Chinese.

Summary.

1. In a final analysis of the place that any group of people should occupy in a nation's life the economic advantages must be weighed against the social disadvantages, and vice versa. This presentation deals only with the economic aspect of common labor as it affects California agriculture, with special reference to the Mexican.

2. From the evidence given in detail in the preceding pages, the Mexican is an important factor in the producing of California crops. He is today a principal source of farm labor in California. He does tasks that white workers will not or can not do. He works under climatic and working conditions, such as excessive heat, dust, isolation, and temporary employment; conditions that are often too trying for white workers. He will work in gangs. He will work under direction, taking orders and suggestions.

3. Compared with groups of workers other than whites, that is, Japanese, Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Chinese, Negroes, and East Indians, he is preferred by a large majority of farm operators employing farm labor.

4. A material and abrupt reduction in the present available supply of farm labor will force changes in California agriculture.

INTRODUCTION

In gathering material concerning social welfare problems among the Mexicans of California, the Department of Social Welfare has drawn upon records and reports of the State Departments of Public Health, Education, Institutions, and Social Welfare, city and county records from the localities where Mexicans constitute a considerable proportion of the population, and records of private social agencies in those districts. Some of this material has been issued in published reports, much is compiled from unpublished but official records, and part was secured by these agencies for the present survey. The bulk of the data from sources other than the state departments is from Los Angeles County for the reasons that, on account of its size and organization, far more record material is available in that county than elsewhere in the state, and also far more Mexicans reside in that county than in any other. In the smaller counties much of the data sought were not obtainable, since the keeping of records is not well developed in the smaller counties nor was it found possible to segregate social data relating to Mexicans. All pertinent data secured, except fragmentary and disconnected items, have been included.

Estimates as to the Mexican population of California vary widely. For the first six months of 1929 the State Bureau of Vital Statistics records over one-sixth of all births in the state as Mexicans.¹ As the birth rate among Mexicans is undoubtedly higher than among the general population and as a large number of the Mexicans have come into the state in the child-bearing ages, the proportion of Mexican births to total births is doubtless far higher than the proportion of Mexicans in the population. Lack of recent census data as to the general population of California as well as to the Mexican population makes difficult any attempt to draw comparisons, but certain estimates of population will assist in arriving at a sense of the significance of the social data which follow.

The estimated Mexican population of Los Angeles County in 1928, as figured by the Los Angeles County Charities Department, the Mexican consul at Los Angeles and others working directly with the Mexicans, was approximately 250,000.² The total population of the county at the same date was estimated³ as approximately 2,270,000 which would indicate that the Mexicans represented about 11 per cent of the county population. At the same date the population of the city of Los Angeles was estimated by the Los Angeles City Police Department as 1,343,000. Of this total Mexicans were estimated to represent slightly over 10 per cent.⁴ The Los Angeles city school system in the school census of 1928 accounted for 48,000 Mexican children, and according to a statement issued by the school department, Los Angeles has a larger population of Mexicans than any other city in the United States or even Mexico with the exception of Mexico City.⁵

² Statement of Los Angeles County Charities Department, June, 1928.

Housing.

The Mexican in California, like various other foreign-speaking immigrants in the United States, tends to live in colonies, retaining his traditions and a mode of life not always satisfactory to his American neighbors. How many or what proportion of the Mexicans live in distinctly Mexican districts can not be stated, but the existence of "Little Mexicos," both urban and rural, is a matter of common knowledge.

The tendency of the Mexican to live in a racial group is strengthened by several conditions. On arrival he seldom speaks English and consequently is dependent upon the Spanish-speaking group for adjustment to his new environment. The Mexican commonly performs unskilled and consequently low paid work, so that his choice as to quarters is restricted. In Mexico the laboring classes have been used to very simple living with only the most primitive sanitation, and owners are naturally reluctant to rent their buildings to Mexican tenants if others can be found. In addition, there exists a prejudice against the Mexican which manifests itself in the common classification of the Mexican as "not white."⁶

From an inquiry sent to realty boards in various cities of the state,⁷ 47 replies were received, of which number the following 24 reported segregated districts composed of Mexicans, or Mexicans and other foreigners:

Azusa	Monrovia	San Bernardino
Bakersfield	Montebello	San Fernando
Bell	Napa	Santa Barbara
Compton	Ontario	Santa Maria
Huntington Park	Pomona	Santa Monica
Lankershim	Porterville	Van Nuys
Madera	Redlands	Visalia
Modesto	Riverside	Whittier

⁴ Annual Report, Police Department of Los Angeles City, 1927-8, pp. 9, 56. "The proportion of the race groups was secured by adjusting data from the city school census of children from 3 to 18 years of age, compensating for lack of congruency between the city and city school district and for variations in the probable total persons per child of school age among the races."

⁵ Ethnological study of the Mexicans (unpublished). Research Department, Los Angeles City School System, June, 1928.

⁶ In his study of Mexican labor in the Imperial Valley, Paul S. Taylor discusses this domiciliary isolation: "One of the most striking aspects of the Mexican labor situation in Imperial Valley is the concentration of the Mexican town population in colonies geographically apart from the American community. * * * Most of the Mexicans outside of Calexico are poor, and poverty leaves them little choice of residence outside of the cheapest quarters. Furthermore, there is the natural tendency to gravitate toward the places where, in a strange land, others of one's language, class, and culture may be found. Finally, there is the social pressure from the American community, which generally does not desire Mexicans as neighbors. A symptom of this pressure is the race restriction sometimes included in the deeds to property. * * * The Mexicans in the valley are sensitive to the social ostracism which they face, and do not force themselves in where they feel the pressure against them. * * * The separation of rural Mexicans from American neighbors is as clear as the separation prevailing in the towns." "Mexican Labor in the United States: Imperial Valley," by Paul S. Taylor, pp. 79, 80, 82.

⁷ Inquiry sent out by Professor Elliott G. Mears of Stanford University in cooperation with the California Real Estate Association, February, 1927.

In addition, other boards cited clauses inserted in deeds and sales contracts calculated to confine Orientals, Mexicans and Negroes to certain districts. Although most of these clauses seek to restrict the occupants of the premises to "persons of Caucasian race," in some instances the Mexican was definitely specified as prohibited from occupancy.

Further evidence of the concentration of Mexicans in separate localities and districts is presented in the following list of counties having regular elementary schools with an enrollment of over 90 per cent Mexican.⁸ A total of 58 elementary public schools appear on the record for the school year 1927-28 as having from 90 to 100 per cent enrollment of Mexicans. It should be noted that these schools are not separate schools in mixed districts to which Mexicans must send their children, but are regular public schools, the almost exclusive enrollment of Mexicans being due to the fact that the district is inhabited by virtually none but Mexicans.

The older section of Los Angeles, around and east of the Plaza, is a distinctly Mexican settlement. Spanish is the language commonly heard, the signs in the shops are in Spanish, the goods on sale are distinctly for Mexicans, and the moving picture theaters show only Spanish titles. In the old mission are celebrated colorful and picturesque festivals with all the traditional Mexican games of chance. In a study of the home conditions of the Mexican families made by the principal of the Macey Street School,⁹ and including all families whether or not they had children attending school, the fact was brought out that virtually none of these families owned their own homes. The explanation given was that property in that district was held for industrial developments at prices too high to permit the Mexicans to purchase, and that the developments within the city have forced many of the Mexicans to move to districts farther out. The largest of these is in the Belvedere district, just outside of Los Angeles, known as Maravilla Park. The Mexican population in this district numbers about 45,000,¹⁰ and six large modern public schools have been built in which the enrollment is practically 100 per cent Mexican. One of these schools is a "development school" for subnormal children.

This district is just beyond the city limits and was built up without regard to the proper requirements for sanitation in congested districts. Two, and sometimes three, shacks are built upon one very small lot, leaving little unoccupied ground space. The shacks are flimsy shells, usually constructed of scrap lumber, old boxes, or other salvage.

At various times the city and county health departments have made housing surveys of the Mexican districts. Summary findings of two housing surveys made recently by the Los Angeles County Health Department¹¹ give a fair picture of life in the Mexican districts.

One district covered by the survey consisted of eight city blocks in Maravilla Park, containing 317 houses having a population of 1509 persons, or an average of practically 40 houses to the block and 4.8 persons to the house.

The average annual family income was $795, almost all of the workers being classed as unskilled laborers. Of the 317 houses, 199 were owned and 118 rented, of which number 211 were rated as mere shacks and the remaining 106 as bungalows or semibungalows. Light and ventilation were classed as reasonably good in 154 cases, and as poor in 163 cases. Sixty-two houses had good screens, and 255 had poor screens or none. Only 10 of the houses had cesspools connected up to flush toilets, 16 had cesspools not connected to flush toilets; 147 had privies in fair condition and 144 were classed as privies in poor condition. The attempt to maintain cleanliness under these difficult conditions was evidenced by the report that 227 of the houses were clean and 252 of the yards at least fairly clean.

A check on food supplies and diet showed 158 houses with sufficient food, 95 in which food was somewhat lacking, and 64 in which food was distinctly scant. For preserving food, only 9 had refrigerators, 128 had screened cupboards or coolers, and the balance of 180 had no provisions for keeping food in good condition.

On the home index score card,¹² with 25 as the standard, the district¹³ averages 8.3.

A similar housing survey¹¹ made in a Mexican district in San Fernando covered 357 families, with a total of 1668 persons, 851 adults and 817 children. The income range of the families showed 79 having less than $400 per year; 112 from $600 to $800 per year; 79 from $800 to $1,000 per year; and 87, $1,000 or over. A special study was made of their diet and food supplies which indicated that 35 per cent had plenty of meat in their diet, 56 per cent very little, and 9 per cent none at all. Of vegetables, 40 per cent had plenty, and 60 per cent very few. Milk was received daily by 45 per cent, while 25 per cent took milk occasionally and 30 per cent never bought milk. Automobiles of some description were owned by 39 per cent and 37 per cent possessed musical instruments. On the home index card the San Fernando district, with 25 as the standard, averaged 9.5.

In addition to the large settlements of Mexicans there are smaller camps located on the outskirts of towns, where the common practice is to charge ground rent and permit the renter to erect his own shack. A number of camps of this description located on the outskirts of Whittier, Montebello, and El Monte were inspected by representatives of the Department of Social Welfare, accompanied by Los Angeles County Health, Charities, and School officials. In camps of this character as the renter has no security of tenure he naturally wastes no money on lasting sanitary improvements. These settlements are sources of constant annoyance to the localities, and only by continual inspection and vigilance on the part of the health authorities can the menace of widespread disease be held in check. Patches of ground are rented as small as twenty by thirty feet. Ground rent varies from one, two, three, five, even ten dollars a month, and in several camps inspected by the department the annual rental would amount to over a thousand dollars an acre, in return for which the owner had made no investment whatever in sanitation or road improvements.

In his study of Mexican labor in the Imperial Valley, Paul S Taylor discusses the housing of agricultural labor in that district: "In the more permanent camps one finds rough lumber houses of a room or two, often screened, seldom painted. Sometimes the kitchen is in one of the rooms, often is in a separate shelter outside the house. A roof of brush or arrow weed may be built out across the front or rear for shade. The 'ditch-bank camp' is the typical temporary camp for the seasonal labor forces with harvest the crops (of course many permanent camps also are located along ditch banks). This type of camp is usually located among the trees that line the irrigation ditches. Its shelters are commonly tents, which the Mexicans generally supply themselves, or pieces of canvas stretched across a pole, with boxes, brush, burlap or what-not across the end. Sometimes the shelters are nothing more than the typical arrow weed ramada, consisting of roof and from one to three sides, which provides shade and wind protection. * * * The impermanent types of shelter, tents, ramadas, etc. are of course not confined to the temporary camps, but may be found also accommodating the seasonal influx in the permanent camps. The inspectors of the State Housing Commission endeavor to enforce certain minimum standards. These include tents (floored during the lettuce season, but not necessarily in the cantaloupe season), beds, screened cook houses and toilets, bathing facilities, and garbage disposal. Employers are held responsible for the cleanliness of the camps. Up to the present time (1927) the inspectors have experienced considerable difficulty in enforcing these standards, which are by no means universally observed."

Birth Statistics of Mexicans in California.

Beginning in 1926 the State Bureau of Vital Statistics began segregating Mexican births in their records. In that year Mexican births equaled one-seventh of the total. Two years later they rose to one-sixth, and the first six months of 1929 indicate a continued increase. The figures for these years are:

TABLE 1. TOTAL BIRTHS AND NUMBER OF MEXICAN BIRTHS IN CALIFORNIA, 1926-1929

Year	Total births	Mexican births	Per cent Mexican
1926	82,372	11,721	14.2
1927	84,334	12,688	15.0
1928	83,643	13,846	16.6
1929 (Jan.-June)	39,221	6,959	17.7

Most of these births occur in the southern part of the state. In the rural districts of Imperial County, 52 per cent of all births in 1928 were Mexican. In the rural districts of San Bernardino and Riverside counties, more than 40 per cent of all births were Mexican. In some of the cities of Imperial County, the Mexican births in 1928 were between 60 and 70 per cent of all births.

In the following table are given the total births in the counties and cities of California in 1928, the number of Mexican births and the percentage which Mexican births represented of the total. This distribution of Mexican births indicates the migration of Mexican families into the San Joaquin Valley and certain counties of northern California. Santa Barbara and Ventura indicate the presence of a large proportion of Mexicans. In the San Joaquin Valley, Madera, Kings, and the rural districts of Fresno and Kern counties indicate over one-fifth of all births to be Mexican; while an unexpectedly large proportion of Mexican births are found in Amador (26 per cent) Contra Costa rural (19.8 per cent), Lassen (18.2 per cent), Placer (19.7 per cent), San Benito (18 per cent) and Tuolumne (16.4 per cent).

Since 1916 the Los Angeles County Health Department has been segregating its statistics of Mexican births and deaths, in the unincorporated area of the county, and the rapid increase in the number of Mexican births and the proportion which they represent of the total, as given in the following table, indicates the increase of Mexican population in that district. It will be noted that in 1916 Mexican births represented one-eighth of the total but the proportion has increased to nearly one-third of the total in 1927.

Excess of Births Over Deaths.

A tabulation of the white¹⁷ and Mexican deaths in the unincorporated area of Los Angeles County from 1921 to the present time, and a comparison with the births for the same period, indicates a steadily increasing excess of births over deaths among the Mexicans from 247 in 1921 to 950 in 1927, but among the white population in three years out of the seven, the number of deaths exceeded the number of births and the total excess of births over deaths for the seven years is only 241. The rapid increase in all classes of the population by migration overshadows the importance of the increase through excess of births over deaths, but the trend should be noted.

Corresponding figures of the excess of births over deaths, or of deaths over births, for the general population and for the Mexican population of Los Angeles City from 1918 to 1928, indicates that the Mexican share of this increase has grown from one-sixteenth in 1918 to well over one-third in 1927, and during the period of ten years almost one-fourth of the natural increase in population has been Mexican.

¹⁵ Figures from the Los Angeles County Health Department, 1929. The large number of Japanese births in the earlier years covered in this table accounts for most of the difference between the sum of the white plus the Mexican, and the total.

Infant Mortality.

As has been demonstrated by the elaborate studies made by the United States Children's Bureau,²¹ infant mortality may be accepted as an index of the standard of living and intelligence of the group. A comparison of the infant mortality rate²² among the Mexican and white population of Los Angeles County's unincorporated area is significant. With a foreign language group the tendency towards incompleteness in the reporting of vital statistics always exists, but under the present maternal and infant hygiene service conducted by the Los Angeles County Department of Health, every precaution is taken to insure completeness and accuracy. During all this period the district has been within the birth registration area, which implies repeated checks upon the completeness and accuracy of reporting.

Causal Factors in Infant Mortality, 1925.²² The infant mortality rate is the number of deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, under one year of age per 1000 live births.²³ Figures from Los Angeles County Health Department, 1930.

Comparison of the white and Mexican infant mortality rates indicates sharply the poverty and unintelligent mode of living of the Mexican group. In 1916 over one-fourth of all Mexican babies born died within their first year of life, an extraordinarily high rate, and while the rate showed improvements in 1919, 1920, and 1921, it still stood at 250.6 in 1923. At that time the county established an intensive program of maternal and infant hygiene, which has served to reduce the death rate among Mexican infants to 104.5 in 1929, but this rate still remains over two and a half times as high as among the white population.

Comparison of the white and Mexican infant mortality by causes brings out the contrast still more sharply. In his analysis of the causes of infant deaths, Dr. John L. Pomeroy, director, Los Angeles County Health Department, states:²⁴ "Premature birth is a general cause not related to mode of living, and for this cause little difference is to be noted between the white and Mexican rates. For the other causes, gastrointestinal, communicable, and respiratory diseases, are all controlled mainly by intelligent type of living habits and precaution measures. For these causes the Mexican rate is from two to eight times higher than the white rate." This comparison is indicated in the following table:

Communicable Disease.

A study of communicable disease, the number of cases, number of deaths, and particularly the case fatality rate, serves as a general index of the mode of living, the care received, and the physical resistance of the individual.²⁵ From 1921 the Los Angeles County Health Department has made a racial segregation in its records. This separation of figures as to the white and the Mexican population brings out the fact that one-sixth of all communicable cases and one-fourth of all such deaths are of Mexicans. Without accurate population statistics, which are not obtainable, the percentage of Mexicans in the population can not be computed, but according to estimates of population, the number of cases and deaths among the Mexicans is disproportionately high. The case fatality rate—the number of deaths per hundred cases—can, however, be computed and this serves as an index of care and resistance. In 1921, among the Mexican population, nearly one-fourth of all cases of communicable disease (which includes all diseases reportable by law) terminated fatally. This rate was nearly twice as high as the fatality among the white population. Under an expanded service inaugurated by the County Health Department in 1921, the communicable diseases have been given care and treatment far more intensively than in former years; the general case fatality rate nearly cut in two, and the Mexican rate still more sharply reduced. The “white” rate was cut from 13.4 to 7.4 and the Mexican rate from 22.9 to 9.6. The greater decrease in the Mexican rate is credited to the fact that it was so much higher when the situation was taken in hand by the County Health Department, and for this reason the county had to assume a more complete measure of authority. But in spite of all their efforts the Mexican rate remains nearly a third higher than the white rate, and is considered by the health authorities as indicative of a fundamentally less sturdy stock. The number of cases of communicable disease, number resulting in deaths and the case fatality rate, for the total population, white and Mexicans, are given in the following table:

Tuberculosis.

The prevalence of tuberculosis among the Mexican population of California is one of the outstanding problems of health and relief agencies wherever Mexicans are found in large numbers. Statistics from the Los Angeles County Health Department for the unincorporated area of the county indicate this condition. In 1921 all deaths of Mexicans (211) represented 11.5 per cent of the total deaths (1835)²⁶ in that area, while as is indicated in the following table Mexican deaths from tuberculosis amounted to 14.8 per cent of the total due to that cause. In 1927 all deaths of Mexicans (459) represented 13.9 per cent of the total deaths (3303), while among the deaths due to tuberculosis Mexican deaths represented 19.6 per cent, while in 1925 it will be noted that Mexican deaths from tuberculosis were almost one-fourth (24.0 per cent) of all deaths from that disease. The increasing proportion of all Mexican deaths in that area is probably due to the increasing proportion of Mexicans in the population; but the Mexican proportion of deaths from tuberculosis has increased much more rapidly than their proportion of all deaths.

Segregated statistics of deaths from tuberculosis disclose the fact that in 1929 Mexicans constituted over one-fifth of all deaths from tuberculosis, where eight years earlier they had represented only one-seventh. Undoubtedly the increase is due in part to the increasing proportion of Mexicans in the population, but the addition to the population of tubercular whites largely offsets this factor. The number of tuberculosis deaths for the past nine years is given in the following table:

Comparable figures regarding the prevalence of tuberculosis among Mexicans in other sections of the state are not available, but the seriousness of the situation is borne out by a census taken of all cases under observation in the tuberculosis clinic maintained by the Los Angeles City Health Department,²⁸ on June 1, 1928. Out of 1516 patients, which included diagnosed cases, pretubercular cases, patients under observation and contact cases, 413 or 27 per cent of the total, were Mexican. As Mexicans are estimated to constitute about 10 per cent of the city's population, the fact that he totals over one-fourth of the clientele of the tuberculosis clinics is probably due in part to poverty and the necessity of seeking free treatment, but undoubtedly reflects also a high general tuberculosis rate among the Mexican population.

For further information upon the prevalence and seriousness of tuberculosis among the Mexicans a detailed study was made by the Los Angeles County Charities Department on May 1, 1926,²⁹ of the cases on aid at that date in which tuberculosis was involved. From that study certain significant facts and comparisons may be drawn.

From these figures it will be noted that nearly two-fifths of all tuberculosis cases in which county relief was granted were Mexican, and nearly a fourth of all Mexican relief cases involved tuberculosis, while only one-tenth of all non-Mexican cases involved tuberculosis.

Seven-eighths of the heads of the Mexican families having tuberculosis were born in Mexico, but nearly four-fifths had been in the United States over five years. The dates of arrival in the United States of these families were checked very carefully. If accurate, the large number developing tuberculosis after being in the country five years or more would indicate living conditions in this country tending towards the development of the disease, and probably, a fundamentally susceptible stock.

A check-up on the living quarters of these 374 families indicates that half were still living in overcrowded conditions, after improvements had been effected in many cases by the county. Provisions for space were reported by the workers as fully as adequate as that of neighboring families. The tabulation of room space gives a fair picture of general overcrowding among Mexican families. The 374 families studied consisted of 1571 persons, or an average of 4.2 per family, which is less than the size of the average Mexican family, as indicated in other studies.³⁰

³⁰ The studies (see page 178) made by the Los Angeles County Health Department indicated averages of 4.7 and 4.8 per family. A study of all its Mexican cases made by the Los Angeles County Charities, January, 1929, indicated an average of 4.6 persons per family.

Total cases handled by the bureau	2,772
Number Mexican cases handled by the bureau	1,140
Percentage Mexican of total	41.1

As a further index of sickness and the need of health service, a compilation³¹ was made of the number of cases active in the nursing division of the Los Angeles City Health Department on January 30th of each year since 1920, which indicates that Mexicans constituted from one-third to nearly one-half of the persons served by the nursing division. The increase in service rendered to American families in the last few years is due to the establishment of well-baby clinics in certain nonimmigrant districts, an educational service not reflecting either sickness or poverty. The other groups served by the nursing division reflect directly the measures taken by the City Health Department to meet the pressing problems of poverty, sickness, and ignorance.

Mexicans in the State Hospitals.

The care of the insane and feeble-minded is one of the increasing burdens of public charity. At the present time all of the state institutions are overcrowded³² and only the cases most urgently in need of institutional care can be given treatment. Under these conditions, fewer admissions have been made in recent years than would have been made if facilities had permitted the admission of all cases where state care is desirable. The factor of deportation also affects analysis of these figures, since an alien who becomes insane within five years after entry may be deported. In the biennium, 1927-8, 218 Mexican patients were admitted to state hospitals, of which number 88 (40 per cent) were deported by federal authorities.³³ The policy of deportation accounts for the fact, as given in the following tables, that the proportion of Mexican inmates is much less than the proportion of Mexicans admitted to the hospitals. The possibility of deportation undoubtedly serves also as a deterrent to the reporting of milder cases.

The following table gives the total number of inmates of each of the state hospitals and the institutions for the feeble-minded and the number of Mexicans:

For the year 1922-1923 Mexicans constituted 3 per cent of the total admissions to hospitals for the insane and 2.7 per cent of admissions to institutions for the feeble-minded. In 1927-1928 Mexicans admitted to the hospitals for the insane had increased to 4.3 per cent of the total, an increase of nearly 50 per cent in five years, and in the institutions for the feeble-minded the number of Mexicans increased in the same period of five years from 2.7 per cent to 6.9 per cent of all persons admitted.

THE DEPENDENCE OF MEXICANS UPON CHARITY

Mexican Families Receiving State Aid.

State aid is granted in California to orphans, half orphans and certain classes of children whose fathers are tubercular or completely incapacitated. On January 1, 1928, aid was paid to 5288 families, representing a total of 13,105 children. Of this total 515 families were Mexican which represents 9.7 per cent of the total number of families. Family groups among the Mexicans being larger than among the general population brought the total number of Mexican children receiving aid slightly above one-tenth of the total.

Among the conditions of eligibility for aid is that of legal residence within the state for at least two years. Largely on account of this requirement the eight counties of southern California, because of the recent arrival of a large part of their population, received in 1928 only 30.8 per cent of the total amount of state aid, although their estimated population was about half that of the entire state. This residence condition renders many needy Mexican families ineligible to aid from the state, since many have resided in the state less than two years. Also, state aid may not be paid to a family which entered the state in a dependent condition, and this condition also renders many Mexican families ineligible. From the fact that one-tenth of all state aid to children is now paid to Mexican families and that residence qualifications render many other needy Mexican families ineligible to aid, it becomes evident that poverty and need are proportionately more common among the Mexicans than among the general population of the state. In Los Angeles County Mexicans represented one-fourth³⁵ of the families receiving state aid. As they are estimated to comprise about 11 per cent of the population, their greater general poverty and need is indicated.

Dependent Children in Institutions.

Information concerning the racial background of all children in all orphanages and other institutions for dependent children was secured by the Department of Social Welfare as of April 1, 1928. These institutions were caring for a total of 5357 children, of which number 416, or 7.8 per cent, were Mexican. Among the institutions in northern California only 85 Mexican children were being cared for out of a total of 3019, but in the southern counties Mexican children numbered 331 out of 2338, or 14.1 per cent, and in the institutions in Los Angeles County practically one-sixth (16.4 per cent) of all the children were Mexican. As a number of the institutions accept no Mexicans, the proportion in the rest of the institutions becomes conspicuously high.

County Relief in Los Angeles County.

Financial relief to the needy in Los Angeles County is administered almost entirely by the Outdoor Relief Division of the County Charities Department, the Community Chest and other private charities devoting their efforts and resources to family welfare, clinics and other health services, and other community welfare projects. A statement of the funds given by the county charities in total and to Mexicans, therefore, covers the bulk of financial relief given in that area.

In the following table is given the total number of cases and the number of Mexican cases on county relief for the five years, 1923-4 to 1927-8. In 1924-5 Mexican cases ran over one-third of the total, but for the other years they have represented approximately one-fourth. The total amount of money given in relief has risen from $938,167 in 1923-4 to $1,509,780 in 1927-8. The amounts paid to the Mexican families have not been segregated so that it is not possible to state whether the amounts given to them are greater or less than their proportion of the total number of cases.

In addition to relief given through the County Charities Department, the only agency administering a considerable relief budget is the Catholic Welfare Bureau. In the accompanying table are given the number of children cared for during 1924, 1926, 1927, and six months of 1928. Nearly half of all the children cared for are Mexican, but less than half of the funds expended were for their care. In family relief the bureau has cared for a far smaller proportion of Mexican families.

Service to Mexicans by Los Angeles Chest Agencies.

To supplement the statistics of financial relief in Los Angeles County the Los Angeles Community Chest was asked by the Department of Social Welfare to have all chest agencies serving any Mexicans in their clientele make a segregation in their records so that the proportion of service to Mexicans could be shown. Segregated records were kept from June 1 to November 1, 1928, by 17 agencies. As there are over a hundred agencies in the chest it will be noted that about five-sixths of the agencies serve no Mexicans, but among those serving Mexicans are several of the largest charitable agencies of the city.

Hospital and clinic service and family welfare are the chief fields of service of these agencies. Practically no relief was given except through the Catholic Welfare Bureau.

Public Care of the Tubercular, Los Angeles County.

Olive View Sanitarium, a county institution for the needy tubercular, was established in 1924 to meet the problem of tuberculosis care of those who have to appeal to the county charities for treatment. Its original purpose of caring primarily for curable cases has been changed under the pressure of need to the general care of the tubercular and the removal from the community of serious cases threatening infection to others. The institution reports that the prevalence of tuberculosis among the Mexican population is sufficient to utilize all the facilities of the sanitarium for that group alone but the number cared for reflect mainly the policy of removing from the community persons who are foci of infection. The cost of care and treatment given at Olive View in the fiscal year 1926-7 amounted to $746,927. The number and proportion of Mexicans cared for is given in the following table:

ment of inmates totaled $913,156 in 1926-7. Comparatively few Mexicans are sent to the farm, their standard of living, racial clannishness and national food habits making assistance to them in their own group a happier solution of their needs. The number and proportion of Mexicans cared for at the county farm 1925-6 to 1928-9 is given in the following table. Previous to 1925 no record of inmates by races was kept.

Hospital Care of Mexicans, Los Angeles County Hospital.

Aid in the form of free medical and hospital service has come to be a most important item of public charity. A survey made by the State Department of Public Health covering the service rendered to Mexicans by the Los Angeles General (County) Hospital for two years July 1, 1922, to June 30, 1924,³⁷ disclosed the fact that the care and treatment given to Mexicans during that period cost the county $2,-358,088 or well over a million dollars a year. Since that time the number of Mexicans cared for in the hospital has increased over a third.

In 1919-20 the number of Mexican patients totaled 11.3 per cent of the total, and this percentage increased irregularly to 18.4 in 1926-27, but dropped to 15.4 in 1927-28. The record by years, 1919-20 to 1927-28, is given in the following table:

County Relief in Orange County.

From the records of the Orange County Social Service Department a tabulation was made of the cases covering a two-year period 1925 to 1927 to determine how large a factor the Mexican represented in the relief problem of that county. From this tabulation it will be noted that nearly one-half of all the cases assisted by Orange County during the two years were Mexican, and owing to their larger families a slightly larger percentage of the individuals affected were of that race. The number of Mexican births in Orange County in 1928, 612 out of a total of 1945, or 31.5 per cent of the total, indicates the large proportion of Mexicans in the county:

County Relief in Riverside County.

From the records of the County Welfare and Relief Department of Riverside a summary of the amount of relief given to all cases and to Mexican cases for five years beginning 1923-4, made by that department, is given below. As the cases were recorded partly as families and partly as individuals the number of either families or individuals can not be clearly shown. In 1923-4 and 1924-5 well over a third of all relief was given to Mexicans, but in 1925-6, 1926-7 and 1927-8 the percentage decreased to slightly less than a third. The percentage of Mexican births in Riverside County in 1928, 545 out of a total of 1504, or 36.2 per cent, indicates the large percentage of Mexicans in that county.

County Relief in San Diego County.

From the records of the County Welfare Department of San Diego a summary of the total number of cases and the number of Mexican cases, together with the amounts of aid given to both groups, was made for the five years, from 1923 to 1928. In 1928 the number of Mexican births in that county was 703 out of a total of 3403, or 20.7 per cent. From the table below it will be noted that the percentage of Mexican cases was slightly less than the percentage of Mexican births in 1928.

³⁹ From the records of the Orange County Welfare Department.

⁴⁰ From the records of the County Welfare and Relief Department of Riverside.

On the average amount of relief given to Mexican and non-Mexican cases little difference is to be noted; in two out of the five years the Mexican cases averaged less relief, but in three of the years the average amount given was greater.

County Relief in San Joaquin County.

From the records of the San Joaquin County Welfare Department a summary was made by that department of the total cases and of Mexican cases for the five years beginning 1923, indicating the total and the number of Mexican cases, the number of individuals involved, and the amounts given for each year. Mexican births in San Joaquin County in 1928 numbered 121 out of a total of 1633, or 7.4 per cent, which is less than half the general percentage of Mexican births for the entire state, but the records present certain significant facts. The size of the Mexican families averaged 4.7 persons, while the non-Mexican families averaged 3.7. The proportion which Mexican cases represented of the whole increased irregularly from 9.7 per cent to 12.6 per cent. The amount of aid given per case to non-Mexicans decreased steady from an average of $194.85 in 1923 to $146.92 in 1927; while the average amount of relief given the Mexican cases, which in 1923 was less than half that given to non-Mexicans, increased, with a sharp increase in 1927 which made the average amount given per Mexican case greater than that given to non-Mexican cases. This increase in amounts given to Mexican cases is due chiefly to the sharp increase in the number of Mexican families given state aid. In 1927 approximately one-sixth of all families receiving state aid for children in San Joaquin County were Mexican, although the Mexican population of the county, as indicated by the birth statistics, would presumably be a very much smaller proportion.

CRIME AND DELINQUENCY AMONG THE MEXICAN POPULATION

Statistics of crime and delinquency of the Mexican element in the state in comparison with corresponding figures for the general population serve as an index of racial or national characteristics and also as an index of the adjustment or lack of adjustment of the Mexican to American customs and standards.

Mexicans in Prisons.

California at the present time has two state prisons, first offenders usually being committed to San Quentin and the recidivists and more dangerous criminals to Folsom. In the following table are given the total number of prisoners at San Quentin on June 30th of each year for the past twenty years, the number of Mexicans, together with the number of commitments of all prisoners and of Mexicans each year, and the percentage which the Mexicans represent of the total. No attempt is made to give separate figures for Mexicans born in the United States and those born in Mexico, as the prison authorities consider that their figures are not accurate, since the possibility of deportation at the end of their sentence influences some Mexicans born in Mexico to state that they were born in the United States.

From this table it will be noted that on June 30, 1909, there were 87 Mexicans in San Quentin out of a total prison population of 1814, or 4.8 per cent and during that year the Mexicans committed to San Quentin represented 5 per cent of the total. From 1909 the number and proportion of Mexicans increased fairly steadily until 1918; and since that time they have remained approximately one-eighth of the total prisoners and the same proportion as to yearly commitments.

at the end of each year in comparison with the total are not available; but the total number of prisoners and the number of Mexican prisoners in the institution September 30, 1929, classified according to crime, are given in the following table:

A comparison of the figures concerning the prisoners at Folsom indicates a much smaller percentage of Mexicans at that prison than among the first offenders at San Quentin, 6.6 per cent at Folsom, September 30, 1929, as against 12.7 per cent at San Quentin, June 30, 1929. The fact that a large part of the Mexicans in California have been in the state only a few years probably explains at least in part the smaller percentage of recidivists.

A comparison of the Mexicans with the total as to the nature of their crimes indicates that the offenses which proportionately they are most inclined to commit are violations of the State Poison Act, which relates to narcotics, and the carrying and assault with deadly weapons. The crimes which they rarely commit are forgery, which is to be expected among a people having a high rate of illiteracy and little familiarity with banking, and violations of the Motor Vehicle Act. The crime for which the largest number of Mexicans are sent to Folsom is burglary, which is true of the total prison population also, but the Mexicans represent more than their proportion of persons committed for burglary; and at the same time they have a comparatively low rate of commitment for robbery. In other figures relating to crime among the Mexicans this tendency towards a higher incidence of burglary as against a lower incidence of robbery, which latter crime includes personal encounter, is interesting to note.

On the point of infraction of rules a comparison of Mexicans with the general prisoners shows him to be a far more frequent violator. In 30 months ending September 30, 1929, Mexicans committed 212 infractions of rules out of a total of 946; that is, one-sixteenth of the prisoners committed over one-fifth of the infractions. This is explained in part as due to a more imperfect knowledge of English, rather than to any general tendency to insubordination.

A tabulation of certain other social data relating to the Mexican prisoners at Folsom indicates their general background. Educationally their status is far lower than the American standard, as indicated by the following tabulation:

⁴³ From the records of Folsom Prison.

Number with no education	35
Number with 1-4 years' schooling	49
Number with 5-8 years' schooling	48
Number with over 8 years' schooling	6
Number with university or professional education	none

By occupation the Mexican prisoners reflect largely their background of unskilled labor:

Number of laborers	88
Number in skilled trades (carpenters, painters, barbers, etc.)	38

The 1910 census gives the population of California as 2,377,549 of which number 51,037, or 2.1 per cent were native born Mexicans. The 1920 census records 3,426,861 as the total population of the state of which number 86,610, or 2.5 per cent were native born Mexicans. In the absence of a recent census, it is not possible to draw any close comparison of the incidence of crime among the Mexican population as compared with the general population. It would appear to be very high but the comparison is affected by the fact that more men than women have entered the country and the age distribution gives a larger proportion of Mexicans in the age groups most commonly found in prison. Police officials generally state a greater tendency among arrested Mexicans to plead guilty to charges and the common financial inability to extended defense and appeal of cases, both of which causes undoubtedly increase the apparent crime among the Mexicans.

Mexicans in Correctional Schools.

California maintains two correctional schools for boys—Whittier State School for problem boys 8 to 16 years of age, and the Preston School of Industry for those 16 to 21.

Administration officials in the two state schools for boys have been sharply concerned during the past few years by the rapid increase in the number of Mexican boys committed to their care. By 1928 the proportion had increased to nearly one-fifth of all the boys at Preston and one-tenth of those at Whittier. The State School for Girls, however, shows a small number of Mexicans. In order to obtain a more complete picture of juvenile delinquency, statistics of Mexicans in the private correctional schools are added in the following table:

From the foregoing table it will be seen that 11.8 per cent of all boys in correctional schools, and 19.6 per cent of all girls are of Mexican race. In the state schools the proportion of Mexican boys, 15.5 per cent of the total is doubtless affected by the fact that the private schools accept virtually no Mexicans. Since the private schools deal, as a rule, with less serious cases, their apparent policy not to accept Mexican boys is probably in part responsible for the very large proportion of the older Mexican boys sent to Preston.

An examination into the nature of offenses for which commitments were made to Preston indicates very little difference between Mexican boys and the rest of the institution population. Fewer Mexicans were sent up for truancy which probably reflects the attitude of the authorities rather than frequency of offense; and petit larceny was also a less frequent cause of commitment. An explanation offered by the Los Angeles Police Department was not that Mexican boys committed larceny less frequently but that they were commonly sent to jail for that offense, rather than to Preston. Forgery, rare among native born Mexicans, was practically as common a cause for commitment among these Mexican boys at Preston who are mainly American born as among the other boys and doubtless reflects the greater familiarity among the American born with handwriting and banking.

tion of offense of these younger boys. The records of the institution indicate a decidedly lower degree of intelligence, after all allowance has been made for language difficulty.⁴⁶

In considering the total figures of delinquency among girls it should be noted that the number of girls in private schools (325) greatly exceeds the number in the state school, and two out of the three private schools (representing over 80 per cent of the total inmates) are Catholic. As the Mexicans are mainly Catholic this will account in part for the large percentage of Mexican girls in private correctional schools. The large percentage of Mexican girls in private correctional schools reflects, therefore, the policy among the Catholics of giving institutional care to delinquent girls, rather than any comparison of delinquency among the Mexican girls.

To obtain a picture of crime, misdemeanor and general social maladjustment, records are here presented compiled from the office of the sheriff of Los Angeles County and the Police Department of Los Angeles city. Taken together these do not represent the whole county since other incorporated areas exist in the county from which comparable statistics could not be obtained. However, these figures reflect conditions in the largest settlement of Mexicans in California. The city represents a total population estimated at 1,300,000 of which the Mexicans are estimated at slightly over one-tenth. The county area to which the sheriff's figures apply includes a population estimated by the statistical division of that office to be between 300,000 and 400,000, with probably a slightly higher percentage of Mexicans than in the city.

A statistical system of records was not installed in the sheriff's office until 1927 and no records can be obtained previous to that date. In the following table is given a compilation of the causes of arrest of all persons booked in the Los Angeles County jail for the twelve months from July 1, 1927, to June 30, 1928, showing the total persons booked for each offense.

The proportion of women booked in the county jail is unusually high but is accounted for by the fact that the city police house all arrested women in the county jail.

Of the total persons booked it will be noted that Mexican men represent 17.1 per cent and Mexican women 14.8 per cent, a percentage rather higher than their estimated proportion in the population. The offenses for which they were arrested with greater frequency than the rest of the population are assault and battery, disturbing the peace, drunkenness, gambling, violations of federal and state narcotic laws, murder, petty larceny, rape, and vagrancy. The offenses which they show less tendency than the rest of the population to commit are embezzlement, forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses, receiving stolen property, manslaughter, and parole violation. Among the women fewer arrests are noted of Mexican women for prostitution. Fewer arrests are noted among the Mexicans for contributing to delinquency and failure to provide.

From the Los Angeles Police Department statistics of arrest are available from 1925. These indicate an increasing proportion of arrests of Mexicans in the city, from 14.0 per cent in 1925, 14.6 per cent in 1925-6, 16.2 per cent in 1926-7 to 18.4 per cent in 1927-8. Without definite knowledge as to population figures, not obtainable, it can not be stated whether the increase in percentage of arrests represents an increase in lawlessness or only an increase in numbers greater than that of the general population.

In 1925, 1925-6 and 1926-7 the attempt was made to tabulate the records separately for the native born and the American born Mexicans, but the accuracy of these records was questioned and the separation was not continued. A condensed classification of arrests is given for 1925, 1925-6 and 1926-7 and greater detail for 1927-8. These figures indicate in general the same emphasis shown by the sheriff's records as to drunkenness, assault and battery, disturbing the peace, vagrancy, burglary, and violations of the narcotics laws.

Mexicans on Probation.

The number of persons on probation serves as an index of mal-adjustment and of the need of special effort on the part of the authorities in order to keep the probationer out of difficulties and to adjust him to a useful place in the community life. Figures of adult probation under the Los Angeles County Probation Department made no segregation of Mexicans, and no record to indicate the comparative extent of the work among the adult Mexican population could be obtained.

In the Los Angeles County Juvenile Probation Department a tabulation of active cases was made as of March, 1928, and the proportion of Mexican cases is indicated as follows:

Total number cases on probation-----	5,187
Boys -----	3,413
Girls -----	1,774
Total number Mexican children on probation-----	1,149
Mexican boys -----	648
Mexican girls -----	501

The Crime Prevention Bureau of the Los Angeles city police has a record of its probation service from which a compilation of two years' work was made by that bureau. In the fiscal year 1925-6, out of a total of 11,552 men on probation, 1310, or 11.3 per cent were Mexicans; while among a total of 4977 women, 704, or 14.1 per cent were Mexicans. During the following year the total number of men on probation was reduced to 10,596 but the number of Mexican men on probation increased to 1882, or 17.8 per cent of the total. The total number of women decreased to 4765 but the number of Mexican women increased slightly to 708, or 14.9 per cent of the total.

Juvenile Cases.

The Juvenile Bureau of the Los Angeles City Police Department handles a large number of cases relating to children, the large majority of which do not go to the juvenile court. Complaints range from dependency, incorrigibility, truancy and neighborhood rows to sex and criminal delinquency. From the following table it will be noted that during the first six months of 1925, when the present system of handling juvenile cases was installed, Mexican cases represented 18.9 per cent of the total cases, but the number of cases handled was small compared with the following year and Mexican cases were evidently given disproportionate attention. For the following three complete years Mexican cases represented 13.3, 13.1, and 12.2 per cent of all juvenile cases, a proportion fairly approximating the estimated proportion of Mexicans in the city.

TABLE 33. TOTAL NUMBER OF CASES HANDLED BY THE JUVENILE BUREAU, LOS ANGELES CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT, NUMBER OF MEXICAN CASES, AND PER CENT WHICH MEXICAN CASES REPRESENTED OF THE TOTAL, FOR THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1925, 1925-6, 1926-7, and 1927-8. (MEXICANS INCLUDE BOTH NATIVE AND FOREIGN BORN.)⁶⁰

1927-1928-----	12,016	1,471	12.2

The number of arrests of Mexican juveniles, however, indicates a degree of delinquency or maladjustment exceeding that of the estimated general population. Figures for 1925-6 and 1926-7 show that of all juveniles arrested 15.9 per cent were Mexicans, but in 1927-8 the percentage rose to 17.3 per cent.

An analysis of the causes for which Mexican and other juveniles were arrested in 1927-8, made by the Los Angeles City Police Department, as given in the following table, indicates that one-fourth (24.5 per cent) of all juveniles arrested for being idle and vagrant and nearly as large a proportion of those arrested for malicious mischief (22.3 per cent) were Mexican. For sex delinquency and incorrigibility fewer Mexican juveniles were arrested proportionately than on other charges.

SUMMARY

The social welfare problems of the Mexicans in California are defined largely by the fact that the Mexicans constitute the largest group of unskilled, low wage labor in the state, added to the background conditions which make them willing and desirous to come into the state to occupy that economic level. In the background are the handicaps of little or no schooling in Mexico and a lack of familiarity with English; physically, in Mexico they have lived on a meagre diet with little attention to sanitation and hygiene, which manifests itself in a high infant mortality rate and high rate for tuberculosis and other communicable diseases; and their relation to authority has been feudal, making difficult their adjustment to American traditions. Added to these handicaps is the fact that racial prejudice exists, particularly against those of non-European stock whose color, customs and habits of life differ from the American standard.

The salient points brought out in the data presented above are:

The Mexicans in California tend to live in colonies, both in urban and rural districts, and this condition slows down the process of assimilating American standards.

⁵¹ From Annual Reports of the Police Department, City of Los Angeles, 1925-1926, 1926-1927, 1927-1928.

⁵² Annual Report Los Angeles Police Department, 1927-1928.

Housing facilities available to the mass of Mexicans are frequently poor and below proper standards of sanitation.

Mexicans are frequently prohibited by sales agreements from purchasing property in any but Mexican districts.

The system of ground rent as it exists in some districts creates overcrowding and unhealthful conditions and discourages permanent sanitary improvements.

Births of Mexicans in California amounted to 17.7 per cent of all births in the state in 1929. In some of the cities near the border, Mexican births were 60 to 70 per cent of all births.

The infiltration of Mexicans in the northern part of the state is indicated by the following percentages which Mexican births represent of the total births in 1929: Amador County, 260; Contra Costa County (outside of Richmond), 19.8; Richmond, 14.7; Lassen County, 18.2; Merced County, 15.6; Placer County, 19.7; San Benito County, 18.0; Tuolumne County, 16.4. Los Angeles County, outside the incorporated cities, had 26.3 per cent Mexican births.

In the seven years from 1921 to 1927 the excess of births over deaths among the white population of the unincorporated area of Los Angeles County was only 241, while the Mexican excess of births over deaths for the same period was 4070.

In Los Angeles City for the ten-year period from 1918 to 1927 the total excess of births over deaths was 43,066, of which number 10,189, or 23.8 per cent, were Mexican.

The infant mortality rate in the unincorporated area of Los Angeles County in 1916 was 70 in 1000 births for white babies, and 285 among Mexican babies. In 1929 the white rate had been reduced to 39.6 but the Mexican rate was 104.5 in spite of great efforts on the part of the Health Department.

The Los Angeles County Health Department reports that the rate of communicable disease cases is higher among the Mexicans than among the general population. The case fatality rate (number of deaths per 100 cases) was definitely higher among the Mexicans, which the Health Department interprets as indicating a lower standard of living and care and a lower physical resistance to disease.

Olive View Sanitarium (Los Angeles County Tuberculosis Sanitarium) reports a steady percentage of about 23 of their cases to be Mexican. The number of cases makes it necessary to take largely extreme cases which should be removed from the community as foci of infection; not early, curable cases.

Of the total deaths from tuberculosis in Los Angeles County (unincorporated area) Mexican deaths represented 21.25 per cent in 1929. In the tuberculosis clinics operated by Los Angeles City, 27 per cent of the total clientele was Mexican in 1928.

Among the cases handled by the Los Angeles County Charities (study made in 1926), 23.8 per cent of all Mexican cases (families) involved tuberculosis. Among the non-Mexican cases only 10.8 per cent involved tuberculosis.

Over a three-year period, 1925-7, the Women's Venereal Clinic of the Los Angeles City Health Department reported 41.1 per cent of all its cases as Mexican.

Among cases receiving home nursing care from the Los Angeles City Division of Nursing, 29 per cent of all the cases were Mexican in 1929.

In the state hospitals for the insane, Mexicans represent only a small percentage (4.3 in 1927-8). In the state homes for the feeble-minded, the proportion has been increasing rapidly, but the percentage of total admissions (6.9 in 1927-8) is still small.

Of all orphans, half orphans, and other children receiving state aid in California, one in ten is a Mexican.

In the orphanages of the state in 1928, 7.8 per cent of the children were Mexican. In Los Angeles County one-sixth of all the children in institutions were Mexican.

The Los Angeles County Charities, which distributes practically all the relief in that county, reports that from 1923 to 1928 one-fourth of all its cases were Mexican.

Among the chest agencies of Los Angeles, five-sixths render no services to Mexicans. Those which serve Mexicans tend to give them a large part of their service.

At the Los Angeles County Farm only a small number of Mexicans are received, 3.9 per cent of the total in 1928.

In 1929-30, the Los Angeles General (County) Hospital treated 5516 Mexicans out of a total of 31,375 patients.

The Orange County Social Service Department, over a two-year period (1926-8), reported over two-fifths of their cases as Mexican.

The County Welfare and Relief Department of Riverside reports for the years 1923-8 over 30 per cent of all their cases as Mexican.

The County Welfare Department of San Diego reports for the years 1923-7 nearly a fifth of their cases as Mexican. The average amounts given per case, Mexican and non-Mexican, differ very slightly.

San Quentin Prison reports that for the twenty-one year period 1908-1929, 10.5 per cent of all prisoners received were Mexican. In Folsom Prison in 1929, 6.6 per cent of all prisoners were Mexican. At the two state correctional schools for boys, Preston and Whittier, in 1928 one-fifth and one-tenth, respectively, of all the boys were Mexican. At the same time, the private correctional schools had only 1 Mexican out of 302 boys. Grouping both public and private schools, the percentage of Mexicans was 11.8 of the total.

Few Mexican girls are sent to the Ventura State (correctional) School for girls; only 7 out of 169, in 1928. Combining public and private institutions for delinquent girls, 27.7 per cent of the total population in 1928 were Mexican.

Of all the prisoners booked at the Los Angeles County Jail during the year 1927-8, 17.1 per cent of the men were Mexican, and 14.8 per cent of the women were Mexican. Of those booked at the Los Angeles City Jail in 1925 (January to June), 14.0 per cent were Mexican; in 1925-6, 14.6 per cent were Mexican; in 1926-7, 16.2 per cent were Mexican; and in 1927-8, 17.5 per cent were Mexican.

The Los Angeles County Juvenile Probation Department reports, in 1928, 1149 Mexican children on probation out of a total of 5187, or 22.1 per cent. The Juvenile Bureau of the Los Angeles City Police Department reports a slightly decreasing percentage of Mexican juveniles on probation—13.37 per cent in 1925-6; 13.1 per cent in 1926-7; and 12.2 per cent in 1927-8, although the percentage of Mexican juveniles arrested during the same period increased from 15.9 to 17.3.

THE MEXICAN FAMILY; ITS SIZE AND ITS INCOME

(Prepared by the Department of Industrial Relations)

In cooperation with the Conference of Friends of the Mexicans of Pomona College, the Fact-Finding Committee made a house to house survey of 788 Mexican homes in southern California.¹ Americanization teachers and social workers interviewed the heads of the Mexican families visited and filled out questionnaires through which it was attempted to secure information on the following points:²

1. Occupation of head of family.
2. Number of children in the family now living.
3. Number of children working, part-time or full-time.
4. Whether relatives were living with the family.
5. Whether boarders or lodgers were living with the family.
6. Sources of family income.
7. Actual incomes of the families, by months for twelve months.

The families visited were located in towns and cities such as Anaheim, Chino, Corcoran, Delano, Downey, El Centro, El Monte, Fresno, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Puente, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Fernando, San Gabriel, San Pedro, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, and Santa Paula.

The data secured from these questionnaires, which were considered most dependable and accurate, were tabulated, and are presented below.

Occupations of Heads of Families.

The occupations of the heads of families included in this survey are shown in Table 1. Reference to this table shows that of the 676 males, heads of families, for whom occupation information was secured, 480, or 72 per cent, gave their occupations as laborers, most of whom were doing agricultural work. Besides the laborers no other single occupation is especially in evidence among the numerous other occupations listed in Table 1. It is noteworthy that many Mexicans were deriving their livelihoods from such skilled and semiskilled occupations as mechanics, blacksmiths, bakers, electricians, carpenters, and boiler makers. It will be observed also that nineteen of the heads of families interviewed were merchants, in business for themselves. These were mostly store keepers, trading with Mexican families in Mexican communities.

² The field work was done under the supervision of James H. Batten, Director of the Conference of Friends of the Mexicans, Pomona College, California.

Size of the Family.

The information secured relating to the number of children per married couple is exhibited in Table 2. A perusal of this table shows that of the total number of 769 families 43, or 5.6 per cent, had no children. Of the total number of families, the numbers who had three, four, or five children were nearly the same. Thus, 101 families reported as having three children each; 110 families, four children; and 113 families reported five children.

It will be observed that while 98 families were reported as having two children, 92 families were reported as having six children. Of the total number of families reported, 54.7 per cent had four children or less, while 45.3 per cent had five children or more. While five children is the size of the Mexican family most frequently reported, there are nearly as many families listed in the table, for whom only four or three children were reported.

The total number of children in the 726 families who were reported as having children was 3,290, or an average of 4.5 children per family. If the 769 families canvassed are considered, then the average number of children per Mexican family was 4.3.

The data here presented are not intended as a study of fecundity among Mexicans. Rather is it the purpose to present whatever dependable information was secured on the subject of the number of children per Mexican family.

Average Monthly Incomes.

An effort was made to secure accurate statistics of Mexican family incomes for a period of twelve consecutive months, but such information was only secured for 435 families. Data relating to the monthly incomes of 266 other Mexican families were also obtained. These data showed monthly incomes for less than twelve consecutive months. Altogether, therefore, the Fact-Finding Committee gathered figures showing monthly incomes for 701 families, and data based upon these figures are included in Table 3.

The average monthly incomes were obtained by averaging the actual monthly incomes reported for each family included in this table. It will be noted that 69.2 per cent of the families included in this table had monthly incomes of less than one hundred dollars. Eighty-four, or 12 per cent, of the 701 families, had monthly incomes of from $60 to $70. Two hundred eighteen families, or 31.2 per cent of the 701 families, had monthly incomes ranging from $70 to $100 per month; while 30.8 per cent of the families had monthly incomes in excess of $100.

Annual Incomes.

The total incomes of 435 Mexican families for twelve consecutive months, either during the calendar year 1927 or during 1927 and 1928, are shown in Tables 4 and 4a. It is interesting to note that 93, or 21.4 per cent of the 435 families, had incomes of $1,500 or more during twelve consecutive months. Forty-seven per cent of the families considered in this table had incomes of less than $1,000; while 53 per cent of the families had incomes of $1,000 or more during the twelve consecutive months for which their incomes were reported.

Table 4 shows that among the Mexican families visited there is a wide variation in their total annual incomes. About as many families had incomes from $700 to $800 as from $800 to $900, $900 to $1,000, $1,000 to $1,100, $1,100 to $1,200, and $1,200 to $1,300.

When the annual incomes for the same families are grouped by class intervals of two hundred dollars as in Table 4a, it is seen that 24.6 per cent, or the highest percentage, of families canvassed had incomes of $1,400, or more; 17.7 per cent, the next highest percentage, had incomes between $800 to $1,000; and 16.6 per cent between $1,000 to $1,200.

Children and Incomes.

The twelve months' incomes of the 435 families are tabulated in Table 5, next presented, according to the number of children in the family. This table shows that the average annual income for twelve months for all families was $1,156.15. The lowest average incomes are reported for families having no children and two children. The highest average income is reported for the ten families which were reported as having ten children each. The income of this group was $1,895. The next highest average, which was an income of $1,777.20, is reported for five families who had eleven children each.

This table shows no distinct correlation between the number of children per family and the average incomes for twelve months. Thus, while thirty-nine families, having one child, had an average income of $1,278.71, fifty-four families, having six children, had an average income of $1,225.33.

Of the 403 families, having children, for whom information as to full twelve months' incomes was secured, 142 families, or 35.2 per cent, reported 250 children working part-time or full-time, but mostly part-time. The total number of children in these 142 families was 824, and the percentage of these children working was 17.

The annual incomes reported for the 435 families were not, in all cases, derived by the head of the family only, but these incomes were supplemented, in 142 families, by the children working part-time or full-time. Neither were these incomes the results only of wages earned by the head of the family, or by working children; but, in some cases, these incomes were derived also from rent of land or from business profits.

SUMMARY

The data presented in this section of the report may be summarized as follows:

1. In a house to house survey of Mexican families in southern California, many Mexicans were found to be engaged in skilled and semi-skilled occupations, such as mechanics, blacksmiths, carpenters, and electricians, although the largest number of Mexicans visited were unskilled laborers engaged in agricultural pursuits.

2. The average number of children per Mexican family visited was 4.3. Of the 769 families visited, 40.4 per cent had 3 children or less, 54.7 per cent had 4 children or less, and 45.3 per cent had 5 children or more (Table 2).

3. Of the 701 Mexican families for whom data on average monthly incomes were secured, 69.2 per cent had monthly incomes of less than $100; 20.5 per cent had average monthly incomes of $100 or more, but less than $150; 5.9 per cent had average monthly incomes of $150 or more, but less than $200; and 4.4 per cent had average monthly incomes of $200 or more (Table 3).

4. A study of the total incomes for 12 consecutive months of 435 families showed that 38.1 per cent had annual incomes of less than $1,000; 31.5 per cent had annual incomes of $1,000 or more, but less than $1,500; and 21.4 per cent had annual incomes of $1,500 or more.

5. The average annual income for 435 Mexican families for whom information was secured was $1,156.15. Of the 403 families, having children, for whom information was secured as to annual incomes, 142 families, or 35.2 per cent, reported 250 children working part-time or full-time, but mostly part-time.

Proceedings of the Tenth Annual Encampment, Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States

HELD AT

OPENING SESSION, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 24

The opening session of the Tenth Annual Department Encampment, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, was called to order at 2:30 p.m. by Past Department Commander Henry M. Levitt, with delegates to the Encampment, delegates to the Ladies' Auxiliary, honored guests, and visitors present.

PAST COMMANDER LEVITT: "Comrades, sisters, and visitors, and our honored guests—I have the honor of welcoming you here this afternoon on behalf of the Santa Cruz Convention Committee, Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. I also have the honor of presenting to you and turning over the chair at this time to our Department Commander, Charles J. Hildebrandt." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We are fortunate to be assembled once again for our Tenth Annual Department Encampment, especially in this wonderful city of opportunity, Santa Cruz. We will dispense with any further oratorical remarks and will go ahead with introducing the guests, having the colors presented, and proceed with the requirements of the Constitution as laid down by our Department by-laws, in so far as the opening ceremonies are concerned. I am going to request that the orchestra play the first verse of the 'Star-Spangled Banner,' and that you all rise and join in singing this first verse."

The entire gathering then united in singing the first verse of the national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Sergeant-at-Arms, you will post the colors."

The Department colors, together with those Post colors then present at the Encampment, were posted under the direction of Department Sergeant-at-Arms William Flinn. The invocation was pronounced by Department Chaplain Fred Taylor.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I will request at this time that representatives of any fraternal, patriotic, veteran or civic organization who are visitors to this Encampment, please rise. There being none, we will proceed. Comrades and sisters, we have the opportunity and privilege of being welcomed to the city of Santa Cruz this afternoon by a very distinguished member of this community. It is my pleasure to introduce to you Mr. Fred Swanton, Mayor of the city of Santa Cruz." (Applause.)

MAYOR SWANTON: "Comrade Hildebrand, comrades, honored guests, and ladies of the Auxiliaries of the Veterans of Foreign Wars—It affords me great pleasure to come before you, representing the city of Santa Cruz, to welcome this body of men—not forgetting the ladies—and I assure you from the bottom of my heart I have never stood before a body that I desired more to welcome than I do these men.

The city of Santa Cruz, as you all know, has many conventions, and we like to have you with us. No doubt many of you have been here before, know all of our country, but you have never been entertained before by the committee that has been selected by our Post here in Santa Cruz. They have drawn up a wonderful program for you, and I trust that all of you will see fit to partake of every part of that program. Without your participation it will not be a success, and you will of course feel that you have not enjoyed your stay.

"In the name of the city of Santa Cruz I again want to welcome you, and if, as Mayor of Santa Cruz, I can be of any service to you whatever, if you get in any trouble of any kind, we will try to help you out. They have done something here that they never have done before; they have notified the laundries here not to sell distilled water. I don't know why, but you can guess. About a year ago we got into a little trouble—at least it caused the Mayor real trouble for a while—but I assure you it didn't perturb me one bit. Anyone can get into the same kind of trouble, but I don't believe any of you would do anything intentionally. I don't believe any of you would try to break a law that hasn't been broken before.

"Oh yes, I want to tell you that the next speaker is the Judge of our Police Court, and if you get into trouble we will try and have you in his Court—he ought to be able to fix things up.

"I want to thank you all for this privilege and pleasure, and trust I may meet you all individually as well as collectively." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Mr. Mayor, I can assure you on behalf of the organization that each individual will conduct himself along the lines suggested by you in your welcoming address. We sincerely appreciate having the Mayor of the city of Santa Cruz welcome us in convention assembled in this wonderful city.

"We have a representative, as our Honorable Mayor told you, who happens to hold the position of Police Court Judge, but we hope we won't have to meet him in that capacity. He is representing the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Santa Cruz and other civic organizations in extending to you a welcome. Mr. Donald Younger." (Applause.)

MR. YOUNGER: "Department Commander, comrades and ladies—In introducing the Mayor he was almost called a comrade, and then perhaps your Commander thought it was not quite enough dignified a term to please him; but I am taking the liberty of calling you comrades, because as Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce and Acting President this week while the President happens to be away, I consider, as does the Chamber of Commerce, that all of you who are here coming into Santa Cruz are comrades of Santa Cruz.

"We have been working with your local Post to make this Encampment a success; now it is up to you to make it a success. You will undoubtedly give thanks to those who have co-operated with you, but it is your local Post, the men on that committee who are making this wonderful Encampment what it is, and what it will be. The Chamber of Commerce of Santa Cruz is working hand in hand with the city administration. Just as a little instance: Mayor Swanton, who spoke here a moment ago, was up for re-election last year. Generally defeated candidates don't make any mention of the fact—I happened to be the candidate opposing him. We had a wonderful contest and a spirited election; but after it was over, the things we said we both want to forget. Now we don't think of the personal feelings that arise in such matters, and the Mayor and myself work hand in hand for Santa Cruz.

"We are undergoing growing pains at the present time. You in your Encampment here in Santa Cruz will undoubtedly have some of these growing pains; you are getting new veterans into your organization, and are growing, and so are we. And so, as a city official, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and on behalf of the twenty-seven service organizations in our city, we extend to you our open arms and our appreciation for coming here. We want you to be free to call upon us at any time. The Chamber of Commerce rooms are located uptown in the Palomar Arcade Building, and if it happens to be closed you can call the Police Department and they will do anything they can to take care of your needs." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, a wonderful welcome has been extended to us on behalf of all the service organizations, and you probably as well as I feel very highly gratified that we have such an able representative to welcome us as Mr. Younger of the Chamber of Commerce of Santa Cruz. I am now going to introduce Mrs. Leah Davis, of the Gold Star Mothers of America. Mrs. Davis happens to be the founder of that organization and Past National President, and all of us have a very warm spot in our hearts for those wonderful ladies who bore sons that we had to leave on the other side." (Applause.)

MRS. LEAH H. DAVIS: "Mr. Chairman, comrades, old, middle-aged, and young, veterans of all the wars of the United States of America—I never was so thrilled in my life, as I now am, to be with you today on this auspicious occasion. I have attended many meetings, have witnessed many things, but I don't remember when the result of the war was so forcibly brought home to me as a few moments ago when you were posting the colors—these beautiful flags, the Stars and Stripes of the United States of America. No wonder our boys went forth to victory, following this flag. In childhood, they were taught to revere it, the flag of their country. In youth they have rushed to defend it. And then many gave their lives in defense of it.

"The Gold Star Mothers is not a welfare organization; it is an organization of mothers who have made the supreme sacrifice, realizing that it is a glory to have given for so gracious and honorable a cause. What greater thing can a man do than that he lay down his life for another? In our organization the loss of our sons has been the means of developing greater patriotism in their mothers. We devote our time to helping the disabled veteran. We have also established legislative plans for the future welfare and benefit of Gold Star Mothers and Fathers. Our grief has brought to us a common cause, which we devote to usefulness, seeing only and believing only in the future glory of the United States of America, ready at all times to meet the foe of this glorious country.

"I appreciate, comrades, your kind invitation for me to be present with you upon this occasion. My life is devoted to the cause of veteranism, and I have a message that I have brought but do not wish to take up your time just now to present it to you. I am going to ask your indulgence if I am granted permission during your business session to present to you several resolutions which have been drawn up and which I hope to present to the next session of Congress, on behalf of Gold Star Mothers and Fathers, for we work just as diligently for fathers as we do for the mothers. I am asking all the veteran organizations to endorse our resolutions as I have prepared them, and to include them in their legislative program.

"May success follow you at all times, and may your convention be one of peace, harmony and success." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Mrs. Davis, I can assure you on behalf of our organization that we are highly honored to have you here, and I can also assure you that we will give your resolutions very earnest consideration."

Mrs. Marie Golly, of the local chapter of the American War Mothers' Association, was called upon at this time and very briefly extended the greetings of her organization.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I believe there are quite a few of the delegates and alternates to the Ladies' Auxiliary Convention who have been anticipating a word from our wonderful Department President of the Ladies' Auxiliaries, Mrs. Consuelo De Coe." (Applause.)

MRS. DE COE: "Comrade Department Commander, National Officers, present and past, Department Officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and their Auxiliaries, distinguished guests, sisters and comrades all—I am very happy to be here today to welcome you on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada. I hope and trust that our Encampment will be a very harmonious and a very constructive one. We all expect to have a good time, but let's all attend our meetings, get through with our business, and then we can have our good times. Please be on time when the actual Convention opens, and in that way you will assist your Department President.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank my many sisters for their wonderful cooperation this year. Ours has been a most successful year, but without your help it certainly would not have been. I am not going to take all the credit, because each one of you has been doing your share and without your co-operation I'm sure I couldn't have accomplished very much.

"I want to thank the Department Commander and the rest of the Department Officers for their splendid cooperation this year, and the Posts who sent in a greetings committee to welcome me when I visited the different Auxiliaries. I can not tell you how appreciative I was of these committees, because it showed me that these Posts were working right with their Auxiliaries and were in complete accord and harmony with them. Every Post does need an Auxiliary, and a good one. Ten-Ten please take notice.

"There is one comrade especially that I would like to thank, Comrade Harry Kellett, National Deputy Chief-of-Staff. Comrade Kellett, your help and assistance this year has been a big help to me. Comrade Kellett has always given me the names of the Commanders of the Posts newly instituted, and this has enabled me to write to the wives or other relatives of the comrades of these new Posts with a view to having them start Auxiliaries. I want to tell you that we have instituted fourteen new Auxiliaries this year, and I truly hope that the Department of California and Nevada will win the cup offered to the Department that forms the most Auxiliaries during the present administration, and I do hope that our delegates going to National this year will bring that cup back to our Department. I thank you." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades and sisters—No one can appreciate any more than I, as Department Commander during the past year, the very beneficial assistance that one can receive from this friendly affiliated organization, our Auxiliary, and believe me I have had the finest co-operation and assistance from the Ladies' Auxiliaries during this administration that one can receive, and I believe that we can thank Mrs. De Coe and her Department Officers and all of you sisters of the different Auxiliaries for that co-operation. I want to go on record as informing you that I certainly appreciate it very, very much." (Applause.)

The following distinguished visitors were also called upon by the Department Commander and extended to the Encampment the greetings of the organizations they represented:

Comrade John Moakley, Adjutant of the local (Santa Cruz) Post of the Grand Army of the Republic. Comrade Moakley was given a great ovation by the entire assembly.

Comrade Frank Graves, Department Commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, Department of California. Comrade Graves in his remarks expressed the hope that the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States would continue to work with the United Spanish War Veterans, as they have in the past, on beneficial veteran legislation. The Department Commander, in replying to Comrade Graves' remarks, pledged the continued cooperation of the Department to the United Spanish War Veterans, particularly from a legislative standpoint, and expressed sincere regret at not having been able to attend the Department Encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans at Fresno during the preceding month.

Comrade Charles C. Quitman, the Department Judge Advocate of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada, but representing the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, Department of California, at this Encampment. Comrade Quitman during his remarks gave a stirring description of the activities of the Bolshevistic element in this country, asking that this organization as well as kindred organizations continue to combat the encroachments of this menacing influence upon our national life. "I believe also, although I do not want to be considered intolerant, that that element in the United States today is very dangerous to our very existence, and therefore I am bold enough to say that if they refuse to recognize the Stars and Stripes, then it is up to us to make them see stars and wear stripes." The remarks of Comrade Quitman were greatly applauded.

Comrade William J. Otts, Governor of the Pacific Division, Imperial Order of the Dragon, an organization formed in China in the month of November, 1908, composed of men who served in the China Relief Expedition.

Comrade R. W. Butcher, Commander of the local (Santa Cruz) camp of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Comrade Stanley Conners, Regional Manager of the United States Veterans Bureau, San Francisco. Comrade Conners also extended the greetings of the regional manager of the bureau at Los Angeles.

Comrade Dr. R. W. Brewer, medical officer in charge of the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Livermore, California. Dr. Brewer during his remarks stated that there were 318 beds at the Livermore Hospital, with 275 patients now in the hospital, of which number 131 are drawing compensation. He expressed appreciation for the wonderful assistance that the comrades in the Livermore Hospital have been receiving from the various Ladies Auxiliaries of this and other veteran organizations. "If the time comes that I must do without the help of these organizations, I think I'll quit." Comrade Brewer stated the Livermore Hospital was as well equipped, not only in personnel but in hospital equipment, as any hospital he had served in throughout the country, and that all comrades entering same were receiving the best of treatment and care.

Mr. Richard Stillwell, representative of the Veterans Employment Division of the United States Department of Labor. Mr. Stillwell in his remarks emphasized that the U. S. Department of Labor was working with the U. S. Veterans Bureau in the matter of securing employment for veterans, realizing the necessity for this service. He urged that this organization support the Government in its endeavor to find employment for every veteran that is not now employed.

Mr. Archie Bowden, City Attorney for the City of San Jose, California.

Comrade B. A. Forsterer, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Veterans' Home at Yountville, California, and a member of Colonel J. J. Astor Post No. 999, Oakland. Comrade Forsterer, in the course of his remarks, stated that the Veterans' Home at Yountville was started some fifty years ago by the Grand Army of the Republic, and was taken over by the State of California in 1895, maintaining it ever since, with a small aid from the Government; that approximately a million dollars had been expended during the past four years for new construction at the Home, the funds therefor coming as a result of the State Athletic Commission events. Three new buildings have been constructed, with a fourth about to be erected, and it is ultimately planned to have eight of these buildings, and a new hospital. "The United Spanish War Veterans at their last Encampment passed a strong resolution calling upon the State administration to set aside the sum of $750,000 for the construction of a hospital at the Home. We have reason to believe that the American Legion will do the same thing, and I sincerely hope that you comrades and ladies will not hesitate to put your shoulders to the wheel and help bring that institution up to where it should be." The remarks of Comrade Forsterer were well applauded.

Lieutenant Art Young, representing the American Legion and the United Veterans of the Republic, Department of California. Comrade Young in his remarks stated that "The United Veterans of the Republic are in no way trying to take from any other veteran organization any of the wonderful and fine accomplishments that have been theirs. Our organization is one comprising the veterans of all wars, organized to express concrete political opinions, and to indorse candidates whom we believe are favorable to the issues which we believe to be right." He stated one of the chief issues that the United Veterans of the Republic were combatting was that of discrimination against veterans in civil service who have attained the age of 45; and not alone in civil service, but in every walk of industry in the present day.

Mrs. Laurie Schertle, member of the National Council of Administration of the Ladies' Auxiliaries.

Comrade Darold D. De Coe, National Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and a Past Department Commander of this Department. Comrade De Coe extended the greetings of the National Commander-in-Chief, and complimented the Department on its wonderful growth, as well as the Posts and Auxiliaries.

At this time the chair was turned over to Past Department Commander Henry M. Levitt, under whose direction and supervision the beautiful memorial services of the organization were conducted by the Department officers, with the assistance of the Ladies' Auxiliaries. A roll call of comrades of the Department who had passed beyond since the last Department Encampment, was read by Comrade Levitt, following which National Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief Darold D. De Coe delivered a brief memorial address. The services were concluded with the singing of "America" by the entire assembly.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades and friends, that concludes the services for this afternoon, but just before closing I would like to make a few announcements. I am going to name now the Committee on Credentials; Comrades Mueller, Gavin, Rauscher, and Cadotte. The balance of the committees will be announced tomorrow morning. We will now adjourn, to meet at 8.30 tomorrow morning to start the first business of the Encampment. And 8.30 means 8.30."

The meeting then, at 3.55 p.m., following the benediction by Past Department Commander Levitt, was duly closed.

SECOND SESSION, THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 25

The first business session of the Encampment was officially called to order at 8.45 a.m. by Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "This meeting of the Tenth Annual Encampment will come to order. Comrade Sergeant-at-Arms, you will advance and post the colors."

The Department colors were then brought forward and posted under the direction of Department Sergeant-at-Arms William Flinn.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, we are assembled for the purpose of transacting any business that may lawfully come before the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Let's try as far as possible to confine our remarks to the subject under discussion. We have a certain procedure for the Encampment that has been accepted by your Department, and we are going to strictly adhere to that. We will in no way attempt to railroad anything; nothing will be tried to be pushed over on you—in other words, we will use no steam roller tactics. You will all have an opportunity to state your side of any question, but please confine your remarks to the subject under discussion and let's not take up any more time than is absolutely necessary. We will now have a roll call of officers of the Department."

A roll call of Department officers disclosed the following present at the Encampment: Commander Chas. J. Hildebrand, Senior Vice Commander H. W. Winn, Junior Vice Commander George R. Freideman, Adjutant Charles O. Carlston, Judge Advocate Charles C. Quitman, Inspector Edward M. Seacord, Chaplain Fred Taylor, and Council of Administration Members Walter M. Williams, Cliff Bennett, Charles Gavin, and R. A. Wassam.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, another thing I want to request is that when you get up the first thing you do is state your name and the number of your Post. Those of you present who are not delegates will please take your position in the extreme rear of the auditorium or in the balcony; then we will know just who are duly accredited delegates. I am now going to name all of the committees, and at this time also appoint National Junior Vice Commander in Chief Darold D. De Coe and Past Department Commander Henry M. COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Knowing of no other candidates for Department Commander, I could not therefore put any more on the Greetings Committee. It has been customary to put the Past Department Commanders and the candidates for the highest office on that committee. I will ask at this time if there are any other candidates for the office of Department Commander." (No response.)

COMRADE WILLIAMS (904): "On the committee for Drum and Bugle Corps competition and drill teams you have the name of Comrade Toohey. Comrade Toohey is not present at the Encampment and I am not sure just when he will be here, if at all. Therefore that committee is unable to function until some change is made."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "That committee will have to function with the members that are present until other appointments are made. Your recommendations will be accepted by the Department."

COMRADE BORBA (67): "There is nobody on that Drum and Bugle Corps committee that has had any thing to do with drum corps, is there?"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "No, and if there should be we will have them taken off. Now comrades, the next thing according to your program is the reading of officers' reports. I will turn the gavel over to our Department Inspector, Comrade Secord, and will render my report at this time."

Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand at this time read to the Encampment a report of his activities for the period covered by his administration, stating in substance as follows:

During his term of office he has traveled approximately 30,000 miles, which included attendance at the National Encampment at St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1929, and attendance at a National Council of Administration meeting in Chicago. He has spoken before upwards of 60,000 people, and has visited at least the locality of each and every Post in the Department, if not the Post itself. He has himself installed eleven new Posts, and during the month of January of this year installed the officers of 22 different Posts and County Councils. Communications in the total amount of 1,112 were received and 1,234 answers written from the office of the Department Commander personally, this correspondence being exclusive of the correspondence handled through Department Headquarters.

Commander Hildebrand thanked the various committees he had appointed during the administration for their splendid cooperation and accomplishments, outstanding among which were the following: Committee on raising funds for the California Cottage at the V.F.W. National Home, consisting of Past Department Commanders Dan B. Schertle and Henry M. Levitt, and Department Quartermaster Vadie E. Bevers; Committee on Trophies and Awards, of which Senior Vice Department Commander H. W. Winn was chairman; the Department Encampment Committee, of which Department Inspector Edward M. Seacord was chairman; the Membership Drive Committee of the Department, with particular commendation for National Deputy Chief-of-Staff Harry K. Kellett and Department Chief-of-Staff A. G. Chapman; the Department Legislative Committee, with Comrade Albert Brady as chairman; the Department Publication Committee, of which Past Department Commander Darold D. De Coe was chairman; the Budget Committee, under the supervision and leadership of Comrade Charles Gavin. He also expressed his thanks to the members of the Department Council of Administration for their efficient service during the term just closing.

Comrade Hildebrand complimented the various Posts having publications, and stressed the necessity for continued activity in the way of obtaining favorable publicity for the organization, not alone in the Post publications but in the general press of the nation. In this connection he mentioned the recent billboard poster display undertaken by the National Organization, stating that this Department displayed about 475 of these posters. He stated that the Second Annual V.F.W. Day at the Veterans' Home at Yountville was quite a success, and, while on this subject, mentioned that it may soon become necessary to once again take an active part in preventing the repeal of the State Boxing Bill, under the provisions of which funds for the Home are received. Our National Legislative Committee has been very active in promoting legislation beneficial to veterans of all wars and their dependents. The funds of the Department were considerably increased this year, chiefly as a result of the moneys derived from the Kelly contract. Due to the allowance by National Headquarters of $1,500 for extension work, it has been possible to retain Comrade Harry K. Kellett as National Deputy Chief-of-Staff in the Department, whose accomplishments are set forth in his and the Department Adjutant's reports.

The Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Department were complimented highly by Department Commander Hildebrand in his report, particularly in connection with their assistance in the various Buddy Poppy drives throughout the Department and the donations they have made toward the California-Nevada Cottage Fund, and their many other beneficial services. The membership of the Department for the administration just closing showed an increase from 4,995 members as of March 31, 1929, to 7,400 members as of March 31, 1930. Nineteen new Posts were installed and instituted, and a like number of charter applications received, with several at present being circulated.

Department Commander Hildebrand concluded his report with the following recommendations: (1) The appointment of a recruiting committee as soon as possible after the new administration has assumed its duties; (2) continuation of the extension program and employment of National Deputy Chief-of-Staff Harry K. Kellett; (3) the rendering of reports regularly by the Deputy Chiefs-of-Staff in the Department; (4) Council of Administration members should take a more active interest in the Posts in their district; (5) every Post in the Department to participate in the raising of funds for the purpose of building the Department Cottage at the V.F.W. National Home; (6) every Post to participate in the Annual Buddy Poppy Drive; (7) continuance of visiting between the officers and members of the different Posts; (8) Posts to avail themselves of all publicity possible, through the press and by radio, and to start Post publications if possible; (9) the Department be permitted to retain all funds derived from the Kelly contract, as heretofore, for extension work; (10) that the Department have a Department publication; (11) that the Department take an active interest in the welfare of the Veterans' Home at Yountville; and (12) that the organization and the Department adhere strictly to the requirements of the National Constitution and By-Laws insofar as refraining from participation in politics is concerned.

The report of the Department Commander was well received by the Encampment.

(Note: A copy of the written report of Department Commander Hildebrand, together with that of each Department Officer submitting a report in writing of his activities during the administration, is affixed to these minutes and made a part thereof.)

At this time Colonel Nelson M. Holdermann, Commandant of the Veterans' Home at Yountville and a member of this organization, entered the auditorium and was escorted to a seat on the platform, together with Comrade A. K. Jones, National Aide-de-Camp.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, I was hoping that Colonel Holdermann would be present at our Encampment. It is impossible for us to recognize Comrade Holdermann on the floor of the Encampment at the present time unless a motion is made and carried to change the regular order of business. I think that Comrade Holdermann has a little message for us, and I believe that you would be glad of the opportunity of hearing him."

COMRADE WHITE (90): "I move you, Comrade Commander, that we suspend the rules of the present session and so give him his necessary authority." Motion seconded by Comrade Hudson, of Post No. 1020, and carried unanimously.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrade Holdermann, by the action of the Encampment it is now possible for us to enjoy the privilege of having you address these delegates this morning. It certainly is a great pleasure to me, comrades, to introduce this noble comrade, the Commandant of the Veterans' Home of the State of California." (Applause.)

COMRADE HOLDERMANN: "Comrade Department Commander, Department Officers and Comrades: I do not have words to adequately express my appreciation of this fine honor. Now, comrades, I am not going to make you a long drawn out speech at all. I just want to bring the greetings of the members of the Veterans' Home. I am not going to go into the details concerning the Home, for Comrade Forsterer, I understand, who is the President of the Board of Directors of the Home, spoke on the Home yesterday and went into considerable detail concerning the wants and needs of the Home, so I am not going to go into that matter; but I believe you might be interested in knowing something concerning the membership, segregated as to wars.

"We have 108 Civil War veterans; we have 66 Indian War veterans; there are 912 Spanish-American War veterans; there are 391 World War veterans; there are 38 foreign service and 19 other service veterans, which makes a total of 1534.

"You have heard about our building program there, and the wants and needs of the Home, so I am not going into that; but I want to say something about the Veterans of Foreign Wars Day at the Home. It was a great success, and we want to make it a greater success as each year passes, so try and bring several comrades along with you next year when you return.

"I want to thank this wonderful organization for the fine support which you are giving the Home. The only way we are going to be able to rebuild the Veterans' Home of California is by the aid and assistance of these wonderful organizations, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been untiring in their efforts on behalf of the Home.

"I want to again thank you, comrades, for this great honor, and to say to you that I am very proud, more than I can express, in that I am a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I thank you, comrades." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I am sure, Comrade Holdermann, that the comrades concur in the sentiments expressed by you in being glad that you were able to be present for this meeting, and we can assure you that we will always do everything in our power to further the program that you have undertaken and to make the Home a real place for veterans. We will now go back to the regular order of business for this session, and I will ask Senior Vice Department Commander Winn to submit his report."

Department Senior Vice Commander H. W. Winn then read to the Encampment his report of activities for the year, in substance as follows:

Attended every Council of Administration meeting of the Department held during the past three years. Represented the Department at many public and other functions, such as dedications of memorial buildings, gatherings of Allied Veterans' Councils in different localities, and similar affairs, at which gatherings he spoke of the accomplishments of our organization, particularly with regard to the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids.

During the administration just closing Comrade Winn stated he installed the newly elected officers of Colonel Robert Loghry Post No. 466, Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010, Corporal Green Post No. 1020, Joseph M. McQuaide Post No. 1205, and the Alameda County Council. He visited practically every Post in northern California at least once, and acted as Installing Officer when the new Posts at Santa Rosa and Visalia were instituted, as well as being in attendance at the institution of the Posts at Watsonville, Willows and Merced. As chairman of the Department Trophies and Awards Committee, he arranged for and designated trophies for every phase of Department activities, to be awarded at the Department Encampment.

Comrade Winn concluded his report by recommending that the senior officer of the Department in northern California automatically become chairman of the V. F. W. Day at the Veterans' Home, and thanked his fellow Department Officers and the comrades of the Department for their hearty cooperation and assistance.

The report of the Department Senior Vice Commander was well received.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Our Junior Vice Department Commander being unavoidably detained, we will await his arrival. We will now hear from the Department Adjutant and Acting Quartermaster, Comrade Charles Carlston."

Department Adjutant Charles O. Carlston thereupon read to the Encampment a report of the activities of his office for the year then closing, in substance as follows:

Most of the Posts in the Department gained in membership during the administration, the greatest gains being made by Osmond K. Ingram Post No. 1774, San Diego; Joseph P. McQuaide Post No. 1205, San Francisco; Private Harold W. Brown Post No. 1468, Bakersfield, and Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010 of Emeryville. A number of the Posts have publications, namely, Lieutenant Lansdale Post No. 67, Sacramento, "Sacramento Veteran"; Major Randolph T. Zane Post No. 344, San Jose, "Gold Stripe Veteran"; Berkeley Post No. 703, Berkeley, "Berkeley Veteran"; Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010, Emeryville, "Industrial Veteran"; Lieutenant Kenneth Bell Post No. 1253, Pasadena, "The Mess Kit"; Carl H. Kreh Post No. 1123, Vallejo, "Vallejo Veteran"; Long Beach Post No. 1392, Long Beach, "Keeping Step"; and Private John Thomas Hall Post No. 1649, "A. W. O. L." These publications were highly commended by the Department Adjutant in his report.

A good many Posts have been very active in holding affairs for the purpose of raising money for the V. F. W. Cottage to be built by the Department at the National Home. Many Posts have excellent degree teams for the exemplification of the ritualistic work. Two Posts, namely, Thomas Enright Post No. 97, Modesto, and Long Beach Post No. 1392, Long Beach, were revived during the year, and the following consolidations effected: Sawtelle Post No. 480 with Lieutenant Fred D. Hoyt Post No. 1556, Santa Monica, bearing the name of the latter and the number of the former; Sergeant Francis Green Post No. 883, Los Angeles, with Angelus Post No. 1035, Los Angeles, taking the number of the first named and the name of the latter.

New Posts, totaling twenty, were instituted during the administration as follows: John McElroy Post No. 1381, Crescent City, California; Rose-Robrecht Post No. 1716, Watsonville, California; Mack Rubidoux Post No. 1726, Riverside, California; Cumberland-Milky Post No. 1732, South Los Angeles; Leonard Armstrong Post No. 1744, San Bernardino, California; Captain J. H. Horsey Post No. 1746, Bellflower, California; Oroville Post No. 1747, Oroville, California; Fred S. Pennington Post No. 1753, Las Vegas, Nevada; Harold J. Anderson Post No. 1766, San Luis Obispo, California; Leslie Johnson Post No. 1770, Willows, California; Osmond K. Ingram Post No. 1774, San Diego, California (an all-Navy Post); Ramon F. Moreno Post No. 1780, La Jolla, California; Vernon J. Lent Post No. 1784, Salinas, California; Memory Post No. 1844, Santa Rosa, California; Hollywood-Wilshire Post No. 1846, Hollywood, California; Sequoia Post No. 1864, Visalia, California; Eureka Post No. 1872, Eureka, California; Yosemite Post No. 1873, Merced, California; Retired Men's Post No. 1877, San Diego; and Hayward Post No. 1882, Hayward, California. The following named Posts were declared defunct during the period: Greater Hollywood Post No. 1508, Hollywood, California; Riverdale Post No. 559, Riverdale, California; Encinitas Post No. 1614, Encinitas, California; John Dolio Post No. 1331, Walnut Creek, California; and Peyton C. March Post No. 1534, March Field, California.

New County Councils formulated and now operating are as follows: Five County Inter-County Council, composed of San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey Counties; Tri-County Council, made up of the Posts located at Oroville, Marysville and Chico. Other County Councils already in operation include the Alameda County Council, Los Angeles County Council, Sacramento-Placer County Council, Napa-Solano County Council, San Francisco County Council, and the San Diego County Council, with the Contra Costa County Council in process of revival. Two of these, namely, San Diego County Council and the Five County Inter-County Council, have publications, on which they were commended by the Adjutant.

Considerable recruiting literature was sent out during the term, and quite a few comrades won citations for recruiting work. Comrade Carlston gave some statistics on the amount of correspondence handled through his office for the period, and the number of bulletins, memoranda, etc., promulgated; the number of calls received at Department Headquarters, telephone and personal, and the service that he was able to render visiting comrades, in the way of finding employment, obtaining insurance, hospitalization, etc.; the Post and other functions that he found time to attend, including those at which he represented the Department.

Department Adjutant Carlson concluded his report with a number of recommendations, chief among which were the following:

(1) The continuance of a full time paid organizer, to insure the Department's continued growth in membership; (2) promulgation of a monthly publication by the Department itself, keeping the Posts and the individual members advised of the various phases of activities of the Posts and the Department; (3) the Department to handle the annual Buddy Poppy campaign, insuring itself a fair income from that source; and continuance of the practice of awarding trophies at the Department Encampments to those Posts leading in the various phases of activity. Comrade Carlston stated further in conclusion that National Headquarters had cooperated with the Department to the fullest extent; that the Department cooperated with the Ladies Auxiliary fully; and that he had received hearty cooperation and assistance not only from the Department Commander and other Department officers, and the Council of Administration, but from Past Department Commanders Dan B. Schertle, Henry M. Levitt, Darold D. De Coe, and Clarence H. Patten, and from the membership as a whole.

The report of the Department Adjutant as submitted was well received by the Encampment. A motion was made by Comrade Twohy of Post No. 1020 that a rising vote of thanks be given the Department Adjutant. Motion seconded by Comrade Smith, of Post No. 1512, and carried unanimously, and the motion duly executed.

Comrade Carlston also read at this time the report submitted to the Encampment by the Department Quartermaster, Vadie E. Bevers, Comrade Bevers not being present. In his report Comrade Bevers showed that:

The net worth of the Department as of June 30, 1930, was $4,356.95, as against $2,752.82 for the period ending June 30, 1929, or a net increase of receipts over expenses of $1,604.13. The total Department expenses for the period amounted to $8,810.01, and the total income $10,414.14, leaving the above quoted net income of $1,604.13. A summary of the gains and losses of the individual Posts in the Department for the period March 31, 1929, to March 31, 1930, disclosed the following:

The report of Department Quartermaster Bevers was concluded by showing the funds that had been received from the various Posts up to and including June 22, 1930, for the California-Nevada Cottage at the V. F. W. National Home, as follows:

National Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief Darold D. De Coe entered the hall at this time and was escorted by the Department colors to the rostrum.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrade De Coe, I wish to extend to you the greetings of the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and assure you that we consider it a very high honor for you to be present at our Encampment. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to offer you the gavel, and ask that you preside during the continuation of the reading of the officers' reports."

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF DE COE: "I will be very glad to." (Assumes chair.)

COMRADE DAWSON (58): "At this time I would like to ask this assembly to give Comrade Vadie Bevers, Past Department Quartermaster, a rising vote of thanks for his work during the past year." Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill, of Post No. 58, and carried unanimously. A rising vote of thanks was then extended to Comrade Bevers.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN (407): "In listening to that report I note that there is an item in there in the amount of $600 for furniture and fixtures. If those fixtures and the furniture was sold this Department would not get $600 for them. It would be good business for this item to be depreciated until such time as it would be wiped off the books. There is no re-sale value to them; you would hardly get six dollars for them much less six hundred, and if it is in order I would like to move that the Quartermaster be instructed to discontinue carrying our office furniture and fixtures as assets of the Department. It gives us a false statement of our values of material on hand." Motion seconded by Comrade Twohy, of Post No. 1020.

COMRADE RIFFEE (83): "As a point of order; that should be referred to the Finance Committee."

COMRADE SEACORD (344): "Comrade Commander, as Department Inspector and having inspected the books and embodied certain recommendations in my report, and as chairman of the Auditing Committee, I would like to make my reports before there are any motions put into the minutes that will not serve any particular purpose at this time. There are several other recommendations in my report that will cover the condition and the setting up of books in the Department Headquarters."

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF DE COE: "Comrade Seacord, I take it that the report of the Auditing Committee has not as yet been heard? If that is the case, then I rule that the motion is out of order. The point taken by Comrade Riffie, however, is well taken."

Comrade Alfred G. Chapman, Department Chief-of-Staff, was called upon and read to the Encampment his report. He stated he was appointed late in the fall of 1929 to the office, to succeed the original appointee (Comrade Harvey Epstein) who had passed away. Twenty new Posts were instituted during the year, chiefly due to the able assistance he received from National Deputy Chief-of-Staff Kellett. Deputy Chiefs-of-Staff were forwarded a prepared form each month to fill out and return, outlining their activities and advising of any contracts for new Posts made, which data was compiled and forwarded to the Department Commander and the National Deputy Chief-of-Staff. A plan was mapped out for putting all Posts on a percentage gain of membership, but owing to the brevity of his term Chief-of-Staff Chapman stated he was unable to complete this work. Most of his activities centered in the southern part of California, due to his residence being there.

Comrade Chapman recommended that plans of organization be formulated at the beginning of each administration and each Post placed on a percentage basis as a goal to attain for membership. He recommended the continuation of a paid organizer in the Department, who could accomplish far more than scattered deputies whose time is necessarily limited.

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "Comrades, you have heard the report of Chief-of-Staff A. G. Chapman, of Connolly Post No. 75. What is your pleasure?"

Motion made by Comrade White, of Post No. 90, seconded by Comrade McGrath of Post No. 818, that the report as read be accepted. Carried without opposition.

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "We will now have the report of our Department Inspector."

Department Inspector Edward M. Seacord then read to the Encampment his report for the term just closing, in substance as follows:

He expressed his thanks and appreciation to his deputy inspectors, and to the other Department Officers for their cooperation and courtesies during the period.

particularly the Department Commander, Department Adjutant and Department Quartermaster.

Twenty-one deputy inspectors were appointed at the beginning of the term, seventeen of which made complete reports and three partial reports. Inspection reports were made on 35 Posts for the period ending December 31, 1929, as well as five County Councils. To June 21, 1930, 58 Posts and five County Councils had been inspected and reports made.

Comrade Seacord stated he attended all of the Department Council of Administration meetings, instituted four new Posts, and installed the officers of four Posts and one County Council, as well as several other Posts during official visits. He made trips from Los Angeles County to as far north as Chico, without expense to the Department; has attended many Post affairs, and numerous gatherings of Posts and the general public combined. More than 500 letters incident to his office were written. He has availed himself of every opportunity to put the organization and its work before the public, particularly in giving addresses before service clubs and business organizations and speaking over the radio, as well as using the press to the best and fullest advantage.

As chairman of the Department C. M. T. C. Committee, Comrade Seacord stated he kept in close contact with Ninth Corps Area Headquarters, and saw that Posts received all necessary information pertaining to the citizens military training camps. As chairman of the Tenth Annual Encampment Committee for the Department, he worked with the committee appointed by the Post itself at Santa Cruz toward making this Encampment a complete success. He has been very active in his own (Major R. T. Zane Post No. 344, San Jose) Post, being editor of that Post's publication, "The Gold Stripe Veteran, and being Post Publicity Director; was chairman of the Buddy Poppy campaign in his Post, 10,000 poppies being distributed with a gross revenue of over $1,200; was active in the formation of Private Vernon J. Lent Post No. 1784, as well as the Five County Inter-County Council composed of Posts in Monterey, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Mateo, and San Benito counties; assisted once again in making the Fifth Annual Fiesta de Las Rosas Floral Parade a great success, twenty sets of Veterans of Foreign Wars colors being in the parade; made the usual semiannual inspection of the books of the Department, and commended Department Quartermaster Bevers on the splendid shape of his books.

Comrade Seacord concluded with certain recommendations, namely, that (1) the Department Quartermaster be bonded in an amount not less than $10,000, in view of the funds he handles and in further view of regulations calling for a bond in an amount twice that of the amount of cash on hand; that (2) a complete and thorough audit be made of the books of the Department each year, by experienced accountants; that (3) Posts be required to show a receipt for premium on their Quartermaster's bond at time of institution, of that the premium on same be turned over to the instituting officer, and in an amount not less than $400; that (4) the Department Inspector report all Posts where books have not been duly audited as called for by regulations; that (5) all Posts be required to adhere strictly to sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7, of article I, of the National By-Laws, pertaining to eligibility to membership, and that the practice of having a member vouch for a recruit in lieu of his actual discharge or other service record, be condemned; that (6) all Posts be listed in their local telephone directories; and (7) that provision be made by the Department for traveling expenses for the Department Inspector, as well as an expense account for postage, etc., as now allowed.

COMRADE SEACORD: "Comrades, I want to add just a short verbal report to that, of things that have happened since; that is, that two more Posts have been reported as being inspected, bringing the total to 60 Posts inspected. Also, in the interests of the organization, I presented a cup to the Holy Cross School, near San Jose, for writing the best Encampment slogan, and there is also a cup to be presented at this Encampment to the Post having the best record of Post Publicity during the year." (Applause.)

COMRADE CRAIG (1205): "I move you that a standing vote of thanks be given to Comrade Seacord." Motion seconded by Comrade White of Post No. 90, and carried unanimously. A rising vote of thanks was then extended to Comrade Seacord.

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "This report of the Department Inspector, together with that of the Department Chief of Staff, will be referred to the Officers'

Reports Committee. We will now hear from our Department Junior Vice Commander."

Department Junior Vice Commander George R. Freideman then read to the delegates his report for the year, in which report he stated that he had traveled several thousand miles during this period on V. F. W. business; that on many occasions he was accompanied by the drum corps of Lieut. Lansdale Post No. 67, to which he belonged, and had their assistance not only as a drum corps but in putting on the ceremonial initiation work, the corps being drilled in this work; that he has taken an active part in the work of his own Post, being particularly interested in the Girls' Band sponsored by his Post; has visited all Posts assigned to him for visitation, and has found them all practically in good condition.

Comrade Freideman stated further that he had represented the Department at the recent Department Encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans in Fresno; had assisted in the formation of the only colored Post in the Department, located at Sacramento; that the Buddy Poppy campaign as a whole in northern California was a success, in spite of the handicaps and opposition met in most localities; and that the organization and the Department had received great benefit through articles contained in the "Sacramento Veteran," official publication of Lieut. Lansdale Post No. 67, and through the other Post publications. His report was concluded by stating that, by actual observance, the Department seemed to be prospering, that the organization was remaining aloof of politics, and that the spirit of veteranism continued to prevail. (Applause.)

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN: "Comrade Commander, before any more reports are read I would like to make a motion that these reports be filed with the secretary and that they be published at a later date, when the minutes of the Encampment are published, and save us a little time and give the convention much more time to do constructive work. I make a motion that we hear no more reports on the floor." Motion seconded by Comrade Hazlett of Post No. 1732.

COMRADE SMITH: "I am in favor of those reports not being read in their entirety, but let the recommendations be read so we can act on them if necessary. If we find out what we have to act on it will be better. I am in favor of saving time by not listening to these reports, but if there is anything calling for action on the part of this body I am in favor of acting on it."

COMRADE BRANDON (75): "All of those reports have some vital recommendations, and several we have already heard have the same recommendations, such as Department paper and recruiting extension work, and I would therefore like to include in that motion that these reports be referred to the Committee on Officers' Reports and that they consolidate these recommendations and bring them back to us as their recommendations, and where there is more than one recommendation on the same general subject they can be incorporated in one." Amendment seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58.

COMRADE RIFFEE: "Comrade Commander, I thoroughly agree with the remarks of the chair a little while ago that we don't want any steam roller propositions. We are here this morning with a definite program; your program specifically states that we are to hear officers' reports, and it is now twenty minutes after eleven and we have nothing to do after this session, after these reports, except to hear the report of the Credentials Committee. It is a matter of courtesy that we hear these reports of our Department officers, and I hope the motion does not carry."

COMRADE JOY (75): "I believe that it is of vital importance to all of these members here who have the interests of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at heart, to hear the report of their officers, and I believe this motion should be defeated."

The motion as originally made was then put to a vote and was defeated.

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "Our Department Judge Advocate has not his report in writing, but will have it here this afternoon. We will now hear from our Department Chaplain, hear his report. In his absence I will ask Past Department Commander Henry Levitt to read the report."

The report of Department Chaplain Fred Taylor was then read to the Encampment by Past Department Commander Henry M. Levitt, in which Comrade Taylor outlined his activities for the year, consisting primarily of visits to hospitals, attending Memorial Day exercises, various Post functions, etc., in addition to attendance at the regular Council of Administration meetings. He spoke particularly of conditions at the Veterans' Home at Yountville, following an inspection he made at that place, and stressed the necessity for this and other organizations to support any legislation that will serve to remedy conditions at the Home.

Comrade Frederick A. Royse, National Liaison Officer, was then called upon and read to the Encampment his report for the period.

COMRADE ROYSE: "Comrades, I just want to make an announcement. I have arranged a table over in the lobby of the Casa del Rey with practically every blank that is used by the Veterans Bureau on it. I have done this especially for the benefit of the service officers of the various Posts. Those blanks will give you instructions as to where they should be sent, etc. I would like for the service officers to help themselves; you need them in your work." (Applause.)

Comrade Harry K. Kellett, National Deputy Chief of Staff, then read to the Encampment his report for the year, stating twenty new Posts had been organized during the year, with a resultant increase in membership throughout the Department of approximately 1400. Comrade Kellett recommended that a regular form be adopted and made out by Department Deputy Chiefs of Staff, somewhat along the same lines as the reports of the Deputy Department Inspectors.

His report was well received by the Encampment.

Comrade Arthur D. Keefe, Department Historian, read his report, stating that he had succeeded in compiling a history of the Department, but which, however, was not altogether complete. He also mentioned the Posts he had visited, the Council of Administration meetings attended, and events participated in by himself during the administration.

Comrade Albert Brady, chairman of the Department Legislative Committee, read to the delegates his report for the period, outlining the various measures signed by the President during the past year, and legislation now pending in the Senate and House. His report was well received.

Comrade Charles C. Quitman, Department Judge Advocate, presented a written report at this time and read same to the Encampment, in which he stated that during the year he had rendered quite a number of decisions for the various Posts, had redrafted, corrected or approved many sets of by-laws for Posts, and had in many instances rendered legal service to comrades without any compensation therefor. (Applause.)

COMRADE HILL (69): "I move we adjourn for lunch." Motion seconded by Comrade Chandler of Post No. 1512. put to a vote and lost.

The following reports of Council of Administration members of the Department were then read by the respective comrades:

Report of Comrade Walter M. Williams, Council Member from District No. 1, San Diego.

Report of Comrade C. F. Bennett, Council Member from District No. 2, Sacramento.

Report of Comrade Charles Gavin, Council Member from District No. 3, San Francisco.

Report of Comrade Albert H. Joy, Council Member from District No. 4, San Diego.

Report of Comrade Louis D. Borge, Council Member (resigned) from District No. 5, Oakland. (Presented but not read.)

Report of Comrade Clarence H. Patten, Past Dept. Commander, Council Member from District No. 6, Reno, Nevada.

Report of Comrade O. N. Boone, Council Member from District No. 7, Bakersfield. (Not read—Comrade Boone absent.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "That is the last report to be read, as there are a couple of Council of Administration members absent. Those reports will be filed with the Officer's Reports Committee the same as the others.

"Comrades, the time that we start this afternoon is 1:30. The bugler will blow 'Assembly' fifteen minutes before the start of each session, to give you an opportunity to get here on time. The Greetings Committee will extend the greetings of the Department to the Auxiliary this afternoon."

COMRADE RIFFEE (83) : "Comrade Commander, I am going to rise to a point of personal privilege. I am disappointed in the behavior of our delegates at this Encampment, the way they are leaving this building. We are here supposed to transact business, and according to our by-laws nobody can leave this hall without recognition from the chair. It is the least thing we can do to sit here and attend to the business that we are elected by our Posts to come here and transact, and it does seem to me that they show ingratitude in leaving as they have in this instance. I hope that the Commander will censure some of these comrades, or ask that they attend to business, and also make a ruling that anybody leaving the meeting will advance to the altar and salute." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND : "You are perfectly right as to what should be done, and I trust that the comrades will be governed accordingly."

Announcement was made at this time of several committee meetings, and of the time for taking the Encampment photograph.

COMRADE MCCAFFERTY (1123) : "Just before we adjourn I would like to move that we stand in silence for thirty seconds in respect to the memory of Comrade John E. Colthurst, of Post No. 1123." Motion seconded by Comrade Flinn, of Post No. 703, and carried unanimously. The entire assembly then rose and stood in respect to the memory of the comrade named.

COMRADE GALLAGHER (1020) : "In view of the fact that some of our Department officers were overlooked with a vote of thanks, I move you at this time that the delegates at this Encampment give a rising vote of thanks to all those Department officers." Motion seconded by Comrade Hazlett of Post No. 1732 and carried unanimously.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND : "Comrades, we meet at 1:30. Comrade Sergeant-at-Arms, retire the colors."

The meeting then, at 12:20 o'clock P.M., following the retiring of the Department colors, recessed until 1:30 P.M. of the same day.

THIRD SESSION, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 25

The meeting was called to order at 1:45 P.M. by Department Commander Hildebrand.

The Department colors were brought forward and placed under the direction of Sergeant-at-Arms William Flinn.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "The session will come to order. The Finance Committee is now having a meeting in the rear of the hall. Members of that committee please take notice. Is the Credentials Committee ready to report? (No response.) We will therefore start with the report of the Resolutions Committee. Now, comrades, I believe it will assist us a great deal if a motion is made and passed that if there is no objection to a resolution we simply concur in the recommendation of the Resolutions Committee. This will save a lot of time."

COMRADE FLINN (703): "Comrade Commander, I make a motion at this time that after a resolution is read, if there is no objection it will be passed as read." Motion seconded by Comrade Towner, of Post No. 1744, and carried unanimously.

The following resolutions were then presented to the Encampment by Comrade Guy Cake, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, the gist only of each resolution being read, and were acted upon as hereafter indicated:

Resolution No. 1: A resolution pertaining to honorary membership in the Department. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 2: A resolution that would require Post Commanders to check each member's eligibility to membership, and render a statement concerning same to the Department. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 3: A resolution seeking to make the Department Junior Vice Commander responsible for the strict observance on the part of individual Posts of the organization's ritualistic ceremonies. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 4: A resolution urging the State Legislature to appropriate the sum of $750,000 from the general fund of the State for the erection of a hospital at the Veterans' Home at Yountville, California. Approved.

Resolution No. 5: A resolution urging the adoption of a certain type and design of overseas cap (olive drab trimmed with gold) to be worn by the organization throughout the country. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 6: A resolution petitioning the Congress of the United States to pass legislation for the relief of veterans having foreign service disabilities not heretofore recognized. Approved.

Resolution No. 7: A resolution recommending that the annual Department Encampment each year be held so as to include the Fourth of July and a Sunday as days of the Encampment. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE SMITH (75): "Comrade Commander, I am very sorry that the sponsor of that resolution is not present, but the facts are, that delegates who have to travel a long distance, in some cases more than 500 miles, lose considerable time driving to and from the convention—time that they could be devoting to their business. If these Department Encampments were held so as to include July 4th it would give members of the organization that much more time—time that they will not have to take from their business or from their annual leave as a government employee. As a member of the Resolutions Committee I opposed the report rendered, with the understanding that I would make a protest on the floor. I am sorry the sponsor of that resolution is not present to present his own case."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "That is a minority report from the Resolutions Committee, then?"

COMRADE SMITH: "Yes, sir."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "That is a minority report from the Resolutions minority reports on this resolution. What is your pleasure?"

COMRADE SCHROCK (1512): "Comrade Commander, we of San Diego traveled by automobile something over 500 miles. This Encampment started on Tuesday, necessitating a loss of one full day prior to the Encampment, which is money for us, and a good many of our comrades here. I believe if this resolution is approved by this body that it will benefit all of us, because you are bound to have the Fourth of July as a holiday and a Sunday as a holiday. You are going to cut down your loss of time in traveling by having these two days included in your Encampment. I therefore move that this resolution be adopted."

(Motion seconded by Comrade Chandler, of Post No. 1512.)

COMRADE ROSENDORF (83): "Comrade Commander, and comrades, as a member of the Resolutions Committee I voted to disapprove that resolution. The point I want to bring out is that the resolution is in itself good but there is another angle, and that is this: The Fourth of July is a national holiday, and most of the communities have their own Fourth of July celebrations, and the majority of patriotic citizens would naturally attend their celebrations. For instance, in San Francisco this year we participated in the veterans' parade which included six Posts in San Francisco. Another way to look at it is that the Fourth of July celebration held by the community would be a hardship on the local committee; it would be a hardship because they naturally have to solicit funds for the Encampment and at the same time probably have to solicit funds for the Fourth of July celebration. Another objection: I don't believe that this Encampment should force the committee to pick the date for the Encampment. Sometimes we have towns putting on the Encampment that have to have their Encampment in conjunction with other affairs, and as far as the Fourth of July is concerned it would be only a waste of days. I traveled 600 miles from San Francisco to San Diego to attend the Encampment there and didn't find it a particular hardship. I also traveled from San Francisco to Reno, Nevada. I hope that this Encampment will endorse the action of the Resolutions Committee."

After some further discussion, Comrade Smith of Post No. 75, speaking in favor of the adoption of the resolution and Comrades Riffie of Post No. 83, San Francisco; Twohy, of Post No. 1020, Veterans' Home, and Whitaker, of Post No. 1392, Long Beach, speaking in opposition to the motion, the motion was put to a vote of the Encampment and was lost by a substantial majority. The recommendation of the Resolutions Committee in disapproving the resolution was therefore sustained.

Resolution No. 8: A resolution commending the work of our National Service Bureau (Capt. E. S. Bettelheim, Jr., and Charles E. Weickhardt, Lieutenant, U. S. N. Retired, Naval Liaison Officer). Approved.

Resolution No. 9: A resolution urging that steps be taken to have the Buddy Poppies that are sold in this Department each year, manufactured by disabled veterans within the confines of the Department. Approved.

COMRADE WHITE (90): "For a point of information, are we transgressing upon National's dictates in this Buddy Poppy proposition? Must we have permission from the National Body to do this?"

COMRADE CAKE (1679): "This petitions the National Body to have these made in California."

Resolution No. 10: A resolution endorsing bill H. R. 12058, providing for pensions to be granted veterans who participated in the Moro campaigns between April 5, 1903, and March 8, 1906, with one minor exception as quoted. Approved.

COMRADE CAKE: "There were two or three resolutions on this same subject, but we have incorporated them into one."

Resolution No. 11: A resolution that would have the United States Government provide special dogs for blind veterans.

COMRADE CAKE: "Comrades, this can not be accepted as it has to be in triplicate and typewritten, and if the comrades will put this in in the proper manner we will pass on it favorably this evening."

Resolution No. 12: A resolution concerning the actions of members of the organization in the Department, from a standpoint of decency. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 13: A resolution expressing the thanks of the Department to the Outdoor Advertising Association of America, and to Al G. Smith Company and Foster & Kleiser, for their splendid cooperation in the V. F. W. poster advertising. Approved.

Resolution No. 14: A resolution seeking to obtain tax exemption for veterans who have served or may hereafter serve in any foreign uprising as a soldier, sailor or marine of the United States services; amending article XIII, paragraph 14, Revenue Laws of California. Approved.

Resolution No. 15: A resolution recommending the adoption by the organization of a standard overseas cap, to be olive drab trimmed with gold, etc., as specified. Disapproved.

COMRADE FRIEDEMANN (in the chair): "We will now hear a report of the Credentials Committee."

COMRADE MUELLER (888): "Comrade Commander, and Comrades: We have here an incomplete report of the duly accredited delegates registered up until the present hour. The total number is 380, including Department officers, Council of Administration members, and Past Department Commanders as duly accredited delegates."

DEPARTMENT JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER FRIEDEMANN: "If there are no objections we will continue with the Resolutions Committee's report."

Resolution No. 16: A resolution urging the establishment by the Department of a Department publication. (Note: The resolution submitted by Smith Post No. 83 not only urges a Department publication but recommends the appointment of Comrade Frank Smith, of Post No. 72, as publicity man for the Department; while the resolution submitted by Amaroc Post No. 1512 has to do with a Department publication only. The action of the Resolutions Committee on this resolution was to refer same to the Department Budget Committee recommending favorable action—both resolutions being incorporated into one.)

Resolution No. 17: A resolution seeking to have the Department Council of Administration member in each district in the Department act as liaison officer between the Posts in his district and the Department during the conduct of he annual Buddy Poppy drives, the said council members to be held responsible for this close contact between the Posts and the Department, with a view to making these Buddy Poppy drives entirely successful. Approved.

Resolution No. 18: A resolution urging that the Department Commander be directed to have submitted for adoption a complete report covering the cost and operation of a Department publication, with a view to having said publication commence on August 1, 1930. Recommended for approval by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE GUEDET: "Comrade Commander, if that resolution is approved does that mean we get out a publication irrespective of the cost?"

JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER FRIEDEMANN: "I believe that is right."

COMRADE SEACORD (344): "Comrade Commander, as a point of information, I would like to ask the chair if there is not a committee out to investigate the possibilities of putting out a Department publication?"

COMRADE FRIEDEMANN: "There is, and that report will be heard a little later."

COMRADE SEACORD: "Comrade Commander, I move you that the resolution be declared out of order, until we hear from the Publications Committee. Or rather, I make a new motion, that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Department Publication."

The motion was seconded by Comrade Merrill, of Post No. 58, and carried unanimously.

Resolution No. 19: A resolution urging Congress to repeal the act creating the Efficiency Board, whose duty it is to establish the efficiency rating of Federal employees. Approved.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND (in the chair): "At this time I want to make a reappointment on the Greetings Committee. Comrade Levitt will be chairman instead of Comrade Schertle, and that committee will please extend the greetings of the Encampment to the Auxiliary at this time."

Resolution No. 20: A resolution proposing that a registration fee of 50 cents for each delegate at Encampments, be assessed against the Posts. Adoption recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "Comrade Commander, as long as we have plenty of money in the treasury of the Department, why bill it back to the Posts when some of the Posts are pretty hard up?"

COMRADE WHITE (90): "Comrade Commander, speaking against the resolution, * * *

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "The chair will entertain a motion that the resolution either be approved or disapproved."

COMRADE WHITE (90): "I make a motion that the resolution be disapproved." Motion seconded by Comrade Dawson of Post No. 58.

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "On the question: There are quite a few Posts, particularly the smaller Posts, where it would be a real hardship for the Post to have to pay that 50 cents registration fee. However, with some of the Posts it would affect their revenue a great deal. As long as it has not been necessary during the past eight or ten years I don't see why we should go on record now in favor of it."

The motion was then put to a vote of the Encampment, and was carried by a substantial majority, and the resolution was therefore rejected.

Resolution No. 21: A resolution pertaining to the award of the Department Encampment each year, proposing that the Department Council of Administration investigate thoroughly each application for the Encampment and notify the successful Post ninety days after the Encampment. Resolution referred to the Committee on Time and Place of Next Encampment.

Resolution No. 22: A resolution asking the State of California to appropriate the sum of $750,000.00 for the erection of a modern hospital at the Veterans' Home at Yountville, California. (No action, as the purport is the same as Resolution No. 4, preceding.)

Resolution No. 23: A resolution identical in purpose to that of Resolution No. 4 and of No. 22 above mentioned. (No action.)

Resolution No. 24: A resolution petitioning the State Legislature to pass a bill providing for the payment of $5.00 per month to each noncompensated veteran in United States Veterans' Hospitals in the State of California, who has been hospitalized for more than thirty days. Approved.

Resolution No. 25: A resolution urging that steps be taken to have the Comptroller General of the United States issue a ruling classifying the occupation of men who enlisted in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps two years or more prior to April 6, 1917, as that of a soldier. Recommended for approval by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE WHITE (90): "Make that a soldier, sailor or marine; why confine it to a soldier?"

COMRADE SPEDDING (344): "For the information of the comrade, the classification of 'soldier' in the United States Veterans Bureau covers all veterans, irrespective of their branch of service."

COMRADE WHITE (90): "I will make a motion that the word be changed and the word 'veteran' be substituted."

COMRADE CAKE (1679): "I might state that this covers it whether he is a soldier, sailor or marine."

The motion was then seconded, put to a vote and carried.

Resolution No. 26: A resolution requesting the State Legislature to pass an act authorizing the issuance to veterans who enlisted from California, of a medal commemorating service in the World War. Approved.

Resolution No. 27: A resolution condemning the practice of hiring paid individuals in the conduct of the annual Buddy Poppy Drives, these drives to be made by the Post members themselves and members of the Ladies' Auxiliaries on a purely charity basis. Recommended for adoption by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE DAWSON (58): "Comrade Commander, and comrades, on the poppy drive in San Francisco conducted by the San Francisco County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, composed of six Posts in San Francisco, there were three Posts that took an active part in the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy Drive, and due to the good work of our good County Commander, Charles Gavin, of the County Council of San Francisco, the Poppy Drive went over successfully. Now I tell you, if we had not hired or employed outside help the Buddy Poppy Drive in our city would have been a rank failure, and I ask you to vote that resolution down."

COMRADE CHANDLER (1512): "The San Diego County Council also put on a poppy drive in the city of San Diego. We hired nobody, but there were 9000 poppies sold the first forenoon."

COMRADE DAWSON (58): "We sold 70,000 poppies in San Francisco, Comrades, and——"

COMRADE WHITE (90): "Comrade Commander, I make a motion that the recommendation of the Committee be disapproved."

Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill, of Post No. 58.

COMRADE SMITH (75): "As a member of the Resolutions Committee, it was the opinion of the members of that committee that we should not waste our money on professional promoters. * * * The Buddy Poppy Drive is an expression of our love and reverence for our comrades who are incapacitated, and those who have lost their lives. We as their comrades should do that work ourselves."

COMRADE MERRILL: "I agree with the comrade from San Diego absolutely that the veterans should go out and sell the poppies—but they don't. Let's look at it on this basis: Isn't it much better to pay 25 per cent commission and sell 70,000 poppies—the more we sell the greater benefit to our National Home—than it is to sell 9000 or so through the efforts of our own members? What we are after really is the money that can be obtained—you can't buy things with good wishes, and the way to get that money is to sell the poppies. Our sale in San Francisco was absolutely legitimate, and it got results, and it could not have been done any other way because the members just won't get out and sell."

Considerable further discussion was held on the motion, Comrades Spedding of Post No. 344 and Cake of No. 1679 speaking in opposition to the motion to disapprove and Comrades Guedet of Post No. 83, White of Post No. 90, and Merrill of Post No. 58, speaking in favor of the motion. The motion was then put to a vote of the Encampment, both by the usual raising of hands and by a rising vote, and was lost by a small majority.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, by your vote you concur in the approval of the committee, and the resolution is approved."

The Greetings Committee reported at this time that the greetings of the Encampment had been extended to the Ladies' Auxiliary convention, and was discharged with a vote of thanks.

Resolution No. 28: A resolution endorsing Bill H. R. 12762, providing for the adjustment of the pay of the enlisted personnel of the Navy. Approved. (Two resolutions submitted, one by Amaroc Post No. 1512 and the other by Ingram Ship No. 1774, both identical in wording and purport.)

Resolution No. 29: A resolution endorsing Bill H. R. 12058, providing pensions for those who served in the Moro Campaign. (No action taken—same as Resolution No. 10.)

Resolution No. 30: A resolution seeking to change the Ritual of the organization so as to permit the ritualistic work to be exemplified at open meetings. Approved.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "At this time we will receive the ladies' delegation, which, I understand, is outside. Comrade Sergeant-at-Arms, you will escort the ladies to the altar. Comrades Levitt, De Coe and Patten will assist you in escorting the ladies to the altar."

A delegation from the Ladies' Auxiliaries was then escorted to the hall and introduced to the Encampment by Past Department Commander Henry M. Levitt, the delegation consisting of Sisters Alice Stewart, Gertrude Brown and Jennie Leffmann, each being a Past Department President, Department of California and Nevada.

SISTER BROWN: "Department Commander, Department Officers, National Officers, and delegates of all the Posts—We have the privilege of coming here today to bring to you the greetings of the Ladies' Auxiliaries, and I bring with me Sister Jennie Leffmann, Sister Alice Stewart, and I, the Junior Past President of the Department of California and Nevada. Our President sent us to pledge to you anew our cooperation and our support whenever you need it or want it, and we want you to know that just as you grow in numbers, and in your official standing, so do we grow, and this year we have practically doubled our membership, have added fourteen new auxiliaries, and have raised money toward the National Home, which we hope will be in excess of what we sent last year.

"I take great pleasure in extending these greetings to you because I want you to know that, even though we work continuously in the background, * * * we who join this organization, as a mother, a sister, a wife, or a daughter of a man who saw foreign service, realize in the fullest measure the privilege it is to come into such an Order, where the requirements are not those of money or rank, but perhaps of opportunity and of personal valor.

"Commander Hildebrand, it gives me great pleasure indeed at this time to present our greetings, and I want to say just a word to Past Department Commander Levitt. I said that the ladies of the Auxiliaries are sending money to help build a hospital at the V.F.W. Home at Eaton Rapids, and one Auxiliary thought they would like to do something else, and at this time it gives me great pleasure to present to you, Comrade Levitt, a check for $100. This check is the gift of Ingram Auxiliary in San Diego, and is to go toward the V.F.W. California and Nevada cottage at the National Home. (Applause.) I want you to know, comrades, that this money comes from an Auxiliary that is just three months old, and they have 154 members, and have earned that money themselves." (Applause.)

COMRADE LEVITT: "Ladies, I can not find words at this time to express my sentiments. Ingram Auxiliary has the honor of being the first one to contribute toward the Home with a personal check. The money heretofore for the Cottage Fund has been sent in from the boys in the Department, and I assure you that it is an honor to receive this money from one of our Auxiliaries. I wish that I could find words to take back to your Auxiliaries our gratitude and thanks and to tell them that they have set the first brick in the California and Nevada cottage at Eaton Rapids, Michigan." (Applause.)

A beautiful basket of flowers was then presented to the Encampment by the ladies' delegation, on behalf of their Auxiliaries.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Sisters of the Auxiliaries, we appreciate fully what we know to be your heartfelt remarks, and also this beautiful expression of the opinion in which you hold our organization. I can not add anything further to that, except perhaps to state that I feel the Auxiliary is very beneficial to our organization. You have given us wonderful assistance since the time when we first instituted an Auxiliary in this Department, and the things that we have been able to accomplish have been through your efforts to a greater extent perhaps than our own, and I want to thank you on behalf of the whole Department for the sentiment you have expressed here today." (Applause.) (Delegation escorted from hall.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We will now proceed with the resolutions."

Resolution No. 31: A resolution favoring legislation that would permit ex-service men now confined in U. S. Government Hospitals who are not service connected disability cases, to send their mail without any postage being required. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE SMITH (1512): "Comrade Commander, I make a motion that this body go on record as approving that resolution."

COMRADE GUEDET (S3): "To put the motion right would be to reject the report of the committee. I second the motion to reject. It only gives those that are not entitled to compensation the right to free mail. It is a small thing, and I would be in favor of granting them that small privilege. For that reason I am in favor of rejecting the report of the committee."

COMRADE JONES (1512) : "I agree with the report of the committee rejecting that because the Auxiliaries, the Red Cross, and other agencies any time a man wants a two-cent stamp all he has to do is ask for it and he gets it. We don't have to go back on the United States Government for anything like that. I know our Auxiliary visits the Naval Hospital in San Diego twice a week and if a man wants postage or anything else he can have it."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER DE COE : "Comrades, as a co-worker in drawing up that resolution, and in answering one question contained in the remarks of Comrade Jones, I would say that the Government of the United States of America is big enough not to ask any organization to take care of our own soldiers. * * * "

COMRADE CAKE (1679) : "Comrades, we have a resolution that was passed by this Encampment asking for five dollars for every veteran that was getting hospitalization in the hospitals, which will probably go through quicker than this will; and another thing, it is a whole lot more serious legislation, something that will be taken care of quicker if it is not in any way messed up by any little minor things like this."

COMRADE SMITH (75) : "I would like to have a ruling by the Judge Advocate on this motion."

COMRADE GUEDET (83) : "I withdraw my second to that motion."

COMRADE FREY (67) : "There was a motion made here that the report of the committee be approved of."

COMRADE MERRILL (58) : "That motion is out of order. We must either accept or reject the report of the Resolutions Committee. I will make a motion that the report of the committee be rejected."

Motion seconded by Comrade Sampson, of Post No. 1020, put to a vote, and was lost.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN (in the chair) : "The motion is lost, and the committee's report will stand."

Resolution No. 32: A resolution urging the National Body to permit ladies who are members of Auxiliaries of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and who have had foreign service in time of war or during a campaign or expedition, to wear a miniature Cross of Malta during their active membership in the organization. Recommended for approval by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE GUEDET (83) : "A point of order: We have no right to do that; we have got to ask the National Body to do that."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN : This resolution will go through National, comrade." (No further objections.)

Resolution No. 33: A resolution endorsing the program of the observance of the 200th Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington to take place in 1932, and pledging cooperation thereto. Approved.

Resolution No. 34: A resolution favoring the construction of a mausoleum in the Presidio of San Francisco. Approved.

Resolution No. 35: A resolution urging legislation that would provide for the issuance of campaign badges to those honorably discharged ex-service men who served on foreign lands or in hostile waters during the period November 11, 1918, to July 2, 1921, and that such veterans be eligible for honorary membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States until such legislation is passed, and following passage to become eligible for active membership. Approved.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS FLINN (703) : "Comrade Commander, the President of the Gold Star Mothers is waiting outside. I make a motion that we have a recess for a few minutes to allow the Gold Star Mother to enter." Motion seconded by Comrade Johnson, of Post No. 1637, and carried.

Mrs. Leah Davis, Past President of the Gold Star Mothers of America, was then escorted to the hall and to the platform, and addressed the delegates as follows :

"If you will kindly permit me I would like to address the comrades for a few moments.

"Comrade Commander, and comrades assembled: I think I am possibly imposing upon you by taking up your valuable time, but the matter that is brought before you today is of such great importance that I think you comrades will not regret having granted me these few moments. There is no necessity to tell the Veterans of Foreign Wars what the qualifications of a Gold Star Mother are. The Gold Star Mothers was approved in 1917 by the Congress of the United States. I don't believe that any veteran really knows and understands the real status of the Gold Star Mothers in regard to compensation and care at the hands of the United States Government. Unfortunately, we are not an organized body like the veteran organizations. I might say that in November, 1926, I organized the real Gold Star Mothers in San Francisco. I did that because of legislation that was then in effect in regard to adjusted compensation, commonly known as the bonus, and on which the mothers of your deceased comrades were not given full recognition. Our sons did everything the live veteran did, and then a little bit more—we gave our all.

"In regard to adjusted compensation, the mother of the beneficiary of the deceased veteran has to file claim for a deceased veteran. Before that claim is recognized the mother must prove her dependence upon her son when he entered the service. The same clause applies in the mothers' compensation; we must prove we were dependent upon our sons when they entered the service some twelve or thirteen years ago, which is one of the most unreasonable measures that was ever laid down by Congress, and you realize, gentlemen, some of those boys were so young when they entered the service that they were dependent upon their parents. Many of them were just out of school; many just entering professions, not able to support themselves, and because of these facts, and that the boys sacrificed their lives in the interests of their country—the women who have suffered that loss, a good many of us could not have allowed our sons to enter the service because we would have required their financial support. If such were the case, we are not able to prove that we were dependent upon those boys, and consequently we are denied the proper compensation from the Government. Then again, if we do prove we were dependent upon these deceased veterans at the time they entered the service, we receive the sum of $20 a month while we remain alive. If both of us are dependent we receive $30.

"In the case of adjusted compensation being granted to a dependent, we are only given war time pay based upon war time service, which you all know was one dollar a day for local service and one dollar and twenty-five cents a day for foreign service, extending over a period of two and a half years, or rather over the period of time that the veteran served. Then, if this is granted, it is paid to the dependent in ten quarterly payments extending over a period of two and one-half years. That to my mind, is the most unwarranted discrimination against your dear parents. How many of you men know that the mothers of many of your comrades are in actual want—are in actual distress? Some two years ago in San Francisco, the Gold Star Mothers found it necessary to create a fund to help indigent Gold Star Mothers—some of us are getting pretty old—the best plan we could think of was to have a promoter. Nobody came to us and asked us what they might do to help us; on the contrary, they refused us; but I am proud to say that the fund created by that body has been functioning since and is functioning today. I am sending out monthly checks to many Gold Star Mothers that haven't a dollar in the world. Unfortunately, war risk insurance was not compulsory. Many veterans, young boys not realizing the seriousness of the situation, carried no war risk insurance; many carried but a minor portion of it. I receive $17.25 a month. War risk insurance should have been made compulsory. We have mothers in our organization who are receiving neither war risk insurance nor compensation from the Government. They are growing older and more dependent every day; many of them are mentally afflicted—you would be astonished. I come into contact with them—mothers who are very bad off. Many of them are in absolute want. We have women in our organization who have reached seventy years of age who are working at menial labor for a livelihood.

"For that reason, gentlemen, I have drawn up these resolutions and I have come before your body today just as I have sent copies of these resolutions to the national convention of the Disabled War Veterans. I hope to go before the American Legion State Convention, because I hope that every veteran organization will take up these resolutions and endorse them, embody them in their legislative programs, and send them to Congress, that some real help may be given the Gold Star Mothers and fathers of the World War.

"I have made the resolutions very brief. There are four of them, the first asking that the dependency clause in the compensation bill be stricken out, and that the mother only has to prove her true relationship. The second one covers adjusted compensation, asking that that discrimination be wiped out, just the same as though our sons had lived. The third: There is no hospitalization or medical attention for Gold Star Mothers, and this makes provision for that. The fourth resolution: Because of the age of many of our mothers we are asking the United States Government to build and maintain a national home for Gold Star Mothers.

"I will be happy to leave these in your hands, and I do hope that you will give us all the help that is possible, just as we will always be happy to stand by the veterans." (Applause)

NATIONAL JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "Mrs. Davis, we are very thankful for your coming here, and I assure you that the resolutions will be given due and careful consideration, and this makes provision for that. We all have very high regard for the Gold Star Mothers, and are, of course, interested in their undertakings." (Mrs. Davis was then escorted from the hall.)

Resolution No. 36: A resolution favoring the abolition of the office of Outer Guard as now provided for in the Ritual of the organization. Approved.

Resolution No. 37: A resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five in the Department to visit and inspect the Veterans' Home at Yountville every three months during the year, and to cooperate with the officials of the Home. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 38: (Not presented in the actual form of a resolution, but in the form of a memorandum, concerning the Veterans' Home in Napa County. Referred to the Department Publicity Committee.)

RESOLUTION No. 39: A resolution favoring the continuation of the policy heretofore in effect by the Department in retaining all funds derived from the Kelly Contract, for use of the Department in extension work and furthering the interests of the Department generally. Recommended for approval by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "That resolution, and the method of handling that book, is an absolute contradiction of the action taken here a few minutes ago on the Poppy Drive. You rejected—"

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN: Comrade, you are out of order on that as we have nothing whatever to do with the Kelly contract here in the Department." (No further objections, and the resolution was therefore approved.)

Resolution No. 40: A resolution urging the adoption of a uniform overseas cap for the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 41: A resolution urging the designation of a National Cemetery in the southern part of the State of California, the said National Cemetery to be the one now located at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. Approved.

Resolution No. 42: A resolution requesting authority to use the prescribed ritualistic funeral ceremonies of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Home Chapel of the National Military Home at Sawtelle, California, and according the same right to other veteran organizations not now permitted to do so. Approved.

Resolution No. 43: A resolution requesting the Department to assess each Post a per capita of twenty-five cents per member, to raise sufficient money to cover the deficit incurred by Capt. H. A. Crow Post No. 884 in putting on the Department Encampment at Fresno in 1926. Recommended by the Resolutions Committee that the matter be referred to the incoming Department Council of Administration for their consideration and subsequent action. Recommendation concurred in.

Resolution No. 44: A resolution approving and recommending the employment of local resident labor in the construction of all State improvements, in preference to alien labor. Approved.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER PATTEN (in the chair): "Those being all the resolutions we have for the present, the next order of business is the reading of communications. Comrade Carlston will read the communications received."

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "I suggest that the Adjutant give us a gist of the communications only."

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "I move you that the communications be considered read and filed after the names of the senders have been mentioned." Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58 and carried by a substantial majority.

Letters and telegrams of greeting and expressions of regret at not being able to attend the Encampment, were then read from the following:

COMRADE JOHNSON (1637): "Comrade Commander, this morning at the meeting it was read that Border Post had given $150 for the Home. Fifty dollars of that was from the Auxiliary and one hundred dollars from the Post. We ask that that correction be made."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND (in the chair): "That correction will be made, comrade. Is the Rules Committee ready to report? (No response.) We will then have a report from the Credentials Committee."

COMRADE RAUSCHER (819): "Comrade Commander, the registration up to now amounts to 392 delegates."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Are there any other committees prepared to report? (No response.) We will have a five minute recess waiting for Comrade Diss and his Rules Committee report. I want you to hear that, comrades, because you may want to change some of those rules, particularly with regard to oral voting. We will now have a report from the committee on changing the districts and placing of the new Posts in districts."

COMRADE FREIDEMAN (67): "The districts have been divided a little bit differently than in the past. The districts now will be divided so that a council member can give you the best service. Also we have changed the numbers of the districts, comrades, starting from the southern part of the State and going up to the northern. Number 1 is the most southern part, around San Diego, and Number 10 is in the extreme northern part of the State. We have a revised map and will present it to the Department."

DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT CARLSTON: "I have a letter from the Santa Cruz Disabled American Veterans Chapter No. 9; it deals with the matter of the Delhi Land project and I believe it should be referred to the Resolutions Committee for their consideration."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "That will be referred to the Resolutions Committee. Comrade Diss, will you kindly make your report at this time?"

COMRADE DISS (1053): "Comrade Commander, and comrades, your Committee on Rules, after careful consideration of the many matters submitted to it, and with due consideration of the various angles involved, now wish to submit, with the recommendation that they be adopted by this Encampment, the following special rules governing the procedure of this Encampment:

"1. Nomination and election of officers: Nominating speeches to commence not later than 10:30 a.m. on Friday.

"2. Nominating speeches to be limited to one for each candidate; time limit, five minutes. Seconding speeches, two for each candidate; time limit, two minutes for each person.

"3. Election of officers: Special order of business for Saturday morning, the 28th; election of officers; installation to follow election immediately.

"4. Representation: In the case of newly installed Posts, namely, those instituted since January 15, 1930, each Post represented at this Encampment to be allowed one vote for each fifteen members or fraction thereof of its total membership in good standing at the institution of said Post. I might say with reference to this that it is carrying out the ruling of the National Commander-in-Chief in respect to this matter.

"5. Announcement of vote and contest thereof: The voting strength of each Post to be cast by the chairman of each delegation. No contest of said chairman's announcement to be considered unless the same be challenged by at least three members of the delegation. This is merely to simplify the mode of procedure, and carries out the methods used and set forth in Article 4 of the National By-Laws and also of the By-Laws of the Department of California and Nevada.

"6. Method of voting: Your committee was divided on the question of the method of casting ballots, whether oral or by secret method, and makes no recommendation in that regard, preferring to leave the matter subject to discussion on the floor of the Encampment."

NATIONAL JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER DE COE: "Rule 4 as read by the chairman of the committee is in error. The idea he is intending to convey is not for the Posts instituted after the per capita tax was paid, that they be allowed to vote. Posts installed after January 30th will have paid per capita tax, and are entitled to full representation."

COMRADE DISS: "I have a telegram from the Commander-in-Chief with reference to two certain Posts—"

COMRADE DE COE: "Comrade Commander, our Constitution and By-Laws prescribe this ruling, and I believe he is wrong. I want to say for the benefit of the comrades that the committee has been acting in this connection entirely with the advice of the Department Commander and also the Department Adjutant, which has been supplemented by a telegram from the National Commander-in-Chief to the Department Adjutant which I will ask the Department Adjutant if he will read and explain."

ADJUTANT CARLSTON: "Comrades, the reason for this telegram is this: I put up the question to the National Adjutant as to the proper representation that a new Post is entitled to if it came in since March 31st. (Reads.) 'Following Posts entitled to representation by Post Commander and one delegate to each fifteen members or fraction thereof on charter application: Visalia, one delegate; Hollywood-Wilshire, three delegates; Santa Rosa, two delegates; Willows, two delegates; Salinas, two delegates; La Jolla, one delegate.' We have no information on number of members at date of installation. You can interpret the telegram that when a Post is instituted after March 31st of this year it is entitled to representation in accordance with the number of names they have on the charter application. That is, if a Post is organized in April and they had fifty names they are entitled to one vote for the charter and one for each fifteen members."

COMRADE WHITE (90): "According to the explanation of the telegram, it merely bears out the contention of our National Officer De Coe, so therefore Rule 4 is out of order."

DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR SEACORD: "Comrade Commander, referring back to the Council of Administration meeting and calling your attention to the fact that Posts instituted around March 20th do not pay per capita tax, they have to be in the organization at least a majority of the time of that quarter. In other words, Posts instituted any time before the fifteenth of February do pay per capita tax, and after that time they are not required to pay per capita tax as of March 31st. Also, the Council of Administration had the letter and the telegram referred to and there was a little difference of opinion as to the meaning of both, and we ruled in the Council of Administration that all Posts that haven't paid per capita tax that their representation would be based upon the number of names listed on the charter application, and that is not a bit different possibly than the other."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Possibly it would help us if we take this report and pass on each recommendation that they make separately."

Motion then made by Comrade DeCoe of Post No. 67, seconded by Comrade Schrock of Post No. 1512, that the first three recommendations be accepted. Motion carried without opposition.

COMRADE DECOE (67): "I move you that Rule 4 be changed to read February 15th—that any Post not having paid per capita tax be allowed full representation." Motion seconded by Comrade Jarvis of Post No. 67, and carried.

Rule 5 as recommended by the Rules Committee was then read to the Encampment by the Department Adjutant.

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "I would like to make a motion that that particular rule be cancelled." Motion seconded by Comrade Sampson of Post No. 818.

COMRADE DISS: "Your committee in presenting that rule has taken into consideration section 27 of article IV of the constitution of the national organization, and another section which I will now give you, of the by-laws of the State Encampment, being section 4 of article IV of that document, provides for nothing more nor less than the same method of procedure that the Posts use and that is carried out on the floor of the Department Convention and also carried out on the floor of the National Encampment. For your benefit I will read the last clause of the National By-Laws (reading): 'Ayes and noes may be required by any three members representing three different Posts.' Section 4 in the State By-Laws contains a provision paralleling the one I have just read, and that will be found in section IV on page 72 of the proceedings of last year's Encampment. The last clause of that section states that (reading): 'Ayes and noes may be required by any three members representing three different Posts.' If the chairman of a delegation made an error in the announcement of the vote of that delegation, on the protest of three members of that delegation, not on the floor of the Encampment, then the chairman of that delegation would be bound to recognize that protest, and the presiding officer of this Encampment could force that chairman of the delegation to conform to the rules. This is simply carrying out the procedure set forth by the national body."

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "In view of the explanation given, I wish to withdraw my motion." (Motion withdrawn.)

Motion then made by Comrade Wilson of Post No. 1468 that the rule be adopted. Seconded by Comrade Joy of Post No. 75, and carried with no opposition.

Motion made at this point by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58, seconded by Comrade Donegan of Post No. 703, that the meeting adjourn, Motion lost,

The recommendation of the committee to refer Rule 6 (method of voting) to the Encampment for decision was then read by Department Adjutant Carlston.

COMRADE MULLIN (58): "I make a motion that we have the secret ballot." Motion seconded by Comrade Johnson of Post No. 1637.

COMRADE DAWSON (58): "Comrade Commander, and comrades, I ask you to withhold discussion and withhold action on that measure until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

COMRADE JOY (75): "I don't believe it would be fair to the delegates here, and it would certainly expedite matters if we had voting by acclamation rather than the secret ballot. The head of your delegation is going to vote your entire delegation. How does the rest of the delegation know what he is voting if it is done by secret ballot? I think that should be decided now."

COMRADE SAMSELLA (818): "All elections are by secret ballot in the Posts. There each man casts his ballot, while here we have the vote cast by the chairman of each delegation, and we still preserve the secrecy of the ballot * * *."

COMRADE RIFFEE (83): "I don't believe the comrade has attended as many Encampments as I have. At Reno we started at 1 or 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and I got no supper that night. It doesn't take long to cast your ballot, but it takes a long time to count them. If you have four or five men running for an office, chances are you will be here about three or four hours before you complete your election. Therefore, I am in favor of doing it the same way the National Encampment does it."

Motion made at this time by Comrade Mullin of Post No. 58, seconded by Comrade Merrill of the same Post, that the matter be laid on the table. Motion lost.

Following some further discussion, the motion to vote by secret ballot was put by the chair and was lost, 57 voting in favor of the motion and 93 voting against the motion, by rising vote.

COMRADE DAWSON (58): "I ask at this time, Comrade Commander, if there is a quorum present."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We will ask the Judge Advocate to reply to that."

COMRADE DISS (1053): "While the Judge Advocate is trying to find out what constitutes a quorum, I might say that there are 392 delegates supposed to constitute this Encampment. That would mean 197 votes make a majority. Now, the votes just cast don't bring it to those figures. It seems to me utterly wrong to take up a question of as great importance as this without knowing whether we are properly convened."

COMRADE CRAIG (1205): "It seems to me that it doesn't make any difference whether we have a quorum or not. This Encampment has gone on for several hours. Some time during that time we did have a quorum, and as long as we had a quorum at any time, anything we transact here is absolutely legal."

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "Point of order. If there is not a quorum here that last vote was illegal."

DEPARTMENT JUDGE ADVOCATE QUITMAN: "There is nothing in the Constitution and By-Laws with reference to a quorum. However, in meetings of this kind the majority generally constitutes a quorum. That would mean a majority of the voting power, and not a majority of individuals, inasmuch as one individual may vote the number of votes to which his entire delegation is entitled, if he is so empowered. If the voting power present is more than one-half of the total voting power, then there is a quorum present."

Motion made by Comrade Dawson, seconded by Comrade Merrill, both of Post No. 58, that the session adjourn. Motion lost.

COMRADE JOY (75): "I now move you that we vote by oral ballot." Motions seconded by Comrade Smith, of Post No. 75.

COMRADE DISS (1053): "Comrade Commander, will you kindly tell us whether there is a quorum present?"

NATIONAL JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF DE COE: "Comrades, you are all wrong on this quorum proposition. This Encampment is governed by the number of delegates registered and attending. If you want the registered vote your Credentials Committee can come in here and tell you what it is, and that is your voting strength. If the delegates don't show up they are not entitled to vote. * * *"

Comrade (name not audible): "I would like to ask for a point of information, in the event of oral voting, if a Post for instance has ten delegates registered at this Encampment and there are six in this meeting at the time of voting, how many votes is that Post going to have?"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Ten."

National Junior Vice Commander De Coe read at this point section 27 of article IV of the National Constitution and By-Laws, "Rules Governing Department Encampments," and explained the same. Considerable further argument was had on the question of oral voting, particularly with reference to the procedure to be followed in the conduct thereof.

COMMANDER HILDEBRANDT: "Comrades, we have a motion before the body; we have ruled on a dozen points of order, have moved the previous question, and everything else. I am now going to make a ruling that may be appealed from of course, if you so desire, that the motion as made by Comrade Joy and seconded by Comrade Smith is before the body; that is, that we vote orally."

The motion to vote by oral balloting was then voted upon, and carried by a substantial majority.

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "I move you that a committee be appointed to find out what constitutes a quorum. I differ from the ruling of the Judge Advocate. We really should find out what constitutes a quorum. I move that a committee be appointed to telegraph to National if necessary and find out where we are at." Motion seconded by Comrade (name not given).

COMRADE BORBA (67): "I would like to have incorporated in that telegram that when there are 390 delegates here and half of them attend, whether those attending are a quorum."

COMRADE PALMER (1010): "As a substitute motion, I move you that this Encampment go on record as accepting the instructions of the Department Commander—that the ruling of the Department Commander be accepted." Motion seconded by Comrade Johnson, of Post No. 1010.

COMRADE WHITE (90): "Speaking against the substitute motion: When you decide on that motion you are taking away your legal right. The chair is provided with various rules and regulations in the conduct of a meeting. * * * The point is, we still want to preserve our right of repeal, or an appeal from the decision of the chair. I hold that the substitute motion is out of order."

COMRADE GALLAGHER (1020): "For a point of information, can an appeal be taken?"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Yes, it can be taken. It should, however, be submitted in writing, signed by two members."

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "I move we adjourn." Motion seconded by Comrade (name and Post number not audible).

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: I request a decision from the Judge Advocate as to whether a motion to adjourn is in order."

DEPARTMENT JUDGE ADVOCATE QUITMAN: "A motion to adjourn is not in order when there is a motion on the floor. The motion is therefore out of order."

COMRADE SANDERSON (913): "I rise to a point of personal privilege—"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, you have heard the substitute motion, duly moved and seconded, that the ruling of the chair be accepted."

The substitute motion was then submitted to a vote and was carried by a substantial majority.

COMRADE PALMER (1010): "I move you we adjourn." Motion seconded by Comrade Johnson of the same Post.

DEPARTMENT JUDGE ADVOCATE QUITMAN: "Comrades, as a point of personal privilege: In order that you may be guided in your nominating talks, Rule No. 2 as adopted by this Encampment is unconstitutional, as same is contrary to the National By-Laws and Constitution. The time allowed for nominating is ten minutes, and the second three minutes, and we cannot change it here."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We will take up this matter of changing Rule 2 the first thing in the morning, at the morning session. We have before us now a motion to adjourn, duly moved and seconded."

The said motion to adjourn was then submitted to vote and was carried unanimously.

The meeting then, at 6:15 p.m., following the retiring of the department colors under the direction of Department Sergeant-at-Arms Flinn, was adjourned to meet again the following morning, Friday, June 27th, at 8:30 o'clock.

MORNING SESSION, FRIDAY, JUNE 27

The meeting was called to order at 8:40 a.m. by Department Commander Hildebrand. The Department colors were brought forward and placed, under the direction of Sergeant at-Arms Flinn, and Department Chaplain Smith invoked the blessing.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, for the first order of business this morning we will proceed with the reading and acting upon those resolutions still in the hands of our committee."

The following resolutions were then presented, and action taken as hereafter indicated:

Resolution No. 45. A resolution authorizing and directing the Department Commander to appoint a committee to prepare a uniform method of conducting the annual Buddy Poppy sales by Posts in the Department. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE MULLIN (58): "At this time, Comrade Commander, I give the floor to Comrade Gavin of the San Francisco County Council to make a report on the poppy drive in San Francisco."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Are you making an objection to the acceptance of this resolution?"

COMRADE DISS (1053): "What is the report of the committee? I just came in, and would like very much to hear that."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "The committee recommends disapproval of the resolution."

COMRADE DISS: "I move you that the action of the committee with respect to that resolution be rejected." Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill, of Post No. 58.

COMRADE GAVIN (58): "Comrade Commander, and comrades: I can not understand at this time the action of the Resolutions Committee in rejecting that resolution, as that appears to be what they are doing. The Buddy Poppy Drive is the biggest single asset the V. F. W. has. For every Buddy Poppy sold, three cents goes to the soldier making it, disabled soldiers lying in the hospital, one cent goes to the National Home in Eaton Rapids, and one cent goes to our national organization. In San Francisco they have tried to revive these Buddy Poppy sales for the last five years, during which time we have sold on the average of one thousand to fifteen hundred poppies. In San Francisco this year we sold 66,000 poppies, as against 1500 or so for the past five years. The boys lying in the hospitals get their percentage out of it; the kiddies at Eaton Rapids get their percentage out of it; the national organization of course gets its portion, and the rest of it, outside of the actual cost of the poppies, went to the relief funds of the various Posts. It is true that we in San Francisco had paid publicity men; without them we could not have accomplished what we did. The sponsors of this resolution, in talking to them on this, they admitted to me, that they paid for publicity last year the same as we did, and still they are the ones sponsoring the resolution.

"Comrades, when you cut out the Buddy Poppy sales, or curtail them, you are not hurting us particularly but you are hurting the kiddies at Eaton Rapids. As far as San Francisco is concerned, you are criticising us because we won't get out and work, as you say. I'm here to tell you that the members of the Posts and the Auxiliaries will not sell poppies. You can do that in the smaller cities and towns, but it is next to impossible to get the Post members to come out and sell Buddy Poppies in a big city like San Francisco; they simply don't do it. In addition to that, we had the Legion Auxiliary bucking us; they sold eleven thousand of their poppies against our sixty-six thousand. * * * At this Encampment it will be settled that you will not be allowed to sell any Buddy Poppies, if we take action such as suggested by some of these resolutions. Be careful, comrades—give it a little thought; you don't want to cheat the kiddies back at Eaton Rapids out of anything, so give the matter thought and consideration."

COMRADE DISS (1053): "Speaking on my motion that the action of this Resolutions Committee with reference to this resolution be rejected, and that the resolution as introduced and presented by that committee be adopted: I would say that I agree heartily with Comrade Gavin's remarks when he expressed surprise that the Committee on Resolutions should have rejected that resolution. The resolution was introduced before any discussion whatever came up on the floor; it was written by me before any discussion whatever came up on the floor of the Encampment in regard to whether or not paid solicitors could or could not be used in the disposition of these poppies. I had no knowledge whatever of that element of trouble, and the word 'legitimate' used by me in the resolution was merely used in the preparation of the resolution and with no ulterior motive at all. My sole idea in the presentation of that resolution was to formulate some plan, some program of action that might be used throughout the State of California and Nevada in the disposition of these poppies, and I could see no way better in accomplishing this than by the Department Commander taking his time and appointing a committee of conservative, level-headed men to prepare that plan—men who would not be swayed or influenced one way or the other, who would act solely and singly for the good of the object involved. Why that committee should disapprove of this resolution is more than I can understand. The fact remains, in my judgment, that we should do something to formulate a plan for a uniform disposition of these Buddy Poppies."

Following some little further discussion on the matter, the motion to reject the report of the Resolutions Committee was again made, as follows:

COMRADE DISS (1053): "I move you that the action of the committee in rejecting or disapproving of that resolution be rejected, and that the resolution be adopted." Motion seconded by Comrade White of Post No. 90, submitted to a vote of the Encampment, and by a rising vote was carried by a scant majority.

DEPARTMENT SENIOR VICE COMMANDER WINN (in the chair): "Comrades, by your vote you have concurred in this resolution. I think that leaves the matter in the hands of the Department."

Resolution No. 46: A resolution urging the adoption of a uniform overseas cap for the Department. Disapproved.

Resolution No. 47: A group of four resolutions (previously referred to in these minutes) submitted by Mrs. Leah H. Davis, Past President of the Gold Star Mothers of America, regarding (a) increased compensation for fathers and mothers of deceased veterans, and elimination of the proof-of-dependency clause; (b) payment of compensation to beneficiaries of deceased veterans; (c) building and maintaining by the United States Government of a home for Gold Star mothers and fathers; and (d) medical attention for Gold Star parents in U. S. V. B. hospitals. Approved, and to be referred to National Legislative Committee.

Resolution No. 48: A resolution requesting the appointment of a committee by the Department Commander to investigate conditions pertaining to discrimination against veterans in civil service positions. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee, it being considered that the proposed action was impractical.

COMRADE TEBEAU (1468): "I made that resolution, and I ask at this time that the resolution be read in accordance with the courtesy granted all resolutions."

The resolutions were then read, and following a brief discussion (no motion being made to approve or disapprove the action of the Resolutions Committee) the recommendation to disapprove was accepted by the Encampment.

Resolution No. 49: A resolution expressing appreciation of the interest in veteran warfare shown by Mr. William Randolph Hearst in editorials published in his San Francisco publication, the "Examiner." Approved.

Resolution No. 50: A resolution recommending the elimination from the Ritual of the organization of that clause contained in the initiatory ceremony referring to Sherman's march to the sea. Approved.

Resolution No. 51: A resolution urging that the Judge Advocate General of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States prepare and print a book of instructions setting forth in detail how the ritualistic work of the organization should be exemplified. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee. (No objection.)

Resolution No. 52: A resolution requesting the National Body to prepare a form of ceremonial initiation to be given in public. Disapproval recommended, as the subject matter is covered in a previous resolution.

Resolution No. 53: A resolution proposing that honorary membership applications shall be in the form of a resolution signed by three members of the Post setting forth the reasons for conferring the honor, and requiring approval of the Department Commander. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee. (No objection.)

Resolution No. 54: A resolution petitioning the Congress of the United States to furnish German police dogs, trained in acting as guides, for blind veterans throughout the country. Approved.

Resolution No. 55: (Not submitted in the form of a resolution.)

COMRADE CAKE: "This was not submitted as a resolution, and therefore the committee took no action. It is merely a statement of action taken by Colonel Robert Loghry Post, and there are no recommendations in it."

DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR SEACORD (in the chair): "I am going to rule that as there are no recommendations incorporated in that resolution and no action of the Encampment called for, the resolution is out of order."

Motion made by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58, seconded by Comrade Neron of Post No. 1774, that the resolution be referred back to Loghry Post No. 466. Motion carried.

Resolution No. 56: A resolution favoring and urging increase in pay for all branches of the armed forces of the United States. Approved.

Resolution No. 57: A resolution asking the Congress of the United States to enact legislation for the relief of veterans having foreign service disabilities not heretofore recognized. Approved.

Resolution No. 58: A resolution favoring the publication by the Department of a magazine for the dissemination of news of interest, activities, etc., of the Department, same to be financed through the issuance of stock certificates in the total amount of $15,000, to be sold to members of the organization. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee. (No objection.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Those are all the resolutions for the present, and we will have another report tomorrow morning. We will now refer to the Rules Committee report; I believe we have a rule that conflicts with the Constitution, and I am going to request that it be read again by the Adjutant. While we are waiting for this report, the chairman of the Legislative Committee has something of importance to tell us."

Comrade Albert Brady, chairman of the Department Legislative Committee, then verbally supplemented his report of the previous day pertaining to legislation then pending before the Congress of the United States, mentioning in particular the Swing Bill (H. R. 10381) which provides for the expenditure of approximately fifty million dollars for veteran pensions, then before the President for signature.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "At this time we will hear a report from our good Past Department Commander, Dan Schertle, who is chairman of the California-Nevada Cottage Fund."

Past Department Commander Dan B. Schertle then read to the Encampment a report of the California V. F. W. Cottage Fund Committee (copy of which is attached to these minutes and made a part thereof) outlining the committee's activities from its inception and itemizing the donations received up to that time.

The matter of changing Rule 2 as proposed by the Rules Committee was then brought up for discussion. Motion made by Comrade Riffie of Post No. 83, seconded by Comrade Hudson of Post No. 1020, that the rule as proposed by the Committee be rejected and the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws with respect thereto be adhered to. Motion carried.

At this time Comrade Borge, a member of the Committee on Drum and Bugle Corps and Drill Team competition, read to the delegates the rules that would govern the various phases of competition.

Telegrams of greeting were then read by Department Adjutant Carlston as follows:

From Buron Fitts, Past Department Commander of the American Legion; from Comrade William Ivanhoe, Past Surgeon of the San Diego County Council; from Yosemite Post, V. F. W., at Merced; from Comrade John E. Evans, National Liaison Officer for Southern California, in which Comrade Evans gave a brief report of his activities; and from Golden Gate Post No. 40, American Legion, San Francisco.

Comrade Rauscher, of the Credentials Committee, reported at this time that his report submitted the previous day stating there were 392 delegates registered, was in error; that only 326 delegates had registered up to last evening.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Are there any other reports to be made at this time? Has the Publicity Committee any report? (No response.) Now comrades, I believe the next order of business is the nomination of officers, but if we are to follow our schedule strictly we still have thirteen minutes."

Motion then made by Comrade Flinn, of Post No. 703, seconded by Comrade Carlston, Department Adjutant, that a recess be declared for the length of time mentioned. Motion carried unanimously.

The meeting then, at 10.17 a.m., recessed for a period of thirteen minutes.

Meeting again called to order at 10.30 o'clock by Department Commander Hildebrand.

A motion was made at this time and duly seconded that a telegram of congratulations be dispatched to General Hunter Liggett at San Francisco, on his appointment to the grade of General from that of Lieutenant-General. Motion carried unanimously.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I now declare nominations open for the office of Department Commander."

Edward M. Seacord, Department Inspector, a member of Major Randolph T. Zane Post No. 344, San Jose, California, was then placed in nomination by Comrade L. R. Johnson, of the same Post. Nomination seconded by Past Department Junior Vice Commander Milburn R. Gregory, a member of Gosse Post No. 407, Reno, Nevada.

Hiram W. Winn, Department Senior Vice Commander, a member of Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010, Emeryville California, was placed in nomination by Comrade Steve Karigan, of Colonel Robt. Loghry Post No. 466, San Francisco. Nomination seconded by Comrade Neron, of Post No. 1774, San Diego.

Motion made by Comrade Gregory, of Post No. 407, seconded by Comrade White of Post No. 30, that nominations for the office of Department Commander be closed until the following morning. Carried.

DEPARTMENT JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER FREIDMAN (in the chair): "I now declare nominations for the office of Department Senior Vice Commander open."

Val N. Brandon, of Post No. 75, San Diego, was then placed in nomination by Comrade Guy Cake, of Post No. 1679, Ventura. Nomination seconded by Comrade Towner, of Post No. 1744, San Bernardino.

Motion made by Comrade Whitaker, of Post No. 1392, Long Beach, seconded by Comrade Smith of Post No. 1512, San Diego, that nominations for this office be closed until the following morning. Carried.

DEPARTMENT JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER FREIDMAN: "I now declare nominations open for the office of Junior Vice Commander."

Louis D. Borge, a member of Col. J. J. Astor Post No. 999, Oakland, was nominated for Junior Vice Commander by Comrade Thompson of Post No. 1882, Hayward. Nomination seconded by Comrade Smith of Post No 72, San Rafael.

Fred Taylor, Department Chaplain, a member of Gen. J. H. Smith Post No 83, San Francisco, was nominated for Department Junior Vice Commander by Comrade Wm. Flinn, of Post No. 703, Berkeley. Nomination seconded by Comrade Riffie, of Post No. 83.

Motion made by Comrade Dawson of Post No. 58, seconded by Comrade Smith of Post No. 75, that nominations be closed until the following morning. Carried.

DEPARTMENT COUNCIL MEMBER CLIFF BENNETT (in the chair): "I now declare nominations open for Quartermaster."

Charles O. Carlston, Department Adjutant, a member of Gen. J. H. Smith Post No. 83, San Francisco, was placed in nomination by Comrade M. R. Gregory, of Post No. 407. Nomination seconded by Comrades Merrill and Dawson, of Post No. 58, San Francisco.

Arthur V. Keefe, Department Historian, a member of Carl Kreh Post No. 1123, Vallejo, was nominated by Comrade Hudson, of Post No. 1020, Veterans' Home, Yountville. Nomination seconded by Comrade Stuart, of White Squadron Post No. 90, San Francisco.

Motion made by Comrade Stanton of Post No. 120, seconded by Comrade Feete of Post No. 75, that nominations for this office be closed until the following morning. Carried.

DEPARTMENT COUNCIL MEMBER BENNETT: "I now declare nominations open for Judge Advocate."

Charles C. Quitman, Department Judge Advocate, of Amaroc Post No. 1512, San Diego, was nominated by Comrade Theron of the same Post. Nomination seconded by Comrade M. J. Schrock, of Post No. 1512.

DEPARTMENT COUNCIL MEMBER BENNETT: "Are there any further nominations for Judge Advocate? (No response.) We will therefore pass to the next. I now declare nominations open for Department Surgeon."

William I. Kingsley, a member of Connelly Post No. 75, San Diego, was nominated for Department Surgeon by Comrade Smith of Post No. 1512.

At this point Department Adjutant Carlston announced that a luncheon would be held at noon in honor of Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, at the Casa Del Rey Hotel, and made several other announcements pertaining to the Encampment photograph, the parade formation, etc.

Mrs. Consuela P. De Coe, Department President of the Ladies Auxiliaries, was escorted into the hall and to the platform at this time, and was extended the greetings of the Encampment by Department Commander Hildebrand.

SISTER DE COE: "Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand, our National Officers, Past National Officers, Department Officers, and comrades all: I wanted to come in here today to express to you my appreciation for the cooperation and support I have had this year from Comrade Department Commander Hildebrand and his staff of officers and the comrades of the Department, and to the many comrades of the Posts who, on my official visits to their Auxiliaries, had a greetings committee come in to welcome me. I want to tell you, boys, that words can not express how I appreciated those greetings. It told me in more than one way you could have expressed it to me that you were proud of your Auxiliaries, and that you wanted to see your Auxiliaries go ahead. I certainly appreciate every effort and every act of cooperation that was extended to me this year by the comrades of the many Posts. I want to say also that my husband deserves a lot of thanks from me and from the sisters of the Auxiliaries because it was through him that I was able to travel—he was my chauffeur in going throughout the Department to visit the different Auxiliaries. I have forty-two Auxiliaries now, with fourteen new ones instituted during this year. I visited thirty-eight of my Auxiliaries, and am sorry that I was unable to visit them all. I have tried to further the interests of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries in our wonderful Department; I have tried to tell the girls that with cooperation between the Auxiliaries and their Posts our wonderful organization will be a bigger and better one. I have tried to get the girls to leave out personal jealousies and feelings, to work to help our disabled comrades and the widows of those who answered the last call, and from the reception I have received here today and from the reception all my own girls have given me, I think that my efforts have not been in vain. Again I want to thank your Department Commander for coming in and extending his personal greetings to our Encampment. It was very much appreciated by myself." (Applause.)

COMRADE GREGORY (407): "Comrade Commander, if I am not out of order, I would like to move that we have a rising vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. De Coe for their untiring efforts on behalf of the organization during the year." Motion seconded and carried unanimously, and a rising vote of thanks and applause was then extended National Junior Vice Commander Darold De Coe and Mrs. Consuelo P. De Coe, President of the Auxiliaries of the Department.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Mrs. De Coe, I don't think you need any further assurance of the continued cooperation by the comrades to the Auxiliaries."

Mrs. Wentworth, Department Secretary of the Ladies Auxiliaries, was then called upon and made a few brief remarks, stating that seventeen charter applications for new Auxiliaries were then pending, in addition to the fourteen taken in during the year; that they had gained in membership to the extent of 749, making a total membership in the Department of 1814.

Motion made by Past Department Commander Patten, seconded by Comrade Gregory, that a rising vote of thanks be extended to Sister Wentworth. Motion carried unanimously.

Past Department Commander Schertle announced at this point that three Auxiliaries in the Department had made contributions toward the California-Nevada Cottage Fund, for the erection of a cottage at the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan. Mrs. De Coe responded by stating that other Auxiliaries would continue to raise funds for this project, as soon as they had completed their drive for sufficient funds to complete the hospital to be erected at the National Home through the efforts of the Auxiliaries throughout the country. (Delegation escorted from hall.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, it is now very near the noon hour, and a motion to adjourn is in order."

Motion then made by Comrade Bennett of Post No. 67, seconded by Comrade Joy of Post No. 75, that the meeting adjourn. Carried.

The meeting then, at 11.55 a.m., o'clock, adjourned to meet again the following morning at 8.30 o'clock. (No afternoon session to be held due to the parade, drum and bugle corps competition, drill team competition, etc. in accordance with the Encampment program.)

FINAL SESSION—SATURDAY, JUNE 28th

The final session of the Encampment was called to order at 8:45 a.m. by Department Commander Hildebrand.

The Department colors were brought forward and placed under the direction of Sergeant-at-Arms William Flinn.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, with your permission, owing to the fact that we have to open nominations again and we only have one more office to nominate, that is, Chaplain, we will finish our nominations and then have the Chaplain in the regular order of nominations. Is there any objection to that?" (No objection interposed). The chairman of the Resolutions Committee will now proceed."

Additional resolutions were then presented and acted upon as hereafter indicated:

RESOLUTION No. 59: A resolution endorsing H. R. Bill No. 2668, providing for increase of allowances for board and room for the retired soldier. Approved.

RESOLUTION No. 60: A resolution urging the passage of a bill known as S-1029, providing for increase in longevity pay for warrant officers, now discriminated against from the standpoint of longevity pay. Approved.

RESOLUTION No. 61: A resolution asking that the Department confer upon Comrade Vadie E. Bevers, a member of White Squadron Post No. 90, San Francisco, at this Encampment, an honorary membership in the organization. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE CAKE: "Comrade Commander and comrades, we don't feel that this Department should be able to grant honorary membership without the sponsorship of a Post."

Some little discussion was held at this time relative to the eligibility of the organization of Comrade Bevers, it being stated by Comrade Stuart, of White Squadron Post No. 90, that Comrade Bevers came into the organization seven years ago after his service was approved by National Headquarters. Department Commander Hildebrand explained to the Encampment that he had received instructions from National Headquarters to request the resignation of Comrade Bevers as Department Quartermaster, due to the fact that it had been determined that he was not eligible to the organization; that in accordance with these instructions Comrade Bevers was requested to and had submitted his resignation from that office.

Motion then made by Comrade White, of Post No. 90, seconded by Comrade Failles of Post No. 818, that the report of the committee be rejected. Comrade Cake, of Post No. 1679, then called to the attention of the Encampment the fact that Comrade Bevers was still a member of the organization, and that an honorary membership could therefore not be conferred at this time. The motion to reject the recommendation of the Resolutions Committee was then submitted to a vote and was lost.

RESOLUTION No. 62. A resolution (previously) submitted as Resolution No. 55, but referred back to the sponsors thereof. Colonel Robert Loghry Post No. 466, for definite recommendation) expressing a desire that a tablet in commemoration of the late Congressman Julius Kahn be placed in the new San Francisco War Memorial Building to be erected. Disapproval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

COMRADE CAKE: "Comrades, as I understand it, and I am pretty sure the rest of the committee understands the same, they are about to erect this memorial in San Francisco for men that sacrificed their lives. There are many men, if you are going to do that, who are as deserving of having their name on a tablet in the building—you could put one in there as big as the building itself, have the building entirely covered with tablets. Of course we appreciate the efforts of the late Julius Kahn, but we don't feel that we should place him above others equally deserving; we feel that he was only doing his duty to take action as he did, and we don't believe that we should have a civilian on the memorial to the ex-service men."

There being no objection entered by any delegate, the action of the Resolutions Committee was therefore concurred in, and the resolution disapproved.

RESOLUTION No. 63. A resolution calling upon the Shipowners Association at San Francisco to give preference to veterans in the matter of employment, rather than foreign born individuals. Approval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER LEVITT: "I would like to recommend that the words 'foreign born' in that resolution be changed to 'aliens'. Foreign born can become American citizens."

COMRADE GUETZHOW (1253): "I approve of that change."

The resolution was, with the minor change above noted, approved.

RESOLUTION No. 64. A resolution favoring the employment by the Department of a comrade to fill the office of Department Quartermaster who would devote his full time to the duties incident to the office, and receive a salary of not less than $150.00 per month. Approval recommended by the Resolutions Committee.

Motion made by Comrade Rosendorf, of Post No. 83, that the report of the Resolutions Committee be rejected; seconded by Comrade Joy, of Post No. 75.

COMRADE ROSENDORF (83): "Speaking for the motion: Comrade Commander and comrades, we have had that question before us once or twice before. You want to make it mandatory to have one man at Department Headquarters; that sounds all right on paper but it will not work out in practice, for several reasons. One of the reasons is that suppose one man gets sick, suppose he has a little vacation, that means that Department Headquarters has to quit functioning, where you have only one man at Department Headquarters. Another thing: You want to take away the right from the Department Commander that he now has, that is, selecting his own Adjutant."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrade, I rule you out of order on that because it is not mentioned in the resolution."

COMRADE ROSENDORF: "I know it isn't, and I will leave that part out. Comrades, at your National Encampment your National Quartermaster is also National Adjutant. I admit that, but why have you got it? He is not the only man in that office, he is simply the head of that office. He has a big force of clerks working there—all he has to do is sign papers. Most of us in this Department have a better chance to visit Department Headquarters at night than we have in the daytime. Another thing, the question of salary; it says a limit of $150.00, and——"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrade Rosendorf, I will have to disagree with you there; it says not less than $150."

COMRADE ROSENDORF: "Well, not less than $150. Our Department is growing right now, but we don't know whether we will be able to pay that. I say you are paying too much right now, in paying $140. The work that is done at Department Headquarters is not worth $150, or $140. The job isn't big enough to keep a man there all day."

DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT CARLSTON: "Comrade Commander and comrades, before we take any action here on that resolution we want to use a little judgment and common sense. I believe that a resolution of this nature should properly be referred to the Encampment Finance Committee in order that they may render to you a comprehensive report on the finances of the Department."

COMRADE MORRISON (1123): "Comrade Commander and comrades, I have been a member for some six years but I have never appeared speaking on the floor of the Department Encampment before, and I have been to several of them; but today I am speaking in favor of the resolution that is on the floor at the present time. The Department of California and Nevada has grown enormously in the last six years. When I first joined the organization we didn't have a headquarters, or much of anything else. The time has arrived when we need a full time man at Headquarters—somebody that can give his entire time, the best that is in him, and one that will be able to give the Posts information when they ask for it. We in Kreh Post have never had any trouble getting action, getting a reply to our communications, but the complaint has been passed around that Posts in the southern part of the State have not been able to get an immediate answer, sometimes waiting a couple of months for a reply, and so at this time I speak in favor of the motion for a full time man in Department Headquarters."

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "There are a lot of things we would like to get, but we can't afford them, and I believe this is one of them. You must bear in mind that your per capita to the national body is a dollar a year, and to the Department fifty cents. I believe that in time we will find it necessary to have a full time man, but I do not feel that the time is ripe for anything of that sort. While it may specifically state in that resolution that one hundred and fifty dollars shall be the minimum, where is all this money coming from? When the proposition was suggested at San Diego that we might get a retired man or a man drawing a pension to fill the office, I opposed it, for the reason that I didn't believe in that. If a man is worth the money you want to pay he is worth it irrespective of whether he is retired or a pension man. I say, comrades, if we didn't have a Veterans' Bureau to go to and get all the information we require on our various questions, it would be necessary to have a full time man so that we could ring up headquarters and get that information; but the Veterans' Bureau has gone to the trouble and expense of advertising the fact that they are at our beck and call by phone or letter or by personal call, at any time. Now, figure for yourself, how many of you can go up there and spend an hour or half an hour to go to Headquarters? You can not do it; you haven't got the time. And another thing, how much work can a full time man do if you are going to have the men going up there and stopping him from his work? It is very nice to tell everybody that you have a full time man on the job, but if you can't afford it what has been accomplished? You can't do it. Another thing is this: "What good is a full time man in San Francisco going to do for the comrades in Los Angeles, San Diego, or any other distant place? Comrades, I don't believe the plan is feasible; I don't believe it is financially sound. From all over the State we will have to pay for this full time man, either by increased per capita tax or in some other manner. I contend that the office of the Department is fully taken care of at the present time. Some may say that their communications are unanswered. It is easy to say 'the Department never answered my letters,' when chances are they never got the letters. They blame it on to somebody else. Your Department didn't answer your letters because you probably didn't write them. Comrades, I ask that you consider this matter carefully before accepting this full time man proposition."

COMRADE BORBA (67): "These comrades that have talked on this question have forgot to state that your present Department Quartermaster and Adjutant receive fifty dollars a month apiece, and the secretary receives forty dollars, making a total of one hundred and forty dollars a month that we pay out now. If this Department can not afford to pay ten dollars more, it is time we were gutting. I have been down to San Francisco dozens of times and have found nobody there."

COMRADE BENNETT (344): "I rise to a point of order. A motion should be made in the affirmative. There was one comrade who spoke here that didn't know whether he was for it or against it because of the confusing way in which the motion was put. The motion should be made affirmatively, to approve, and then you vote it down if you wish; therefore this motion should be put to adopt, and if you don't want to adopt it you vote no. According to Robert's Rules of Order this motion in not being in the affirmative is out of order. I suggest it be put in the affirmative."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I refer to the parliamentarian to make a ruling on that point of order."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER LEVITT: "Comrade Commander, I have not the rules of the Encampment here, nor Robert's Rules of Order, so I can not make a ruling at this time."

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "The comrade is perfectly right—it is a negative motion. I don't want to be technical, but a negative motion should not be entertained."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER LEVITT: "I believe that is correct; the motion is declared out of order."

COMRADE SWEET (67): "Will you please state to the Encampment the action of the committee?"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Their action was approval of the resolution."

COMRADE CRAIG (818): "I move you that we accept the recommendation of the committee." Motion seconded by Comrade Failes, of Post No. 818, and was carried by a small majority.

COMRADE CRAIG (818): "For a point of information, that says $150 or over, now is there any committee appointed to prepare a budget to show how this expense is to be met?"

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "A committee has to be appointed by the Council of Administration. According to your by-laws adopted last year, it is the right and authority of the Council of Administration to set the salaries and the expenditures."

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "Does that resolution state how this man is to be appointed or elected?"

COMRADE SMITH (75): "For a point of information, the decision of the chair on the vote was not heard."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "The decision of the chair was that the motion carried."

RESOLUTION No. 65: A resolution expressing the thanks of the Encampment and its appreciation of the cooperation received from Col. Roger S. Fitch, Commanding Officer of the Presidio of Monterey, in furnishing the 11th Cavalry Band for the Encampment parade. Approved.

RESOLUTION No. 66: A resolution expressing thanks of the Encampment to the United Spanish War Veterans of Santa Cruz, the Chamber of Commerce, the local newspapers, the Mayor and other city officials, the management of the Hotel Casa del Rey; the Richfield Oil Company, Warren Brothers of Fresno, and others assisting in making the Encampment a success. Approved.

RESOLUTION No. 67: A resolution expressing thanks to Mayor Swanton of Santa Cruz, the Chief of Police, the Chamber of Commerce, and to Past Department Commander Darold D. De Coe, Department Adjutant Charles O. Carlston, Department Inspector Edward M. Seacord, and Past Commander Clayton of Wyman Post No. 888, Santa Cruz, for their untiring efforts in making the Encampment a success. Approved.

COMRADE CAKE: "Comrade Commander, those are all the resolutions."

COMRADE SLOAN (1205): "I did not hear read here a report of the committee on publications."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We are waiting for Comrade De Coe to arrive so he can give us that report. Are any other reports ready for final rendering at this time?"

COMRADE RAUSCHER (819): "The total registration up to now is 368 delegates. I will have a complete report in a few minutes, when I get the number of Department officers entitled to vote."

Past Department Commander Dan B. Schertle, chairman of the California-Nevada Cottage Fund, read at this time a list of the Posts and Auxiliaries that had made contributions to the fund, and announced that the total amount then on hand was $3,005.82.

COMRADE SCHERTLE: "Now comrades, Comrade Levitt and myself have worked very diligently on this. We have been on our toes ever since this started last August, but we consider it out duty and have really enjoyed the work. At the present time at the Home there are eight Californians. There are some fourteen cottages now erected and being erected by the various Departments. California is third in size, yet we have not put a cottage there as yet. Some of our children and widows are being taken care of in other Department cottages. Your Council of Administration appointed Comrade Levitt and myself to devise ways and means. We feel that our work has been satisfactory so far, but this is only a starter. Before I get through I want to make a motion; there has been nothing stated as to how this money shall be handled. I will make a motion, or have someone make a motion, that this Encampment—that this money be transferred to the Department Quartermaster for the purpose of that cottage at the National Home.

"I have a number of communications here that we have received, but I am only going to read just one little item which I know you will all want to hear. I believe this should be taken up with the Department Council of Administration and then brought up at our next Encampment.

"We have reached every Post this year with bulletins; we have many promises in addition to these contributions which we now have, and which will possibly make it four thousand dollars. The ladies have collected in two years close to twenty-five hundred dollars, and I believe that the men can do this. It will mean a matter of two dollars per member during a period of two years time. That is not a very big amount, and that will give us plenty of money to build this cottage. Many have already given more than that, and I know this coming year that the ladies of the Auxiliaries are going to back our project to the limit. They have given this hospital of theirs to we men, and when they finish that project they will back us in ours.

"I just received a communication from Past National Commander Stover, President of our Home, telling me we should have at least four cottages erected this year. They are not going to build any more cottages, but they are going to finance any Department that wishes to build one. I have an assurance from the Auxiliaries that they stand ready to furnish any home that we construct. Now here is what Comrade Stover said: 'If you will be so kind as to advise me the amount of money you have on hand, and you wish the Board to advance the balance, giving you five years to pay it back, I will take it up with the Board and advise you.' The whole story is this: Whatever we need between the amount we are able to collect and the amount needed to construct the cottage, the National Home will advance this money to us, giving us five years to pay it back and not charging any interest. I think the better plan would be to have this handed over to the Department Council of Administration. I don't think we are quite ready yet to go into the actual building of this cottage, as there are many angles to be taken up.

"I move you that the money so far collected, three thousand and five dollars, and whatever money does come along, shall be used for this purpose only." Motion seconded by Comrade Sloan of Post No. 1205.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER LEVITT: "I would like to make an amendment to that: that the money be loaned out at six per cent until we are ready to build." Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58. The motion as amended was then submitted to a vote and carried unanimously.

COMRADE CROWLEY (72): "Tamalpais Post went to the extent of having one thousand copies of 'The Gold Stripe March,' the official march of our Department, printed. We will donate the proceeds from the sale of these copies to our National Home; that is, the money that is derived from this sale we will donate to the Cottage Fund." (Applause.)

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: Comrade De Coe, will you please let us have your report now on your committee?"

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER DE COE: "Comrade Department Commander and comrades—Your committee appointed some months ago to report at this Encampment on the feasibility of a Department publication respectfully submit the following: (Reads report, copy of which is attached to these minutes and made a part hereof.) "Now, comrades, there have been resolutions presented at this Encampment to handle the situation. This report was written before the resolutions came in, but one of these resolutions embodies therein what we have recommended, and additional per capita tax of fifty cents per member per year. In fairness to the other resolutions, however, I will read them to you; one of them puts it up to the Department itself to publish a monthly publication (reads resolutions presented by Smith Post No. 83, San Francisco, and Connolly Post No. 75, San Diego).

"Now comrades, there is another resolution that was not turned over to me, put in by McQuaide Post. I will ask Comrade Sloan to read that resolution." (Resolution read by Comrade Sloan, of Post No. 1205.)

"Those are all the resolutions now that are to be presented for your consideration. One proposes a stock selling proposition; one puts the entire expense upon the Department of California and Nevada, and one proposes a fifty cents per member extra per capita tax. Now comrades, consider this phase: We need a publication. I believe personally, and the committee believes, that the only way you can do it is by having the extra per capita tax. Think the matter over seriously, be reasonable, and I hope you select the right one."

COMRADE CHANDLER (1512): "I make a motion that the report of the committee be adopted." Motion seconded by Comrade Riffie, of Post No. 83.

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "I am opposed to that; you are raising your per capita from a dollar and fifty cents to two dollars. In Smith Post we pay six dollars per year, and if another half dollar is taken away, if you are going to make the cost of membership in our organization prohibitive, you are going to lose members in due course of time. I would like to state that in Smith Post since its inception we have lost a thousand members by dropping. Finances to the average veteran cuts a lot of ice. We have a paper already, our Foreign Service, which we all read."

COMRADE SCHROCK (1512): "I would like to know whether this report is approved or disapproved."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "The motion made was to adopt the report of the committee."

COMRADE SCHROCK: "What was the report of the Committee?"

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER DE COE: "Comrades, the report of the committee was that a per capita tax of fifty cents per member per year be levied. If the publication is put over properly—and I have every bit of confidence in our Council of Administration members, of being good business executives—properly conducted, I will guarantee personally that inside of six months they will dispense with the per capita tax, because they can get advertisements to pay the costs."

COMRADE MAGGART (913): "Speaking against the motion: Honor Post No. 913 pays three dollars a year dues. One dollar and fifty cents of that goes to per capita tax. If you raise that per capita, it gives us one dollar with which to operate. Our boys are doing the best they can out in Richmond, but we wouldn't go far with that. We are opposed to this resolution."

COMRADE BRANDON (75): "I would like to make an amendment, that the report of the committee in referring to a fifty cent per capita tax be eliminated. I believe it is the sense of all of us here that we should have a Department publication; we all realize the necessity for it. Down in San Diego County I have been putting out the 'Southwest Veteran' for a year and a half, and in our own county we distribute a thousand copies every month. For the first three months we ran in the hole, but since that time we have paid up that deficit and pay for the thing as it goes along. There is no subscription from the Posts, or per capita tax to be paid by the San Diego County Posts. I believe that the Department Council of Administration whom we will elect here, are business men enough to put over a Department publication without any per capita tax at all, or without selling bonds." (Motion to amend seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58.)

DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT CARLSTON: "I would like to make an amendment to the amendment. I am heartily in favor of what our good comrade Val Brandon has just stated. Now comrades, the Department doesn't have to tax the Posts for this. My amendment is this: That we do not pass this back to the Council of Administration, but vote such as the resolution from Smith Post has stated—that we go on record here that we want a Department paper, without any per capita tax or anything else levied on the Posts, and that this paper be published on the first day of August. Now that will take care of Val Brandon's idea and free the Posts of any obligation."

COMRADE STANTON (1020): "I cannot understand how you are going to publish a magazine on the first of August unless you devise some means of publishing it. The amendment recommends no measure for raising the funds to publish that magazine."

(Second amendment seconded by Comrade Joy, of Post No. 75.)

COMRADE GUEDET (83): "Point of order: The amendment to the amendment carries with it the amendment to the original motion."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER DE COE: "The contention of Comrade Guedet is correct."

The motion as amended was then submitted to a vote of the Encampment, and was carried.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Now comrades, we made a special order of business for this morning, calling for election at ten o'clock. We are a little late, so therefore at this time we will go on to nomination of officers. We have not had the first nomination for the office of Department Chaplain, so nominations for that office are now open."

CHARLES S. VALE, a member of Green Post No. 1020, Yountville, and the chaplain of that Post, was nominated for Department Chaplain by Comrade T. M. Hudson, of the same Post. Nomination seconded by Comrade Gray of Post No. 1020.

G. W. ("Buck") CONNER, a member of Universal City Post No. 1267, Los Angeles, was placed in nomination by Comrade Diss, of Post No. 1053. Nomination seconded by Comrade Smith, of Post No. 75.

COMRADE SLOAN, Chaplain of Joseph P. McQuaide Post No. 1205, San Francisco, was nominated by Comrade Dwyer of the same Post, but declined the nomination.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Are there any further nominations for Chaplain? (No response) Now, according to the requirements of the constitution, a committee was appointed to re-district the Department. Before we can have our election we must have the report of this committee, and your concurrence in it. Comrade Freideman?"

Department Junior Vice-Commander George Freideman, chairman of the committee on re-districting the Department, then read to the Encampment the report of that committee (copy of which is attached to these minutes and made a part hereof).

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Is there any recommendation from that committee as to what members shall be elected—the method of election? In order to do this, we have to reelect every council member this year; therefore a recommendation should be made to cover the situation that rises as to the length of the terms. Some are to be elected for one year and some for two years. Oh, I believe the even numbers are for two years and the odd numbers for one year."

COMRADE MERRILL (58): "I move that the report of the committee be accepted." Motion seconded by Comrade Smith of Post No. 75 and carried without opposition.

COMRADE GALLAGHER (1020): "I just received a telegram from Comrade Charles Vale at the Veterans' Home requesting that his name be not placed before the Encampment for the office of chaplain."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "With your permission, then, the name of Comrade Vale will be withdrawn. If there is no objection that will be the order."

Nominations were then opened for the office of Department Commander, and no further nominations for that office were made.

Nominations for the office of Department Senior Vice-Commander were re-opened, and no further nominations were made.

Nominations for the office of Department Junior Vice-Commander were re-opened.

COMRADE TAYLOR (83): "At this time I wish to have my name withdrawn for the office of Junior Vice-Commander."

James E. Richardson, of Bishop Langenbach Post No. 948, Marysville, was then placed in nomination by Comrade Jones, of the same Post. Nomination seconded by Comrade Watson, of Post No. 1770, Willows.

Nominations for the office of Department Quartermaster were re-opened, and no further nominations were made.

Nominations for the office of Department Judge Advocate were re-opened.

Percy C. Church, a member of Crow Post No. 884, Fresno, was nominated for Department Judge Advocate by Past Department Commander Henry M. Levitt. Nomination seconded by Comrade Samsella of Post No. 818. (No further nominations.)

Nominations then opened for the office of Department Surgeon.

A. Flores, a member of Border Post No. 1637, Calexico, was placed in nomination by Comrade Jones of Post No. 1512. Nomination seconded by Comrade Smith of Post No. 72.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Those are all the offices to be filled, but we will re-open nominations for the office of Chaplain in order to follow out the usual procedure. Are there any further nominations for that office? (No response.) I therefore declare the nominations for the office closed. Now comrades, in order to allow the delegates of the different districts an opportunity to decide upon who they wish to represent them, I would suggest that we now go ahead with our election of Department officers, then have a recess for a period of say ten minutes to give this opportunity to you comrades."

Motion then made by Comrade Riffie of Post No. 83, seconded by Comrade Mullin of Post No. 58, that a recess for ten minutes be held. Motion carried unanimously.

The session then, at 10:50 A.M., took a recess for a period of ten minutes.

The meeting was again called to order at 11:00 A.M. by Department Commander Hildebrand.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We will now have a report of the Credentials Committee. Listen very carefully to this, comrades, as this will tell you what votes each delegation is entitled to."

A list of the Posts and the delegates to which each was entitled, together with the names of the Department officers, Past Department Commanders, and County Council Commanders, was then read by Comrade Rauscher, of the Credentials Committee, as follows:

Department Officers: Commander Charles J. Hildebrand, Senior Vice Commander H. W. Winn, Junior Vice Commander H. W. Winn, Junior Vice Commander George Freideman, Adjutant Charles O. Carlston, Judge Advocate Charles C. Quitman, Chaplain Fred Taylor, Surgeon E. V. Sheafe (not present), Historian Arthur V. Keefe, Junior Past Department Commander Darold D. De Coe, Patriotic Instructor Charles C. George, and the Council of Administration Members (seven of which were present).

COMRADE RAUSCHER: "The total number entitled to vote that are present at this Encampment is as follows: Past Department Commanders, 5; Department Officers, 9; Council of Administration Members, 7; County Council Commanders, 3; Delegates, 388. Total number, 412. There is a total of 418 for the Ladies' Auxiliary, or a grand total of 830 delegates and visitors."

The total voting strength of the Encampment, exclusive of those Posts not present and those not entitled to representation, was given as 567.

At this point in the proceedings Major General Logan Feland, U. S. Marine Corps, together with his aide, Lieutenant Commander G. M. Sturges, were escorted into the hall and introduced to the delegates by Past Department Commander Dan B. Schertle, following which they were escorted to the platform.

Major General Feland then addressed the delegates on the subject of the interest of the ex-service man in the regular armed forces of the United States. During the course of his remarks he stated that "our first forces were absolutely and wholly composed of citizens. * * * I want to tell you now, as a regular officer, that there is no regular officer of any intelligence whatever who has any idea that any war the United States engages in will ever be won except by a civilian or citizen army. There is no longer an idea that the regular forces can win by themselves. * * * Our American Revolution was a struggle of an idea against a system that had no place in America. * * * So we can date from the year 1775 that all our citizens have been directly interested in the country's wars. That interest has never abated. The most remarkable thing, when we come to consider it, is that the United States military man has never fought in any war, large or small, except in behalf of an idea which was understood and believed in by every individual fighter. In this has been the strength of America's forces, and the chief cause of their success. * * * The point I want to make to you as citizens is that all of our wars have been fought by armies of citizens, backed up by public opinion of the United States. The soldier, sailor or marine is none the less a citizen because of his military status. You can read on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier the words of Washington, "When we assumed the soldier we did not give up the citizen." The World War wiped out any distinction between the professional military man of America and the civilian. * * *

"We have no quarrel with the pacifist; we are all entitled to our own opinion. There is no one that knows better than the professional soldier that war would be a good thing if done away with forever; but we are confronted with the fact that there is such a thing as war, and that we will be engaged in war again. * * * You veterans are, in a peculiar way, representative of the citizens of the country because of your knowledge of what war is. * * * The idea I want to convey is that it is up to you to study the question of how much of an army and navy we should have. * * * We all know that a citizen army won the last war, and won all the important wars in which the United States has been engaged. * * * It is your sons who are going to have to fight the next war. From your experience you must decide as to what the country needs in the way of regular forces. You saw the lack of trained officers in 1917-18. Our Regular Army was small; there were not enough officers to help handle this citizen army in the way it should have been done—and some of those we did have were not worth a damn. There always will be a certain proportion of those. You must decide whether you want your sons to have fewer trained officers to lead them on the battlefield or whether you want them to have more good officers; it is up to you to say whether you want an adequate navy or a poor one. I do not believe that it is up to the regular officer to say anything about what we ought to have—the size of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps."

The remarks of Major General Feland were well applauded by the assembled delegates. National Junior Vice Commander in Chief Darold D. De Coe responded briefly, expressing to the General on behalf of the Encampment their concurrence in his remarks. General Feland and his aide were then escorted from the hall.

The election of Department Commander was then held, with the following results:

Edward M. Seacord-----	205

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, I therefore declare Comrade Winn elected as Department Commander."

DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR SEACORD: "Comrade Commander, for a matter of record and of personal expression, I move you that the election of Comrade Winn be made unanimous." Motion seconded by Comrade Gregory of Post No. 407 and carried unanimously.

COMRADE NERON (1774): "I would like to move that the Department Adjutant cast a unanimous ballot for the office of Senior Vice Commander, Comrade Brandon being unopposed." Motion seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58, and carried unanimously.

Department Adjutant Carlston then proceeded to cast a unanimous ballot for Comrade Val N. Brandon as Department Senior Vice Commander, and Comrade Brandon was declared duly elected.

The election of Department Junior Vice Commander was then held, the votes therefor being cast as follows:

MRS. DE COE: "Comrade Department Commander, I just heard of the results of your election, and I felt that I could not let this opportunity pass to come in and to congratulate your new Department Commander, Comrade Winn, and also to thank Comrade Whalen, of Post 1010, for the gorgeous bouquet of roses that he sent me this morning. There is just one thing more; we pledge our support to you, and I know that my successor will join me in this. We haven't elected our Department President, but she has no opposition. The thing that will help make her year a success, however, is to give her a charter application for an Auxiliary for Post 1010."

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "You know of my sentiments toward the Auxiliary, so I am going to request Comrade Winn to answer the remarks of Mrs. De Coe."

DEPARTMENT COMMANDER-ELECT WINN: "Madame Department President, I wish to assure you and the ladies of the Auxiliaries of my fullest cooperation, and you can assure the incoming President that I will do everything to aid her in the successful discharge of her duties. I wish you would convey that to every Auxiliary in the Department. As far as an Auxiliary for 1010 is concerned, I am Department Commander this year and 1010 will have to shape its own destinies." (Mrs. De Coe then retired from the hall.)

The election of Department Quartermaster was then held, as follows:

Charles O. Carlston-----	279
Arthur V. Keefe-----	238

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, by your vote you have elected Comrade Carlston to the office of Department Quartermaster."

Motion made by Comrade Keefe of Post 1123, seconded by Comrade Brammell of Post No. 999, that the vote for Comrade Carlston be made unanimous. Carried unanimously.

The election of Department Judge Advocate was then held, with the following result:

Percy C. Church-----	425
Charles C. Quitman-----	97

Motion made by Comrade Quitman, seconded by Comrade Cake, that a unanimous ballot be cast for Comrade Church. Carried unanimously.

The election of Department Surgeon was then held by a rising vote, a motion to follow this procedure having been made, seconded and carried. Due to the absence of Comrade Kingsley of Connolly Post No. 75, one of the nominees, Comrade A. Flores was then declared elected by an overwhelming majority.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "By your vote, comrades, you have elected Comrade Flores as your Department Surgeon."

Motion made by Comrade Riffe of Post No. 83, seconded by Comrade Merrill of Post No. 58, that the Adjutant be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for Comrade G. W. Conner as Department Chaplain, there being no opposition to his nomination. Carried unanimously.

Department Adjutant Carlston then cast a unanimous ballot for Comrade Conner, and the comrade was declared duly elected.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, our by-laws of the Department prescribe that the election of the Council of Administration members shall be held at the Department Encampment, and that each district will submit its recommendation. We will now call on the representative from each district to name its nominee, and we will proceed to elect them if there is no objection."

The following names were then submitted, and, by a vote of the Encampment, unanimously elected to serve as members of the Department Council of Administration:

District No. 1: Melvin J. Schrock.
 District No. 2: Walter M. Williams.
 District No. 3: Guy J. Cake.

District No. 4: A. D. Munden.
District No. 5: S. S. Ripley.
District No. 6: Charles Gavin.
District No. 7: Frank Loranger.
District No. 8: R. A. Wasem.
District No. 9: Thomas J. Crowley.
District No. 10: Clarence H. Patten.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "We shall now have a report from the Time and Place Committee. Comrade McLellan."

Comrade G. D. McLellan, chairman of the Committee on Time and Place of Next Encampment, then rendered a brief report to the Encampment, in which it was stated that two cities had made application for the 1931 Encampment, namely, Long Beach and Chico, but that the committee did not care to make any recommendation to the Encampment as to which to select.

Motion made by Comrade Riffe, of Post No. 83, that the next Encampment be held at Long Beach.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "I don't believe that motion is in order until the representatives of the two localities be given an opportunity to present their case, since the committee made no recommendation. I believe they should be allowed that privilege."

Commander Whitaker, of Long Beach Post No. 1392, then spoke on behalf of the city of Long Beach and his Post, outlining the advantages of that city, and stating that the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations in the city were enthusiastically behind them in their request for the next Encampment; that two thousand dollars had already been laid aside as a guarantee of the success of the Encampment, and that more would be obtained.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Is there anyone here from Chico prepared to talk on behalf of that locality?" (No response.)

The Encampment then, by rising vote, selected Long Beach as the city in which the 1931 Department Encampment would be held, but four votes being cast in favor of the city of Chico.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, as a result of your vote you have decided to go to Long Beach. The date for the Encampment will be set by the Council of Administration as required by our by-laws. I am going to request Comrade Whitaker to go before the Auxiliaries and inform them of our decision."

Motion made and seconded that the Adjutant be instructed to write a letter of thanks to the three musicians from the Presidio of Monterey and the citizens from the city of Santa Cruz who acted in the capacity of judges for the drum corps competition. Carried unanimously.

A further motion was made by Comrade Palmer, of Post No. 1010, and duly seconded, that the Resolutions Committee be discharged with a vote of thanks. Carried unanimously.

At this point in the proceedings the trophies and awards won by the various Posts and individuals in the Department were presented to the winners by the donors thereof; National Junior Vice-Commander De Coe presenting the Department trophies in addition to those he himself donated.

Past Department Commander Schertle announced that $52.40 had been collected from the sale of copies of "The Gold Stripe March," heretofore referred to.

Motion made and seconded that the present session adjourn out of the memory of Comrades Adair, McMillan and Colthrust, who had passed away in their respective localities during the present encampment. Carried unanimously.

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER LEVITT: "I am going to ask that the comrades return here for the installation of officers at 2.30 this afternoon. We owe it to our newly elected officers, comrades."

PAST DEPARTMENT COMMANDER SCHERTLE: "It has been the unwritten law that the Senior Past Department Commander do the installing of officers. Last year I gave way to our Commander-in-Chief, Comrade Carver, and this year I would suggest that Comrade Junior Vice-Commander-in-Chief De Coe be given the honor of installation."

The Encampment then, at 1.45 p.m., recessed to meet again at 2.30 p.m. of the same day.

The meeting was again called to order at 2.50 p.m. by Department Commander Hildebrand.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Comrades, let's get this over now as quickly as possible. The first order of business will be the passing out of color bands to those Posts having their colors present at this Encampment. We are somewhat delinquent in this."

Bands for Post colors were then distributed to a representative from each Post having its colors present.

Past Department Commander Schertle announced that $33 had been collected from the Ladies Auxiliaries through the sale of copies of "The Gold Stripe March," bringing the total of the California-Nevada Cottage Fund up to $3,166.

COMMANDER HILDEBRAND: "Are there any further committee reports? (No response). "Comrades, I want you to know that I appreciate the efforts that have been put forth by the various committees during the Encampment, and in discharging them I want to express that appreciation. The majority of them worked far into the night on several of the nights, and I want them to know that I personally appreciate this service. I also want to thank our Department Chaplain, and especially Past Department Commander Levitt for their assistance during our memorial services, and to thank also Comrade Schertle who has worked so diligently to put over this California-Nevada Cottage Fund."

Motion made by Comrade Flinn, of Post No. 703, seconded by Comrade Roberts of Post No. 819, that the Encampment have a joint installation of officers with the Ladies' Auxiliary. Carried.

National Junior Vice-Commander De Coe addressed the Encampment briefly at this time, as a national officer of the organization, complimenting them upon the growth of the Department, pledging his continued support to the Department and to the incoming administration, and wishing the Department officers-elect much success.

(A resolution extending the dates of foreign service during the World War to July 2, 1921. Submitted by Leonard Armstrong Post No. 1744, San Bernardino, California.)

Resolved, That inasmuch as United States Veterans' Bureau applications for compensation of veterans disabled in the World War are extended to apply to those who served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States between the dates of April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, is an interpretation that, officially, a hostile standing existed between certain nations at war prior to November 11, 1918, and the United States between the dates of November 11, 1918, and July 2, 1921, inclusive, and that the truce of November 11, 1918, was a tentative date agreed upon to support a then interminable situation, and that the major restrictions thereof did not banish the common risks of war, or restore full liberties; now, therefore, we pray authorization of campaign badges to include the dates November 11, 1918, to July 2, 1921, recognizing World War service on allied or enemy foreign soil, or war-bound waters, for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That pending decision on above recognition, any officer or enlisted man, or any honorably discharged officer (including Contract or Acting Assistant Surgeon, Dental or Veterinary Surgeon) or enlisted man who has served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States on allied or enemy foreign soil, or war-bound waters, between the dates November 11, 1918, and July 2, 1921, inclusive, shall be eligible to honorary membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, upon furnishing proof of said service; and, upon confirmation of the conferring of a campaign badge by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast

Guard of the United States, covering the period November 11, 1918, to July 2, 1921, shall immediately become eligible to active membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That a resolution concurring in this one and automatically providing for the Ladies' Auxiliary, be drawn by the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, and placed before the next National Encampment for action.

(A resolution pertaining to the abolition of the office of Outer Guard in all Posts. Submitted by Alameda County Council, Oakland, California.)

WHEREAS, The present Ritual of our organization makes provision for an Outer Guard, whose duty it is to collect the Countersign from each comrade entering the Post room; and

WHEREAS, This practice of having both an Outer and Inner Guard is not observed in the greater majority of Posts, chiefly due to the fact that it prevents a member from taking part in the actual meeting of the Post when posted as an Outer Guard; and

WHEREAS, There is clearly no necessity for the office of Outer Guard, the Inner Guard being sufficient for the purpose of collecting the countersign of the organization and the semiannual password; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Alameda County Council, in regular meeting assembled, does hereby favor the abolition of the office of Outer Guard; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Department of California and Nevada for its consideration and subsequent adoption if approved, with a view to ultimately having same forwarded to National and by that body duly considered.

(A resolution pertaining to a publicized report on conditions at the Veterans' Home. Submitted by Gen. J. H. Smith Post No. 83, San Francisco, California.)

The Veterans' Home at Yountville, Napa County, California, is officially a state home for those men who served America in time of war. The institution is established that men, because of advancing or adverse circumstances, might find a home, which the People of California, grateful for the service rendered, willingly and cheerfully support.

It is to be noted that the home is in no sense a charitable institution in the ordinary sense of the word. It represents, rather, a recognition on the part of the people that the people owe a debt to men who have served the nation, and whatever benefits may accrue to men who are resident there accrue because of past service rendered to the people.

The home is supported by appropriations made by the Legislature every two years. Under the provisions of the Constitutional Amendment legalizing boxing and wrestling exhibitions five per cent of the admission fees of such exhibitions go to the upkeep of the Veterans' Home.

It is a matter of fact that the present conditions at the Veterans' Home are deplorable. Men are housed in buildings that are representative of fire hazards that no community would tolerate. With a permanent residence of between two and three thousand, no facilities are provided for hospitalization, and there are but two doctors attached to the home. There is no operating room in the home, and no really worth while facilities provided for anything other than minor operations. There is a county hospital, but it is a fact that the county hospital is tenanted for the greater part by men who are, in point of fact, mental cases.

It is also a matter of fact, and possible proof, that building after building is infested with vermin, and in several of the frame buildings bed bugs and cockroaches can be seen by any casual observer.

It is also a matter of fact, and possible of proof, that building after building program in connection with the home. This ten year building program contemplates the erection, over a period of years, of four barracks buildings, an administration building, patriotic hall, a mess hall, a recreation hall, waitresses quarters, officers quarters, and a theatre and library building. The expenditures contemplated between now and 1937, when the ten-year building program will be completed (the alleged program having started in 1927) total $1,277,900. But it is to be noted that the ten year building program does not contemplate, nor include, any hospital facilities, nor does the ten year building program take into consideration the fact that during the next ten years the demand for admission to the Veterans' Home will be greater than ever before.

It is also to be recognized that during the winter months, and early spring months, of every calendar year the home is so overcrowded that it is impossible for men to gain admission, with a result that men whose welfare has been a matter of State and National legislation are forced, through the inadequacy of accommodations available, to become objects of public charity.

It is incumbent upon the Veteran Organizations, through their duly constituted Departmental Officers, to make these facts known to the members of the veteran organizations, to the unorganized veterans, and to the public at large. It is the solemn duty of veteran organizations to bring these matters to the attention of the members of the Legislature of the State of California, between now and 1931, in order that the conditions complained of may be corrected, and public officials charged with responsibility in connection with the Veterans' Home at Napa County should be made to realize that empty phrases, slogans and artfully worded alibis are no longer acceptable to the ex-service men of California, and that the responsibility for the continuance of the present deplorable conditions at the Veterans' Home will be placed by veteran organizations where it properly belongs.

(A resolution to the payment of the balance on the Encampment held at Fresno in 1926. Submitted by Captain H. A. Crow Post No. 884, Fresno, California.)

WHEREAS, There have been and are at the present time many men in our national life who at times have given expression and shown appreciation for services rendered by the armed forces of the Republic, men and women who have not forgotten the

(A resolution seeking a memorial to the late Julius Kahn of San Francisco. Submitted by Col. Robert Loghry Post No. 466, San Francisco, California.)

The following was unanimously adopted at a regular meeting of Colonel Robert Loghry Post, No. 466, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, held in the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco, California, January 22, 1930.

Resolved, that we request the Honorable James Rolph, Jr., Mayor of the city of San Francisco, California, to take such action as may be necessary to commemorate the memory of, and express appreciation of the citizens of San Francisco, for the conspicuous, patriotic, and valuable services rendered to the city and the Nation at large by the late Hon. Julius Kahn as a member of the House of Representatives of the United States, especially his leadership in behalf of essential war legislation, in his capacity as a member of the House Military Committee during and antedating the period of the participation of the United States in the World War.

As the work of Mr. Kahn was closely connected with the military activities of the Nation at that time, and the successful termination of the war was due in no small measure to his indefatigable efforts as a member of the Military Committee, the most important body functioning in the National Congress at that time, we feel that any memorial perpetuating the services and sacrifices of the soldiers, sailors, and citizens of the Nation would be incomplete unless suitable public expression of appreciation for the services and memory of the late Honorable Julius Kahn be engraved thereon; therefore, be it further

Resolved, That it is our desire that in the War Memorial about to be erected in San Francisco there be placed a suitable tablet in commemoration of the memory and services of our distinguished citizen and representative Julius Kahn.

OFFICERS' REPORTS

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT COMMANDER

To the Officers and Delegates of the Tenth Annual Encampment, Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

DEAR COMRADES :

I beg your permission to submit, and your indulgence in the reading of, this report of the Department Commander for the period of the administration, 1929-1930.

In assuming the obligations and duties of the office it was the aim of the Commander to promote a spirit and feeling of enthusiasm and cooperation between the members and the different Posts of the Department that would not only tend to extend, but also solidify the entire Department into one cohesive unit that could well be directed by the Executive Officers. This, I believe, has promoted to a large extent, the heartfelt expression of Comradeship so evident in this Department, not only by the individual members but between the different localities. This expression is the outstanding fundamental principle upon which our organization is based and should be practiced at every opportunity.

One should bear in mind that it is impossible for any one person or any small group of individuals to further advance and bring into practice any program without the full cooperation of the majority of the members of the organization. It can truthfully be said that at no time has there come to the attention of the Department Commander any instance where the most hearty cooperation has been withheld from the Department Officers in furthering the program of the administration. I wish to express to each and every member, every Post and County Council Officer, the Department Officers and Council of Administration, my appreciation for their efforts, their unflinching devotion to duty, so unselfishly given during this term. I fully realize that the duties of all officers in this organization are at times, exacting and arduous and that those that have fulfilled them so meritoriously should be extended every consideration and praise possible.

In compiling a report of this nature one must, to a certain extent, touch only upon the main activities and accomplishments, for it has been the policy to delegate, in so far as possible, the numerous duties to the subordinate officers and the members of the Council of Administration. The reports of these officers will advise you of the scope of their duties and the activities under their supervision in the separate localities. Therefore the object of this report will be to minimize the personal activities of the Department Commander and devote as much space as possible to inform you of the progress made, the program undertaken, and offering a word of commendation to those, who in the opinion of the Department Commander, have been outstanding in the performance of their duties and in furthering the aims, objects and ideals of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and the Department of California and Nevada.

DUTIES AND ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT COMMANDER

Upon assuming the duties of Department Commander I was handicapped to a great extent, by not having held any Department Office previously. This was unfortunate in that it caused the expenditure of a great amount of time in familiarizing myself with the numerous requirements of the office. I was greatly assisted in this by the unstinted cooperation of the Past Department Commanders of this Department, particularly Comrade Darold D. De Coe, our present National Junior Vice Commander in Chief; Comrade Dan Shertle, Comrade Henry Levitt and Comrade Clarence Patton. With their advice and assistance together with the Council of Administration, a program was outlined and formulated that it was felt, would aid materially not only in increasing the membership but also further enhancing the prestige of our Department.

In promoting this program the Department Commander has done considerable traveling not only throughout the States of California and Nevada but also attended the National Encampment at St. Paul and the National Council of Administration Meeting held in Chicago. It was possible by attending these meetings to obtain for the Department an allowance from National Headquarters that made our extension program possible. An approximate total of 30,000 miles was covered by the Department Commander in the performances of his duties and it is estimated that he spoke before 60,000 people. Owing to the vast area of this Department it was impossible to visit each individual Post but one or more visits was made to each of the localities or Counties encompassed in the Department. Every effort was expended in assisting the different Posts in promoting their activities, the Department Commander accepting every invitation possible to attend their affairs. I was either present or acted as Installing Officer at the installation of eleven new Posts, and during the month of January installed the Officers of 22 different Posts and County Councils. In attending these affairs the different Comrades and Post Officers greeted me most cordially and extended themselves to the utmost to make the visits not only pleasant to me but a success with respect to the organization. The answering of correspondence has been no small item during the term, communications to the amount of 1,112 having been received and 1,234 having been dispatched from the personal office of the Department Commander. Owing to the fact that Department Headquarters and the residence of the Department Commander were located so far apart necessitates the carrying on of this correspondence from the office of the Commander.

COMMITTEES

During the administration numerous committees were appointed to facilitate the carrying out of the program. These committees were under the direction of the Department Commander and made their reports to and were assisted by him. Outstanding among these committees was the one appointed for the purpose of raising funds to build a Department Cottage at the Home for Widows and Orphans maintained by the National Organization. I believe the Department Commander assisted greatly in this on numerous occasions by making addresses before the membership, friends and relatives of the different Posts.

Comrades Past Commanders Dan Schertle and Henry Levitt and Department Quartermaster Vadie E. Bevers were the members of this committee with Comrade Schertle as chairman. A program was outlined that called for the raising of the sum of $15,000 over a period of three years. The members of this committee, through their chairman will make a detailed report of their activities on behalf of the Home and they are to be commended most highly upon the results shown.

TROPHIES AND AWARDS COMMITTEE.

The Trophies and Awards Committee, with Senior Vice Commander Winn as chairman, have efficiently performed their duties and have, with the assistance of many Officers and Posts throughout the Department, obtained a list of trophies that are well worth having and working for. You have been sufficiently advised of the purposes of these trophies and the awarding will be made at the final session of the Encampment.

DEPARTMENT ENCAMPMENT COMMITTEE

The Department Encampment Committee was appointed for the purpose of assisting the Santa Cruz Committee in making the proper arrangements for the Encampment and, cooperating with the Committee from the Santa Cruz Post, have made it possible for us to so thoroughly enjoy the proceedings of this Encampment. This Committee, with Comrade Department Inspector Seacord as Chairman, have labored diligently in making the Encampment the wonderful success that it is.

DEPARTMENT MEMBERSHIP DRIVE COMMITTEE

The chairman of the Department Membership drive after a period of inactivity, resigned, and owing to the limited time it was impossible to perfect plans commensurate with the ideas and expectations of the Council of Administration. It was, however, decided to purchase supplies of literature and send communications to the different Posts throughout the Department urging them to avail themselves of the opportunity of the use of the literature and instructing them in the different methods employed in the conducting of a membership drive from the standpoint of the Posts. This was under the supervision of the Department Commander with the able assistance and services of National Deputy Chief of Staff Harry Kellett and Department Chief of Staff A. G. Chapman. It was felt that as the posts primarily paid for the upkeep of the Department through the medium of paying per capita tax they should receive some benefit from the expenditures: 25,000 copies of three different pamphlets were purchased and sent to the different Posts and County Councils throughout the Department. A total of 4,000 communications were mailed and 43 different packages sent by express. The total expense of the drive was about $585.00. The literature that was not used was turned over to Comrade Kellett to be used in the formation of New Posts.

DEPARTMENT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

The Department Legislative Committee, under the chairmanship of Comrade Albert Brady, has been very beneficial to the membership of the Department as a whole. Comrade Brady conceived and put into execution the idea of publishing the salient features of existing laws affecting veterans in the different Post publications throughout the Department. By the medium of these columns he has not only made it possible for the members to take advantage of existing legislation but has brought to the attention of the membership all bills as they were proposed in Congress, and kept us all informed of their progress until they were either buried indefinitely or were finally passed.

COMMITTEE ON DEPARTMENT PUBLICATION

This Committee, with Comrade Past Department Commander Harold D. De Coe as Chairman, was appointed for the purpose of devising ways and means of promoting a Department Publication. This must be given careful consideration, for, in order to efficaciously care for the promulgation of orders and bulletins throughout the Department so that they may be brought to the attention of each member, a change must be made in the methods used at present. The bulletins as composed by the Department Adjutant and different Committee Chairmen, are sent to each Post and in the majority of cases are not even read at the Post meetings. With a Department Publication it will be possible to bring to the attention of each member those items of vital interest to us all. It is hoped that, with the approval of the delegates and your concurrence in the proposed financial recommendations of your Department Officers it will be possible to successfully launch, during the succeeding year, either a magazine or newspaper that will be a credit to the Department.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Under the direction of Chairman Charles Gavin, Council Member from the ? District, a budget was submitted to the Department Council of Administration at the meeting held in Pasadena November 24th, 1929. This budget was approved and, with but few minor exceptions has been adhered to during the administration. This committee showed keen insight in so accurately estimating the income of the Department and should be highly complimented upon the manner in which the funds were distributed so as to cover all phases of Departmental activities.

DEPARTMENT OFFICERS AND COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION

Too much praise cannot be given the subordinate officers and those members of the Council of Administration that have so efficiently functioned. Except in a few minor instances complete and unlimited support was given by them and the results shown are, to a great extent, due to the activities of these all important officers. At each Council meeting a complete report of their activities and the condition of the Posts under their jurisdiction was submitted.

PUBLICITY

An increased interest in this necessary adjunct to the success of the organization has been displayed during the year. By means of proper contact it has been possible for the representatives of the separate Posts to obtain, in some instances, unlimited space in the local newspapers for the purpose of bringing the attention of the public to activities of the Post. It has always been maintained by the Department Commander that with the proper approach, and, providing that full cooperation was given the newspapers and editors, this could be accomplished. In these localities where the greatest amount of publicity has been received our Posts either predominate or are outstanding in their growth and accomplishments. Each of us should take advantage of this opportunity of thoroughly acquainting the public with our achievements. In order to do this the matter of publicity should be placed in the hands of a capable Comrade who has the ability of properly compiling and preparing items most suitable for public consumption.

There has also been a huge increase, not only in the circulation, but also in the number of Post publications, edited and published by the individual Posts or County Councils throughout the department. By this method proper contact is maintained between the officers and members of the Post and vital information may be broadcast to the individual. It is hoped that, in the near future, it will be possible for more of these publications to appear on the V. F. W. horizon for the purpose of disseminating information. In some localities it will not be possible to do this and in that case monthly bulletins should be sent to each member of the Post informing him of the accomplishments of the preceding month and the proposed activities for the ensuing period.

The billboard display campaign undertaken by the National Organization and received so favorably in this Department has undoubtedly proven of extreme benefit in the results so far determined. Through the cooperation of the Bill-Board Advertising Agencies it was possible to have displayed in this Department about 475 posters. The Department participated in a financial manner by the expenditure of $107 for 107 posters. The posters furnished by the Department were scattered over the territory from Eureka on the North to San Diego on the South, and, in some cases, enabled some Posts to receive more publicity than they would have otherwise obtained. It is urged that during future campaigns of this character, the Posts participate to as great extent as their finances will permit. It is also requested that the individual Posts send a suitable communication to the billboard representative in their district expressing their appreciation for the cooperation so unstintingly given.

THE STATE VETERANS' HOME

The second Annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Day at the Veterans' Home was considered an exceptional success. The officers and employees of the Home together with the members of the Post by so capably entering into the spirit of the occasion made it possible for those who attended to enjoy a very pleasant day. The entertainment was the best obtainable and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. The complete program of luncheon, sports and entertainment was at the expense of the Home and the committees that officiated are to be congratulated for the very efficient manner in which the affairs were handled. The weather was somewhat inclement but, with the fortitude so prevalent in the members of our organization, was not allowed to interfere with the festivities of the day.

It is probable that in the near future it will be necessary for the members of this organization to again take an active part in preventing the repeal of the State Boxing Bill. There is some agitation at the present time for this, and, no doubt, it will increase as time goes on. Therefore our legislative committee should prepare for the coming engagement and we should use every means within our power to prevent the repeal. The rehabilitation of the buildings at the Home is of paramount importance to each and every member of this organization and the welfare of the inhabitants of the Home should receive our primary consideration. Therefore we must indorse wholeheartedly any proposed legislation, such as the contemplated bond issue for the purpose of building a new hospital, that is to be brought before the public.

OTHER LEGISLATION

Our National Legislative Committee has been very active during this session of Congress in promoting legislation that would in some manner, prove beneficial to service men, veterans and their dependents. The necessity of the cooperation of individual members of the organization in assisting these promotive efforts can not be overlooked. With this thought in mind the special legislative bulletin that was compiled and sent to each Post, enumerated and explained the proposed legislation and urged the contacting of the different members of Congress requesting their favorable consideration in their behalf. Of special interest to our members was the bill increasing the pensions of Spanish War Veterans, legislation for increase of compensation and the extension of time for the filing of claims, and service connected disabilities, Pension for World War Veterans, Cash payment of the bonus and those bills allowing the retired personnel equal privileges in hospitalization. There are many others, while affecting only a certain few, are of major importance to us all and merit our support in proving that our motto of "Equality and Justice to All," is not merely an empty gesture. The passing of the Spanish War Veterans' increase in pensions over the veto of the President was ably assisted by our organization. Telegrams and communications having been sent to all members of Congress from the State of California by the Department Commander.

DEPARTMENT FINANCES

The Department finances were increased this year, to a great extent, by the funds derived from the "Kelly Contract," and by an allowance received from National Headquarters for extension work. Although a considerable amount was expended by the Department in furthering our organization, I believe the results justify the expense. The policy of using the Post's share of money derived from the "Kelly Contract," for Departmental expenditures, started in previous administrations, was continued during this term, but, at the insistence of the Department Commander, the matter in its entirety was supposedly brought to the attention of the members of each Post. At the Council of Administration meeting held in Pasadena the decision was made that a suitable letter explaining the situation should be composed by the Department Commander and sufficient copies sent to each Council member so that he could present a copy to each Post. The possibility that any Posts have not received complete information on this subject can only be explained by those Council members that neglected to present the communication.

The income from per capita tax showed a decided increase during the year, exceeding the estimate of the Budget Committee by some few hundred dollars. It is hoped that within a few years the income from this source will be sufficient to cover the necessary expenditures of Department Headquarters.

The allowance from National Headquarters of the sum of $1,500 for the purpose of extension made it possible to continue the employment of Comrade Kellett as National Deputy Chief-of-Staff in this Department. The total expense of maintaining this office was approximately $3,200 leaving a deficit of $1,700 that had to be met by income from other sources.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY

The activities of the Ladies Auxiliary have proven the advisability of further extending and continuing this indispensable affiliated organization to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Under the able leadership of their department and local officers they have been of inestimable assistance in successfully concluding the undertakings of the Posts and the Department. By their full and hearty cooperation during the Poppy Drive it was possible to increase the sales of poppies in this Department from 80,000 to nearly 200,000 and they have also taken an active interest in the raising of money for the California-Nevada Cottage Fund, in many instances having made a donation in their own right and in others by their enthusiastic cooperation in the raising of funds by the Posts. Undoubtedly they have in many cases proven the vital factor in the success of the Post by their energetic application to duty and through their achievements have created a more friendly feeling toward the parent organization.

THE GROWTH OF MEMBERSHIP IN THE DEPARTMENT

At the beginning of the administration the recruiting and extension program called for an increase in membership of 1,500 and the installation of 15 new Posts. This quota has been exceeded in both instances. The report of the Department Quartermaster at the Encampment at San Diego showed that there were 4,995 members in good standing in the Department as of per capita tax paid on March 31, 1929. The per capita tax statement as compiled by the Department Quartermaster for this Encampment will show that we now have over 7,400 members in good standing. This is based on the report of March 31, 1930, and does not take into consideration the six new Posts that have been installed since that time nor the natural increase that might be expected throughout the Department. This is a record of which you may well be proud and proves conclusively that the sentiment of the veteran toward our organization is increasingly favorable. This increase has not been confined to any one section although some localities have been outstanding in this regards.

There has been 19 Posts installed and instituted during the administration and 19 charter applications obtained. The charter application of the Post at Crescent City, California, having been received during a previous administration and the Post installed during this term. In addition to this there are at the present time a number of applications being circulated that should, within a few weeks, bring more units into the fold.

At the request of National Deputy Chief of Staff Kellett, a system of reports was instituted that required the making of a monthly report to the Chief of Staff by the Deputy Chief of Staff in each District. This aided materially not only in keeping the Chief of Staff advised of the conditions in the different sections but brought to the attention of the proper officers locations that could well support a Post and in some cases, ably assisted in the placing of a Post there.

RECOMMENDATIONS

These recommendations are not submitted for the purpose of forcing their adoption by the incoming administration, but it is hoped that, by their perusal they will assist the Department Officers in the formation of the program for the ensuing year.

1. The appointment of a recruiting committee should be early considered and appointed. This committee should be placed in complete charge of the recruiting activities throughout the Department and should be allowed sufficient funds to properly function. Each Post should be given a quota for the year and every effort should be made to exceed it. The Department should furnish to the Posts literature for this purpose that is compiled in such a manner as to be a credit to the organization. This could be done by the compilation of all items of interest, activities of the national, department and local units, eligibility requirements and other matters into one magazine. A folder of instructions in properly selling our organization to the prospect should also be published and put in the hands of those Comrades that participate in the recruiting campaign.

2. The continuation of the extension program should be adopted and every effort made to again obtain from National Headquarters funds for this purpose. The employment of a National Deputy Chief of Staff has proven very beneficial to the Department and should be continued. Comrade Kellett has compiled a list of probable and possible locations for Posts in the Department and it is believed that within a short time our Department will consist of over 100 Posts.

3. The making of reports by the Deputy Chief of Staffs to the Department Chief of Staff should be increased and in all cases these officers should make every attempt to obtain at least on charter application from their district during the year.

4. The members of the Council of Administration, representing the different Districts, should take a more active interest in the local Posts under their jurisdiction. This is the main contact between the Department Commander and the different Posts and the members of the Council should be familiar with all the conditions pertaining to them, and should be ready, when the emergency arises, to represent the Department on all occasions.

5. Every effort should be made by each Post to participate in the raising of the fund for the purpose of building a Department cottage at the National Home. The maintaining of the home is a great financial burden to our organization and it is our duty to assist in this expense by the early completion of this worthy endeavor.

6. Each Post should take advantage of the opportunity of raising a relief fund for their Post by participating in the annual Poppy Drive. This also assists the National Organization in meeting the expense of upkeep at the Home.

7. Visits between the officers and members of the different Posts proves to be of great benefit in promoting comradeship among our members and greatly assists the officers in determining the proper procedure of conducting the meetings.

8. Every Post should avail itself of the opportunity offered by the press and radio to further acquaint the public with our activities, principles and ideals. It is also urged that each Post start a Post publication or bulletin so that each member may be informed of the accomplishments and proposed activities of the Post.

9. In order to allow the Department to continue the extension program it is recommended that the entire proceeds received from the "Kelly Contract" be placed in the Department general fund and expended as the Council of Administration may direct.

10. This Department should be properly represented by a Department publication and it is recommended that the report of the committee be given favorable consideration.

11. The Department should take an active interest in the welfare of the State Veteran's Home. It is recommended that the Department Legislative Committee confer with the Directors and Commandant of the Home and keep us all advised of the contemplated improvements and proposed legislation effecting this institution.

12. It is firmly believed that the interests of our organization can best be served by adhering strictly to that requirement of our National Constitution that prohibits our participation in partisan politics. Conduct yourselves at all times so that there will be no possibility of this organization being accused of furthering or promoting the political aspirations of anyone.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, Comrades, I wish you to know that my every thought and activity during this year has been with the end in view of being of some material benefit to the Department and, in some small measure, proving myself worthy of having been the leader of this Department, of our great and noble organization. I assume no personal credit for the accomplishments of the administration leaving you to judge whether or not I have fulfilled the obligations of this high office. In all humility I submit these records for your consideration.

I wish to offer my full and hearty cooperation to the succeeding administration and pledge to the officers any assistance I might possibly render in further advancing or promoting the activities, aims, objects and principles undertaken by them on behalf of the Department of California and Nevada and the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Let us all continue our efforts along the lines prescribed so that in the final analysis it will be conclusively proven that the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has fulfilled its obligations of being, "Based on Unselfishness and Dedicated to Humanity."

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. J. HILDEBRAND,
Department Commander,

Department of California and Nevada,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of United States.

REPORT OF SENIOR VICE COMMANDER

To the Officers and Members of the Department of California and Nevada, V. F. W.

My year of service in this Department, as your Senior Vice Commander, has been a most pleasant and harmonious one. As prescribed in the Regulations and By-Laws, it is the duty of the Senior Vice Commander to assist the Commander in all ways possible and with this thought ever in mind I have always allowed my efforts to be guided by the wishes of our Department Commander and, to my mind, the wonderful success which our Department has enjoyed during the past year can be attributed to the generous help and cooperation of all Department Officers and the individual members of the Posts.

In compiling this report, reminiscences of the past three years come vividly to my mind and my service to this Department in the offices of Department Inspector, Department Junior Vice Commander and Department Senior Vice Commander, stand out as a great book of knowledge that has taught me the necessity of patience and tolerance in dealing with all veterans and their various problems. My services under such peerless leaders as the late beloved Col. Robert Loghry, Clarence Patten, Darold D. De Coe and Charles J. Hildebrand, has acted as an inspiration, as their records of accomplishment have given me the courage and enthusiasm to make every effort to advance ideals of veteranism as is promulgated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION MEETINGS

With one exception, I have attended every Council of Administration meeting of this Department during the past three years. Problems of vital importance to this Department and the Posts thereof are discussed at these meetings and, to my mind, it is one of the most important duties of a Department Officer to be in attendance at these gatherings.

VISITATIONS

In this most important function of a Department Officer, my actions have been guided entirely by the requests of our Department Commander and the Posts of the organization. I have represented our Department at many functions, most of which were dedications of Memorial Buildings, gatherings of Allied Veteran Councils and kindred affairs. At these functions I have ever endeavored to enlighten the assembled veterans on the activities of this Department and our National organization, stressing our great work at the V. F. W. Widows and Orphans Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

INSTALLING OF POST OFFICERS

It was my great pleasure to install the newly elected officers of Col. Robert Loghry Post No. 466; Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010; Corp. Green Post No. 1020, Joseph P. McQuade Post No. 1205, and the Alameda County Council.

INSTITUTING OF NEW POSTS

Having in mind the necessity for creating as much enthusiasm as is possible at instituting ceremonies and knowing that the first impression of our organization is the lasting one on the new members, I have always bent every effort to assure as large a gathering as was possible at these functions. It was indeed a pleasure to be present at the institution of the new Posts at Watsonville, Willows and Merced. It was an honor and a pleasure to have acted as Instituting Officer at Santa Rosa and Visalia. The wonderful cooperation of the membership at Santa Rosa was a delightful surprise and the great showing made by the Comrades from Fresno and Bakersfield fully repaid me for a 225-mile trip on an exceedingly hot afternoon. On June 23rd it was my most pleasant duty to institute Post No. 1882 at Hayward. Twenty-eight names appeared on the charter application.

TROPHIES AND AWARDS COMMITTEE

Our Department Commander appointed me as Chairman of this Committee with the instructions to work and accomplish something. He requested that every effort be made to create as much enthusiasm as was possible in every line of activity in the Department. A full report of the work of this Committee is submitted under the proper head.

AND IN CONCLUSION

I would recommend that the Senior Officer in the northern section of this Department automatically become Chairman of the V. F. W. Day at the Soldiers' Home. This would place the responsibility of the Day in the hands of a Department Officer who is in close contact with the members of the Post at the Home and would aid them materially in making the Day a far greater success.

In closing, I wish to thank all the Comrades of this Department for the confidence reposed in me in electing me to the high office of Department Senior Vice Commander and I earnestly hope that I have performed the duties and have conducted myself in such a manner as to have made you feel proud of your selection.

Again thanking you, my Comrades, for your splendid cooperation and many deeds of kind consideration, I beg to remain as ever,

Yours in Comradeship,

HIRAM WASHINGTON WINN,
Department Senior Vice Commander.

REPORT OF JUNIOR VICE COMMANDER

Officers and Delegates,
Tenth Annual Encampment,
Department of California and Nevada,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

DEAR SIR AND COMRADES:

In presenting this report to the delegates now in session at Santa Cruz, there is a personal satisfaction in being one of the official Department family, collectively submitting the reports of stewardship during the past fiscal year. This has been a wonderful term, both in activity and real substantial accomplishments, a condition that is not local in any sense of the word, but rather extends not only throughout the entire Department but the United States as a whole.

CONTACTS

As your Junior Vice Commander it has been my pleasure to meet with sister organizations and other fraternal groups and in the quoting and exchange of experiences and problems, have found that there is a decisive similarity in all organized effort. True, with some, the contacts have not been as close as one would appreciate, yet, in the main, each and every one has had some degree of merit as well as a substantial guide for the future.

ORGANIZATION

In the matter of creating new links in the rapidly lengthening chain of V. F. W. units in the Department I refer you to the report of the Chief of Staff. The Northern District of California shows a substantial increase. Not only of Posts, but in membership as well. When it is taken into consideration that the eligibility clause of our organization is the most exclusive of all groups, inasmuch as one out of every eight men called to the colors is eligible, our expansion is really remarkable. With this tight eligibility clause it is but natural there has been some opposition to our organization endeavors in some of the cities in which we now have functioning units. A close survey by your Junior Vice Commander is indicative of the fact, however, that in all instances there has been a willingness of cooperation by the V. F. W. in all legitimate activities and especially where the interest of all ex-service men and their dependents are concerned. In keeping with the progressive thought of the present Department Officers, your Junior Vice Commander has not lost contact with his home Post, nor the problems confronting them. Lieut. Lansdale Post has been most considerate and appreciative of this fact and in consequence has lent every cooperation in the general activities of the office. Traveling several thousands of miles during the past year on V. F. W. business, it has been most encouraging to have had the officers and members of this Post as well as the Drum Corps, accompanying and assisting as far as was in their power, in putting over in a dignified manner the duties required on these visits.

While mentioning this cooperation it would be well to state that the Drum Corps is also drilled in ceremonial work and as a drill team has officiated most of the instituting ceremonies where new Posts were brought into being in this territory. Modesto, Merced, Willows, Roseville and Oroville are among those in which the Drum Corps has taken a most active part in organizing. One of the outstanding activities in which your Junior Vice Commander has interested himself is the Girls' Band sponsored by the Lieut. Lansdale Post. As far as is known this is the only unit of its kind in the V. F. W. world. It has already made several public appearances and was the official band at the recent Memorial day exercises. During the Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge Convention held at Sacramento the Girls' Band and the Drum Corps of Lieut. Lansdale Post received much favorable comment. Another contact worthy of mention is the participation the Drum Corps took in the presentation of the Colors on the evening of their Grand Ball. The Junior Vice Commander was selected as Grand Marshal and the uniformed Drum Corps as aids. This contact is also worthy of special mention inasmuch as many of the representatives know a whole lot more of the V. F. W. than they ever did before.

VISITATION

Your Junior Vice Commander has visited all the Posts assigned to him for visitation, and in the main has found them in good condition and in most instances steadily advancing and in a flourishing condition. In this era of depression when most fraternal groups are having a tough time holding their own, this condition is a great encouragement for future endeavors. The Junior Vice Commander upon request of the Department Commander represented the Organization at the recent Encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans held in Fresno, Cal. The men who served in the Spanish-American War were most thoughtful in the reception of the V. F. W. representative, rendering all the courtesies of one substantial veteran group to another. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the same organization were also most expressive. Both organizations voiced their appreciation of the cooperation rendered by the V. F. W. during the past year.

In the belief that this organization recognizes neither color, creed nor national origin of men who have served on foreign soil in time of War, as a bar to membership, it was a pleasure as well as a duty for your Junior Vice Commander to assist in the formation of the first Negro unit in the Department. Notwithstanding these veterans have experienced more handicaps than any other Post in the Department, they are progressing nicely. An Auxiliary has been formed which is a recognized logical conclusion if they are to prosper and function in true V. F. W. fashion. One of the most gratifying indications of their activities is that they will and are working on their problems in a manner reflecting credit on the V. F. W. The comrades of this Post and their Auxiliary held their first successful poppy drive this year in conjunction with Lieut. Lansdale Post. The men and women of this Outfit are enthusiastic in their sphere of activities and are accomplishing for veterans of their race, a realization of the benefits of veteran legislation so long denied them. The poppy drive this year was not without friction in the northern part of the State. This is a situation that is most unfortunate, and as a result the break, no doubt, between the V. F. W. and the sister organization in opposition is of definite dimensions. Clippings from newspapers would indicate that misrepresentation and a juggling of the truth were more or less propaganda for the public. Advices from other parts of the country emphasize the fact that this is not merely a local situation, but rather National in scope. Advices from Washington indicating the absence of this group from the family of the recognized veterans organization lends color to the thought that the friction probably is deliberate. It is the earnest desire of both groups, however, that a means be found to eliminate this unnecessary friction, which in the long run can not but prove disastrous, not to mention fundamentally nonsensical.

Your Junior Vice Commander would indeed be ungrateful did he not indicate his appreciation of the valuable services of the Sacramento Veteran in placing before the eligible veterans a persistent resume of just what the V. F. W. really is, what it is doing and what it ultimately expects to accomplish. With a circulation of two thousand five hundred copies, it is evident to those who know the value of safe, sane and intelligent publicity, that it has been of tremendous recruiting value in this district, and incidentally throughout the Department. Many of the Post papers have done worlds of good along these lines. A close perusal of the many publications now in existence is a guarantee that we are alive and going strong. I emphasize to the thinking delegates that the Department press has been a wonderful and outstanding assistance, and should be encouraged to the utmost. The cooperation of the daily as well as the press of organized labor in Northern California has been most liberal in publicity, with the result that the V. F. W. now enjoys a favorable position in all veteran activities. There is much that has been accomplished in the Department during the past term. Many of our activities have been sort of interlocking and, as each officer is expected to render a report covering his sphere of activities, most of it will be chronicled and made a matter of record. Plans are already in operation for a continuation of our great work on a much larger scale. There is an interest manifested throughout the Department indicating that we are on the threshold of a wonderful era of expansion, popularity and effectiveness. There are well defined oppositions, however, and regardless of the fact the V. F. W. will progress and go forward of its own momentum, it is nevertheless imperative that we hew straight to the line laid down by those comrades who have pioneered and made the V. F. W. what it is—the best veteran organization in the world. For the guidance and information of the membership, the Junior Vice Commander can report progress and expansion in all of our endeavors. Other Department officers with whom he has come in contact have rendered favorable comments of the work in their respective districts. It has been an especial gratification to note the sincerity of purpose of the membership and the wonderful spirit, of old time fraternalism, now existing in the Order. The contention of once a V. F. W. always a V. F. W. is more strongly in evidence than ever before. Politics, fortunately for us, seemingly can not secure a foothold in the V. F. W. Casting about the last few months for symptoms of this organization demoralizing activity, your Junior Vice Commander can truthfully report that although a few politically inclined veterans have tried to create this diversion, none have succeeded, which speaks volumes for the strict adherence to the book of laws for which the V. F. W. is noted.

Before concluding this report the Junior Vice Commander would again declare his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him, for the cordial support and encouragement given, and last but not least, the privilege of having served and in a small measure helped carry on the work of our beloved Order. With best wishes for a most harmonious session,

Respectfully submitted,

G. R. FREIDEMAN,
Junior Vice Commander.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT

Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand, Department Officers, and Comrade Delegates to the Tenth Annual Department Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, held in Santa Cruz, California, June 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th, 1930:

In submitting to you my annual report I will state that I have indeed appreciated the opportunity to be of service to my comrades for the past five years. Comrade Department Commander, Charles J. Hildebrand, has been a fine leader and I am glad to have had the honor to serve with him during his administration.

My other comrades who served as Department Officers during this administration have, at all times, willingly cooperated with me and their attitude toward the Department Adjutant has been generous in every respect. I desire to thank every officer for his kindness and help during this administration.

The members of the Department Council of Administration and Deputy Department officers have assisted me and helped me in my work and I desire to thank them for their cooperation and I also wish to thank the officers of the many Posts who have cooperated with me during this administration; the help of the aforementioned comrades greatly assisted the Department Adjutant in any accomplishments he may have made.

Inasmuch as other Department officers will render to you reports, or a report, of their activities, I will endeavor to make my report as condensed as possible.

POSTS

Most of the Posts in the Department have gained in membership this year and have been active in organization matters. Osmond K. Ingram Post or Ship No. 1774 of San Diego has made a fine gain in membership; McQuaide Post No. 1205 of San Francisco has made fine progress in membership gain. Also our Private Harold Brown Post No. 1468 of Bakersfield has made a good showing in membership. During the month of October of last year the post took in thirty-five recruits at one meeting. The Degree Team of Gresham Post No. 8 officiated at this meeting; also the Department Commander was in attendance.

Emeryville-Industrial Post No. 1010 of Emeryville, California, has indeed made an enviable record in regard to organization activities this year; a record that will challenge any made by other Posts in the National Organization.

Leonard Armstrong Post No. 1744 of San Bernardino, California, is to be congratulated on the fine newspaper publicity obtained in regard to Post activities and particularly the Buddy Poppy Drive publicity. I will mention here that Comrade Charles C. Hull, Deputy Chief of Staff, has worked hard for the Post and has cooperated with me and has kept me informed as to the progress made by the Post in organization work.

I want to commend highly those Posts in the Department that publish Post papers as follows:

Lt. Lansdale Post No. 67, publication, Sacramento Veteran.

Maj. R. T. Zane Post No. 344, publication, Gold Stripe Veteran.

Berkeley Post No. 703, publication, Berkeley Veteran.

Emeryville-Industrial Post No. 1010, publication, Industrial Veteran.

Lt. Kenneth Bell Post No. 1253, publication, The Mess Kit.

Pvt. John Thomas Hall Post No. 1649, publication, A. W. O. L.

I also desire to congratulate the editors of these fine publications for the concise manner in which post and other matters are compiled in these periodicals. In every instance these publications have been very attractively made up and have contained interesting news in regard to post and organization activities.

Emeryville-Industrial Post No. 1010 published a fine issue covering the Post's Seventh Annual Roll Call.

I have also noted with interest the development and perfection of degree teams, particularly in San Francisco, and this year a degree team competition was held among the Posts in San Francisco.

Posts in San Francisco have been active in holding raffles, card games, and other money raising ventures in order to build up the fund for the V. F. W. Cottage at our National Home. General Jacob Smith Post No. 83 of San Francisco takes up a collection for this fund at every meeting by each member in attendance at the meeting donating the smallest coin he has and I will say our members take kindly to this idea, and the Post in turn will make a substantial donation to the Department fund for our V. F. W. Cottage.

Posts revived this year are:

Thomas Enright No. 97 at Modesto, California.

Long Beach Post No. 1392 at Long Beach, California.

Sawtelle No. 480 with Lieut. Fred D. Hoyt No. 1556 and named Lieut. Fred D. Hoyt No. 480 at Santa Monica. Sgt. Francis Green No. 883 with Angelus No. 1035 at Los Angeles and named Angelus No. 883 at Los Angeles.

Posts instituted this year are:

1. John McElroy, Post No. 1381, Crescent City.
2. Rose-Robrecht, Post No. 1716, Watsonville.
3. Mack Rubidoux, Post No. 1726, Riverside.
4. Cumberland-Milky, Post No. 1732, South Los Angeles.
5. Leonard Armstrong, Post No. 1744, San Bernardino.
6. Capt. J. H. Horsey, Post No. 1746, Bellflower.
7. Oroville, Post No. 1747, Oroville.
8. Fred S. Pennington, Post No. 1753, Las Vegas, Nevada.
9. Harold J. Anderson, Post No. 1766, San Luis Obispo.
10. Leslie Johnson, Post No. 1770, Willows.
11. Osmond K. Ingram, Post No. 1774, San Diego (All Navy).

COUNTY COUNCILS

New County Councils instituted this year are:

Five County Inter County Council, composing San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey Counties.

Tri County Council composing: Oroville, Marysville, and Chico Posts.

We also have other County Councils in the following counties: Alameda, Los Angeles, Sacramento-Placer, Napa-Solano, San Francisco, and San Diego. We are now endeavoring to revive activities of the Contra Costa Council.

I also wish to commend the Post Commanders and members of the San Francisco County Council for the fine work accomplished in the Buddy Poppy Drive this year. I also desire to congratulate the San Francisco County Council on the new band which the delegates will probably hear at this Encampment.

County Council Commander Comrade Gavin and the committee worked hard to make the Buddy Poppy Drive a success and overcame some real difficulties in this respect.

My thanks go to the County Council Commanders who have cooperated with me this year or during this administration. I also desire to congratulate the comrades of San Diego County for their fine publication (The Southwest Veteran) and also the editor of that publication, Comrade Val. N. Brandon. Also wish to congratulate the comrades of the Five County Inter County Council on their publication (Peninsula Veteran) and commend the editor, Comrade H. M. Longenecker.

DEPARTMENT HEADQUARTERS

We have established a record this year in regard to the number of new Posts organized in the Department and our gain, 20 new posts, in most cases, is a reflection of the good work that has been done by our National Deputy Chief-of-staff, Comrade Harry K. Kellett. In some instances Comrade Kellett was assisted by some of the officers in organizing the new posts and reports from other officers will inform you in this regard. Our Department Commander, Charles J. Hildebrand, also deserves commendation in his activities in building up our membership. He has worked tirelessly in the campaign to build up the membership. In January of this year Comrade Hildebrand, assisted by Comrade Kellett, sent out over 23,000 copies of recruiting literature to the Post Commanders and to the County Council Commanders who were asked to mail this literature to the eligible veterans in their locality. The Department has also sent out bulletins at the direction of the Department Commander in regard to this membership drive.

A notable achievement this year, and also which Comrade Hildebrand was vitally interested in, was the raising of money to finance a California-Nevada Cottage at our National Home. Comrade Hildebrand worked night and day on this proposition. I am glad to say that through the cooperation of the Posts, Comrades Schertle and Levitt, who were appointed by the Department Commander a committee to handle the raising of money for this fund, will report that the Posts have cooperated with the committee and I feel that the committee will make a satisfactory report to the delegates at this Encampment.

The Annual V. F. W. Day held at the Veterans' Home was attended by many comrades from the northern part of the State. Your Adjutant was successful in obtaining railroad rates for this annual celebration and we were also given good cooperation by the United States Navy, through the courtesy of Rear Admiral G. W. Laws, Commandant of the Navy Yard, Mare Island, California, who furnished a band for this occasion. We also were given the cooperation of the Commanding Officer of the United States Marine Corps at Mare Island, who assisted us in sending the United States Marine Corps baseball team to play a game of baseball with the Veterans' Home team. This game was very interesting and proved to be one of the main attractions of the day. There was also a good vaudeville program held in the theater at the Veterans' Home. Several Posts in northern California also sent their Drum Corps to participate in the parade, which opened the ceremonies at the Home. Also wish to congratulate the officers of Corporal Edward J. Green Post and also the officers of the Napa-Solano County Council, also the other posts in northern California who cooperated toward making this annual V. F. W. Day at the Veterans' Home a success. The Council of Administration meetings that were held this year were all well attended by members of the council and the work carried on by the council during these meetings were of a constructive nature. The members of the Council of Administration have carried on their activities in their districts in a conscientious manner. The Department of California and Nevada is giving ten trophy cups this year for various activities. Senior Vice Department Commander Winn has informed the Posts in many well compiled Bulletins in regard to these awards. I believe that the awards of trophy cups is very essential to the continued interest in Department activities and in building up the membership, and I would urge that this activity be carried on in future years. I also desire to state that we have awarded citation 3d class to Comrade Thomas M. Hudson, Commander of Corporal Edward J. Green Post No. 1020 of the Veterans' Home for meritorious service rendered the Post. We have also awarded citation third class to Comrade J. J. Drobny for his exceptional fine work in recruiting members for Osmond K. Ingram All-Navy Post No. 1774. We have also issued citation third class for recruiting work to Comrade Oscar Gibson of Osmond K. Ingram Ship No. 1774. Recommendation for recruiting certificates were forwarded to the Adjutant General as follows: Comrade H. Cornell of Carl H. Kreh Post No. 1123; Comrade Donnelly of Corporal Edward J. Green Post No. 1020 and Comrade Kentnor, Adjutant of Corporal Edward J. Green Post No. 1020, were recommended for the award of the recruiting certificate for bringing in eight or more members in any one quarter. Comrades, I would stress upon the Post Commanders to keep a close check on these citation awards and I would urge that whenever a Post member is entitled to this recognition the proper action be taken by the Post Commander in order that the member may receive the honors he is entitled to and in addition to that I believe that the award of these citations are also of great value in increasing the interest in Post and Organization activities in general. In order that all of you may be familiar with the citation awards which information is promulgated by National Headquarters I would ask you to read the June issue of Foreign Service which covers this matter to some extent. We have obtained newspaper publicity in regard to our Annual V. F. W. Day and also fine pre-Encampment publicity in the newspaper throughout the Department through the efforts of Comrade Frank Smith, who handled this publicity work for a nominal charge.

DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT'S ACTIVITIES

I have endeavored to maintain efficiency in the handling of correspondence to be sure that an answer to a letter was not unduly delayed. For your information I will give you a resume of the work the Department Headquarters has been doing from January of this year. This, of course, deals only with the Department Adjutant's activities and it will give you a gauge on the work that was done from January this year, and in prior months the work averaged about the same.

January—79 letters written; two bulletins for the Trophies and Awards Committee; Monthly Bulletin No. 7; Memorandum on Navy Department General Order in regard to eligibility to membership; Special Recruiting Bulletin No. 2; Department Inspector Circular Letter Nos. 2 and 3; in addition to the 79 letters that were written to correspondents. In other words approximately 1,250 letters were sent out to Posts and Department Officers during the month of January.

February—70 letters written; Special Recruiting Bulletin No. 3; Special Recruiting Bulletin No. 4; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 6; Monthly Bulletin No. 8; Special Legislative Bulletin No. 1; Hospitalization for retired personnel; Resolutions in this regard were mimeographed at the request of the Department Commander. Comrade Brady's Letter on Legislative activities; Memorandum of H. R. Bill No. 788; Memorandum No. 5; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 7; Letter to Post Commanders for Comrade Kellett. 1597 letters were forwarded to Post Commanders and other members of the organization during the month of February.

March—75 letters written; Special Recruiting Bulletin No. 5; Monthly Bulletin No. 9; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 8; Ten Stencils, Roster of Department officers; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 9; General Order No. 5; Eligibility in regard to service in China and Nicaragua; Special Bulletin to Post Commanders; California and Nevada Bulletin; Memorandum No. 6. Approximately 1,213 letters were sent out from Headquarters during the month of March.

April—127 letters written; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 10; Memorandum No. 6A; Memorandum No. 7; General Order No. 6; Stencil for Department Chaplain; California and Nevada Bulletin on V. F. W. Home; V. F. W. Day Memorandum; Memorandum on Railroad rates for the V. F. W. Day; Special Memorandum to Post Commanders on V. F. W. Day; Special Memorandum in regard to V. F. W. Day for Comrade Schertle; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 11. Approximately 1,724 letters sent out from Headquarters during the month of April.

May—95 letters written; Trophies and Awards No. 12; Monthly Bulletin No. 11; General Order No. 7. 654 letters were sent out during the month of May.

June—110 letters were written; also letters to all Posts inclosing credentials; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 13; Encampment Program mimeographed; Monthly Bulletin No. 12; Information about railroad rates to Santa Cruz, Bulletin on California and Nevada Cottage; Trophies and Awards Bulletin No. 14; Special Memorandum to Post officers ordered by the Department Commander. 1,369 letters were sent out from Headquarters during the month of June.

The average number of personal callers at the office daily were about five. These calls were usually in regard to bonus loans and Veteran Bureau claims and Hospitalization. In every case the party calling at Headquarters was courteously referred to the United States Veterans Bureau or given proper information. The average number of phone calls a day at Department Headquarters were about 3.

And these phone calls were usually in regard to compensation matters and information as to Veteran Bureau claims, and to Hospitalization and so forth. The comrades from out of town who desired personally to see the Adjutant or any person who desired personally to see the Adjutant appointment was always made wherein the Adjutant would meet the parties, either at the United States Veterans Bureau or at Department Headquarters or he would phone directly to the party. In other words any person desiring to see the Adjutant personally was not disappointed. Comrade F. A. Royse, National Liaison Officer for Northern California, has been very cooperative with the Adjutant in regard to Veteran Bureau claims or pension claims. The Adjutant has worked on his schedule nights at Headquarters from 3 to 4 hours and worked on Saturday afternoons. The Adjutant has handled many claims for comrades at the Veterans Bureau in regard to their compensation, insurance, hospitalization. He also helped the comrades obtain employment and has also helped paroled prisoners who were veterans in regard to making proper application for employment with the United States Department of Labor when they were ready to leave the institution. My cooperation has always been extended to Veterans and Fraternal Organizations and to our National Service Bureau. I attended the institution of Lieut. Horsey Post at Bellflower, California, the institution of Post 1716, Watsonville, and Memory Post at Santa Rosa, California. I also attended, along with the Department Commander, the public installation meeting held in the Veterans Memorial Building, Oakland, California, under the auspices of the Emeryville Industrial Post No. 1010. Have also spoken in behalf of the Department before the disabled American veterans, both in San Francisco and Oakland. Also attended the dedication of the Alameda War Memorial Building and have been a frequent attendant at the meetings of Posts the Veterans of Foreign Wars in San Francisco. Attended the Anniversary Banquet of Astor Post No. 999. My full cooperation has been extended to our National Deputy Chief-of-Staff Comrade Harry K. Kellett at all times. My attitude toward my comrades and others calling at Department Headquarters and in letter writing has been courteous and considerate and I have made a special effort to be punctual in correspondence and efficient in my work. Mistakes that were made were of the mind and not of the heart. To the delegates at the Encampment I offer the following recommendations for the welfare and progress of the Department during the ensuing year:

The continuance of the full salaried organizer in order that the Department will continue to grow in membership regardless of the fact that we may not receive financial support in regard to the organizer's salary this year from National Headquarters. I believe that the Department should continue the very important work of the full time organizer because as in a letter from the Adjutant General received by me recently he states that in spite of the splendid progress the Department of California and Nevada has made in regard to membership there is a tremendous field for expansion the same as there is in every V. F. W. State. Actually we have only scratched the surface. The Department should promulgate a monthly publication in order that every paid up member of the Department will receive information as to the activities of the various Posts in the Department and also as to the activities of the Department officers during the year. This publication is of all importance to the Department organization in maintaining the interest of our members in organization activities and also acquainting the general public with the aims and activities of our organization. Such a publication would also lend dignity to the department of California and Nevada. Several Departments publish monthly periodicals namely: Pennsylvania, Washington, Iowa and South Dakota, Wisconsin, and New York, and as you know the Department of Michigan buys space in Foreign Service for which they pay $100 a month but I believe they are considering to go back to their monthly paper; however, I will call to your attention that the Department of Michigan with the membership about half of our size—that is 4,000 members—issues a monthly publication. And I would venture to say that Washington, Iowa and South Dakota are smaller Departments than the Department of California; however, these Departments also publish a monthly Department paper. Inasmuch as we now rank among the highest Departments in membership in the National Organization it is of great importance that we promulgate a department paper without further delay and I would like to see this Encampment go on record as adopting the proposition of a monthly department paper. The Department of California and Nevada should make plans well in advance this year in regard to participating in the Buddy Poppy Campaign. If this campaign is handled properly it will prove a success financially and otherwise to the Department. In this regard I will quote a part of a letter received from the Adjutant General wherein he states

"The Department can augment its annual income of approximately $2,000 by taking over the annual Buddy Poppy Campaign; the Department can secure a gross income of $16 per thousand on all poppies personally purchased by subordinate Posts. It means most as much off the profit derived by National Headquarters but I feel that California and Nevada are as much entitled to it as any Department provided they assume the obligations that go with the income." I believe that the Adjutant General also has written to Comrade Gavin, Commander of the San Francisco County Council and member of the Council of Administration, in this regard. During the Buddy Poppy Campaign Department Headquarters should also keep a certain number of Poppies on hand during the drive. In case our posts would want to order more we could supply them immediately.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

We still maintain our high standing at National Headquarters in regard to cooperation and other activities between Department Headquarters and National Headquarters and we in turn have received good cooperation from National Headquarters at all times. What I believe was the biggest piece of publicity National Headquarters ever offered to the Department was when they put the V. F. W. on the billboards of the Nation and no doubt we received many a recruit through this billboard publicity and I hope that the National Organization will make arrangements that this fine publicity will be continued in the future. These billboards cost the Posts, if they ordered them, about $20 a dozen, and the Department Commander authorized $100 in this regard to assist our smaller Posts who could not purchase these V. F. W. billboard posters. A special bulletin was also sent out to the Posts urging them that if their finances would not allow the expenditure the Department would furnish a few of the posters for the Post.

LADIES AUXILIARY

The Department Headquarters cooperated with the Ladies Auxiliary whenever called upon to do so. In January of this year the Department Commander received a letter from Sister Raffensperger, National Junior Vice-President of the Ladies Auxiliary, seeking information as to the Posts in the Department that did not have Auxiliaries. We supplied the National Junior Vice-President with this information and offered her the further cooperation of the Department.

CONCLUSION

Comrades, our progress this year has been remarkable, particularly in membership. Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand should be given our sincere thanks and appreciation for his endeavors as a leader of the department. Comrade Hildebrand's tenure in office has indeed been a busy one. The Department Commander has endeavored to visit as many Posts as possible and has been in attendance at as many Post institutions as he could possibly attend. Department Commander Hildebrand has always given me the best of cooperation and has also been most kind in his attitude toward the Department Adjutant. Past Department Commanders, Comrades Schertle and Levitt have been actively engaged in the committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home and the Past Department Commander and present Junior Vice Commander in Chief Darold D. De Coe has been very cooperative with the Department Adjutant. Comrades, the Department year is about to close. It has been a year of progress, particularly in building up our membership and establishing new Posts in the Department. The Department Adjutant has enjoyed serving you this year and has in the past. He has endeavored to conscientiously advance the interests in our organization in general. It is hoped that his endeavors and efforts of other department officers with whom he has served have to some extent met with your approval. We have all worked hard and tried to do our best. The Department will soon start on a new year. What progress the Department makes in the coming year will depend altogether upon you, the members of this real veteran organization. To you will go the responsibility of electing your department officers, the comrades to serve for the next year. Advancement to be made in part of the year of 1930 and 1931 depends upon the comrades you choose as your leaders, therefore, the responsibility is yours. The Department of California and Nevada is deserving of the best leaders. To make a choice otherwise would indeed impede or obstruct the advancement of the Department. Comrades, I have now served as your Department Adjutant for the past five years and I again want to thank each and every comrade for the kind courteous treatment given to me in this administration and the past administrations. I hope that my work has merited your approval.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. O. CARLSTON.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT CHAPLAIN

To the Officers and Delegates of the Tenth Encampment, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Dear Sirs and Comrades:

Represented one of our Department officers at the instituting of a new Post at Watsonville, California, on August 17, 1929.

Visited Cecil Connolly Post at San Diego, California, October 16, 1929.

Visited Wm. C. Messner Post at Los Angeles on October 19, 1929. Met the officers of the Post and the Auxiliary at a reception given in honor of the Department President, Sister DeCoe.

I had the honor of meeting National Junior Vice Commander DeCoe and also member of the Council of Administration, Comrade Williams.

Armistice Day went to Watsonville. Paraded in the morning at Watsonville and in the afternoon at Santa Cruz. From Santa Cruz went 18 miles into the mountains to a place called Redwood Rest where Comrades Seacord, Flinn and myself had the honor of obligating nine G. A. R. boys into the Santa Cruz Post as honorary members. This was followed by an initiation by the Palo Alto Degree Team. Commander Mervin R. Longnecker and captain of the degree team put on the work in first class order, initiating six recruits.

On November 23d I attended the instituting of a new Post at Mayflower, California. Entire Department staff was present.

On November 24th I attended the Council of Administration held in club rooms of the Post at Pasadena, California.

On March 28, 1930, at a meeting of the Woman's Club, I had the honor of being called upon to say a few words in regards to urging the public to write to our Representatives in Washington in reference to veterans legislation and was assured a hearty cooperation here.

On May 16th I attended the memorial services held by Berkeley Post.

On May 4th I attended the Veterans of Foreign Wars Day at Veteran's Home in Napa County, taking active part with the Department officers.

On May 25th I took part in the memorial service at the Presbyterian Church at Vallejo, California. The church giving the entire evening over to Carl H. Kreh Post No. 1123. Kreh Post and Auxiliary certainly deserve praise in the way the service was rendered. Had a full attendance.

On May 30th at Presidio of San Francisco. Had wonderful cooperation from the Posts and Auxiliaries. All turning out with their color. Held services at the unknown soldier's grave. Services put on by Past County Council Commander Boyd, Commander Fales of Galbraith Post, Comrade Bubel of Smith Post, Comrade Flinn, Department Master of Arms, of Berkeley Post, Sister Stewart, President of the County Council, and myself as Chaplain.

I wish to thank the San Francisco County Council Commander and comrades in aiding me to secure the beautiful floral emblem of our organization which was placed on the unknown soldier's grave on Memorial Day.

On May 17th I attended the Fiesta de La Rosa's at San Jose with the Department Commander and Chief Inspector Seacord. It was a great success for the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a wonderful turn out. A lovely float representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars. There were 19 sets of colors in the parade.

June 14th. Flag Day, sponsored by the Elks as their annual memorial day. Veterans of Foreign Wars represented by five sets of colors and a good attendance.

I have attended all of the San Francisco County Council meetings and issued three bulletins asking cooperation from the Posts in the Department in giving me the names of their sick comrades in hospitals.

I also presented a silver cup as fourth prize at this Encampment for the Post having the most gain in membership from March 31, 1929, to March 31, 1930.

I have visited all Posts in San Francisco several times.

Yours in Comradeship,

FRED TAYLOR.
Department Chaplain.

HOSPITAL VISITS

October 16, 1929. Visited United States Naval Hospital and United States Marine Hospital at San Diego, California. Found several V. F. W. comrades there. All of them said they were well taken care of and in no need at that time.

October 20. Went to Sawtelle and visited with our boys there. All advise being well taken care of.

October 27. Visited Livermore Hospital and at the request of Hollywood Post No. 939, looked up two of their comrades and notified the Post of their condition. Also visited comrades of Major Zane Post No. 344 at their request and found them as well as could be expected. I attended to their little personal wants and this cheered them a great deal. Also visited comrades at the Southern Pacific Hospital and Palo Alto Hospital.

Visited Letterman Hospital at the request of White Squadron Post. Visited Lane Hospital and the St. Francis Hospital.

At Vallejo I called on the Post Commander and he immediately got in touch with his relief committee and the President of the Auxiliary. They accompanied me to the Hospital at Mare Island, visiting sick comrades there. They are certainly doing wonderful work in caring for the wants of our sick.

Went through Vallejo's new Memorial Building which will be opened on, or about July the Fourth and this building is certainly a credit to their community.

Made a thorough inspection of the Veterans' Home in Napa County on May 4th, accompanied by the Chaplain of the Home. The large hospital is clean and in fair condition. Comrades are well taken care of but in constant danger, as the buildings are regular firetraps and patients have absolutely no protection. Ward No. 4, a cottage hospital, is fairly clean but another firetrap and in this place there are comrades unable to walk or protect themselves in the least. One nurse (woman) on duty in this cottage. In case of any sort of a panic their lives would be sacrificed without a doubt. In another building that is called a sort of detention ward, there are housed elderly comrades and feeble-minded. This place is a disgrace to our State, as there are vermin and little ventilation of any sort and no lights at all. Here in this dungeon room is one comrade without any limbs. Another comrade is in a pitiable condition. In another room there was a comrade begging to be moved, but there is absolutely no other place for him. After making this visit I had a conference with Colonel Holderman and his Staff Officers, and his message to me for the Tenth Annual Encampment of the V. F. W. was that the Home is asking for a $750,000 appropriation to build a hospital for 300 beds with additional wings for 200 more beds, stating that this Home was for California veterans of all wars and in a short time there would be hundreds of veterans coming in from this last war. It is up to us to see that the Legislature puts this appropriation over. The Colonel and his Staff are doing all in their power to take care of the comrades under present conditions.

Have been successful in getting employment for eight comrades who have called on me for assistance; two of whom now have good jobs at a very good salary. Also received about forty communications from various comrades making various requests such as relief, requesting me to call on certain comrades in trouble and sorrow, etc. Sent cards to sick comrades in hospitals at Christmas. Also visited fourteen homes where comrades were sick and aided some in securing financial aid.

Yours in Comradeship,

FRED TAYLOR,
Department Chaplain,
California and Nevada Veterans of Foreign Wars.

REPORT OF CHIEF OF STAFF

To Department Commander Charles J. Hildebrand, Department Officers and Delegates to the Tenth Annual Department Encampment, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Santa Cruz, California:

Having been appointed late in the Fall of 1929 to fill the unexpired term of another, I was rather handicapped to know just where to begin or what requisites to use, and by the lateness of the term, how extensive to lay my plans. I was fortunate in having a National Deputy Chief of Staff in this Department to do the traveling and perform the tasks that would ordinarily be required of my office. How well this duty was performed is a matter of record of the growth of the Department during this past year, a total of twenty new charters being obtained.

I tried in every way to cooperate with this officer, as well as the Department Commander along the lines of organization and recruiting work.

Each month I forwarded to the Deputy Chiefs of Staff a prepared form that they could fill out and return to me. I gave the meetings they had attended during the month, whether the Posts were conducting a recruiting drive, contacts for new Posts in their respective districts and any recommendations they had to offer. I compiled this data and forwarded same to the Department Commander and National Deputy Chief of Staff for action and information.

I obtained the strength of all Posts from the Department Quartermaster and was working on a plan of putting all Posts on a percentage gain of membership, with a certain goal to attain; however, on account of the lateness in the term I was unable to complete this particular phase of the work.

On account of living in the Southern part of the State my greatest activities have been in this vicinity. There have been several new Posts organized in the South, three of them being in my own county, through the combined efforts of National Deputy Chief of Staff Kellett and Deputy Chief of Staff Smith. One of the liveliest Deputy Chiefs of Staff in this Department is Comrade Charles Hull of San Bernardino. He has obtained wonderful results in his locality, through the medium of the press and by personal contact. The Post has only been organized in San Bernardino a few months, but it has made wonderful strides and is becoming a power in the community. He has also contacted the other Posts in his district and instilled new spirit.

The extreme northern part of the State is geographically handicapped and the population widely scattered. Comrade Kellett concentrated on this territory and obtained good results.

The Department Adjutant and Quartermaster's reports will contain the names, numbers and Post increases in membership of the new Posts organized, also of the old Posts, so I will not put same in this report.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I believe that the plans of organization should be formulated at the beginning of the term and each Post placed on a percentage basis as a goal to attain for membership. A chart could be made showing the relative standing of each Post and by publishing this information from time to time constantly remind them of their obligation.

A paid organizer in the Department, versed in the work, will do more for organization than depending on scattered deputies, whose time is limited.

I have found that by giving the Deputy Chiefs of Staff the forms asking for certain information each month, reminds them that they have certain duties to perform and will return a form quicker than a letter.

Respectfully submitted.

ALFRED G. CHAPMAN.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR

To the Department Commander, Council of Administration and Delegates Assembled at the 10th Annual Encampment of the Department of California-Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Santa Cruz, California.

MY DEAR COMRADES:

In opening this report on the activities of this office, I wish to first most heartily thank the loyal deputy inspectors for their willing and able support, without which it would be impossible for this office to accomplish its purpose.

I also desire to thank the other Department officers for their splendid cooperation and comradeship in all matters taken up with them through this office. This office was in almost constant contact with the Department Commander, Department Adjutant and Department Quartermaster and acknowledges their support and cooperation with sincere thanks.

With an ever active interest in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and sensing keenly the honor of having been appointed Department Inspector for two consecutive administrations, I have seriously and earnestly worked for the betterment of the organization within and without the ranks of our order.

I shall detail the activities and accomplishments of this office under separate headings for the sake of clarity.

INSPECTORS AND INSPECTION DISTRICTS

Twenty one deputy inspectors were appointed and, with one exception, were allotted Posts within their own council districts. Each deputy inspector was given a certain number of Posts to inspect, averaging about three to each inspector.

Seventeen deputy inspectors made complete reports on all Posts which they were to inspect. Three inspectors made reports on a portion of their Posts and one inspector failed to function at all.

Inspection reports on 35 Posts were made for the six months period ending December 31, 1929, and copies were forwarded to the Inspector General. Also inspection reports on five county councils were received and copies forwarded.

To June 21, 1930, inspection reports have been made on 58 Posts and 5 county councils for the period from January 1st, to date. Any additional reports received prior to this Encampment will be given in an addendum to this report.

Copies of all reports are attached to this report, as part of the report and for the files of the Department.

COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION

I have attended all meetings of the department Council of Administration.

POST INSTITUTIONS

I have had the opportunity and honor of being the instituting officer at the instituting of four new Posts, namely, Captain J. H. Horsey Post No. 1746, Bellflower; Rose-Robrecht-Weeks Post No. 1716, Watsonville; Harold J. Anderson Post No. 1766, San Luis Obispo, and Private Vernon J. Lent Post No. 1784, Salinas. With the exception of Post No. 1746, the officers of Major Randolph T. Zane Post No. 344 willingly cooperated and exemplified the ceremonial degree on the new members.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

In my official capacity, I had the honor to install the officers of Rose-Robrecht-Weeks Post No. 1716; John J. Astor Post No. 999; Corporal L. B. Hollywood Post No. 939; Tamalpais Post No. 72 and the San Francisco County Council in addition to the officers of the Posts instituted.

I have also installed officers of many Posts from time to time during official visits. Due to conflicting dates, it was impossible to accept many kind invitations to install, which were necessarily declined.

OFFICIAL VISITS

The duties of this office have taken me from Posts in Los Angeles County to Chico. With the exception of the Council of Administration meetings and the trip to San Luis Obispo, these trips have been without any expense to the Department.

In addition to Post visits, I have also attended many public and combined Post gatherings.

CORRESPONDENCE

In addition to several circular letters and other information mailed by this office more than five hundred letters incident to the office have been written. Both incoming and outgoing mail was much heavier than during my previous term of office.

PUBLICITY

Having always been interested in the best publicity possible for the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, I have availed myself of every opportunity to put the organization and its work before the public. I have spoken several times over the radio, given addresses before service clubs and business organizations and used the press to full advantage.

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS

As chairman of the Department Citizens Military Training Camps Committee, I have kept in close contact with the officials in charge. All pamphlets and information have been mailed direct to all posts from Ninth Corps Area Headquarters. Unless ordered otherwise I shall complete this year's assignment after this Encampment.

As chairman of the Department Committee on the 1930 Department Encampment, I have worked with the committee of Santa Cruz Post No. 888 to the end that this year's Encampment should be better and bigger than any previous encampment. Many meetings were attended in conjunction with the Santa Cruz committee. I wish to acknowledge splendid support and cooperation on part of the members of the Santa Cruz committees and on the part of the members appointed by myself on the Department Committee, namely Louis Borge, Cecil Shank, Stanley Johns, Ernest Shannon and Dan P. Williams.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

In addition to the work of this office, I have taken an active part in the affairs of my Post, No. 344. I have continued to act as Post publicity director and editor of the Gold Stripe Veteran, official publication of the Post. In the interests of the organization, we published a special Armistice Day edition of twenty-four pages, replete with the history, activities and aims of the organization; with pictures of many Post, National and Department officers and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home. Two thousand copies were printed and distributed to good advantage for the organization.

I took an active part in the formation of the Five County Inter-County Council, composed of posts of Monterey, Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties, and with San Mateo and San Benito counties included as fertile fields for new posts.

In company with members of the posts in San Jose, Watsonville and Santa Cruz, I was active in the formation of Private Vernon J. Lent Post No. 1784, organizing this post at the cost of $17 to the Department.

As a post assignment, I also accepted the chairmanship of the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy Sales Campaign, this being the first such campaign conducted by Post No. 344. It was a success, distributing nearly 10,000 poppies and grossing over $1,200.

The Fifth Fiesta de Las Rosas grand floral parade again put the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States in the public eye. In addition to the float entered by Post No. 344, the drum corps of Post No. 999 and the drill team of Post No. 999 Ladies Auxiliary, there were twenty sets of post colors and the Department colors. Posts from Calexico to Marysville and as far east as Reno were represented. Half a million people witnessed this spectacle and the cheers and comment expressed the knowledge and appreciation that the "overseas veterans" were ever active in civic affairs. Department Commander Charles Hildebrand and Department Chaplain Taylor were guests of honor for the occasion and reviewed the parade from the official stand. As the local Department officer, I took an active and participating part in the arrangements for the Fiesta de Las Rosas parade.

DEPARTMENT INSPECTION

I made the usual semiannual inspection of the books of the Department as of January 1, 1930, and forwarded required copies to the Inspector General. Copy of this report is attached to this report, as a part of this report and for the files of the Department.

I found the books of the Department Quartermaster, as of June 18, 1930, in splendid shape and well-kept. I suggested a few changes in the making of statements, which were accepted by Department Quartermaster Vadie E. Bevers. I feel that Department Quartermaster Vadie E. Bevers should be complimented on the manner in which he had conducted the affairs of his office.

The office of the Department Adjutant and Quartermaster is well equipped and with the exception that the space is entirely too small, it is possible to capably attend to all the needs of the office administration of the Department.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of the fact that the Department Quartermaster is now bonded only for the amount of $2,000 and that regulations call for a bond twice the amount of cash on hand, it is recommended that the Department Quartermaster be bonded in an amount not less than $10,000. This amount will take care of the future requirements for some time.

It is recommended that a complete and thorough audit be made of the books of the Department each year. Such an audit to be made immediately after the encampment, either by employed certified accountants or members of the organization who are experienced accountants. Copies of this audit should be forwarded to all members of the Council of Administration; a copy placed on file in the Headquarters of the Department and a copy forwarded to National Headquarters for the information of the bonding company. Such an audit will make the Quartermaster's bond worthwhile and collectible if necessary.

In view of the fact that Quartermasters of new Posts are in many cases not bonded for several months after installation and whereas this is a matter of serious importance and governed by regulation, it is recommended that premium of Quartermaster's bond in the amount of not less than $400 be given to instituting officer or receipt for same be shown at time of institution.

Whereas Rules and Regulations command that officers of Posts and County Councils shall not be installed until the Quartermaster has been bonded and whereas such bonds are not collectible unless books are audited regularly, it is recommended that the Department Inspector shall report all Posts where books have not been properly audited, as revealed in inspection reports made by the Deputy Inspectors. Such report to the Department Commander shall be made not later than December 15th each year. Where such conditions prevail in a Post or County Council, it is recommended that it be considered the same as though the Quartermaster was not bonded as provided for in Rules and Regulations.

It is recommended that all Posts be commanded to obey Article I, Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of By-laws and that where adequate foreign service is not shown on discharge, verification as to asserted foreign service shall be made through proper department in Washington, D. C.

It is further recommended that the practice of a member vouching for a recruit in lieu of service record be condemned and such practice be ordered to cease in a General Order.

For the convenience of visiting comrades, it is recommended that all Posts be listed in telephone directories, either by phone number of their home or headquarters or under the number of the Commander or Adjutant. In order that such listing may be as uniform as possible, the following is suggested for example:

Veterans of Foreign Wars of U. S., Post No. 344 -----Ballard 6208

It is felt that the office of Department Inspector is very important and essential to the organization, one which should be given to a comrade who is willing, efficient and capable and for the best results to one with accounting experience. Provisions for traveling expenses of the Department Inspector should be made as soon as possible, in addition to the expense account for postage, etc., as now allowed.

CONCLUSION

The work of this office has been considered a duty to my comrades and has been a great pleasure to me at all times. Firmly believing that "There is no REAL substitute for Comradeship and Service" I look forward to many more years of active interest in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. (Incidentally, the slogan, "There is NO real substitute for COMRADESHIP and SERVICE" has been adopted by National Headquarters on my suggestion.)

With sincere best wishes for the continued development and success of the Department of California and Nevada, this report is

Respectfully submitted.

EDWARD M. SEACORD,
Department Inspector, Department of California and Nevada,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

REPORT OF JUDGE ADVOCATE

To the Officers and Members of the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

DEAR SIRS AND COMRADES:

During my term as Department Judge Advocate many matters were referred to me for decision. I have attempted to be fair and impartial in any decision I have made. I have heard no comment up to the present time that they were otherwise. Matters referred to me were given immediate consideration and replies sent by air mail or telegram.

Several sets of By-laws were redrafted, corrected or approved without correction.

Several matters called for my presence out of my home city.

I have always been happy to reply to the communication of comrades in reference the Veterans Laws of California.

On several occasions I have represented the comrades in the court, no legal fee being charged upon recommendation of the Post Commanders.

Six other veterans' groups have joined with our Escondido Post in a claim against the Board of Supervisors of San Diego County. I hope to have the matter satisfactorily concluded very shortly.

I am always glad to be of service to my comrades and my private law practice takes second place when a comrade is sent to me by a Post Commander.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES C. QUITMAN,
Judge Advocate, Department of California and Nevada.

To the Officers and Delegates of the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada.

DEAR SIRS AND COMRADES:

In behalf of the organization department attached to California and Nevada, I have the honor to report the following activities.

During the administration year we have been able to organize (20) new posts, (13) of them in counties not heretofore represented, giving us a foothold in virgin territory for membership. These new posts eventually will form a nucleus for others in the near future. The (20) new posts represent an increase of approximately (1400) new members for your Department, a record I am sure no other Department in the National organization can show, and one we all can be proud of.

Much more time was spent this year at the request of the Commander in Chief in mothering these new posts, making frequent visits when advisable, and the results in membership speak for themselves on the advisability of this method used. Of course it was necessary to travel many thousands of miles, covering the Department and checking with contacts forwarded to this office. I have written 597 letters in the interest of the organization and Extension Department.

DEPARTMENT RECRUITING DRIVE

A few weeks were spent during the early part of the year in drawing up and preparing eligibility lists and facts printed thereon regarding the benefits of our organization. Ordering the printing of envelopes, recruiting literature, etc., packing and mailing them to different Posts and County Councils throughout the Department. This idea of direct contact by mail, although not producing the results expected, helped materially in the large membership gain this year. Posts that followed instructions issued were able to obtain many new members and reinstate old ones. Much favorable publicity was obtained, even if results were not entirely satisfactory.

BUDDY POPPY PUBLICITY

Again this year I secured from Universal Pictures Corporation and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios poses of well known stars of the screen for National Headquarters, and they were used with much success throughout the nation. A number of these pictures were forwarded to post publications in the Department and were used for the front page of the May issue, giving the paper a picture of a beautiful girl in an appealing pose, and they have helped the particular post in the success of their poppy drive. "Foreign Service" used them in the May issue, and newspaper mats were made from them and pictures were released through news bureaus and used in a number of well known magazines.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that a regular form be made out by the Department Deputies and forwarded to the Department Chief-of-Staff at stated intervals, somewhat the same as Deputy Inspectors in regards to recruiting and contacts for new posts. The Department Chief of Staff then in turn can keep the Department Commander and the Organization Officer informed of these activities in the different districts represented by Department Deputies. A form of this description was in use during this administration and helped considerably, but this can be improved upon. Any report, if not followed and filled out with information requested, will be of no use. Cooperation is a necessity, and it is recommended that immediately after the Chief of Staff is appointed that he appoint Comrades for the office of Department Deputy who will take this office seriously and remember that from their information and efforts success in the organization work can be attained more quickly and at less expense to the Department.

New posts in the Department should have the constant attention of Department Officers, especially Department Council of Administration members, until such time that they are able to operate by themselves. Much of the benefits of intensive organization work is lost unless arrangements are made to instruct them after installation. "If we waste our own time it is bad enough, but if we waste that of others, it is worse, anyway they think so." The Department Deputy Inspector in my mind is the proper officer to make this follow-up after posts are installed, show them how to keep the books of the post, and the proper way to follow the ritual. Visits should be made at frequent intervals until the officers understand their duties.

CONCLUSION

I wish to thank the National, Department, County, and Post officers and comrades who have very kindly cooperated with me. It was from their interest that we are able to show such favorable results during this administration. May I call to your attention that the figures of the 1930 census show that the State of California has now 5,600,000 population, a gain of 39.9 per cent since 1920, with a greater per cent of eligible veterans per capita than many other states. The United States Veterans Bureau records show a migration of veterans from every state in the Union to California where our disabled comrades wish to enjoy a milder climate. With these eligible men in our State, it is certainly essential that we use every means at our command to extend our organization to every community so that they may obtain the advantage of membership. A number of cities in this Department have foundations laid for Posts and soon will be a unit in the Department. Attached herewith is a list covering over forty cities where in most cases preliminary work has been done. Whatever the contemplated plans for the future of our organization are, whether legislative expansion or in any other project we may undertake, the ability to put it over will depend considerably on the numerical strength of our membership. To build anything, one must have a foundation—and the foundation of any organization is MEMBERSHIP and UNITS in every available community. I thank you for the opportunity of serving you and hope that my efforts met with your approval.

HARRY K. KELETT,

REPORT OF DEPARTMENTAL HISTORIAN

To—

Charles J. Hildebrand, Department Commander,
Officers and Delegates to the Tenth Annual Encampment,
Department California and Nevada,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States,
Santa Cruz, California, June 25-29, 1930.

DEAR SIRS AND COMRADES :

As your Department Historian I have endeavored to carry out the duties of that office to the best of my ability, and have given my fullest cooperation to the Department Commander and the other Department Officers.

I have compiled a History of the Department, and while it is not complete future Department Historians will have a duty to perform in completing this History, and at this time I wish to thank all of the Posts and Comrades of this Department for their cooperation and support in this work.

I had the pleasure of assisting the Department office and the officers of Edward J. Green Post No. 1020 in arranging the program for Veterans of Foreign War Day at the Veterans Home, Napa County, May 4, 1930.

I have visited fifteen Posts in the Department during the past year, and have corresponded with every Post, Department officer and Past Department Commander of the Department at least twice regarding a Department History.

On January 15, 1930 I had the pleasure of installing the officers of the Napa-Solano County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United States.

On May 10, 1930, I attended the institution of Leslie Johnson Post No. 1770, V. F. W. at Willows, California, and on May 24, 1930 I attended the institution of Memory Post No. 1844, V. F. W. at Santa Rosa, California.

At this time I wish to thank two Comrades of Carl H. Kreh Post No. 1123, for their cooperation and support. Comrade George L. Buis and Comrade Frank M. Ricketts have been of great assistance to me in the work that I have tried to accomplish.

Assuring you that it has been a pleasure to be a part of this Department for the past year, and wishing continued success to the Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and to each officer and member of that Department, I remain,

Yours in Comradeship,

ARTHUR D. KEEFE.
Department Historian.

REPORT OF THE NATIONAL LIAISON OFFICER

June 25, 1930.

Charles J. Hildebrand, Commander,
Department of California and Nevada,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

MY DEAR COMMANDER:

I respectfully report that all has been well during the year in the office of your National Liaison Officer.

As far as possible the Service Officers of each Post in this Department have been instructed in the proper performance of their duties, either personally or by mail. Complete information regarding disability compensation, death compensation, medical treatment, hospitalization, adjusted compensation, government life insurance, reimbursement of funeral expenses, pensions, exemption from taxation, and other matters respecting veterans which are handled by State and Federal Governments has been disseminated through special orders, to the officers and Posts of this Department.

Many eligible claimants who served during the period of the War with Spain, the Philippine Insurrection and the China Relief Expedition, have not as yet applied for a Certificate of Recognition for hospitalization; those comrades should immediately apply, in order that their eligibility may be established and to avoid any difficulty when applying for hospitalization. Many eligible comrades who have served during the period of the World War have not as yet applied for disability compensation for disabilities which are due to their war service, and come under the World War Veterans' Act, as amended. Such comrades should immediately apply for this compensation to avoid great difficulty in the proving of their claims. Many eligible comrades have not as yet applied for adjusted compensation. The time limit has recently been extended by Congress to January 2, 1935, and every person who has not already filed, should do so immediately.

Local Service Officers from every Post in the Region have been most cooperative with me in the performance of our duties. Every Post should have an active, live wire for a Service Officer, and the members should look to him for assistance when needed. The legislation which has just been effected by the Congress of the United States will mean a great amount of work for the Service Officers of every Veteran Organization in each and every community. When full details regarding this legislation have been obtained, the Post Service Officers will all be fully informed, and immediately furnished with the necessary application blanks, with complete instructions. It will then be up to the Service Officers of each Post to get busy.

In conclusion, I desire to especially thank the Director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, the Regional Managers of the San Francisco and Los Angeles offices, in California, and of the Reno, Nevada office, the Commanding Officers of Letterman General Hospital, United States Army, the United States Naval Hospital, the Medical Officers of the United States Veterans' Hospitals at Livermore and Palo Alto, California, and their entire staffs, for their many courtesies extended to the members of this organization during the past. I also desire to thank, not only the Service Officers of the Posts, but all the Department and Post Officers of this Department for their many kindnesses to me, and my only assurance in return for these kindnesses, is that if I can be of any service, in any manner, at any time, if they will let me know, I shall do my utmost to serve them.

Yours in Comradeship,

FREDERICK A. ROYSE,
National Liaison Officer,

Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, FIRST DISTRICT

Santa Cruz, California, June 25, 1930.

Officers and Members Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada,
Department Encampment, Santa Cruz, California, June 25 to 28, 1930.

COMRADES: As a member of the Council of Administration of District No. 1 Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada, I present the following brief outline of my activities during the year 1929 and 1930.

After returning from the Encampment at San Diego my first activities were to visit the Posts in the district, most of these I covered in the first two months, with very few exceptions I found the Posts in good condition. My efforts were concentrated on helping these few Posts that were having their difficulties and at this time I can report all Posts in the district are on the road to prosperity.

In July, 1929, I attended the first Council of Administration meeting held by the present Administration, this meeting was held at San Francisco, at that time plans were made and committees appointed for the carrying on of the Department work for the year just closing.

It was my good fortune to be able to attend the National Encampment at St. Paul, Minnesota, in August, 1929. At that time we were fortunate in electing our Past Department Commander Darold De Coe to the office of National Junior Vice Commander.

During the past year I have been able to be present at the installation of all except two of the new Posts that were formed in my district. I was present at a joint initiation held by Santa Barbara and Ventura Posts at Ventura, was also present and assisted the Department Commander in the joint installation of officers of all Posts in Los Angeles County, at Los Angeles.

In line with the Department Commander's wishes, I have at all meetings that I attended, spoken more or less of the necessity of the Posts working out plans to help the Department finance a California Cottage at our National Home.

I attended the Council of Administration meeting held in Pasadena in November, 1929, at this meeting a budget was adopted under which the Department is now operating.

At this time I can report that all Posts in the district are in good condition and that the name of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is at last becoming to be well known to the public in the district and particularly in Los Angeles County and it is our intention to keep it so. Respectfully submitted.

Yours in Comradeship,

WALTER M. WILLIAMS,
Member Council of Administration,
District No. 1.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, SECOND DISTRICT

June 27, 1930.

Charles J. Hildebrand, Department Commander,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States,
Santa Cruz, California.

Sir: I have to report the following activities as member of the Department Council of Administration, Department of California and Nevada, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States:

I have instituted three Posts: Oroville Post No. 1744, at Oroville, California, Leslie Johnson Post No. 1770, at Willows, California, and Yosemite Post No. 1873, at Merced, California.

At your request, I represented the Department of California and Nevada on the occasion of the presentation of flags to seven Judges of Superior, Appellate, and Police Courts in the city and county of Sacramento, California, and on the occasion of the acceptance of the Memorial Building at Roseville, California.

As a Department officer, I also attended the institution of new Posts at Los Angeles, and at Santa Rosa, California, and the reorganization of the Post at Modesto, California.

I have twice officially visited each Post in District No. 2, and have also visited about fifteen Posts outside of District No. 2.

I attended Council of Administration meetings at Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Santa Cruz.

I have endeavored to cooperate with officers and comrades in the furtherance of the work and the advancement of our organization, and have fulfilled to the best of my ability every request made of me in this connection.

Respectfully submitted.

C. F. BENNETT,
Member Department Council of Administration.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, FOURTH DISTRICT

It is not necessary, comrades, to make a long explanation regarding the activities of the Posts in District 4. The large increase in members in that district proves better than words that we have a bunch of live Posts.

They have put on many entertainments during the past year and received a great deal of favorable publicity through the newspapers and otherwise, although this year I did not put on the regular winter radio program as I have done the two years previous. I have visited most of the Posts many times during the year and find a wonderful spirit of comradeship and cooperation, and that is the real cause of their phenomenal increase in membership.

A year ago last March the combined membership of the four posts in this district was 302. The Quartermaster's records show the membership on March, 1930, as 885, an increase of 583, and the combined membership at the present date is approximately 1170. The three big Posts in San Diego have a combined membership of over one thousand and I believe that if the present spirit of enthusiasm continues next year we will have three thousand members in the city of San Diego alone, and the smaller Posts outside of the city in this district will show a considerable increase.

We have a real live bunch in the older Posts, Connolly and Amroc, but Ingram Post 1774, the all-navy Post of San Diego, has a wonderful bunch of go-getters and I predict that it will be the largest Post in this Department by the next Encampment. I also want to say a word here in praise of the border Post at Calexico. It brought its membership up from 41 to 105 during the past year. I have said in the past, "Watch Connolly Post 75 grow," but now I say, "Ingram Post grows without watching." This Post was installed only a couple of months ago and already has 320 members and a good live Auxiliary.

This report can not be properly appreciated unless a person knows what the conditions were in San Diego only two and one half year ago. For several years there was considerable strife in Connolly Post which was the only Post there. The membership dropped down to nearly nothing and a handful of them would meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and did that for a couple of years. No one seemed to be able to get the Post started again. Finally Amroc Post started. It grew for a few months, then trouble started with them and the membership dropped off. In January, 1928, there were only the two Posts in this city. Amroc Post had about twenty-five members in good standing and Connolly Post had ten, I believe, and they had called a meeting to give up their charter. I was asked by eight of the ten members who attended the meeting to accept the Commandership of the Post, which I did. Shortly after that Commander Chandler was elected Commander of Amroc Post. We both served a term of two years as Commanders in our respective Posts, and at the end of my administration as Commander of Connolly Post we had 318 members, had bought as nice a set of colors as any Post in this Department, had spent considerable money otherwise, and had over $400 in the treasury. I haven't the exact data regarding Amroc Post, but I believe that during the time that Commander Chandler was in the chair it increased its membership from about twenty-five members to approximately two hundred, likewise purchased colors, and had an exceptionally good drum and bugle corps. There always was the finest spirit of cooperation between Connolly and Amroc Posts during the two years that Commander Chandler and myself were in the chair.

I am just giving this as a little side light for those who do not know the conditions as they were in San Diego two and one half years ago and I believe it will better enable them to appreciate the report of the present conditions.

Member Council Administration,
District 4.

Reception held in honor of our Past National Commander Carver.

Theatrical performance given by Post at San Rafael.

I am awarding two cups at this convention, one to Post in District No. 5 having the largest numerical gain, and one to the Post in District No. 5 having the largest percentage gain.

These activities executed by me at an approximate cost of three hundred twenty-five dollars ($325). This expense paid out from my own personal money and at no cost to Department.

District meeting called March 28, 1930, for general discussion by Post officers.

Conducted an Americanization day program over Radio Station KLX.

Prevailed on Alameda County Council to send a copy of its minutes, to the Member Posts.

Encouraged District No. 5 to ratify the action of the Council of Administration in regard to using the Post's percentage of funds derived from the sale of the book of America.

Attended a number of the Encampment Arrangement Committee meetings at Santa Cruz.

SIDNEY SEVERANS POST

Encouraged the Post officers of Sidney Severans Post at Martinez to select a new set of officers that would be more active. This was done and at the installation, through my efforts there were some 150 Comrades in attendance, with Corporal L. B. Hollywood Post Ceremonial Degree Team officiating.

Sidney Severans Post, Martinez, California, is commencing to get back into its former stride again. In another few months you will be hearing a lot from them again. Comrade McDonald and Willis are now striving to accomplish wonderful things for Sidney Severans Post.

HONOR POST

Honor Post, Richmond, California. This is one of the best Posts that we have in the Department. The Post members all take an active part in all affairs, and when they do things, they do it right.

They also have a marvelous Drum and Bugle Corps. Much time and money has been spent in perfecting it.

BERKELEY POST

Berkeley Post. This Post two years ago, emerged forth from a state of depression, and has since become a real live wire Post. This was accomplished by Post Commander Martin and a few others.

They have a splendid Ceremonial Degree Team, and are at the present time forming a Drill Team, which is something new and they should be commended for their efforts.

EMERYVILLE INDUSTRIAL POST

Emeryville Industrial Post. Through the untiring efforts of Comrade Winn and a few other Comrades, this Post has grown from a handful of Comrades to be the largest Post in the Department.

They also have a wonderful Ceremonial Degree Team, fully uniformed.

ASTOR POST 999

Astor Post. This Post should be commended in having such a wonderful Drum Corps. It is said that their drum beats are perfect in time and remarkable in tune. They are always in demand to drum at various functions. This is one of the oldest Posts in the Department.

L. B. HOLLYWOOD POST, ALAMEDA

Past Commander Hall should be commended for the manner in which he recruited and trained this Post's Ceremonial Degree Team. They are well drilled, both in maneuvers and in their charges.

WATERHOUSE POST, OAKLAND

Past Commander J. Burch and a few other members have been very enthusiastic workers in their Post, bending every effort possible towards the upbuilding of the Post.

ALAN H. NICHOLS, PALO ALTO

Past Commander Longenecker, and a few other members should be commended for their untiring efforts in the large increase in membership which this Post obtained in the last year, also for the manner in which they carry on their Posts' affairs. They also have a wonderful Ceremonial Degree Team.

MAJOR R. T. ZANE, SAN JOSE

The Comrades of this Post do a lot of worthy things, one of them especially you should know about. Once a month they travel to the Palo Alto Hospital and stage a show for the disabled Veterans there. Doing this month in and month out requires a lot of patience and enthusiasm. We should be grateful to think we have a Post doing so much good.

SANTA CRUZ POST

Comrade Clayton and a number of other Comrades should be commended for their untiring efforts in bringing to a successful conclusion the final arrangements of this 1930 Encampment. These Comrades, through the sale of theater party tickets, dance tickets, programs and etc. were able to raise sufficient funds to offset the expense of this Encampment.

ROSE-ROBRECHT-WEEKS POST, WATSONVILLE

Past Commander Miedle was instrumental in bringing to a close the successful campaign which resulted in our having a Post in Watsonville. Comrade Miedle and a few other Comrades had unbelievable handicaps confronting them, and in spite of this, they secured a large number of Comrades as Charter Members and today they have a very successful Post.

PRIVATE VERNON J. LENT, SALINAS

Commander Rogerson should be commended for his efforts in organizing and carrying on this Post, as he has encountered many obstacles from outside sources. Comrade Secord and Dan Williams of Major R. T. Zane Post, San Jose, also put forth much effort in the organizing of this Post.

Respectfully submitted in Comradeship,

LOUIS D. BORGE,

Past member of Council of Administration, District No. 5.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, SIXTH DISTRICT

Santa Cruz, California, June 26, 1930.

To the Department Commander, Charles J. Hildebrand, and the Comrades Assembled in Convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Dear Sirs and Comrades:

In submitting this report to you of my activities, I realize it is a matter of custom and precedent rather than as a source of information to you, therefore, I will be as brief as possible. Simply stating to you that I have attended 32 meetings of the Veterans of Foreign Wars during the year past. Which in itself tells you the story as to whether or not I have had Veteranism at heart during the past year. My only delinquency has been in attending the Council Meeting, but I feel that it is excusable inasmuch as when it has been held in the southern part of the State the distance and time taken to attend has made it impossible for me to retain my job in civil life and take the days off which it would take in journeying from Reno to Pasadena and return. However, when the meetings were held in the "bay region" I have had the opportunity of attending.

Respectfully submitted.

CLARENCE H. PATTEN,
Member Council Administration,
District No. 6.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, SEVENTH DISTRICT

June 26, 1930.

Department Commander and Comrades:

As Council member of the 7th district, I submit the following report for the past year:

Under the very able guidance of Commander Hildebrand, it was necessary to hold only two Council-meetings during the year. I did not attend the first one held in San Francisco due to the fact that I was not informed of the date. I attended the second one held at Pasadena, October 24, 1929. At the Pasadena meeting we passed on a budget system, which to my mind was a long stride in the management of the V. F. W. organization. No organization can exist and prosper without a firm foundation and sound management, and I feel that the present Council have given their whole-hearted support and judgment to the Department Commander and the organization.

During the year I visited Crow Post at Fresno. At one time Crow Post was on the decline, but now the old V. F. W. spirit is running freely in their veins and Crow Post is again headed for the top.

I attended the installation of the new Anderson Post at San Luis Obispo. The post was installed with a very substantial charter membership, showing what can be accomplished when work is put into the cause.

Recently the New Sequoia Post was installed at Visalia in my district.

Owing to business reasons I have been in the southern part of the State for the past two months and was unable to attend the installation of the Sequoia Post.

It has been my sincere endeavor to work for the expansion of the V. F. W. at all times.

I feel that a Council member may, during his term of office, organize and push through many new Post activities, advise and instruct in all lines of V. F. W.-ism, promote and push their community projects, but when he has done this he has just started to fill his office as Council Member.

Respectfully submitted.

O. N. BOONE.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, EIGHTH DISTRICT

June 25, 1930.

Chas J. Hildebrand, Department Commander, Officers and Delegates, Department of California and Nevada.

Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Sirs and Comrades:

As a member of the Council of Administration I wish to report the following activities.

I have made an official visit to all Posts in the district at least once every two months and find the Posts all in good working order, and received hearty cooperation from all officers and members.

I attended the installation of Posts at Oroville and Willows and installed the Posts officers at Marysville and Chico.

I helped to organize a Tri-county Council and installed the officers and the Council is now in good working order.

I have endeavored to fulfill this office to the best of my ability and have tried to cooperate with all the officers and comrades, and all Posts in this district show increase in membership.

I wish to thank all the officers and comrades for their splendid support and assistance.

Respectfully submitted.

R. A. WASEM.

Member Council of Administration,
District No. 8.

REPORT OF COUNCIL MEMBER, EIGHTH DISTRICT

Attended all Council meetings during the year. Visited all Posts in my district several times during the year. Visited the Veterans' Home several times during the year. Have carried out all the orders of my superior officers and endeavored to further the interests of the organization throughout the state.

Armistice Day, November 11, officiated in planting a tree for the Department at the Veterans' Home. Travelled several thousand miles visiting Posts throughout the Department. Aided in instituting the Posts at Santa Rosa, Visalia.

and Willows. Visited as far east as Fallon, Nevada, south to Pasadena, north to Willows.

CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA V. F. W. COTTAGE FUND COMMITTEE

June 24, 1930.

To the Commander, Officers and Delegates of the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada V. F. W. of United States in session at Santa Cruz, June 25th to 28, 1930.

DEAR COMRADES :

Herewith find condensed report of the activities of your California and Nevada V. F. W. Cottage Fund Committee.

Your Committee began functioning along about October 1929 and have been on their toes ever since.

Have issued Six Bulletins through the Department Adjutant in an effort to instill interest and sell the Cottage idea to all our Comrades.

It is not our purpose to go into a description of the needs and benefits of a cottage at our National Home at Eaton Rapids Michigan, for we feel sure there is not one comrade in this gathering who does not know what it is all about.

Your Committee prepared and mailed a personal letter to each Commander of a Post, of a County Council, all Past Department Commanders and the insignificant Seam Squirrels of each Pup Tent of the M. O. C. in an effort to pep responses and requesting an early reply as to their Past, Present and Future program to tie in with our appeal for the Cottage Home Fund. The response was only fairly satisfactory.

Your Committee has presented the idea on every possible occasion.

We feel that the Foundation of our Program has been laid and that the coming year will see a wonderful increase in interest and contributions.

Many Posts have pledged a Donation at the Encampment so it will be necessary supplement this report from time to time.

Your Committee desires to thank all who assisted us in presenting this Project to the comrades and especially the Sacramento Veteran "Comrade Ohlson Editor."

Comrades we have gone over the Top for our Buddies let the command be ever Forward, we cannot turn back now.

Comrade Henry Levitt of the Committee, and the Napa-Solana County Council have each presented Cups that further interest may be aroused in the Donations toward the Cottage Fund.

We have at this time said nothing regarding plans to build as we feel it is just a little bit too soon, although the Committee has several plans to present at the Encampment.

The following cash contributions have been received and are being held by the Department Quartermaster.

Post No. 344—Zane, San Jose, California.....	$50.00
Post No. 407—Goose, Reno, Nevada.....	25.00

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DEPARTMENT PUBLICATION

To the Department Officers and Delegates to the Tenth Annual Encampment, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Santa Cruz, California.

COMRADES :

Your Committee on Recommendations as to a Department Publication, respectfully submits the following :

We have made a careful and extensive study of the situation and feel that all successful departments maintain and publish a monthly publication. We also find that this can be accomplished by raising the per capita tax from the members at fifty cents each per year. This, with the revenue from advertising, would take care of all costs of printing and mailing, plus a fair compensation for the editor who shall be selected by the Council of Administration and hold office at their will and pleasure.

Respectfully submitted.

ARTHUR D. KEEFE,

Our two little flower girls (Winn and Seacord) will present the basket, and we hope you will enjoy these flowers as much as we have in giving them to you and again we wish you to have a most successful and pleasing Encampment. Much applause. Also Department Musician, Sister Very Clayton, Comrade Clayton's wife, was given a large hand for her work in making this such a wonderful encampment.

Comrade Clayton then explained that arrangements had been made to have the sisters' pictures taken as well as the comrades and this would be done in the Spanish Garden of the Casa Del Rey at 12:45 p.m., prior to the parade. Also that the parade was a "military" parade and would start promptly on time, namely 1:30 p.m.

Department President then asked whether or not Comrade Clayton wished to ask about machines for the parade and was informed he did. Followed a request for the number of sisters who wished to ride, instead of walk. Department Secretary asked to send a note stating the number out to Comrade Clayton as soon as possible. This was complied with. Comrade Clayton also explained about the golf tournament for the ladies at El Recreo Golf Course tonight at 9:30 o'clock, stating that he was missing the men's smoker in order to take charge of this. Sister Cuning then gave a very interesting account of the first Department of California and Nevada and brought attention to the fact that Sister Alice Stewart was the treasurer at that time and Sister Jennie Leffman, the secretary. Last year $350 was given us by the comrades, but this year the amount was raised by the sisters alone. Department President also pledged her support for the future.

Department Adjutant Carlston then congratulated Department President on her wonderful organization and on the fact that more had been accomplished this year than in any other year passed, and that we were slowly but surely getting our faces in the sun. As the sun in a blaze of glory,
Brings to the end a perfect day;
As a song on its last sweet note
Leaves a memory deep in the soul;
Your departure, Consuelo—is to us
A sweetness not to be forgotten;
In charm of manner unsurpassed,
You've held your throne.

Let those who follow try to pass
Your banner you have held on high;
Your fine achievements reach the sky.
Today you leave us, but not to stay;
The dauntless spirit of you still holds sway,
Fearless, kind and true.

Consuelo, we loath to have you go,
And from our heart of hearts
We bid "God's Speed" to you and yours;
And on the alter of our memories
Erect a shrine, bearing the name
Forever blest—Consuelo.

DEPARTMENT PRESIDENT'S REPORT, 1929-1930

To the Officers, Delegates and Members of the Sixth Annual Encampment of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California and Nevada. Santa Cruz, California, June 25 to 29, 1930.

It does not seem possible that it has been a year since I was elected your Department President. I sincerely hope and trust that I have lived up to all my pledges I made upon assuming the office and that those who saw fit to elect me to this office have not been sorry, as I have tried to serve you at all times to the best of my ability, fair in my decisions, just to all and to show every courtesy to those who were deserving. I have tried to make you feel at all times that I was the same as you, just a Sister of yours who had been elevated to bear the responsibility of our Department, and that if this year was a success that it would be with your help. I can truthfully say that I did have your cooperation and support and that we have had a very successful year for our Department. I know that I have been criticized by some, but I wonder if these Sisters are living up to the obligation that they assumed when they joined our organization. It might not go amiss for each Auxiliary to repeat the obligation every so often, as I am afraid that some forget their vows. One of the criticism that I have heard has been that I was too lenient with the officers on my official visits; that I should have called them down more severely. Now I am going to explain my idea of a correction. On a night of an official visit, the officers are nervous, their hearts just thump, their knees feel like they are going to hit each other. Isn't it natural that they will make mistakes? To me there is a right and wrong way of correcting, and I have done it the way that seemed right to myself, so I trust that those who criticised will just try to picture themselves in the officers' places.

I want to thank my many Sisters, and I may say my many friends that I have made, for their loyal support, cooperation and good will during this Administration. Words can not express how you have helped me. Your little acts of kindness have helped so much when I have been tired from traveling and worn out from writing letters, and I want you to know that I sincerely appreciate it.

I feel our year has been highly successful, having added fourteen new Auxiliaries to our Department from the far south to the most northern county of California. These Auxiliaries are all flourishing and are going to be a credit to us. I am sure that they are going to make some of the older ones sit up and take notice.

From our last Per Capita Tax I find that we have now a membership of 1814, a gain of over 749 members from last year, so that is another proof that we are growing.

I want to thank the Sisters of the Auxiliaries for their wonderful help to their Posts in selling "Buddy Poppies." These are for a good purpose and I hope that next year the sale will be doubled, as the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy is the only Copy-right Poppy sold by any Veteran Organization or its Auxiliary.

Our State National Home Chairman, Sister Laurie Schertle, reports that our donations to our Hospital Fund are coming in fast, and I sincerely hope we will have as much as last year to turn over at our National Encampment to our National Chairman, Sister Francis Von Houten.

Our State Hospital Chairman, Sister Ella O'Connor, reports that the Auxiliaries have been doing a great deal of relief work and visiting our Comrades in the various Hospitals. Some of the Auxiliaries are doing wonderful work along this line and I think that they deserve a lot of praise and credit.

I trust that our Auxiliaries have cooperated with their Posts in helping them put over the different bills before Congress. In my Department Bulletin No. 7 I asked that you write to our several Representatives, and I trust that you complied with this request.

Let me just remind you of a few things to try not to forget. When your Department and National Tax is due, pay it promptly. It is not so hard on the Auxiliary Treasury as letting it slide and then pay maybe two together. You will not receive your new Pass Word until your National Tax is paid in January and June, and it is very important that your Department Tax is paid when it is due, your last meeting in March and September.

To the Presidents, enforce the rule that your Officers memorize their work as the first impressions on a Candidate are lasting and this can only be done by each officer memorizing their work, thereby giving a proper rendition of our Ritualistic work.

I am so happy to tell you that of the 30 Auxiliaries that had to send in Officers' Reports the Presidents were 100%. Chaplains, all but one. Historians, all but two, and Patriotic Instructors, all but three. I know that the forms drawn up by our Junior Past Department President are responsible for this, and Sister Smith, we thank you for your endeavors.

This year, of course, had some unpleasant business along with the pleasant, but I feel that the decisions rendered have been satisfactory to all parties concerned and I will again repeat that at all times, I have tried to be fair and just to all. I have listened always to both sides before I made my decision.

April 11, 1930—John McElroy Auxiliary No. 1381, Crescent City, Cal., was instituted by your Department President, Consuelo Peart De Coe. I covered exactly 938 miles in my journey to Crescent City to be their instituting Officer, and I want to say it was a very happy duty for me to perform, as I enjoyed the ride through the beautiful redwoods, and their hospitality and the honor of obligating 55 members into our wonderful organization.

May 26, 1930—Rose-Robrecht-Weeks Auxiliary No. 1716, Watsonville, Cal., was instituted by Sister Alta Blesh, Assistant Inspector and Past President of Major Randolph T. Zane Auxiliary No. 344, San Jose, assisted by some of their Officers.

I have been more than happy to have added these wonderful Auxiliaries to our Department this past year and they make us have a total of 42 Auxiliaries. I have Charter Applications out in the following cities, and I sincerely hope that my Successor will realize their addition to our Department in the very near future and many more: San Rafael, Bellflower, San Bernardino, Salinas, San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Willows, Santa Rosa, Visalia, Ventura, Riverside, San Diego and Merced, in California; and Las Vegas and Reno, in Nevada; Eureka and Hayward, Cal.

I have paid 34 Official visits and to the eight Auxiliaries I was unable to visit I am sorry, but my time being limited, I was unable to visit you. These include my new Auxiliaries mostly in the southern part of the State. Lomita No. 1633, Lomita; Lt. Clarence C. Jenkins No. 1629, Carlsbad; Harvey J. Anderson No. 1766, San Luis Obispo; Border No. 1637, Calexico; Osmond K. Ingram No. 1774, San Diego; John R. Simpson No. 1513, Escondido; and Rose-Robrecht-Weeks No. 1716, Watsonville, in California, and Kenneth Booth No. 1103 of Tonopah, Nevada.

I have drafted three resolutions to be presented at this Encampment that I think are necessary. First, about the words Navy and Marine to be added in our Ritual after Army Nurses, as they are eligible also. Second, that we have a book of instructions explaining all ceremonies that we conduct. Third, that the new Auxiliaries be granted supplies in a like manner to those supplied to a new Post.

I would like to recommend the following:

1. To those Auxiliaries that do not cooperate with their Posts that in the future it should be done and our next Department President have such instructions in her first Bulletin.

2. As our Department is growing and we are accumulating money in our Treasury that the postage, necessary paper, envelopes, etc., be supplied to all Department Officers or Sisters acting as our State Chairman for the National Home, Hospital, etc.

3. That only the Past President's Pin be given at the Altar. If other gifts are intended they should not be at the Altar.

4. As our file for our membership cards is full and another one will have to be purchased, in the future that the size be governed by the size of the membership card.

5. As the forms to the Auxiliary Officers have proven a big success, that a like one be drafted for some of our Department Officers' Reports.

6. That our next Department President continue sending the Bulletins to all Department Officers, National President, National Secretary, National Treasurer, our own Past National President, and Past Department Presidents, as it aids them in knowing of her wishes and in assisting her.

CLOSING

In closing, I want to again thank you for having elected me as your Department President and my only hope is that I have lived up to your expectations.

To my Department Officers, I am so proud of you. I have appreciated the fact that at each of my Official Visits and otherwise as many of you as could have attended. Your cooperation and help to every little wish and request has meant so much to me. I know that each Department President thinks her Corps of Officers are the best, but they will have to go a long ways to excel mine in my estimation. Girls, I thank you most sincerely for everything you have done for me, as really you have helped me at times when I was blue by just a little line or word of cheer. To some of my Officers, I will not mention their names as it would not be fair to the others, I do not know how I would have gotten along without you.

I want to thank the many Sisters who have helped me as Chairman of Committees, Assitant Inspectors, etc.

I want to thank the Auxiliaries and the many Posts for the courtesy extended to myself and good husband, for the many banquets, flowers, gifts and the many personal letters, some of which I could not find time to answer, but in the years to come possibly I may be able to repay you.

At this time I want to thank my husband, Comrade Darold D. De Coe, Junior Vice Commander in Chief, for his kindness in helping me this year to carry on. He has given many hours when he possibly would liked to have been somewhere else attending his Official duties, than driving me from one city to another, and I want to take this opportunity of thanking him publicly.

To my two sons, who at times hardly knew they had a mother, I want to thank them for being good boys, so mother could go on these trips.

And last, but not least, my husband's mother, Sister Addie De Coe. This is one of the biggest thanks to be extended. She has made it possible for me to leave on these long trips and at any time, as I always knew that my boys were in good hands while she was looking after them.

I want you to know that with all the work that has been done this year, I have enjoyed every moment of it and I feel that I have made many friends whose friendship is going to extend over the years to come and not just for the past year. I thoroughly enjoyed serving you and when I have passed into the "Ancient Order of Has Beens" I am not going to stop serving, but pledge my help and loyal support to my successor.

Now that we are meeting for our Sixth Annual Encampment in the beautiful city of Santa Cruz, let us all make this the biggest Encampment we have ever held, and may we all live up to our sacred obligation and make this a bigger and better Organization. Leave all petty personal feelings out and just work for what we are organized for, "to help our Comrades and their Widows and Orphans, to teach Patriotism to the Children of our Land."

In closing, this little piece of poetry comes to my mind as expressing my own personal feelings of this last year of being your Department President:

The building of a friendship! 'tis a thing that seems to start
From the kindest of feelings that dwell within the heart.
And the friendship that I've found to be most faithful—constant—true.
Is the friendship that was built, dear friends, within the heart of you.
Respectfully submitted,
Yours in Fortitude and Loyalty,

CONSUELO PEART DE COE,
Department President.

May 20—Oroville Auxiliary No. 1747, Oroville, Cal. Words can not express how proud I was of this Baby Auxiliary of mine. Their floor work was perfect. They surely deserve credit, as the Officers have listened carefully and remembered what has been told to them. All work was memorized. Closed their charter with 72. Cooperation between the Post and Auxiliary very apparent, as this evening they had decided between a competition membership drive with the looser treating the winner. There was 11 in their class. Some of these ladies had been obligated, but permission was asked to initiate them upon my visit. Thirty-five members were present, with 9 visitors, including 2 Presidents. General Fund $103.63. April 11—John McElroy Auxiliary No. 1381, Crescent City, Cal. As I was unable to return to this Auxiliary this acted as my official visit to them. Held a rehearsal with the Officers and they were more than anxious to learn their work, and I am sure from reports that I have received that they are doing nicely. There were 55 members to be obligated and I know that a large class was to be initiated in a short time.

June 4—O'Reilly-Bluett Auxiliary No. 1705, Sacramento, Cal. These girls deserve lots of credit and praise, as they have had difficulties in finding a meeting place, and have held their meetings in different Sisters' homes. However, they have a hall now and they exemplified their work in a very nice manner. They have a very excellent President. Twenty members, of which 15 were present, and 6 visitors. General Fund $13.55. Relief Fund $57.50.

June 6—White Squadron Auxiliary No. 90, San Francisco, Cal. Was very much disappointed that the President was too ill to be present. However, the Senior Vice presided very well and showed that she will make a very good President. A committee of 8 Past Captains of this all Navy Post came in to greet me. Forty-three garments, which were made by 2 of the sisters, were displayed before sending them to our National Home. That was splendid work and I hope that they will continue with this work. June 7—Lawton Silva Auxiliary No. 1002, Fallon, Nevada. Journeyed to Nevada to visit this fine Auxiliary and was accompanied on my trip by Sisters Alice Powers, Department Treasurer, and Pauline Ricketts, Department Conductress. General fund $33.98. Relief Fund $71.15.

June 9—Ethel Lansdale Auxiliary No. 67, Sacramento, Cal. I kept my last official visit for my own Auxiliary. I am very proud of this Auxiliary which is also one of the largest in the Department and am very happy to have been their President in 1929. Although I was still without my voice on this visit, the Sisters have heard me talk so much, possible they were relieved. However, I will make up for it at another time. The meeting was conducted in a very fine manner by our efficient President and the floor work was exemplified perfectly. As our hall is equipped so that we can dim the light for the initiation ceremonies, they are very impressive and I know that the 3 who were initiated were impressed with the work. All officers had their work memorized. A committee from the Post, lead by the Commander and Junior Past Commander, extended greetings from the Post, and I certainly appreciated it very much. The boys have been so kind to me this year and have shown me every little courtesy that was possible. Our Auxiliary also has the Department Secretary, Sister Marjorie Wentworth, and Assistant Inspector, Sister Phenette Miller. One hundred and two members, of which 48 were present, with 37 visitors, including 5 Presidents. I would like to extend thanks to my Auxiliary for this lovely evening for me and for the many little courtesies that you have extended to me during this term.

DEPARTMENT SECRETARY'S REPORT, 1929-1930

To the Officers and Members of the Sixth Annual Encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, Ladies Auxiliaries, to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at Santa Cruz, California.

My year as your Department Secretary is now drawing to a close, and I hope that I have lived up to all that the Department President expected of me when she made me her Secretary. I can't begin to tell you what a pleasure it has been to work with our Department President and all the Department officers this past year. I want to thank each and every one of them for the wonderful cooperation and support they have shown.

We have watched the Auxiliaries in the Department of California and Nevada grow from the twenty-eight reported at the last Encampment to forty-two at the present time. We now have a total membership of 1849, as near as we can tell at this time. The fourteen new Auxiliaries added this year are: Kellogg No. 1660, Chico No. 1555, Lomita No. 1622, Oroville No. 1747, Jenkins No. 1629, Anderson No. 1766, Roseville No. 1661, Border No. 1637, Ingram No. 1774, Simpson No. 1513, O'Reilly-Bluett No. 1705, Enright No. 97, McElroy No. 1381 and Rose-Robrecht-Weeks No. 1716.

There are seventeen Charter Applications out to date, to the following:

Eureka Post No. 1872—Eureka.
Retired Men's Post No. 1877—San Diego.
Private John Thomas Hall Post No. 1877—Santa Barbara.
Mt. Tamalpais Post No. 72—San Rafael.
Sequoia Post No. 1864—Visalia.
Vernon J. Lent Post No. 1784—Salinas.
Harry J. Grossi Post—Reno, Nevada.
Leslie Johnson Post No. 1770—Willows.
Leonard Armstrong Post No. 1744—San Bernardino.
Memory Post No. 1844—Santa Rosa.
Capt. J. H. Horsey Post No. 1746—Bellflower.
Galbraith Post No. 818—San Francisco.
Fred J. Pennington Post No. 1755—Las Vegas, Nevada.
Ventura Post No. 1679—Ventura.
Mack Rubidoux Post No. 1726—Riverside.
Yosemite Post No. 1873—Merced.
Hayward Post No. 1882—Hayward.

And I expect that some of these will come in very soon.

Most of the Auxiliaries were very prompt in renewing their Treasurer's Bonds this year. But I am sorry to report that there are still nine Auxiliaries who have not yet attended to this. It is compulsory that each Auxiliary Treasurer be bonded by National, and I hope that those Auxiliaries who have not yet done so, will have their Treasurers bonded immediately.

We had very little trouble with the installation blanks this year. They are all in and I am happy to say that most of the Auxiliaries were very prompt. It is very important that these blanks are sent in as soon after installation as possible, and that they show the name and correct address of each officer.

I almost hesitate to mention the per capita tax, because we have stressed on this so much this year. We have had some little trouble due, I believe, to the fact that some of the Auxiliaries are still a little confused about it.

Per capita tax is paid four times a year. Twice to Department and twice to National, 15 cents per member each time.

There are no sheets sent out for the Department per capita tax. The Auxiliaries should try to remember that it falls due in April and October. The Department President usually reminds you of the tax in her bulletin at that time.

As I write this report there is one Auxiliary whose Department Tax I have not received. I hope that this will be in by the time the report is read. You know that an Auxiliary which has not paid the Department Tax can not have a vote at the Encampment.

The National per capita tax is due in December and in June. Each Auxiliary will receive three per capita sheets which must be filled out and all three sheets returned to the Department Secretary, with the amount due. I hope that you will be very careful about the tax after this, because we have had to write a good many letters on just that subject.

To date, we have received the National tax from thirty-one Auxiliaries, and I expect to hear from quite a few of the Auxiliaries in the next few days. Will those Auxiliaries who have not yet paid the tax, do so as soon as possible. You will not receive your new password until the tax is paid.

There have been ten Department Bulletins or Messages go out from this office; one to each Auxiliary, one to each Department officer, one to the National President, National Secretary, and National Treasurer. If you read these carefully, you should have gained much help and information from them, as the Department President explained many things of value to you in each bulletin.

Up to June 23d, I sent out over seven hundred letters from this office and the Department President sent as many. There were eight telegrams, several air mail, special delivery and registered letters. Many of these letters could have been avoided if the Auxiliaries had been just a little more careful.

We have used $53.50 for postage and $47.95 for stationery in this office.

A new letter file was purchased in which we keep all the correspondence for each Auxiliary in a separate compartment. This was a big help to me, and it saved a lot of time.

Just one more thing before I close my report. Be sure to send in the membership application cards in duplicate to the Department Secretary. Neither National or Department can keep its files up to date at all times, unless these cards are sent in promptly. Do not wait several months or more. Send them in at once.

Again, I want to thank the Department President, Department officers and also the Auxiliary officers for their wonderful support and cooperation during my year as your Department Secretary.

Respectfully submitted in Fortitude and Loyalty.

MARJORIE WENTWORTH,
Department Secretary.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT CHIEF OF STAFF—1929-1930

Again the year rolls around, and this time instead of reporting to the Department Officers, Delegates and members assembled for our yearly convention of my activities as Department President, it is my privilege to report my activities as Department Chief of Staff.

I wish to thank the Department President for the confidence she showed in me when she appointed me to this office and I hope and trust that the year just past has justified her decision. I have tried at all times to fill my office conscientiously and have never permitted personal wishes or preferences to interfere with the discharge of my duties.

I also wish to thank our Department Secretary for her help in sending out the 1929 Inspection blanks for me while I was away on my honeymoon. And speaking of honeymoons, reminds me—I wish to again thank all the sisters and Auxiliaries who were so generous in extending their good wishes to both my husband and myself. The many beautiful gifts and cards which we received will long be treasured.

Now for the detailed report of the inspections of the various Auxiliaries:

Ella O'Connor, Assistant Inspector for Alameda County:

Corporal L. B. Hollywood Auxiliary No. 939, Alameda. Members, October inspection, 63; April, 57. Attendance of officers good, members fair. Ritualistic work memorized. General fund, $26.44; relief fund, $49.57. Relief work done during year, $138.50. Work in harmony with Post. Have paid all per capita taxes. Treasurer bonded by National. Books audited quarterly. Books of both secretary and treasurer accurately kept.

Lieut. Hascall F. Waterhouse Auxiliary No. 819, Oakland. 58 members in October, 1929; 52 members in April, 1930. Attendance of officers, 100 per cent; members fair. General fund, $51.22; relief fund, $40.35. Amount of relief work done this year, $147.57. Ritualistic work memorized. Cooperate with Post. All per capita taxes paid. Books of both treasurer and secretary accurately kept, and audited quarterly.

Col. J. J. Astor Auxiliary No. 999, Oakland. 91 members October, 1929; 97 members in April, 1930. Attendance of officers good, members good, too. Ritualistic work memorized. General fund, $101.56; relief fund, $380.63. Relief work done this year, $176.96. All per capita taxes paid. Books accurately kept and audited quarterly.

Berkeley Auxiliary No. 703, Berkeley. Members last October, 52; members this April, 46. Attendance of officers good, members fair. Ritualistic work memorized by most of the officers. General fund, $13.09; relief fund, $30.35. Relief work done this year, $122.05. All per capita taxes paid. Books of secretary and treasurer well kept and audited quarterly.

Dorothy Richardson, Assistant Inspector for Butte County:

Contra Costa County, Henrietta Deasey until January, then I acted in her place. Sister Deasey had to resign because she moved south.

Books fairly well kept, but not audited regularly. This Auxiliary is not doing at all well, but the fault is not with the few faithful officers who attend each meeting and try to carry on. Most of the members live a long way out in the country and their husbands work nights in the Oil Refinery, so they can not come out. Often there are not enough members present to make a quorum. However, they struggle on and hope for better times.

This is the end of the statistical report—and I appreciate your bearing with me during the reading of this long report. However, it is my duty to compile these details for your information. I have done so to the best of my ability, and I have attempted to give the facts as they were reported to me by the Assistant Inspectors.

No reports are given for Modesto's new Auxiliary, Enright No. 97, or McElroy Auxiliary No. 1381 of Crescent City, or Anderson Auxiliary No. 1776, San Luis Obispo or the new Auxiliary at Watsonville. These Auxiliaries have just been instituted and no report could have been made for them.

These reports show that with a couple of exceptions, all the Auxiliaries are in a thriving condition—all report cooperating with their Posts, all observe patriotic holidays and all but these same exceptions are holding regular meetings each month.

There are now 42 Auxiliaries in the Department, 14 of them new this year.

The largest Auxiliary in the Department, according to these records, is Lansdale Auxiliary in Sacramento, our Department President's Auxiliary.

The combined totals in the general funds of these Auxiliaries is $2,659.11, that is shown in the reports.

The combined relief fund totals $1,375.05.

The amount of relief work done for the year is $3,059.11, this only incudes the relief work done when the money was drawn from the Auxiliaries' funds—the individual donations of the members has not been estimated.

During the year I wrote 267 letters; some of these were to the Assistant Inspectors, but many of them were to the Auxiliaries asking questions about floor work or by-laws.

I can not close my report without saying "thank you" to all the willing sisters who served as Assistant Inspectors this year. All of you have been most generous and self sacrificing and have been of considerable help to the Auxiliaries. I want to particularly mention Sister Toohey, Los Angeles County Inspector. She had seven Auxiliaries to take care of and gave a great many hours to her work in spite of her ill health. Sister Phenette Miller very willingly took charge of the Auxiliaries of Sacramento, San Joaquin and Placer Counties—and had to do considerable traveling to make her inspections. Sister Anna Stuart of San Diego County had six Auxiliaries to take care of and instituted four new Auxiliaries, and was the first to send in her reports each inspection. Sister Dorothy Richardson had charge of two counties. Sister Leffman was the Inspector for San Francisco County, and made many trips across the bay from her home in Oakland—in fact, I don't think I exaggerate when I say she went about twice a month to one or the other of the Auxiliaries under her care. Sister Alta Blesh, not only had the responsibility of Zane Auxiliary, and Santa Cruz, but traveled all the way to San Luis Obispo to institute that new Auxiliary and help them. I appreciate the work of all my Assistants and the status of the Auxiliaries this year shows that your work is well done.

I want to again thank the Department President for her confidence in me. It has been a great pleasure to continue working for the Veterans of Foreign Wars and helping in my small way.

Submitted in Fortitude and Loyalty,

GERTRUDE BROWN SMITH,
Past Department President.
Department Chief of Staff.

THIRD REPORT OF THE JUDICIAL COUNCIL OF CALIFORNIA

PART I

*To his Excellency, HON. JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
Governor of California,
and to Members of the Legislature:*

In accordance with the act of its creation, the Judicial Council of California presents herewith its third biennial report for consideration.

FORMER REPORTS

The first report, dated February 28, 1927, three months after the creation of the Council, presented such survey of business in the superior courts of the State as could be rather hastily made up from statistics furnished by the county clerks and judges, covering the period from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1926, together with a recommendation concerning an amendment to the arbitration law (sections 1281 to 1293 of the Code of Civil Procedure), and a recommendation for a constitutional amendment revising the jurisdiction of the courts. Both recommendations were favorably received and acted upon.

The second report, dated March, 1929, in addition to a statement of the proceedings of the Council and its financial affairs, carried tables showing the status of judicial business in the several courts, and the volume of litigation filed and disposed of during the preceding biennium, prepared by Judge Harry A. Hollzer, a member of the Council specially intrusted with the task of serving the Council in a capacity best described as Research Director. This report carried recommendations resulting from a careful study of procedure in courts in many of the eastern states and in Canada. In it the Council also made a number of specific recommendations as to legislation in the form of some fifty proposed legislative bills designed to improve and expedite procedure in California, and promote economy by enabling existing courts to meet the growing demands, and avoid increasing the number of justices and judges. These bills were canvassed and explained by the chairman of the Council at hearings before joint meetings of the judiciary committees of the Senate and Assembly, and approximately two-thirds of them were enacted into law.

CONGESTION OF JUDICIAL BUSINESS

In addition to the investigations made by the Council and the resultant recommendations to the Legislature for the enactment of procedural statutes, it has been the purpose and effort of the chairman of the Council in seeking to expedite judicial business and equalize the work of the judges, as directed by the constitution, to make many assignments of judges particularly of the trial courts, to other courts of like or higher jurisdiction, in order that the entire man-power of the judicial branch of the State might be utilized to its fullest capacity. Reference to the number of assignments of judges for this purpose will be made in this report.

Notwithstanding the adoption of the measures submitted by the Council to the Legislature increasing the jurisdiction of municipal and justices' courts and the mobilization of the judges for the purposes noted, the congestion in courts has not been adequately relieved. Some of the reasons for this will be referred to later.

A very apt quotation concerning the congestion in courts and delay in litigation is found in the sixth annual report of the Massachusetts Judicial Council just issued. After referring to the congestion in courts of that state, caused in part by the increasing number of cases arising from the operation of motor vehicles, the report continues:

The condition, which appears to have become chronic * * * raises the problem which must be faced sooner or later whether the public will tolerate a system which postpones for two or three years the chance to recover damages, which the law was passed to secure, with the probability that this delay will increase as cases continue to accumulate. Such delay in the opportunity to secure payment, or settlement, of present claims not only causes hardship and practical denial of justice to such persons, but it affects the life of the community in many other ways * * *.

In considering possible solutions of these problems, we are at once faced with another problem—the mounting cost of the administration of justice. How much will the tax-paying public stand for this purpose? As we have frequently pointed out, the usual suggestion of meeting delay has been to appoint more permanent judges.

The report then points out how the number of judges has been increased in Massachusetts and adds: "Yet the court is more clogged than ever before * * *."

When the superior court of California was created by the adoption of the Constitution of 1879, the number of judges of the superior court of the State was 70. There are now, in 1931, 145 judges of the superior court, 43 judges of the municipal courts, with many justices of the peace throughout the State with increased jurisdiction, in townships having a population of thirty thousand or more, almost equal with some exceptions to the jurisdiction of the original superior court.

It has been and is the endeavor of the Judicial Council to formulate procedure, subject to the approval of the Legislature, by the operation of which the "mounting cost of the administration of justice" may be measurably checked and the taxpayers relieved as far as possible of this extra burden. However, in spite of the improved procedure and the mobilization of judges at points where the congestion is greatest, the rapidly increasing population of the State, with the attendant increase in litigation, makes it almost inevitable that there must be some addition to the number of judges and justices in the State. The Council at this time makes no direct recommendation in this matter but stands ready to cooperate with the Legislature in considering the conditions in various localities which will undoubtedly seek to secure the appointment of additional judges.

ADOPTION OF RULES

In May, 1928, rules regulating superior court business were adopted by the Council. Previous to such adoption, copies of the proposed rules had been submitted to the superior courts throughout the State, with a request for suggestions for improvements, or a statement of any objections occurring to the judiciary or the members of the Bar. No suggestions or objections were received before the promulgation of the rules, but at the succeeding October meeting of the State Bar at Pasadena, certain objections to some of the provisions were voiced, and the Council invited the Governors of the Bar to name a committee of attorneys to cooperate with it in formulating a revision of the rules. Hon. M. C. Sloss, ex-Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Senator J. M. Inman, Mr. E. C. Farnsworth of Tulare County, Mr. Hubert T. Morrow of Los Angeles County and Mr. Orrin J. Lowell, district attorney of Placer County, were named a committee of five, and actively and energetically participated in the work of revision. The rules thus formulated were adopted and became effective February 1, 1929, and for the greater part have been observed throughout the state.

Rules for procedure in the Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal, and for the appellate department of superior courts in cities in which municipal courts have been established, were also prepared and promulgated. Adequate publicity has been given to these rules, and distribution to the members of the Bar has been accomplished through the courtesy of the publishers of The State Bar Journal, a distinct service which is hereby acknowledged with sincere appreciation. In addition, the Reporter of Decisions of the Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal has caused the rules to be printed in volume 204 of the official California Reports.

COOPERATION OF ATTORNEYS

Realization of the value of the cooperation given by the members of the Bar in revising the rules led to a desire for continuing advice and collaboration by practicing members of the Bar in the work of the Judicial Council. Accordingly, in 1929, at the request of the chairman of the Council, President Charles A. Beardsley of the State Bar designated five members as a State Bar Judicial Council Committee. The members so designated are former superior court judges Guy R. Crump of Los Angeles, and Everett J. Brown of Oakland, and Mr. Grant Holcomb of San Bernardino, District Attorney A. B. Tinning of Contra Costa County, and President Maurice E. Harrison of the San Francisco Bar Association. They whole-heartedly assumed the labors and the responsibilities of this service on the committee, and have ably assisted in the development of plans and the formulation of recommendations relating to procedure carried in this report. To them is due sincere appreciation, which is hereby extended.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The appropriation for support of the Judicial Council is principally devoted to the functions indicated in subdivision 6 of section 1a, Article VI of the Constitution; to wit: the expedition of judicial business and equalization of the work of the judges.

APPORTIONING COMPENSATION OF ASSIGNED JUDGES

Judges serving under assignment by the chairman of the Council, in a county other than their own, are reimbursed the cost of transportation and maintenance, and are paid the difference between their regular salary and the salary of a judge of the court to which they are assigned. Under chapter 486, Statutes of 1929, page 848, the State pays a portion of the extra compensation of a judge sitting in the superior court equal to the difference between the amount which the State pays toward the salary of such judge in his own county and the amount it pays toward the salary of a judge of the superior court of the county to which he is assigned; and the portion to be paid by the county is determined likewise on the basis of county payments in the respective courts. In the inferior courts, since all salaries are paid either by the county or municipality, no cost either of compensation or maintenance falls on the State.

SUPERIOR COURT TRAVEL AND MAINTENANCE EXPENSE

The maintenance and traveling expense of a judge assigned to a superior court is divided between county and State in the same proportion as the extra compensation, except that where no extra compensation accrues, the expense is divided in the same proportion that county and State contribute toward the salary of a judge of the assisted court.

DISTRICT COURT OF APPEAL COMPENSATION AND EXPENSE

When a judge is assigned to a District Court of Appeal, the State meets the entire compensation and expense. It thus becomes apparent that the cost to the State of assigning a judge from a high salaried court is very much less than from a minimum salaried court. Also that the utilization in a District Court of Appeal of the service of a judge from the county in which the court is sitting saves to the State the cost of transportation and maintenance. These financial results are given consideration in determining assignments, but are not allowed to be entirely controlling.

An examination of the statistics herein set forth will readily disclose that less than one-sixth of the funds designated in the budget as being appropriated "For Support of the Judicial Council," was in reality utilized for Council operations. The bulk of such appropriation was used to compensate and reimburse the judges who were able to render service in courts other than their own.

SEGREGATION OF DISBURSEMENTS TO COURTS

The assistance given to the District Courts of Appeal, and the resulting expenditures, are further illustrated by the following tabulation of time served and claims presented and allowed. The disparities appearing may be accounted for by the difference in the home salary of the assigned judges, resulting in a difference in the increased compensation, and the fact that quite frequently the assigned judge returned to his own court and chambers for the preparation of opinions in the cases allotted to him, utilizing therefor such time as he could find while carrying on his regular court duties, thus saving to the state the substantial item of maintenance, as well as the cost of a substitute in his court. In two or more instances a judge assigned to a District Court of Appeal has declined to present a claim, finding the interest of the work, and the satisfaction derived from doing it well, acceptable compensation for the time and effort so contributed to the expedition of appellate work.

Similar information as to service in those superior courts most frequently needing assistance is also appended.

ASSIGNMENT OF JUDGES

Reduction in Number Available.

For a number of reasons, the assistance given to various courts during the current biennium, through the assignment of judges from other counties, has been considerably less than during the period covered by the second report. Among the causes for this is the reduction of $10,000 in the requested appropriation for these purposes, and, in addition, the diversion of $24,000 from the appropriation actually made, said last mentioned amount being diverted by the act creating the Fourth District Court of Appeal to defray, in part, the cost of maintaining that tribunal. Campaigns for reelection and sickness also contributed to a reduction in the number of judges available. The principal factor, however, was the discontinuance, in great measure, of the assignment of municipal court judges to the superior court in Los Angeles County and filling temporary vacancies thus created in the municipal courts, by assigning thereto justices of the peace and judges of various city courts of inferior jurisdiction.

Los Angeles Superior Court.

During 1927 and 1928, the number of cases awaiting trial in the Los Angeles superior court was so greatly reduced by utilizing the judicial man-power above referred to, that trial could be had within approximately ninety days from the filing of notice to set for trial as compared with fourteen to eighteen months at the beginning of 1927. Criticism of the utilization of the judges of these inferior courts arose from various sources, and ultimately a resolution was transmitted to the Council by the trustees of the Los Angeles Bar Association objecting to the procedure, and requesting its termination. There seemed reason to believe that the resolution reflected the attitude of a number of the judges of the superior court, as well as active members of the Bar, and the request was therefore complied with. Such assignments from inferior courts to the superior court as have since been made were necessary to meet emergencies and situations which could not have been cared for otherwise. The time between application to set and trial date has now increased to approximately thirteen months.

District Courts of Appeal.

Assignments of superior court judges to district courts of appeal have been made upon the request of the presiding justices, such service to be rendered at such time as it could be utilized to best advantage. Here also conservatism has been exercised because of limited financial resources, and watchfulness will be necessary to insure keeping well within the available funds for the last quarter of the current biennium. Six hundred and fifty assignments were issued during 1929, and six hundred and fifteen during 1930.

Research Director.

Judge Hollzer, in connection with his labors as Research Director of the Judicial Council, has supervised the collection and compilation of statistical data showing the volume and nature of the proceedings commenced and disposed of in the various trial and appellate tribunals in the State. This information, arranged in the form of statistical tables, will be found attached to his report which immediately follows, and as Part Two, constitutes the concluding portion of the Judicial Council's report. These statistics are quite comprehensive, and are essential to a correct analysis and understanding of the condition of judicial business in our courts.

Meetings of the Judicial Council have been held from time to time to consider various proposals looking toward the improvement of the administration of justice in our State. These deliberations have been based upon special reports, prepared by Judge Hollzer and distributed to the members of the Council and the Bar committee in advance of each session.

During 1930, Judge Hollzer continued his investigation of judicial administration and court procedure in several of the Eastern States, in connection with his attendance upon the meetings of the American Law Institute and the National Conference of Judicial Councils. His suggestions, based upon his research studies both in California and in eastern jurisdictions, are embodied in his report appended hereto.

It is a matter of congratulation to the State of California and its Judicial Council that the outstanding and self-sacrificing service which Judge Hollzer has given to the cause of improvement in judicial procedure in California has been recognized nationally by his election to the chairmanship of the National Conference of Judicial Councils. His more recent selection as a judge of the Federal District Court, Southern District of California, while a cause for congratulation to him, will rob the Council of one of its most valuable members.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The recommendations of the Council, to be found in Part II of this report, relate to simplifying and improving the administration of justice by changing the existing laws on practice and procedure, and may be briefly summarized as follows:

A change to make the summary judgment procedure of the municipal courts applicable also to superior courts, permitting entry of judgment, without trial, for money demands to which no meritorious defense is shown by answer or affidavit, and another change in the present municipal court provisions to completely conform the provisions.

Measures providing for admissions and disclosures of facts in advance of trial to save time of the judges, jurors and disinterested witnesses, as well as the litigants and their attorneys; also for admissions of authenticity of written instruments and abstracts of public records, and avoiding the necessity of formal proof thereof.

A requirement for submission to the trial court and full disclosure on motion for new trial, of all claimed errors which might be urged on appeal, so as to enable that court to correct the same without delay and avoid the likelihood of reversal, after months of waiting, by reason of vital matters which the trial judge might have corrected.

An amendment to the sections relating to change of place of trial to permit full presentation upon the original motion of all matters bearing thereon, including the convenience of witnesses, as well as residences of the parties, thus avoiding buffeting from court to court of the litigants, with the incidental delay and expense.

Changes in the provisions relating to appeals to the superior court and the appellate departments of the superior court. These proposals grow out of the experience of the judges of the appellate departments of the superior court and would simplify the preparation of records on appeal, reduce the cost thereof, and enable the reviewing court more fully to do justice between the parties and render final judgment in cases on appeal.

A provision that a new trial may be granted to relieve an appellant who is unable to secure a transcript of testimony because of absence, incapacity or death of shorthand reporter.

ALLOTMENT FOR RESEARCH

An item of $12,000 in addition to the budget allowance for the Council for the eighty-third and eighty-fourth fiscal years, A. B. 1201, is also recommended because of the following facts:

As shown by our previous reports, the research work of the Council has been carried on, for the greater part, by Hon. Harry A. Hollzer, judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County. He cannot continue to devote his time to this work for the reason above stated, and even were he to continue as a judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, the increasingly large volume of litigation in the county requires the full time of all the regularly constituted judges of that court, as well as all other judges available for assignment thereto.

An opportunity is now offered, through cooperation with the State Bar of California, the Bureau of Public Administration and the School of Jurisprudence of the University of California, for a joint arrangement by which provision can be made for a very extensive program of research into the various problems relating to the administration of justice in California, to be conducted at the University of California, Stanford University, and the University of Southern California. By uniting with these agencies and securing a competent Director of Research, the Judicial Council will be in position to obtain equal, or better, results than it could if conducting its individual line of research, and at considerably less expense to the State.

It is therefore recommended that an appropriation be made by the Legislature of the sum of $6,000 per annum for the ensuing biennium for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted.

PART TWO

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF JUDICIAL BUSINESS IN THE COURTS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, TOGETHER WITH A
SUMMARY OF RESEARCH STUDIES OF JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION,
PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

SUBMITTED BY HON. HARRY HOLLZER, FEBRUARY, 1931.

PART TWO

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF JUDICIAL BUSINESS IN THE COURTS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, TOGETHER WITH A SUMMARY OF RESEARCH STUDIES OF JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

To the Honorable WILLIAM H. WASTE,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and ex officio Chairman of The Judicial Council of California, and Fellow Members of The Judicial Council:

The Constitution, Article VI, section 1a, provides, in part, that the Judicial Council shall from time to time survey the condition of business in the several courts, with a view to simplifying and improving the administration of justice, and shall submit to the Legislature, at each regular session thereof, its recommendations with reference to amendments of, or changes in, existing laws relating to practice and procedure.

SURVEYS—IN GENERAL

Pursuant to this mandate, we have been conducting what might be termed a continuous survey of the condition of judicial business in our various courts. In addition, our research activities have included further studies of judicial administration and of practice and procedure, both within our own State, and also in other jurisdictions.

The within report is intended as a compendium of the statistical data we have compiled, showing the condition of judicial business in the various courts. It also includes a summary of the various matters brought to the attention of the Council by the writer during the past two years through the medium of special reports, which furnished the basis of the Council's deliberations, and later the basis for the joint sessions held by the Council in conjunction with the Judicial Council Committee of the State Bar.

The practice inaugurated in 1927 of having the clerks of the superior and municipal courts, and the clerks of the inferior courts in the larger cities, prepare weekly tabulations of judicial statistics, to be submitted with monthly summaries, showing the condition of judicial business in these tribunals, has been maintained. Likewise, the clerks of the appellate tribunals are reporting periodically for those courts. In addition, a very considerably increased number of the inferior courts in the smaller localities have furnished us statistical information annually, and in some instances semiannually.

We are pleased to advise that, with very few exceptions, the clerks of the various courts have given us splendid assistance in carrying on our survey work, furnishing all reports requested. The writer is glad to take this opportunity of publicly thanking the clerks of the different courts for the fine cooperation they have extended to the Council.

It is only just, therefore, to the overwhelming majority of the clerks that mention be made of the few instances wherein cooperation has been lacking. The County Clerk of Tuolumne County has furnished no report of any kind during the last two fiscal years. The reports from the counties of Mendocino, Plumas, San Benito, San Francisco (for the year ending June, 1930) and Sonoma (for the year ending June, 1929) have been incomplete. In fairness to the present County Clerk of Sonoma County, it should be stated that the latter did not take office until 1930.

SUPERIOR COURTS—IN GENERAL

Attached to this report will be found a series of exhibits, marked respectively, "Appendix A" to "Appendix I," inclusive. These documents consist of statistical tabulations, showing, in detail, the condition of judicial business in the superior courts of nearly all the counties of the State. The period covered by these exhibits represents the last two fiscal years, namely, from July 1, 1928, to June 30, 1929, and from July 1, 1929, to June 30, 1930.

"Appendix A" deals with the ordinary civil litigation tried in these courts, as distinguished from the criminal, domestic relations, probate and miscellaneous proceedings, and the civil and criminal appeals. Upon comparing "Appendix A" in the present report with the corresponding exhibit in our second report, it will be observed that the statistics pertaining to the dismissals are shown separately from those representing the cases transferred to other jurisdictions, and also that we are now differentiating between the judgments entered by the clerk and the uncontested judgments rendered by the court. The first of these changes was made in order to provide accurate information respecting the volume of litigation dismissed without a hearing of any kind. The second change was intended to furnish the data as to the number of cases which had been disposed of without a contest after one of the parties had been put to the delay and expense of placing the same on the calendar.

"Appendix B" comprises the statistical data pertaining to the felony proceedings handled in these courts. Here, again, we have furnished more detailed information. Beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, the statistics reported represent the number of defendants and not the number of cases involved. We have also made a distinction between the number accused on information and those accused on indictment.

Likewise, in this report we have differentiated between the number convicted by the court and those convicted by the jury. In addition, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, we have segregated the convictions wherein the offense was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor, from all other convictions. The acquittals by the judge are also shown separately from the jury acquittals. These additional classifications have enabled us to secure exceedingly valuable information relative to the results arising from the adoption, in November, 1928, of the constitutional amendment permitting the waiver of a jury in a felony trial. This exhibit also supplies interesting data as to the disposition, made by the court, of the accused after conviction, showing the number granted or denied probation, the number sentenced to State prison, and those given other sentences.

"Appendix C" pertains to misdemeanor cases and furnishes statistical data analogous to that set forth in the preceding exhibit.

"Appendix D" presents the first detailed tabulation compiled in this State showing the volume of appeals in civil cases taken to the superior courts from the municipal and inferior courts, and the manner in which such litigation has been disposed of.

"Appendix E" supplies analogous data respecting the appeals in criminal cases taken to the superior court.

"Appendix F" furnishes the statistical data pertaining to the divorce, annulment and maintenance cases. In this exhibit, we have differentiated between the cases dismissed without a hearing and those merely transferred to some other county. In addition, we have shown the number of hearings on orders to show cause and motions filed in domestic relations cases.

"Appendix G," while designated "Probate," includes all proceedings relating to the administration of estates of decedents, also the estates of minors and incompetents.

"Appendix H" contains statistical information respecting the volume of juvenile court, insanity, naturalization and miscellaneous proceedings filed. This exhibit, in addition, shows the number of preliminary hearings in juvenile cases and also the number of demurrers, orders to show cause and motions heard in all classes of civil litigation, excluding divorce and probate proceedings.

"Appendix I" includes the statistical data showing the status of the trial calendars in the various superior courts as of date September 8, 1930.

CHANGES IN VOLUME OF LITIGATION

One of the methods frequently employed to relieve congestion in the principal trial court has been to reduce the jurisdiction thereof and, correspondingly, increase the jurisdiction of so-called inferior courts. In 1929, the Legislature raised the civil jurisdiction of justices' courts in cities, etc., having a population of 30,000, or more, from $300 to $1,000 in actions at law and in suits to foreclose chattel mortgages, and, correspondingly, enlarged its jurisdiction in unlawful detainer cases. At the same session, the jurisdiction of municipal courts was enlarged so as to include actions at law and chattel mortgage and mechanics' lien foreclosures, involving up to $2,000, and also unlawful detainer cases where the rental value does not exceed $200 per month.

It is therefore important to note that, although this legislation did not become effective until about the middle of August, 1929, and in spite of the growth in population which has taken place during the last two fiscal years, the number of ordinary civil actions filed in the superior courts throughout the State dropped from a total of 63,440 in the year ending June 30, 1928, to 51,995 in the corresponding period two years later, a decrease of 11,445 cases, or more than 18 per cent.

What is particularly significant in this connection is the fact that this reduction has taken place in the superior courts of the counties having the municipal or the inferior courts whose jurisdiction was enlarged, whereas in the superior courts of the remaining counties the volume of ordinary civil litigation showed a slight increase.

As might have been anticipated, the largest decrease, numerically, took place in Los Angeles County, where the only municipal courts established up to June 30, 1930, were located, and in which county also the jurisdiction of nine justices' courts was increased to the extent above mentioned. The largest ratio of decrease, however, took place in San Francisco, where the volume of ordinary civil litigation filed dropped more than 27 per cent within the two-year period under consideration. This would indicate that a very considerable percentage of the civil litigation filed there involved less than $1,000.

While the statistics pertaining to the felony and misdemeanor cases seem to indicate a substantial increase during the last two years in the volume of such proceedings for the State as a whole, nevertheless when we reflect that the figures given for 1930 represent the number of defendants involved, whereas those for 1928 refer to the number of cases filed, we realize that, outside of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, there was an actual decrease in the volume of criminal litigation commenced during the last fiscal year as compared with 1928.

The slight increase in the number of domestic relations cases and probate proceedings commenced during the two-year period under consideration may be said to be inconsequential. The statistics contained in the present report confirm the findings made in connection with our second report, to the effect that less than 9 per cent of the domestic relations cases are contested. Likewise, the figures herewith submitted respecting the probate proceedings disclose the fact that during the last two fiscal years all but approximately 3 per cent of such proceedings were disposed of without a contest.

In other words, as pointed out in our preceding report, very nearly all of the contested litigation arises out of the civil and criminal cases. Of course, we must not overlook the fact that in about one-half of the domestic relations cases we are likely to have a preliminary application for alimony pendente lite, or custody of children, or a contempt proceeding because of failure to comply with an order pertaining to the same.

DISPARITY BETWEEN THE SUPERIOR COURTS

While there has been a decrease in the volume of civil litigation filed in the superior courts of the larger counties, nevertheless, with the exception of the superior court in San Francisco, no appreciable change has taken place during the last two years with respect to the percentage of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases filed in those tribunals, as compared with the remaining counties of the State.

In Los Angeles County, the superior court, with thirty-eight judges, or about 26 per cent of the total number, is required to dispose of approximately 45 per cent of all the civil, criminal and domestic relations litigation of the entire State.

The superior court in San Francisco, which, in 1928 had approximately 14½ per cent of the total of these three classes of litigation, received only about 10 per cent thereof two years later. This court has 11 per cent of the total number of judges.

The superior court of San Mateo County holds the same relative position it occupied at the time our second report was published. The number of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases filed in that court during the last two fiscal years exceeded the combined total of similar litigation commenced in the superior courts of sixteen other counties, to wit: Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Del Norte, El Dorado, Inyo, Kings, Lassen, Mono, Nevada, Plumas, San Benito, Shasta, Sierra, Tehama and Trinity. Each of these counties has one judge of the superior court.

On the basis of the three classes of litigation above mentioned, more business came before the superior court of San Mateo than before the corresponding courts of Humboldt and Imperial counties combined, which together have a total of four (4) judges.

In fact, in none of the seven counties having two superior court judges each did the number of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases filed during the last two years approximate more than 80 per cent of similar litigation commenced in the superior court of San Mateo County, and in most of them it did not exceed 50 per cent.

VOLUME OF LITIGATION DISPOSED OF

During the period under consideration, the superior court of San Mateo County disposed of more litigation than the superior courts of thirteen (13) other counties combined, to wit: Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Del Norte, El Dorado, Inyo, Lassen, Mono, Plumas, Shasta, Sierra, Tehama and Trinity. There is one judge for the superior court in each of these counties.

In the first named county, the superior court tried as many contested civil, criminal and domestic relations cases in the last two fiscal years as were heard in the superior courts of Humboldt and Imperial counties combined. The last two named counties have a total of four superior court judges.

On the same basis, the business disposed of by the superior court of San Mateo County exceeded the combined total of that handled in the superior courts of Merced, Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Del Norte, Mono, Nevada, Shasta, Sierra and Trinity counties. Likewise, neither the combined total volume of business determined in the superior courts of Santa Barbara, Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Mono, Nevada, Sierra and Trinity counties, nor that handled in the superior courts of Ventura, Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Del Norte, Mono, Nevada, Sierra and Trinity counties, equalled that disposed of by the court in San Mateo County. Each of the counties herein named has one judge of the superior court.

During the last four years, no contested case has been tried in the Superior Court of Alpine County.

In the Superior Court of Del Norte County, only two contested trials were held during the last two years.

For the same period, each of the superior courts of the counties of Modoc, Mono, Plumas, Sierra and Trinity tried an average of less than six cases per year.

The superior courts of Amador, Calaveras, San Benito and Mariposa counties heard an average of less than one contested case per month during the same period.

The total number of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases disposed of by all of the superior courts (both uncontested and contested), dropped from 75,530 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, to 74,450 in the following year, a decrease of 1080 cases.

However, these statistics do not tell the whole story. In most of the counties these courts reported an increased volume of litigation handled during the second half of the biennium, as compared with the first half, but in a few of the counties, notably Los Angeles, there was a decrease, the difference in the latter county amounting to 3805 cases.

In the first half of the biennium, the Superior Court of the City and County of San Francisco passed upon approximately 12 per cent of the combined total of the civil, criminal and domestic relations litigation disposed of throughout the entire State, the court in Alameda County almost 9 per cent, while the court in Los Angeles County heard nearly 47 per cent. In the succeeding year these proportions changed to 15, 9½, and slightly over 42 per cent, respectively. It should be added, however, that in the year ending June 30, 1930, the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, passed upon 1060 civil and criminal appeals taken from the municipal and inferior courts, as against 447 during the preceding year.

It may also be of interest to note that, whereas during the first half of this biennium, the Superior Court of Los Angeles County disposed of 50 per cent of all the civil litigation and 30 per cent of all the criminal proceedings passed upon by all of such courts throughout the entire state, in the following year the first mentioned court handled slightly more than 41 per cent of all the criminal proceedings and a like proportion of all of the civil litigation heard in those courts.

DIFFERENCES IN VOLUME OF CONTESTED LITIGATION

Practically no change took place in the year ending June 30, 1929, as compared with the preceding year, with respect to the combined total number of contested civil, criminal and domestic relations cases tried in all of the superior courts of the State. However, in a few counties, substantial changes occurred.

In San Bernardino County, the difference amounted to 116 less contested trials in 1929, a decrease of approximately 33 per cent.

Santa Barbara County reported a corresponding decrease of 60 contested trials, or about 45 per cent.

On the other hand, in San Francisco there was an increase amounting to 478 contested cases tried, or nearly 21 per cent.

However, when we come to compare the year ending June 30, 1930, with the corresponding period two years previously, we find quite a marked reduction in the volume of contested civil, criminal and domestic relations litigation tried. This decrease represented a difference of 3350 cases, of which the Superior Court of Los Angeles County accounted for 2466, and the court in San Francisco, for 749. The courts in nearly all of the other counties reported comparatively little change for the two years mentioned.

ASSIGNMENTS OF JUDGES TO THE SUPERIOR COURTS

During the biennium ending June 30, 1930, by virtue of assignments of judges made by the chairman of the Judicial Council, the Superior Court of Los Angeles County received judicial assistance equivalent to the services of seventeen additional judges for the first half of this period. The majority of these judges were assigned from the municipal courts of Los Angeles and Long Beach. In the second half of the biennium this assistance was cut practically in half, and represented the services of nine additional judges, only two of whom were assigned from the municipal courts.

In this connection, it should be stated that, during the major portion of the two-year period mentioned, the Superior Court of Los Angeles was deprived of the services of several of its judges on account of illness, likewise, two of its judges were assigned most of the time to serve on the District Court of Appeal in the Second District, another judge devoted approximately half of that period carrying on the research activities of the Judicial Council, and also that during the second half of the biennium, three of the judges of that court devoted all but two months of their time to the work in the Appellate Department, hearing and determining all of the appeals taken to that court from the municipal courts and the justices' courts in townships having a population of 30,000 or more.

In San Francisco, where illness deprived the court of the service of one of its judges during most of the time under consideration, the assistance rendered was equivalent to the services of four additional judges for the first half of the biennium, and two judges throughout the second year, and an additional judge for seven months of the latter period.

In Alameda County, one of whose judges was assigned most of the time to the District Court of Appeal of the First District, the assistance received was equivalent to the services of one additional judge for eight months during the first of the two years under consideration, and one judge for nearly seven months during the second year.

The assistance given to San Diego County was equivalent to the services of one judge throughout the first year and another judge for two months of that period, and the services of one judge for nine months of the second year.

Santa Barbara County was aided with the services of one judge during about five and a half months of the first year, while in the second half of the biennium the judicial assistance given was equivalent to the services of one judge for the entire year and another judge for approximately two and a half months of the same period.

In the remaining counties, the assignments of judges represented the services of two judges for the entire biennium and also the service of a third judge for slightly more than half of that period.

STATUS OF THE TRIAL CALENDARS

The condition of the trial calendars in the various superior courts is shown by the statistical data set forth in the exhibit marked "Appendix I," and attached to this report. The information contained therein was compiled as of date September 8, 1930, the same being the first calendar day following the summer vacation. This date was selected because it represents the period when ordinarily we have the largest accumulation of cases awaiting trial, and it was felt that, if the calendar of any particular court was not then congested, no difficulty would likely be encountered by such court in disposing of its business expeditiously the balance of the fiscal year.

A comparison of the data contained in "Appendix I," with information of a similar character set forth in the corresponding exhibit attached to our second report, will be found instructive. In this connection, attention is called to the fact that the statistics included in the latter exhibit were compiled as of date December, 1928; in other words, three months after the close of the summer vacation.

From an examination of the data set forth in the two exhibits mentioned it will be seen that, with the exception of the courts in the counties of Kern, Los Angeles and Ventura, the trial calendars of the various superior courts at the close of the summer vacation in 1930 were in at least as favorable a condition as the corresponding calendars in December, 1928, and that in many instances substantial improvement had taken place.

In Alameda County, the total number of cases awaiting trial, including both those set and the cases on the reserve calendar, had been reduced from 1256 in December, 1928, to 445 in September, 1930.

The Superior Court of Riverside County reported a decrease from 169 to 76 for the corresponding period.

San Diego County showed a reduction from 653 to 362.

In San Francisco, the number of cases reported ready for trial had been reduced from 2066 to 1027 during the same period.

Santa Clara County showed a reduction from 228 to 96.

Excluding the three counties above mentioned, trials could be had in nearly all of the courts from two to three months after issue joined, in civil cases, although in a few of the counties the period intervening ranged from four to six months. Of course, criminal cases were required by law to be placed on the calendar within 30 days after entry of plea.

The congestion in the trial calendar of the Superior Court of Kern County was caused primarily by reason of the fact that for several months a vacancy existed in the office of one of its judges. As a matter of fact, the total number of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases filed in that court during the year ending June 30, 1930, amounted to but slightly more than the number filed in the preceding year, and represented a decrease as compared with 1928.

In Ventura County, however, while there was but slight difference between the volume of litigation commenced in 1929 and that filed in the preceding year, we find a very substantial increase in the litigation filed during 1930 as compared with either of the two preceding years. To be specific, the total number of civil, criminal and domestic relations cases commenced in 1928 amounted to 631, and in 1929 to 684, while in 1930 this total jumped to 918. By far, the greater percentage of increase was reflected in the civil litigation, the number of such cases increasing from 374 to 588 within the two-year period, a difference of 214 cases, or more than 57 per cent. Most of this extraordinary increase we are advised was occasioned by the filing of a very large number of cases against the same defendant, all of the suits arising out of a serious conflagration. Although these cases were being consolidated in groups of five cases each, for purposes of trial, each trial was occupying approximately from six to seven weeks.

The calendar situation in Los Angeles County will be discussed in a later portion of this report, in connection with other matters pertaining to the superior court of that county.

APPEALS TO THE SUPERIOR COURT

In November, 1928, the Constitution was amended so as to restrict the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court and district courts of appeal, to cases originating in the superior court, and, at the same time, the Legislature was empowered to prescribe the jurisdiction of the latter court. As the result of legislation enacted in 1929, and which went into effect in August of that year, the jurisdiction of all municipal courts and also that of justices' courts in cities, etc., having a population of 30,000, or more, was increased very materially. Most of the litigation affected by this change originates in the counties of Los Angeles and San Francisco. Accordingly, we find not only a very substantial increase in the total volume of civil and criminal appeals taken to the superior courts during the last fiscal year, as compared with the preceding year, but also that the great majority of such appeals were handled in the superior courts of the last two named counties.

In 1929, the total number of such appeals for the entire State amounted to 866 cases of which 447 were filed in Los Angeles County, and 57 in San Francisco. In the following year this total increased to 1423 appeals of which 1060 originated in Los Angeles County, and 140 in San Francisco. The disparity in the matter of appeals taken to the superior courts of the two counties last named is partially accounted for by the fact that up to June 30, 1930, the Superior Court of Los Angeles County alone had appellate jurisdiction of actions at law and chattel mortgage and mechanics' lien foreclosures, involving up to $2,000.

As the result of the constitutional and statutory changes previously mentioned, very nearly all of the civil appeals originating in Los Angeles County which, prior to 1929, were filed in the District Court of Appeal for the second appellate district, must now be taken to the appellate department of the superior court of that county.

APPELLATE DEPARTMENT OF LOS ANGELES SUPERIOR COURT

In view of the changes thus effected, and inasmuch as nearly 75 per cent of the civil appeals filed in the District Court of Appeal for the second appellate district prior to the constitutional amendment of November, 1928, originated in Los Angeles County, attention is invited to a consideration of the results accomplished by the Appellate Department of the Los Angeles Superior Court.

This tribunal is composed of three superior court judges, appointed thereto by the chairman of the Judicial Council. It began to function by calling its first calendar on September 10, 1929. A detailed analysis of the business disposed of by the appellate department during the first year of its operation will be found set forth in the exhibit attached to this report, marked "Appendix Los Angeles No. 3."

A total of 961 appeals was disposed of during the first year, the same resulting in 502 affirmances, 241 reversals, and 215 dismissals.

While the first annual report shows that the appellate department disposed of considerably more criminal appeals than appeals in civil cases, that condition no longer holds true. Instead, the criminal appeals now constitute only about one-third of the total.

By the close of the calendar year 1930, criminal appeals were being heard within about one week of the filing thereof, and civil appeals within approximately three weeks.

The tremendous volume of business disposed of by the appellate department during the first year of its existence, and the expedition with which the same has been dispatched, testify most convincingly to the exceptional capacity and industry of the judges comprising this tribunal. Commendable as have been the results thus attained, it must be recognized that no appellate tribunal could achieve any such accomplishments, if in its methods of work it were burdened with such restrictions as have handicapped the Supreme Court of California for the last fifty years, and the District Courts of Appeal ever since their organization.

During the first year of its operations, the appellate department wrote only 22 formal opinions and, in addition, filed 79 informal brief memorandums. Nor have the judges of the appellate department been burdened with the labor of reading voluminous briefs. On the contrary, practically all appeals are submitted upon oral argument.

No court, not even if it had twice the number of judges which comprise this appellate department, could decide the number of appeals determined by that tribunal, if it were required to write an opinion in each case. In other words, the absence of such a requirement has been the most important factor contributing to the extraordinary success of the appellate department.

That the decision of appeals without written opinions by the appellate department has met with the approval of the bar, is conceded by all who are familiar with the work of that tribunal. In no quarter has any suggestion been made, much less has any movement been undertaken, having for its purpose the burdening of the appellate department with the necessity of writing opinions in the decision of appeals.

When we reflect that this appellate department is now disposing of practically all civil appeals which, prior to 1929, were taken from the Superior Court of Los Angeles County to the District Court of Appeal for the Second Appellate District, the acceptance of this modification in appellate practice by the profession becomes quite significant. Indeed, this change furnishes a very convincing reason justifying a similar modification in the appellate practice of our Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal.

In a communication addressed to the Hon. Victor R. McLucas, presiding judge of this appellate department, the chairman of the Judicial Council, in commenting on the results accomplished by the latter tribunal, wrote, in part:

"The volume of work which the department has disposed of under your direction, with the able assistance of Judges Bishop and Shaw, has been almost phenomenal, and this has been accomplished at no expense to the quality of the work done. I have heard nothing but praise and commendation from the Bench and Bar of your own county for the very able administration of the court, as conducted by you and your associates, Judges Bishop and Shaw, and this opinion is concurred in by the judges and lawyers throughout the State."

SUPERIOR COURT OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY

Congestion of Civil Trial Calendars.

As pointed out in our second report, by the summer of 1928, civil actions in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County could be tried within approximately three months after they were at issue. At the beginning of December of that year, after placing on the trial calendar for the following January as many civil cases as it was estimated could be tried during that month, there remained unset, or on the reserve calendar 1242 civil cases, which, it was estimated, would require 986 days for the trial thereof. In April, 1929, the reserve calendar included 1008 cases, estimated to require 852 days for the trial thereof. In June of the same year, the reserve calendar numbered 1137 cases, requiring, it was estimated, 1047 days for the trial thereof.

Throughout the entire period above mentioned, these civil cases were being brought to trial within approximately three months after they had been noticed to be set.

Beginning with September, 1929, however, we find the civil trial calendars becoming congested, also the number of surplus cases already set, but which could not be tried when called, and therefore had to be carried over from day to day, growing more numerous, and likewise the accumulations of cases on the civil reserve calendar becoming heavier.

This congestion in the civil trial calendars has steadily increased since the fall of 1929, and by a year later, namely, at the beginning of September, 1930, the number of civil actions on the reserve calendar amounted to 5591. It was estimated it would require 5487 days for the trial of these cases.

Attached to this report will be found an exhibit marked "Appendix Los Angeles No. 1." This exhibit consists of a detailed analysis of the trial calendar of the Los Angeles Superior Court for the period extending from January, 1928, to December, 1930. It discloses, for each month of that period, the number of cases which were transferred to a department for purposes of immediate trial, also the number of surplus cases which when called for trial could not be reached and hence had to be continued over from day to day, also the number of departments in which no cases were tried, and hence remained idle, and also the average number of daily sessions or departments of the court. These sessions have been classified under three headings, corresponding to the kind of proceedings heard therein.

Prior to September, 1929, the sessions classified as miscellaneous included one department for the presiding judge, two probate departments, one hearing preliminary and supplementary domestic relations proceedings, one law and motion department, one civil order to show cause department, one default and show cause department, one psychopathic and short cause department, and one hearing juvenile court proceedings.

Thereafter another division, designated as the appellate department, was added to this classification. Although comprising three judges, this division has been counted as a single department, because these judges sat only in bank.

From an examination of the data set forth in this exhibit, it will be readily seen that beginning with the summer of 1929, there has been a very substantial decrease in the number of departments of that court assigned for the trial of civil cases. Whereas, during the year ending June 30, 1929, there were from 28 to 29 departments hearing such cases, this average dropped to 19 departments for the six months immediately following, and the average number of departments for the entire court was reduced from 47 to 37½.

Attention is further called to the fact that during the month of September, 1929, when the surplus cases on the daily trial calendar had reached a total of 647 in the Los Angeles division alone—more than the total for the first six months of that year—there was an average of only 14 departments trying civil cases, and that in October of the same year, when the surplus cases totaled 705 in the same division, there was an average of 16½ departments assigned for the trial of civil causes.

Again, it will be noted that during the second half of the year ending June 30, 1930, the average number of departments handling civil trials had been reduced to 21, as compared to 28½ for the corresponding period of the preceding year, and also that the court as a whole consisted of seven less departments in the later of the two periods under consideration.

Obviously, changes of the character above noted were bound to lead to an accumulation of civil cases awaiting trial, and to result in a congestion in the trial calendars, with the attendant delays in disposing of such litigation.

That a court of the size of the Los Angeles Superior Court—required, as it is, to pass upon approximately 45 per cent of the civil, criminal and domestic relations litigation, commenced in all of the superior courts of the State—is entitled to an adequate number of judges to handle the business thereof, will be conceded by all. It is equally clear that a tribunal of such importance must receive the benefit and assistance of the most efficient methods for administering the work thereof, to the end that the business of the court may be disposed of with the utmost expedition and economy.

In order, however, to obtain a correct understanding of the problem involved, we must ascertain all of the facts pertaining thereto, including a knowledge of the conditions under which the court functions. In other words, we need a comprehensive and exhaustive survey.

To aid in such an undertaking, we have submitted herewith a series of exhibits designated, respectively, Appendix Los Angeles Nos. 1, 2, and 4. The first of these has already been discussed.

The exhibit marked "Appendix Los Angeles No. 2" is a statistical tabulation, showing the volume of civil and domestic relations litigation filed in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, during each of the last seven fiscal years, the information being classified according to the nature of the proceeding. Without attempting to make an analysis of said exhibit, attention is called to a few of the conditions disclosed thereby.

The volume of civil litigation commenced last year was considerably less than that instituted five years ago. In spite of this decrease in the total, there has been a very substantial increase in the number of personal injury suits commenced during the same period. Most of this litigation has resulted from motor vehicle accidents.

The increased number of appeals taken to the superior court has already been noted in connection with another subject.

In addition, there has been a very considerable increase in the number of suits for declaratory relief, to foreclose mortgages and street liens, and to quiet title.

On the other hand, there has been a very marked reduction in the number of actions to foreclose mechanics' liens.

Likewise, within the last six years, there has been an increase in the number of domestic relations cases filed, amounting to more than 40 per cent.

The exhibit marked "Appendix—Los Angeles No. 4" contains statistical data, showing, on the one hand, the cost of maintaining and operating the Superior Court of Los Angeles County during the last decade, and likewise the income of that court during each of the last four fiscal years. While the information pertaining to the expenditures for the period extending from 1920 to 1926, inclusive, is somewhat incomplete, it is believed that the figures given are sufficient to afford a reasonable estimate of the amount of such expenditures.

As disclosed by this exhibit, the fees collected during the last four years have totaled but slightly more than the cost of maintaining the clerk's division of the court. Such receipts have been wholly inadequate to meet the major portion of the expense involved in maintaining and operating this court.

In other words, all other items, such as the salaries and expenses of judges and court assistants, and all other expenses of administration, and the cost of furniture, properties and other equipment, have been defrayed out of taxes.

The fees charged by the county clerk are substantially those which were prescribed a generation ago. Considering the great reduction which has taken place during this period in the purchasing power of the dollar and inasmuch as the great bulk of the litigation filed in the superior courts, especially in the metropolitan centers, involves more than $2,000 in each case, the tremendous excess of expenditures over receipts of the Los Angeles Superior Court naturally suggests the advisability of a substantial increase in the fees to be charged for the prosecution of civil litigation in these courts.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE TRIAL OF CRIMINAL CAUSES

As a result of the adoption in November, 1928, of the constitutional amendment permitting the waiver of a jury in a felony trial, we find that, beginning with 1929, many of these cases have been tried before the court, sitting without a jury. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, out of a total of 867 contested criminal trials, 241, or slightly more than 27 per cent, were heard without a jury. In the following year, this ratio had increased quite considerably, with the result that approximately 44 per cent of all the defendants tried waived a jury.

Perhaps the most important advantage gained by this change in procedure has been the very substantial increase in the volume of contested criminal cases tried, without adding to the number of judges hearing the same.

This improvement is best illustrated by comparing the business disposed of by the criminal departments of the Los Angeles Superior Court during the year ending June 30, 1928, with the results obtained two years later. Omitting, for the purpose of this discussion, the master calendar department of the criminal division—no contested trials are heard there—8½ departments during the first year mentioned tried a total of 1071 contested cases. The latter resulted in 646 convictions, 305 acquittals, and 120 jury disagreements. Of course, all of these trials were had before juries.

On the other hand, in the last fiscal year, 8 departments disposed of approximately an equal volume of business. The report for that year showed 357 convictions and 167 acquittals by juries, while there were 295 convictions and 181 acquittals by the court sitting without a jury.

It is likewise important to note that the number of cases in which juries are waived is steadily increasing. In the year ending June 30, 1929, during only about half of which period such waiver was permissible, approximately 27 per cent of the cases were tried before the court without a jury. In the following year, however, this proportion advanced to nearly 44 per cent. Furthermore, we have been advised that, by the close of the calendar year 1930, this percentage had risen to nearly 50 per cent.

It is also of interest to note that in the year ending June 30, 1930, out of a total of 607 defendants tried before juries, slightly over 27 per cent were acquitted, about 57 per cent were convicted, while the jury failed to agree as to the remainder. During the same year, of those tried before the court sitting without a jury 38 per cent were acquitted and 62 per cent convicted.

When we recall that many of those opposing the adoption of this constitutional amendment charged that the measure was a scheme to trap unwary defendants and entice them to waive a jury trial, in order that they might be railroaded to jail, and remembering also how these opponents ridiculed the proposed change, insisting that, even if adopted, it would prove useless because practically all defendants would insist upon a jury trial, the results above described become quite significant.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

As heretofore pointed out, up to the close of the last fiscal year there were but two municipal courts in this State, both being established in Los Angeles County, one in the city of Los Angeles and the other in the city of Long Beach.

In our second report, the statistical information pertaining to these courts was compiled on the basis of the calendar year, and covered the years 1926 to 1928, inclusive. In order to bring about uniformity in the compilation of judicial statistics, we have adopted the fiscal year as the unit for tabulating the statistics furnished in connection with the present report.

The exhibit attached to this report, marked "Appendix J," describes, in statistical form, the civil litigation handled by these two courts during each of the last two fiscal years. The statistics pertaining to the ordinary civil actions are shown separately from those relating to small claims.

The statistics with respect to the first class of proceedings show the number filed involving $300, or less, also the number involving between $300 and $1,000, and, likewise, the number involving over $1,000. The information as to the manner in which the litigation was disposed of has likewise been classified so as to indicate the number transferred to other jurisdictions, the dismissals without prosecution, the judgments by default, the uncontested judgments by the court after a hearing, the contested judgments, the verdicts, the new trials granted and the net total disposed of, and, in addition, the jury disagreements and the appeals taken. Somewhat less detailed statistics are furnished with respect to small claims. In addition, this exhibit discloses the continuances, the number of cases taken off the calendar and the number of demurrers, motions, supplementary proceedings and orders to show cause heard.

On comparing the data set forth in this exhibit with corresponding information contained in "Exhibit J" of our second report, it will be found that no appreciable change took place in the volume of ordinary civil litigation commenced in either of these courts during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, as compared with the calendar year 1928. There was, however, a slight increase in the number of small claims filed.

However, in the year ending June 30, 1930, there were 48,195 civil actions commenced in the Municipal Court of Los Angeles, as against 39,064 during the preceding year, an increase of more than 9100 suits.

It is significant that, during the first year in which the civil jurisdiction of municipal courts had been enlarged so as to include suits, involving over $1,000, the number of such actions filed in the two municipal courts located in Los Angeles County almost equalled the decrease in the number of civil cases instituted in the superior court of that county in the same year.

Each of these municipal courts disposed of substantially more civil litigation in the last fiscal year than in the preceding year, such increase representing approximately 15 per cent.

The municipal court of Los Angeles, with 26 judges, tried 5169 contested civil actions, last year, whereas the court at Long Beach, with five judges, heard 364 contested civil trials, the difference being in the ratio of 14 to 1.

With respect to the condition of its civil trial calendar, the Los Angeles municipal court reported as follows:

On December 1, 1928, cases were being set about two months in advance of the calendar. Approximately 2500 cases were on the trial calendar at that time.

On July 1, 1929, owing to the fact that there was an intervening court vacation of six weeks, the calendar was set about three and a half months ahead, and included about 2700 cases.

On December 1 of the same year, trials were being set nearly three and a half months ahead, and there were about 4200 cases on the calendar.

On July 1, 1930, after making allowance for the period represented by the six weeks' court vacation, we find that cases were being set about six and a half months in advance, and that the calendar included nearly 5000 cases.

On December 1 of the same year, although the number of actions on the calendar had increased to 6000, the trial of a civil suit could still be had within six months.

The business of this court is divided as follows: one division, that of the presiding judge, handles the ex parte and default proceedings; one division hears law and motion matters; another is assigned for the trial of mechanics' lien suits and of such cases as are given immediate hearing; one division hears the civil jury and unlawful detainer cases; one division sits as the small claims' court; seven divisions are assigned for the trial of civil nonjury cases; three divisions hear miscellaneous civil and criminal nonjury trials; two divisions are required for the traffic cases; one division is set apart for the female offenders and also to hear the failure to provide proceedings; four divisions try the miscellaneous nonjury misdemeanor cases, three divisions conduct the preliminary hearings in felony cases, and one division is designated to hold half-day sessions at San Pedro and at Van Nuys, respectively. In addition, all vagrancy and intoxication cases in which the defendant is arrested after regular court hours, are assigned to a division designated as the night court. Very nearly all of such proceedings are disposed of by pleas of "guilty" at the time of arraignment.

The reports received as to the civil trial calendar of the Long Beach court show the following conditions:

On July 1, 1929, civil suits were being brought to trial within 45 days after filing of notice to set. The complete calendar at that time consisted of 317 civil suits, 1079 criminal proceedings and 288 small claims actions.

On July 1, 1930, trials in civil actions could be had within 45 days of setting. The calendar then included 303 civil, 1808 criminal and 317 small claims proceedings.

On December 1, 1930, civil trials were being reached within 35 days after setting, and the calendar included 216 civil, 1220 criminal and 148 small claims actions.

The statistical information dealing with the criminal proceedings in the municipal courts will be found set forth in the exhibit marked "Appendix K," combined with similar data relating to the police courts and the recorder's or city courts of the larger cities. In this connection, it is gratifying to report that a considerably greater number of police courts are now furnishing data to the Judicial Council than were reporting two years ago.

In this exhibit, while we have divided the criminal business of these courts into four classifications, preliminary hearings, traffic, liquor and other misdemeanors, similar to the plan adopted in the corresponding exhibit of our Second Report, we are now furnishing considerably more detailed information respecting the manner or proceedings by which the criminal cases are being disposed of.

Under the heading of preliminary hearings, in addition to the data supplied in our Second Report, we are differentiating between the cases dismissed without prosecution and those transferred to other jurisdictions, and we are also showing the bail forfeitures and the number dismissed or discharged after hearing.

With respect to the other three classes of offenses, the additional information now furnished includes the dismissals without prosecution, as distinguished from the cases transferred to other jurisdictions; also the bail forfeitures, new trials granted, jury disagreements, the probations granted or denied, the number sentenced to jail or to pay a fine, or otherwise sentenced, and the appeals taken.

The Municipal Court of Los Angeles reported a very marked increase in the number of defendants brought before the court on preliminary hearings during the last fiscal year, the same representing an increase of more than 50 per cent over the preceding year.

Likewise, while for the same period this court reported an increase of about 4 per cent in the number of defendants accused of all other misdemeanors, there was a reduction amounting to approximately 13 per cent with respect to those accused on liquor charges.

Both municipal courts disposed of a considerably larger volume of criminal business in the last fiscal year as compared with the preceding year. In the Los Angeles court, this increase was reflected in the preliminary hearings and the traffic cases, while there was a reduction in the number of those accused on liquor charges and other misdemeanors. Long Beach reported an increase with respect to preliminary hearings and traffic cases, and miscellaneous misdemeanor charges, but a decrease in the number of liquor offenses.

OTHER INFERIOR COURTS

The justices' courts, together with the police and recorder's, or city, courts constitute the so-called inferior courts of the state. The first mentioned tribunals far outnumber both of the others combined.

The exhibit attached to this report, marked "Appendix L," furnishes, with respect to the justices' courts, statistical data pertaining to the civil actions and small claims cases handled in those tribunals, and corresponds to "Appendix J," which pertains to the municipal courts.

Likewise, we have set forth in the exhibit marked "Appendix M-1" the data covering the criminal proceedings handled in the justices' courts, the information presented being analogous to that reported for the municipal, police and recorder's or city courts.

A comparison of these documents with the corresponding exhibits contained in our Second Report will disclose, not only that the information incorporated in the former is set forth with much greater detail, but also that a much larger number of justices' courts are now furnishing reports in the Judicial Council than two years ago.

Between August 15, 1929, when the legislation increasing the jurisdiction of justices' courts in the larger centers became effective, and the close of the last fiscal year, 6079 suits, involving more than $300, were filed in those courts. Of this number, 2882 cases were filed in San Francisco, 1139 in Oakland, 526 in San Diego, 235 in San Jose, 206 in Pasadena, 149 in Fresno, 140 in Stockton, 134 in Bakersfield, 130 in Glendale, 121 in San Bernardino, 117 in Santa Ana, while the remainder were filed among some half a dozen other inferior courts.

It is also of interest to note that in the same year the combined total of civil actions, involving over $300, commenced in the municipal courts of Los Angeles and Long Beach and in the justices' courts of Los Angeles county, amounted to 15,474 cases, and numerically exceeded 65 per cent of the volume of civil litigation filed in the superior court of that county.

While it must be conceded that the civil actions instituted in the municipal and justices' courts ordinarily can be tried in considerably less time than is required for a corresponding number of such cases in the superior court, nevertheless these statistics demonstrate that the enactment of legislation enlarging the jurisdiction of the first two named tribunals has substantially relieved the principal trial courts.

The increased jurisdiction given to the justices' courts in the cities, etc. having a population of 30,000, or more, the provisions making the practice and the procedure therein very largely conform to that prevailing in the superior court, the further provisions restricting the appeals from the first named courts to questions of law only, the requirement that the judges of such tribunals shall possess the qualification of being admitted to practice law, these, and other considerations have given to the so-called inferior courts a status far more important than they formerly occupied.

Three generations ago, when California was admitted into the Union, there were but comparatively few lawyers in the state. Then only laymen served as justices of the peace, and it was assumed that they possessed no learning in the law. Anyone dissatisfied with the judgment rendered by a justice of the peace was granted a new trial, as a matter of course, by merely appealing to the principal trial court, where a new hearing could be had before one qualified to practice law. The organization and administration of the justices' courts of those days, and the practice and procedure therein, truly reflected the conditions of the times. Today, however, with our tremendous growth in population and wealth, with a bar composed of more than ten thousand members, and in consequence of the extraordinary changes which have taken place in commerce and industry and in the general life of the state, these so-called inferior courts have acquired a far more important status. It is not only timely, therefore, but indeed essential, that we carefully consider what changes should be made in the organization and administration of our trial courts.

Realizing that the item of expense may be one of the factors to be considered in connection with the study of this problem, we have secured from the County Auditors of each of the 58 counties information as to the amount of the salaries and all other moneys expended to maintain and operate the justices' courts, respectively therein, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930. This information, together with data showing the number of justices of the peace and the number of townships in each county, will be found compiled in the exhibit attached to this report, marked "Appendix M-2."

CONDITION OF JUDICIAL BUSINESS IN THE APPELLATE TRIBUNALS

The matters discussed under this heading have reference to the Supreme Court and the District Courts of Appeal. The information compiled in connection with the survey of these tribunals is herewith presented in a series of exhibits, marked, respectively, "Appendix N" to "Appendix S," inclusive.

Appendix "N" consists of a summary and also of a detailed statement, showing the number of cases which had not reached the respective calendars of these appellate courts on June 30, 1930. This document also includes corresponding data pertaining to calendars of these courts as of date December, 1928, and June, 1929, respectively.

Appendix "O" is a summary showing the number of appeals and original proceedings filed in our appellate tribunals during the last two fiscal years.

Appendix "P" furnishes the detailed information with respect to such appeals and proceedings as were filed in the Supreme Court.

Appendix "Q" sets forth corresponding data with respect to the District Courts of Appeal.

Appendix "R" provides a detailed statement of the business disposed of by the Supreme Court during the period under consideration.

Appendix "S" furnishes corresponding information with respect to the District Courts of Appeal.

It should be noted, however, that while in our preceding report the calendar year was used as the unit period for compiling the statistics, in the present report the fiscal year has been adopted as such unit. Upon comparing the statistical data contained in "Appendix O" of the present report with corresponding data set forth in our last report, it will be found that within the last eleven years, that is to say, from 1919 to 1930, the number of cases taken annually to our appellate courts advanced from 1226 during the first year of this period to 2839 during the last year, an increase of approximately 130 per cent.

Furthermore, the last fiscal year of the period under consideration showed an increase of 729 cases, or more than 33½ per cent over the preceding year.

In our Second Report (page 28) we asserted that "the recent adoption of Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12 having eliminated the financial limit of $2,000 on the appellate jurisdiction of the District Courts of Appeal, it is expected that the proportion of filings in the Supreme Court will be greatly reduced, and that there will be a corresponding increase in the volume of business coming to the District Courts of Appeal." (This amendment was approved in November, 1928.)

Accordingly, it is interesting to note that the appeals and original proceedings taken to the Supreme Court dropped from 1225—the number filed during the year ending June 30, 1929, to 1080 a year later, a decrease of 145. Within the same period the appeals and original proceedings filed in the District Courts of Appeal advanced from 885 in 1929 to 1759 in the following year, an increase of 874, or nearly 100 per cent.

Doubtless, the most important problem confronting our appellate courts is the one arising by reason of the congested calendars of these tribunals.

In December, 1919, the uncalendared cases in the Supreme Court and the District Courts of Appeal, combined, totaled 1243. Within slightly more than a decade later, that is by June, 1930, this number had grown to 2242 cases, an increase of approximately 80 per cent.

In fact, within the last year and a half of the period under consideration the increase of uncalendared appeals amounted to 269 cases. When to these appeals we add the various original proceedings, motions, etc., which from time to time must be considered and determined by our appellate tribunals, it becomes apparent that the increase in the volume of business pending in these courts, which has taken place within the brief period of the last year and a half, represents very nearly the equivalent of one year's work of two district courts of appeal composed of three justices each.

In this connection, it perhaps should be noted that whereas in December, 1928, the Supreme Court was approximately one year behind with its calendars in the San Francisco and Sacramento districts, respectively, and about two years behind with its Los Angeles calendar, by June, 1930, these conditions had been substantially improved in the first two districts mentioned, whereas but little change had been affected in the southern district. This difference, however, is readily accounted for by the fact that during the last two fiscal years, the number of appeals originating in the Los Angeles district totalled very nearly twice the number originating in the other two districts combined.

With the beginning of the year 1919, the number of justices comprising the various District Courts of Appeal was increased from 9 to 15, through the creation of two additional divisions—one in the San Francisco district, and the other in the Los Angeles district. Again, in September, 1929, still another District Court of Appeal, the fourth, was established. Likewise, almost continuously since the early part of 1927, superior court judges have been assigned to act as justices pro tempore in the several District Courts of Appeal. The period covered by such assignments have been approximately the equivalent of the services of six justices.

In other words, within the space of the last eleven years, the judicial man-power of the District Courts of Appeal has been enlarged, permanently, to the extent of 100 per cent, and, also temporarily, an additional $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent, or a total of $166\frac{2}{3}$ per cent.

Describing the situation from another viewpoint, we find that within the period of slightly more than a decade, the total number of the judges comprising the Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal combined has been increased permanently from 16 to 25 judges, or approximately 55 per cent, and, if we include the temporary additions for the last four years, such increase has amounted to nearly 100 per cent.

In spite of this very substantial addition to the judicial man-power of our appellate tribunals, we have today more than 2200 appeals which have not yet reached the calendar, as against slightly more than 1200 a decade ago.

This increase alone exceeds the total number of appeals filed in 1923.

The uncalendared appeals, as of December, 1930 exceeded the combined total of the appeals filed in the two years of 1923 and 1924.

In fact, the combined appeals and original proceedings, filed in the year ending June 30, 1930, were almost double the number filed in 1924.

REVISION OF APPELLATE PRACTICE NECESSARY

Up to the present, we have endeavored to meet the increasing volume of appellate business, by resorting to the ancient expedient of adding more tribunals and multiplying the number of judges thereof.

In the face of the failure of this plan of relief—admittedly a costly one—are we justified in pursuing that experiment further?

If more courts are to be created and more judges provided, how many more shall be added?

Judging by the past, California during the next ten years not only will experience a large increase in population and an extensive development commercially and industrially, but will also be confronted with a correspondingly substantial increase in litigation.

At the present rate of growth, and assuming that the existing requirement to the effect that the grounds of the decision shall be stated in writing remains unchanged, 50 justices, or twice our present number, will not be adequate to dispose of the business of our appellate courts ten years hence.

At present, approximately 1500 written decisions are being filed yearly. Doubling the present number of justices, we may assume will result in a 100 per cent increase in the volume of written decisions.

Even if we ignore the additional expense of purchasing more law reports, which this increased number of opinions would necessitate, is it reasonable to believe that the bar would assimilate such a voluminous mass of judicial literature? How many law offices would be able to maintain a staff adequate to keep pace with such veritable judicial treadmills producing 3000 or more opinions every year?

During the past decade, approximately 10,000 opinions have been rendered by the appellate tribunals in California. Will anyone seriously contend that one-half of these opinions, or even as many as one-fourth thereof, involved the decision of any new question of constitutional law, or statutory construction, or the determination of any issue of general public interest?

Except where the decision comes within one of the classes above-mentioned, or results in a reversal or modification of the judgment of the trial court, the writing of an opinion serves no public benefit, but, on the contrary, entails the unnecessary expenditure of judicial time and service, urgently needed to dispose of the business of the appellate courts.

More important than any added expense or inconvenience to the profession, arising from any greatly increased number of written opinions which would result from a multiplication of judges, would be the heavy financial burden which such additions to the judiciary would impose upon the public. For it is the tax payers—not the litigants, much less the profession—who defray the expenses of maintaining and operating our courts.

At present, the State of California expends between $900,000 and $1,000,000, biennially, to maintain and operate our appellate tribunals.

Will the public submit to a doubling of that expense, or even a substantial increase thereof, especially if it can be demonstrated that, by a change in our methods of appellate practice, by adopting methods which are in successful operation in other jurisdictions, we can eliminate the congestion in our appellate courts without any appreciable increased cost?

PROBLEM SOLVED IN OTHER JURISDICTIONS

The experience of the highest court in the land, and the results accomplished by the appellate tribunals of the State of New York, disclose, beyond the peradventure of a doubt, that the practice under which those courts function has made it possible for a proportionately fewer number of judges than those comprising our appellate tribunals to dispose of a much greater volume of business.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

In our Second Report, we pointed out that, with the aid of certain legislation enacted by Congress on February 13, 1925, which authorized the United States Supreme Court to determine for the most part what cases it would review, and by writing but very few opinions, the highest court in the land, within a comparatively brief period, had succeeded in eliminating the congestion which for many years had seriously impeded the work of that tribunal.

The importance of the subject warrants, we feel, a repetition here of certain of the observations made in our Second Report.

During the October term of 1927, the United States Supreme Court disposed of 859 cases, writing but 160 opinions. In the following term, 825 proceedings were determined, and only 125 opinions were written. In the October term of 1929, 794 cases were disposed of, the court writing but 137 opinions.

When that tribunal adjourned early in June, 1929, all cases docketed prior to January 1st of that year, with the exception of 19, had been submitted. At the present time the court is hearing cases almost as expeditiously as counsel are able to prepare them for submission.

In a statement issued by the late Chief Justice Taft, the principle underlying the act of Congress above mentioned was thus described :

"The theory is that where there is a trial court and one appellate court, the litigants, so far as doing justice to them is concerned, should be satisfied with the decision of the appellate court, and, that that decision should be brought to the Supreme Court only when the principle to be settled by the Supreme Court will be useful to the public in settling general laws."

Discussing the advantages derived from this act, the late Chief Justice observed to the writer :

"Certainly, without such a provision as that contained in the Act of February 13, 1925, we should be blocked in our efforts to get rid of the arrears of business which would be forced upon us with the previous methods."

APPELLATE TRIBUNALS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

We are again taking the liberty of restating some of the matters discussed in our Second Report.

COURTS OF APPEAL

In the State of New York, the tribunal of last resort is designated as the Court of Appeals. It is composed of seven judges.

The appellate jurisdiction may be said to be divided between that court and the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, the latter being in the nature of an intermediate appellate tribunal.

Direct appeals from the trial courts may be taken to the Court of Appeals only in first degree murder cases and in actions involving solely a constitutional question. Following a conviction after a crime other than first degree murder, an appeal may be taken to that court only upon the allowance of a judge thereof, who must certify that a question of law is involved, which should be reviewed by the Court of Appeals.

An appeal lies as a matter of course to that court from the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, where the latter has ordered a reversal, or where an affirmance by the latter is not unanimous.

On the other hand, where there is a unanimous affirmance by the Appellate Division, permission to appeal must be obtained either from the latter, or, in case of its refusal, from the Court of Appeals.

The court holds one term annually, divided usually into six or seven sessions. These are held at no stated times, the sessions being fixed by the court as the condition of business necessitates.

That this court is well abreast of its work is illustrated by the fact that with the exception of the sessions immediately following the summer recess, when there is quite an accumulation of work, the court at each session can hear all the cases which are ready for submission.

"As to the writing of opinions," declares Chief Justice Cardozo "our practice is much affected by the fact that we have in our Appellate Divisions courts of intermediate appeal made up of judges of ability. Where we affirm in cases of no great general interest, it would be a mere waste of labor to write again. In such cases, we do not file even a brief memorandum. There is merely the entry of the decision, 'judgment affirmed.' A large part of our work is disposed of in that way."

In a communication addressed to the writer under date of March 11, 1929, Chief Justice Cardozo, discussing the work of the New York Appellate Tribunals, wrote:

"I am satisfied, however, that the omission of opinions in a considerable portion of the cases has had a good deal to do in enabling our Appellate Courts to keep abreast with their work. Opinions are perhaps less necessary in the Courts of Appeal than they are in the Appellate Division. A second opinion reiterating much that has already been said in the court of intermediate appeal is a waste of time and labor in cases where the only question is the application of a familiar rule of law.

"More important, however, than the practice as to opinions, has been the restriction of our appellate jurisdiction. When I became a member of the Court of Appeals fifteen years ago, it took on the average about two years after a case had been decided in the Appellate Division before it could be reached in regular order in our court. Now cases are reached in a few weeks. This result was brought by restricting rather narrowly the cases appealable as of right and requiring allowance of an appeal by the Appellate Division or by our court in other classes of controversies." (Italics ours)

The Court of Appeals, in 1926, decided 493 appeals and disposed of 390 motions of which latter 259 were applications for leave to appeal, and rendered opinions in only 179 cases.

During 1927, this court disposed of 564 appeals, and 511 motions, 336 of the latter being applications for leave to appeal, and wrote only 192 opinions.

In the following year, 609 appeals and 550 motions were determined by this court, including 355 applications for leave to appeal. Opinions were written in 280 cases.

During each of the last two years approximately 500 appeals and a like number of motions were decided and about 200 written opinions were rendered.

NEW YORK APPELLATE DIVISION FIRST DEPARTMENT

Reference is here made to pages 58 and 59 of our Second Report for a detailed description of the plan under which the New York Supreme Court, Appellate Division, First Department, functions. A careful study of that plan, it is believed, especially in view of the extraordinary results accomplished by that tribunal, will prove both instructive and helpful.

In the course of a communication sent to the writer in March, 1929, the Hon. V. J. Dowling, Presiding Justice, wrote in part as follows:

"Replying to your favor of the 6th, I would say that our experience here has led to a gradual decrease yearly in the number of opinions written by the Court. The experience in all the departments of the State has been like our own and the number of opinions written has been diminishing every year, apparently to the satisfaction of the Bar and the public alike.

"Our Court is made up of seven judges and our work is absolutely up to date. Appeals have been heard, since November, on the day for which they have been noticed, which is something new in the history of the Court.

"Our experience has demonstrated that the administration of justice is best served by writing opinions only in such cases as involve a reversal or modification, or the discussion of constitutional questions, or those of general public interest. The number of opinions on affirmances is decreasing each year in all the departments of this state.

"I do not think the remedy for congestion in the Courts is to be found by increasing the number of judges and thereby immeasurably adding to the burdens of taxation. Judges should be given more power and their prerogatives should be assimilated to those of England, holding them strictly accountable for any abuse of power, but leaving them free to exercise it in expediting business.

"I think a great deal can be done to clear up the congestion of calendars by enlisting the cooperation of lawyers and making them aware of the advantages to themselves and their clients through the speedy disposition of business." (Italics ours)

The Appellate Division, over which Justice Dowling presides, in 1926, decided 1462 appeals and 1427 motions, but filed written opinions in only 338 cases.

During 1927, this court disposed of 1514 appeals and 1328 motions, filing only 376 written opinions.

In 1928, 1543 appeals, and 1174 motions were decided, the court writing opinions in only 381 proceedings.

In the following year, the court determined 1548 appeals and 1254 motions, opinions being written in only 265 cases.

Last year, the same court disposed of 1717 appeals and 1667 motions. Written opinions were rendered in 414 cases.

While conducting research studies on behalf of our Judicial Council in the State of New York, both during 1928 and again in 1930, the writer interviewed many of the leaders of the bar of that state, in a special effort to ascertain the opinions of the profession respecting the appellate practice of that jurisdiction. Although criticism was expressed in a few quarters because of the comparatively small number of opinions written by the Appellate Division, even these critics conceded that, if this tribunal was to be kept abreast of its work and congestion avoided, such scarcity of written opinions was an inevitable necessity resulting from the tremendous volume of business demanding the attention of the court.

To illustrate the expedition with which appeals are disposed of in that state, we are presenting herewith certain data showing the progress of a civil action, following the trial thereof before the Supreme Court of New York County during January, 1930. The information hereinafter given was obtained by the writer from the records supplied by one of the attorneys representing the respondent; and who vouches for the statement that the appeal was disposed of in regular routine, no application being made to advance the same.

The case referred to was entitled, Morrill Realty Corporation vs. Rayon Holding Corporation. The action was one instituted to recover a deposit of $50,000, paid upon a contract for the purchase of certain real estate located in the city of New York, the balance of the purchase price exceeding $5,000,000. As a part of its defense, the defendant sought a decree compelling the plaintiff to complete the terms of the agreement.

On January 14 and 15, 1930, the cause was tried. On March 24th of the same year, judgment was entered in favor of the defendant. On April 15th of that year, plaintiff's appeal was argued before the Appellate Division, First Department. Two weeks later the latter tribunal affirmed the judgment of the trial court, but filed no opinion. May 16, 1930, application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals was submitted to the Appellate Division, and one week later the same was denied. June 2d, application was submitted to the Court of Appeals for leave to appeal, and on the following day the same was allowed. One week later, the appeal was argued before the Court of Appeals, and on July 8, 1930, the last mentioned tribunal unanimously affirmed the decision of the Appellate Division, but wrote no opinion.

Compared to conditions existing in our appellate tribunals, the progress made in prosecuting the appeal in the above-mentioned case is nothing short of extraordinary.

A California lawyer, moving to New York City, would readily discover that the appellate practice followed there, not only serves the best interests of the public, but also, instead of militating against success in the practice of the law, is most advantageous to the attorney desirous of serving the best interests of his client.

Of course the problem here under discussion is not peculiar to California. As already indicated, a solution has been reached by the United States Supreme Court, and also by the appellate tribunals of the State of New York.

The State of Washington is now confronted with a situation very similar to that existing here, although the congestion in the highest court of that commonwealth is not as serious as it is with us. For a number of years this problem has been the subject of much discussion among judges and attorneys of that state.

Prior to the annual meeting of the Washington State Bar Association, in June of 1930, a preliminary report, outlining various proposals for relieving congestion in the highest court of that state, was submitted to the various local bar associations, with a request that the subject matter be discussed among the members, and the results thereof, together with any recommendations, be sent to the committee of the State Bar Association appointed to study the problem.

At the annual meeting above mentioned, the committee presented its report, recommending three measures for relieving the congestion in the Supreme Court of Washington. These were:

(1) Legislation providing two or more court commissioners—this recommendation being made solely to give immediate and temporary relief.

(2) A constitutional amendment making it unnecessary for the judges of the Supreme Court to write opinions, except when in the judgment of that court the case is of public importance.

(3) A constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to raise the jurisdictional amount for an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Washington State Bar Association having adopted the above mentioned report, we are taking the liberty of quoting somewhat at length therefrom, particularly because the views therein expressed represent the conclusions of the profession in a neighboring commonwealth relative to a problem very similar to our own.

"The burden" said the committee above mentioned, "which is now placed upon the Supreme Court of which they are complaining and for which they need relief, does not relate to the volume of the business which comes before them on appeal, but rather to the time which is necessarily consumed by them under this constitutional provision in writing opinions. I think it is fair to say that the judges of the Supreme Court think that the requirement that an opinion be written in every case is not necessary in order to get a correct decision in every case. In other words, in some cases a correct decision may be aided by the fact that an opinion is written, but there are a large number of cases where the issue is so clear that it is merely putting an additional and unnecessary burden on the court to require the writing of an opinion. * * *

"If we are to bring our judicial system up to date and reorganize on a business basis from within, we have got to trust our judges to use a sound and wise discretion in the form which their decisions shall take. The purpose of writing opinions is largely to establish precedents for the guidance of lawyers and the public. The only thing that will be lost through a change in this constitutional provision would be the satisfaction to the lawyer for the losing litigant and any advantage he might obtain in framing his petition for rehearing.

"It is possible of course, that some case might be saved for the losing party if he could have the benefit of the judge's reasons, which would be lost without the opinion. However, in case of grave importance with complex issues, the Supreme Court would undoubtedly write an opinion, and after all, we can not assume that the briefs of counsel would not disclose his clients position on all matters before the court sufficiently to advise the court of the basis for rendering a decision.

"Even if there were some chance that in isolated cases mistakes would be made, on the whole we think the additional opportunity which the court would have for consultation would more than compensate for error which might be called to their attention by writing or publishing the opinions. * * *

"Moreover, for a number of years there has been a complaint from the public as well as from leading lawyers and publicists all over the United States, that there is 'too much law.' In this complaint very often are included figures which show the enormous increase in the number of judicial opinions, adding complexity and labor to the practice of the law and confusion to the public. Elihu Root in an address before the American Bar some years ago, pointed out that something had to be done to meet this situation. Of course the American Law Institute will ultimately give substantial relief by restating the law, but certainly a little something can be done to make the law easier to find and understand by giving the litigants and lawyers better and fewer opinions.

"This recommendation now has behind it the experience of that State in this union which has more important litigation than any other. Cases which are decided without opinion in New York undoubtedly involve amounts of money and private rights no less serious than the average before our own Supreme Court. There is nothing scientific about the present arrangement, and properly understood, the people of this State and the Legislature should be for a change which is economical and will result in giving the people a judicial system which makes the court a sound administrative body rather than an opinion-grinding machine.

"After studying the situation from every angle, it is fairly clear that the present difficulty would be overcome if we did not have the requirement that the Supreme Court write opinions in every case."

As pointed out by Chief Justice Cardoza of New York, and likewise by Presiding Justice Dowling of the Appellate Division, the State which is not only first in population and in wealth, but which is burdened with the largest volume of judicial business, has solved the problem of congestion and delay in appellate tribunals, without multiplying courts and adding judges, but, on the contrary, by adopting methods which are exceptionally economical.

At present, the seven justices of the New York Court of Appeals, plus the seven justices of the Appellate Division, First Department of that state, fourteen in all, are disposing of more proceedings annually than the 25 justices who comprise the membership of our Supreme Court and District Courts of Appeal combined, because in the first mentioned state its judges are permitted to work under the most improved methods of appellate practice, while our judges are handicapped by restrictions which greatly reduce the volume of business they can dispatch, thereby resulting in congestion in our appellate tribunals, and causing serious delay in the decision of appeals.

The extraordinary results achieved by the appellate tribunals of New York demonstrate most convincingly that the appellate practice of that state is far superior to our own, and that by adopting the same, we shall be able to eliminate the congestion in our appellate tribunals, and dispose of our appellate business expeditiously, without adding to our courts or multiplying the number of judges, or otherwise increasing our judicial expenditures.

Why should not California establish the principle—to quote the late Chief Justice Taft—“that where there is a trial court and one appellate court, the litigants, so far as doing justice to them is concerned, should be satisfied with the decision of the appellate court, and, that that decision should be brought to the Supreme Court only when the principle to be settled by the Supreme Court will be useful to the public in settling general law?”

Why should we not adopt the plan—to borrow the language of Chief Justice Cardozo, of “restricting rather narrowly the cases appealable as of right” to our court of last resort?

Why should we not recognize, as pointed out by Presiding Justice Dowling, “that the administration of justice is best served by writing opinions only in such cases as involve a reversal or modification or the discussion of constitutional questions, or those of general public interest?”

RESEARCH

The problems of judicial administration are never at an end. “We find,” says Chief Justice Cardozo, “widespread agreement that there should be established a permanent agency, continuously functioning, to consider the changes essential to the proper administration of justice, and to report its recommendations.” (Italics ours)

COOPERATION BETWEEN THE BENCH, THE BAR, THE PRESS, AND BUSINESS ORGANIZATIONS ESSENTIAL TO PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

At its annual meeting held in May, 1930, the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, in approving the report of its Committee on Law Reform, adopted resolutions, declaring the conviction of the Chamber that much of the complaint so generally heard of the faults and delays in the administration of justice was warranted, expressing its opinion that a movement should be undertaken by commercial organizations to bring about such changes as should secure a more business-like handling of civil cases in the courts, and also invited the legal associations to participate in this endeavor.

By way of introduction to the report of its Committee on Law Reform, the Executive Committee of the Chamber declared:

"There has been in recent years a great deal of complaint about the administration of justice in our courts. So much of the criticism has been directed at the conduct of civil cases that it has seemed desirable to your Executive Committee to undertake a study of the situation to determine if improvement may not be brought about to prevent delays, inequalities and the injustices which arise from the present inefficient functioning of court machinery. * * *

"The subject of law reform is of such scope and importance that a sub-committee on law reform was appointed to carry the investigation further, and to suggest whatever action seemed desirable. The report of the sub-committee covers a broad field in which changes must be made if business-like administration of justice is to be secured in civil cases, which alone are the subject of the present study."

The fact that so representative and influential a group of business men as the New York State Chamber of Commerce has undertaken to investigate the conditions existing in the trial courts, and, what is perhaps more important, has assumed the responsibility of aiding in determining what remedies are necessary to bring about improvement, is most significant. Indeed, the report of the Chamber's Committee on Law Reform, while expressing the views of business men, nevertheless presents such a comprehensive and forceful analysis of many of the problems in practice and procedure confronting our own State, that we shall find it helpful to give careful study to the recommendations made by that organization. Accordingly, the writer has taken the liberty of quoting somewhat at length from that report.

"The administration of justice in our courts," declared the Committee on Law Reform, "has long been a subject of criticism. We believe that it is time for business associations and other organizations of laymen to awaken to and assume their own responsibility in this matter.

"It is the custom to lay the blame for defects in the law and for the law's delays upon the courts and lawyers. They operate the system, they know its backgrounds and its needs, they have the opportunity to observe its failures and its weaknesses, and it should be their place to suggest remedies. This obligation they have not discharged satisfactorily. The technicalities, the delays and the cost of litigation remain unchanged. Such reforms as have been made appear to have effected comparatively little.

"But there has been too little appreciation of the laymen's responsibility for this. The law exists for his benefit. If he wants it changed, it is his right and duty to see that the changes are made. Doubtless the bench and the bar as a whole have failed to take the initiative in and have even opposed reform. Eminent members of the profession have advocated remedies and proposed specific rules and statutes to accomplish them. But acting alone, they have been unable to effectuate these reforms. * * *

"Whatever defects may exist in the law generally, they are of minor importance compared to those which contribute to the unconscionable delay and expense and technicality of legal procedure. * * *

COST OF THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM

"In addition to the State's expenditures there are the direct cost to the litigant in attorney's fees and other cash disbursements, and the greater indirect cost in the interruption of the litigant's business and that of his witnesses. No figures are available to show these costs. It is evident that the expense of litigation under our present system is wholly out of proportion to the results attained, and is unprofitable to the State, to the lawyer and to the litigant. Such a situation is intolerable if it results from inefficiency and out-worn procedural methods.

Number of cases.

"Four years ago approximately 30,000 cases were pending on the calendar of the Supreme Court in New York County alone and trial could not be had in less than two years after the case was commenced. Conditions have been materially improved through the efforts of a Special Calendar Committee appointed by the Appellate Division of the First Judicial Department. The number of cases has been reduced by more than half, the time within which trial is reached cut down to a little over a year, and the number of new cases begun each year has been substantially reduced. The comparative progress is most gratifying. But a system under which such a situation could arise is fundamentally unsound. * * *

Calendar Practice.

"In December, the Executive Committee of the Chamber directed a study of litigation in the Supreme Court in this county. The Chamber had the assistance of the Committee on Law Reform of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York in supervising this study, which was particularly fruitful in its analysis of trial calendar practice. * * *

"To hold a large number of people in readiness for trial, sometimes for weeks, and to require them to attend in court awaiting the actual trial, sometimes for several days, is a burden the seriousness of which the courts may not realize. This system may make it easier for the judges, but we suggest that emphasis should be laid upon the convenience of the litigants and the witnesses and not on that of the judges. The problem is one of efficient business organization which is attainable if the will to attain it is present. * * *

1. Calendar Practice.

"As a lay organization we hesitate to recommend reforms in legal procedure, but the calendar study made for the Chamber enables us to suggest the following changes in calendar practice in counties within the City of New York:

(a) The reduction of the number of cases called each day to the minimum shown by experiment to be necessary to keep the trial parts continuously occupied. * * *

(d) * * * We suggest a study to determine whether some system can not be devised by which attorneys will be required to be ready for trial when the case first appears upon the calendar.

2. Simplification of Issues and Proof.

"We believe that the present system of practice in New York fails to restrict the trial of the case to the real dispute between the parties. Whatever the theory may be, defendants are permitted to deny facts and transactions about which there can be no real dispute; plaintiffs are required to prove these facts and transactions under technical rules of evidence; and this results in unnecessary confusion, loss of time and frequently in an actual perversion of justice. We urge reforms which will confine the trial to the actual disputed facts between the parties.

(a) We think that this might be accomplished by requiring the parties or their attorneys to appear in court before the trial and to state the substance of their respective cases so that the real issues might be determined and the false issues eliminated. Proof at the trial should be directed solely to the real issues, and should be simplified in the light of the preliminary hearing.

(b) We condemn as absolutely unsound the present theory that each party is entitled to conceal his evidence and his legal theory until the time of trial. We believe that each party should be required to disclose his case to his opponent in reasonable detail. We do not believe that such a system would result in a substantial increase of fraud and perjury. It would, however, prevent one party from surprising his opponent at the trial, with the possibility of a resultant miscarriage of justice.

3. Summary Judgment.

*"Where it can be made clear at the outset that a plaintiff can not hope to prove his claim, or that a defendant can not hope to establish a defense, we think judgment should be rendered immediately. * *  Where a prima facie case or defense can not be shown by affidavits, judgment should be granted at once. * * *

"If the affidavits show that the only real dispute between the parties is over the amount of damages or some similar limited issue, then we suggest that there ought to be an immediate summary trial of this issue.

*"If there are certain types of litigation, such as negligence cases, which experience discloses could seldom be settled under this system, they might be excluded from its operation. On the other hand, it should not be limited, as at present, to actions on contracts and on judgments. * * **

6. Professional Standards.

"We condemn the standards of the legal profession which tolerate dilatory and technical practices tending to conceal the merits of the case and the use of legal procedure for the purpose of embarrassing opponents, forcing settlements, and delaying or denying justice. If these practices are not condemned by the ethics of the bar, they ought to be; if they are, then the standards of ethics ought to be enforced. It is common knowledge that unfair advantage is taken of the various proceedings made possible by law, in order to delay litigation and otherwise to impose obstacles in the path of opponents, in the hope that a settlement may be forced or other advantages secured having no relation to the merits of the dispute.

7. Simplification of Practice.

*"We condemn the view that statutes and rules of procedure should ever be observed for their own sake. Procedure ought to be merely a means for the convenient attainment of a just result. Observance of procedural requirements should never be regarded as of importance in itself. The formalism of the present system is, in our opinion, one of the major contributing causes to dissatisfaction with the law. * * **

THE CLEVELAND PLAN GOVERNING THE MANAGEMENT OF TRIAL COURTS

"The system of assignment of cases for trial, which exists in Cleveland, Ohio," says an article appearing in the November, 1930, issue of the American Bar Journal, "is held up as the most efficient in the country, and as a model for imitation, in a report made by the Committee on Rules of Court, relating to calendars, to Judges Francis G.

Caffey and Alfred C. Coxé, of the United States District Court for the southern district of New York.”

The United States District Court for the southern district of New York consists of eight judges. In its report recommending to that court the adoption of the so-called Cleveland system, in a somewhat modified form, the New York Committee declared:

“We believe it is possible for this court to install a system of assignment of cases for trial, which will accomplish the following results:

1. Increase the efficiency of the court by relieving the judges of calendar work and abolishing all calendar calls.

2. Reduce the work required of lawyers to bring cases to trial.

3. Decrease substantially the expense of trying cases.

4. Enable the bar at any hour of the business day to obtain authentic, up-to-the-minute information as to progress of cases on trial, from the courts' officers by telephone.

5. Convenience to the public by eliminating the necessity of litigants and witnesses attending court, except when the case in which they are involved is actually called for trial.”

The New York Committee has informed us that its recommendations have been approved, that rules are being formulated for the adoption of the new system, and that it is expected the same will soon be in operation.

In the Second Report of the Judicial Council of California, we presented, in considerable detail, a description of the plan under which the principal trial court in Cleveland is governed. (See pages 33, et. seq.)

As pointed out in our report, and likewise recognized by the New York Committee, the important factors in the Cleveland system include:

1. A studied policy on the part of the court on calendar questions, through the rulings of a Chief Justice, who is independent of his fellow judges, and who is given sufficient power to make his control effective. Hon. Homer G. Powell has served as Chief Justice of this court continuously since 1923.

2. An honest and efficient Assignment Commissioner, aided by a staff of clerks, all of whom are subject to the supervision and direction of the Chief Justice.

3. A consistent policy on the part of all trial judges not to allow continuances after cases are set down for trial, except under extraordinary circumstances, or else rules which refer all applications to postpone a trial after the case reaches a trial courtroom to the Chief Justice.

4. A spirit of service to the bar and to the public in the Assignment Commissioner's office.

Profiting by Cleveland's experience, the Circuit Court of Wayne County, the principal trial court in Detroit, Michigan, in the fall of 1929, adopted the so-called Cleveland plan for the government of that court. Although in the last mentioned tribunal, the practice continues of having the judges rotate each month serving as Presiding Judge, the latter official has nothing whatever to do with directing the management and operation of the court. Instead, complete supervision and control is entrusted to another judge, designated as the Executive Judge, and chosen by his colleagues for that purpose. There is no such thing as rotation with respect to service in the latter position.

The Hon. Ira W. Jayne was the first judge selected to fill that office, and is still serving in that capacity.

As the result of the establishment of the new system, the Circuit Court of Wayne County, by June 1, 1930, had succeeded in reducing the time within which chancery cases could be brought to trial by more than 10 months, and the period within which law cases might be tried, by more than four months. Interviews which the writer had with various members of the bench and bar of Detroit disclosed that the new plan was meeting with general satisfaction and approval.

It is also of interest to note that a committee appointed to study the subject, has recommended to the principal trial court of St. Louis the adoption of the Cleveland plan. According to advices reaching us, steps are being taken to work out the necessary rules and other details, in order that this plan may be put in operation shortly.

The New York Times, commenting editorially on the success achieved by the Cleveland court, declared:

"The appearance of the sixth annual report of the Common Pleas Court of Cuyahoga County, sitting in Cleveland, permits us to refer, once more, to the happy results achieved by giving this tribunal an executive head, with actual administrative power. * * * In the first year of its operation, the number of cases tried increased by 66 per cent, and the average cost of each trial sank from some $38 to some $23.

"Increased speed of criminal justice has been especially noteworthy. * * * On the civil side time has also been saved, without any disposition to hurry. An Assignment Commissioner follows every case on trial, and every engagement of trial lawyers. The latter can't ask for a postponement on the ground of business in some other court. On the other hand, they and their clients and their witnesses don't have to cool their heels in court. As soon as one trial is off, another is on. The judges have to work full time. * * * The gain is that everything goes like clock work. The avoidable interims have been wiped out by vigilant forethought and superintendence."

The experience of the jurisdictions above mentioned should convince us in California of the wisdom and the advisability of adopting in this state the so-called Cleveland plan, at least in our three largest trial courts, namely: at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland.

IMPROVED METHODS OF PROBATE PRACTICE

In our Second Report, we called attention to the exceptionally efficient methods governing the probate practice in the Surrogate's Court of New York County (see pages 38 and 39.) The same practice prevails in other counties of that state. In its essential features, virtually the same practice is followed in the probate courts at Chicago, Cleveland and Boston, and also at Toronto, Canada.

As pointed out in our report, the excellent results accomplished in these courts have been attained by entrusting to competent clerks and assistants the disposition of uncontested probate proceedings, thereby enabling the judges to devote all of their time in court to the decision of controverted matters—the true function of a judge.

This difference in practice enables the single probate judge at Cook County, Illinois, to dispose of a considerably larger volume of contested proceedings than the two judges sitting in the probate departments of the Los Angeles Superior Court. During the year ending June 30, 1930, the last mentioned court reported that it had disposed of 605 contested intermediate probate proceedings, also 8 jury trials and 78 contested matters involving wills and final decrees. All of these jury trials, and likewise a considerable number of the contested proceedings, were heard in departments other than the two regular probate divisions. In other words, more than two judges were required for the determination of the probate business of Los Angeles County during that year.

In the calendar year of 1929, the single probate judge of Cook County disposed of 2329 contested proceedings, in addition to 48 jury trials, as well as a large number of uncontested matters.

Section 2009 of our Code of Civil Procedure provides, in part, that "an affidavit may be used * * * as evidence in an uncontested probate proceeding, including a proceeding relating to the administration of the estate of a decedent; also a proceeding relating to the administration of the estate of a minor or incompetent person after a guardian has been appointed therein. * * *

Pursuant to the authority given by section 258 of the same code, the Los Angeles Superior Court has appointed six commissioners.

Section 259a of the same code empowers such commissioner, when ordered by the court so to do: "to hear, report on, and determine all uncontested actions and proceedings, other than actions for divorce, maintenance or annulment of marriage."

Under our existing laws, therefore, all uncontested proceedings relating to the administration of the estates of decedents, as well as of minors and incompetents, may be heard and passed upon by Court Commissioners, and, in addition, all such proceedings, save the admission of wills to probate and the appointment of guardians, may be presented upon affidavits alone.

The restatement of the probate law, as recommended recently by the California Code Commission, will, if adopted, permit uncontested proceedings for the admission of wills to probate to be disposed of upon affidavits.

Thus it will be seen that it is now legally possible to apply in this state most of the essential features of the New York probate practice, and that in Los Angeles County, by providing the necessary clerical assistance, the judges will be enabled to refer all uncontested matters to Court Commissioners, and thus devote all of their time to the hearing of contested proceedings.

Furnishing such additional clerical help should not materially enhance the cost of operating the court. By deputizing the courtroom clerks in the civil departments to serve as bailiffs—a practice successfully followed in the Municipal Courts—a considerable number of bailiffs will thereby become available to perform the clerical duties above mentioned. At the present time there are approximately thirty departments hearing matters other than criminal proceedings, and in most of these the bailiffs could be obtained for this work. Any extra compensation which might become necessary to pay to the bailiffs rendering this clerical service would be more than offset by the greatly increased volume of contested litigation which the judges would be enabled to dispose of as the result of such change. Indeed, the adoption of the New York probate practice in this state would mean that in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, not more than one judge would be required for the determination of probate matters.

IMPROVED PROCEDURE IN DOMESTIC RELATIONS CASES

In our Second Report, we presented a somewhat detailed description of the exceptionally efficient system under which the Circuit Court of Wayne County, sitting in Detroit, Michigan, disposes of preliminary proceedings—such as applications for alimony pendente lite, custody of children, etc.—and also supplementary proceedings—such as citations for contempt—in domestic relations cases. (See pages 50 and 51.)

As pointed out in that report, under the Detroit plan all of such proceedings, as soon as they are filed, are referred to a court assistant and his staff of deputies. Through this method, a disinterested court official makes a thorough investigation as to the merits of the application and furnishes the court with a report thereon, together with his recommendation. The court rules require that any objection to such recommendation must be made known at least one day before the hearing. Experience has demonstrated that because these investigations are thorough and are made by disinterested court officers, the recommendations of the court assistant are accepted by both sides in nearly 90 per cent of the cases, thereby dispensing with any hearing thereon in court. Where objection is interposed, the court first hears the investigator's report—which is brief and to the point—and then restricts the objecting party to the only points at issue.

Under this plan, not only is a large amount of the court's time saved, but there is also much less difficulty experienced in securing compliance with the court's orders. All moneys required to be paid are collected and disbursed through the office of the court assistant, with the result that a great deal more money is collected for dependent wives and children than under former conditions. As a consequence, the number of delinquents haled into court is less than otherwise would be the case, and furthermore many of the parties are saved the expense of employing an attorney in contempt proceedings.

The advantages of the Detroit system can best be illustrated by calling attention to the fact that two departments of the court there, on each Saturday forenoon, dispose of a volume of business approximately equal to that which occupies five days of the time of one of the departments in the Los Angeles Superior Court.

Recognizing the advantages of the Detroit system, the Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County, sitting in Cleveland, Ohio, inaugurated a similar plan in the fall of 1929. The adoption of the new system has made it possible for a single judge in the Cleveland court to try all of the domestic relations cases, both contested, as well as defaults, and, in addition, to dispose of all of the preliminary and all of the supplementary proceedings connected with this class of litigation. Between January 1 and June 30, 1930, according to a report furnished to us, one judge of that court heard and decided approximately 3000 domestic relations cases—a great majority of which, of course, were not contested—and, in addition, disposed of about 1100 applications for alimony, custody of children, contempt citations, etc.,

With the aid of a Court Commissioner and other assistants of the kind furnished in the two courts above mentioned, the Detroit plan could be established in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, thereby resulting in substantial benefits and advantages commensurate to those gained in the Detroit and Cleveland courts.

"POOLING" TRIAL JURORS

In the Supreme Court of New York County, up to the summer of 1929, it had been the practice for each of twenty departments, twice every month, to summon a separate list of prospective trial jurors and to select a panel therefrom. Late in the summer of that year this practice was abolished. In its place, there was established what is there referred to as the system of "pooling" trial jurors.

Under the revised plan, several hundred prospective jurors assemble on the first and third Monday of each month, in a large room provided for that purpose in the courthouse. On these occasions, one judge devotes approximately an hour, passing upon requests to be excused from jury service. Those selected to constitute the general panel, remain in attendance in this assembly room. As a jury is required, the parties, with their respective counsel, accompanied by an officer of the court, report to the clerk in charge of the assembly room. In the presence of these parties, eighteen names are drawn from a large jury wheel. These eighteen together with the parties and their respective counsel and also the accompanying officer, next proceed to an adjoining miniature courtroom—of which there are quite a number—and thereupon the attorneys proceed to impanel a jury. The names of the eighteen jurors having been placed in another jury wheel, twelve names are drawn therefrom and opposing counsel thereupon impanel a jury after a manner followed in most courts. Should counsel be unable to adjust any disputed point—which is exceedingly rare—the jurors, litigants and counsel proceed to the courtroom, where the impanelment is completed. Ordinarily, the jury is impaneled without consuming one moment of the judge's time. In other words, while one trial is being completed, the jury in the next case is being selected outside of the courtroom, and when the case on trial is completed, the parties are immediately ready to proceed with the introduction of evidence in the next case.

That the new system has resulted in a substantial saving of both time and money will be readily seen from an examination of the following statistics, which were furnished to the writer by Mr. J. F. McLoughlin, Chief Jury Clerk of the Supreme Court of New York county:

Saving in 1930, over 1928, in fees paid to jurors, $94,366.

Number of juries selected in impaneling room—(no judge) 892.

Time taken in impaneling juries selected in impaneling room 416 hours.

Number of challenges for cause (passed upon by court) 16.

It will be seen from the foregoing statistics that while 892 juries were selected in the impaneling room, without a judge being present, it was necessary only in 16 cases to appear before the judge for whom the jury was being impaneled, to pass upon questions of law arising in connection with the selection of juries. As pointed out by Mr. McLaughlin, the saving of time—416 hours—represents 83 court days in which a judge is actually trying cases, and is not bothered with the selection of juries.

IMPROVED METHODS OF HANDLING INSANITY PROCEEDINGS

In the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, which passes upon approximately one-half of all insanity proceedings disposed of in this state, the practice governing such cases is substantially as follows:

As soon as possible after being taken into custody, the alleged insane person is placed in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital where he is kept under observation until the next session of the Superior court. Two days of each week are set aside for these sessions. At the hearing the judge has the assistance of two medical experts. After the hospital attendants who have had the patient under observation and the relatives or any other persons who may have any knowledge of the patient's condition have testified, the judge hears the opinions and recommendations of the two medical experts, and thereupon makes his adjudication.

Considering the highly technical nature of the issue involved, the fact that the problem is primarily a medical one, and when we also reflect that these medical experts are in the first instance selected by the judge, it is but natural that the latter should almost invariably accept the opinions of these experts and accordingly follow their recommendations.

The peculiar part of our procedure, however, is that after the patient has been committed to a state hospital, the medical experts there proceed again to examine the patient to determine his sanity.

To quote Dr. G. M. Webster, Medical Superintendent of the Patton State Hospital, "The question of parole or discharge is handled before the whole staff after a study of the case and review of the history. It is within the power of the superintendent to discharge anyone who is not insane upon his arrival at the institution."

In another portion of his letter, Dr. Webster further states, "The law empowers the superintendent to take what ever steps he may deem advisable or necessary, leaving the matter entirely to him with the insane cases; but in the drug cases and alcoholics, who are committed for a period of time, their discharge is regulated by law and can be consummated only with the consent of the Director of the Department of Institutions."

Thus it becomes evident that the customary hearing before our courts in cases of this character, although nominally a judicial proceeding, is for all practical purposes hardly more than a preliminary medical inquiry—a proceeding wherein the so called legal adjudication becomes little more than an advisory opinion, to be accepted or rejected according as the medical experts of the state hospitals may decide.

Recognizing that cases of this nature present primarily medical problems rather than judicial controversies, the state of New York many years ago adopted a practice with respect to the same, whereby the judge is relieved from attending the examination of the alleged insane person unless the latter or some one on his behalf demands a court hearing. The procedure governing such cases in that state is substantially as follows:

A petition containing a statement of the reason why the patient should be committed must be filed by any one of several designated persons. The patient must then be examined by two physicians who are registered with the State Hospital Commission as examiners in lunacy. The two physicians must make a joint examination, and thereupon fill out a certificate of lunacy consisting of two parts, (a) History obtained by the physicians, and (b) Examination by the physicians. Blanks for this purpose are furnished by the State Hospital Commission. The certificate is so drawn as to provide in sufficient detail a statement of the facts and symptoms upon which the diagnosis of insanity is based.

The petition and certificate must be presented to a judge of a court of record, and the order of commitment signed by him, in chambers, within ten days from the date of the certificate. Notice of the proceeding is served upon the patient at least one day before the order of commitment, and must also be served upon the next of kin in the event the latter has not signed the petition. If no demand for a hearing is made by the patient or by anyone in his behalf, the judge may issue the order of commitment, or he may upon his own motion order a hearing to be had. If the person to be committed or any one in his behalf is dissatisfied with the order of the judge, he may within thirty days after the making of such order obtain a rehearing of the proceedings upon petition to a justice of the supreme court, who must thereupon give the alleged insane person a jury trial.

In New York, just as in California, experience shows it to be very rare indeed that anyone seeks to review the findings of the medical experts. Under the New York practice, however, the proceeding ordinarily becomes merely a chamber application, so far as the judge is concerned, and consumes comparatively little of his time. The net result of the New York procedure is, that business which, in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county occupies two days of the court's time, is disposed of there within a period of minutes.

If in California the application for the order of commitment were a chamber proceeding, we not only would save a great deal of time for the courts in the busy centers, but we would also find this practice exceedingly beneficial in the less populous sections. At present one of the objections to the absence of superior court judges from the smaller counties is the claim that an insanity proceeding may be filed at any time, thereby necessitating an early court hearing. On the other hand, if our practice were similar to that in New York, the commitment papers could be presented to a judge in an adjoining county, or could even be forwarded to the absent judge wherever he might be holding court.

It is therefore suggested, in view of the advantages of the New York practice, that we consider the advisability of recommending a change in our procedure with respect to insanity cases.

LEGISLATION

At the 1929 session of the Legislature, the Judicial Council advocated the enactment of 50 measures designed to expedite and improve the administration of justice in this state. Thirty-six of these bills were enacted, six however in a drastically amended, if not emasculated, form. Several important measures were rejected altogether.

The Judicial Council, being desirous of securing the reaction of the State Bar relative to the measures which had either been rejected or drastically amended, instructed the writer to prepare a synopsis of each of these bills, for publication in the State Bar Journal. Thereafter these synopses were published in installments in the September, October and December, 1929, issues of the State Bar Journal. The Board of Governors of the State Bar at its August, 1929, meeting, assured the Judicial Council of the hearty cooperation of the State Bar through its Sections in promoting the study of these measures. In each of the articles above mentioned the Judicial Council requested the advice and assistance of the State Bar respecting the proposed changes.

To the end that the work of the Judicial Council and the State Bar, looking to the improvement of the administration of justice through modern procedural methods, might be coordinated, and in order that the profession might be kept advised of procedural changes contemplated, Chas. A. Beardsley, Esq., then President of the State Bar, at the suggestion of the Chairman of the Judicial Council, late in the year 1929 appointed a committee to cooperate with the Council in its consideration of problems affecting the courts, and the practice therein. This committee, which has become known as the Judicial Council Committee of the State Bar, is composed of Hon. Guy R. Crump, formerly Judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County and Past President of the Los Angeles Bar Association, Hon. Everett J. Brown, formerly Judge of the Superior Court of Alameda County, Maurice E. Harrison, Esq., Past President of the San Francisco Bar Association, Grant Holcomb, Esq., of the San Bernardino Bar, and Archibald Tinning, Esq., District Attorney of Contra Costa County.

Each member of this committee has been accorded equal consideration and privileges as though a member of the Judicial Council, and has been furnished copies of all special reports, as well as all other material, submitted to the members of the Council. Members of this committee have attended the meetings of the Council, and have given generously of their time and splendid talents. The assistance thus rendered to the Council has been invaluable.

As a result of the joint labors of the Council and the above mentioned committee, tentative drafts were prepared of proposed legislation dealing with the following subjects, to wit:

Summary Judgment, Admissions, Discovery, New Trial and Appeal, Change of Place of Trial, Pleading Written Instruments, and Regulating Trial Calendars.

Copies of the proposed measures, together with explanatory notes outlining the nature and purpose thereof, were published in installments in the April, June and August, 1930, issues of the State Bar Journal, and the comment of the bar on the proposed bills was invited.

In September, 1930, we undertook to conduct a plebiscite among the members of the bench and bar respecting the proposed measures. For that purpose we caused to be published in the September, 1930, issue of the State Bar Journal, a ballot which the judges and attorneys were requested to mark and return to the Judicial Council.

The response to the first plebiscite being slow, we conducted a second one in November, 1930. To assist in that connection, the Board of Governors of the State Bar caused to be published a supplement to the November, 1930 issue of the State Bar Journal, containing complete copies of the proposed measures, also explanatory notes outlining the nature and purpose thereof, and, in addition, a ballot which the members of the bench and bar were requested to mark and forward to the Council.

In response to these efforts a total of 464 ballots have been received. All of the measures submitted, including each of the sections thereof, received a favorable majority. With the exception of the proposed bill relating to Admissions, and the one providing a new procedure relative to Discovery, the favorable vote cast was in the ratio of at least 2 to 1. The proposed repeal of section 1000, C. C. P., which now provides a very restricted procedure in the matter of discovery of documents, was approved by a vote of approximately 4 to 1, while the measure repealing section 593, C. C. P., an outworn provision restricting the method of setting cases for trial, was approved in the ratio of approximately 5 to 1.

The closeness of the vote on the proposed measure dealing with discovery, and the nature of some of the objections raised against the same, have led us to conclude that further study should be given to this subject. Accordingly, this bill has been withdrawn for the present.

As a result of this plebiscite, a number of valuable suggestions were received pertaining to the measures dealing with Summary Judgment, Admissions and also New Trial and Appeal. In response to this constructive criticism, these measures have been modified accordingly. A synopsis of the bills drafted through the joint labors of the Council and the Judicial Council Committee of the State Bar, and introduced during the present session of the Legislature, herewith follows:

SUMMARY JUDGMENT—Assembly Bill No. 1304

The State Bar of California, at its annual meeting held in October, 1928, recommended that summary judgment procedure be authorized in this State.

In 1929, the Code of Civil Procedure was amended so as to provide summary judgment procedure for the Municipal Courts, and also for such Justices' Courts as are established in townships having a population of 30,000 or more. (See sections 831*d* and 831*h*, Code of Civil Procedure.)

Summary judgment procedure has been adopted in a number of other jurisdictions, including Connecticut, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island and the District of Columbia.

A most informative article upon this subject, written by Dean Clark of Yale University Law School, who is also a member of the Connecticut Judicial Council, was published in the February, 1929, issue of the American Bar Association Journal.

The new provisions (writes Dean Clark) afford a means whereby judgment may be entered summarily in specified types of cases, including commercial cases and other recurring but simple forms of action, where it appears from affidavits of the parties that no real defense to the plaintiff's claim exists. The argument for the procedure most generally stressed is that it affords a means whereby judgments may be more speedily secured, particularly where court dockets are congested, and the interests of plaintiffs thereby better safeguarded. But its simplicity makes it more generally useful than merely as a device for securing quick justice for claimants, important though that result is. It also furnishes an easy and direct way of disposing of a large amount of important litigation and should therefore prove of great value to the courts and the judges, and to those defendants who are interested in the proper adjudication of their causes. The only persons to whom the new procedure should not appeal are those who aim to profit by the law's delays. All others should find it a most valuable addition to the existing court processes.

The measure recommended for adoption in this State consists of four new sections to be added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered 597, 597a, 597b and 597c, respectively.

Section 597 provides that in an action to recover upon a debt or liquidated demand, including an action to enforce or foreclose a lien or mortgage, if it is claimed that there is no defense to the action, the answer may be stricken out and judgment entered, in the discretion of the court, on motion of plaintiff, supported by affidavit, unless defendant, by affidavit, shall show such facts as may be deemed sufficient to entitle him to defend. It is especially important to note that the granting of the motion rests in the sound discretion of the court. The reason for this is that cases may arise wherein the defendant would not be able to present a sufficient counter-affidavit, and yet where the granting of the motion would lead to injustice. One illustration would be an action founded on a claim against the estate of a decedent, and wherein the legal representative might be unable to produce evidence affecting the claim, but might rely for his defense upon the incompetency of the claimant to testify at the trial.

Section 597a, requires that the affidavit in support of the motion must contain facts sufficient to entitle plaintiff to a judgment, and also that each affidavit must be made by one having knowledge of the facts stated therein and shall show affirmatively that the affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently thereto.

Section 597b, provides that any counter-affidavit must be made by one having knowledge of the facts stated therein, also that all counter-affidavits, when taken together, shall show that the defendant has a good and substantial defense to the action, or to a portion thereof, upon the merits, and further shall show affirmatively that each affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently to the matters set forth in his affidavit. However, when the defendant appears in a representative capacity, such as trustee, etc., his counter-affidavit may be made upon information and belief.

Section 597c provides that, if it appear that the defense applies only to a part of plaintiff's claim, or that any part is admitted, the plaintiff may have judgment entered forthwith to the extent thus acknowledged, and the cause of action may be severed accordingly. A summary judgment is appealable the same as any other judgment.

The principal objections urged against this measure are that it is unconstitutional, that it permits an ex parte determination of substantive rights, deprives the defendant of the right of cross-examining hostile witnesses, requires trial by affidavit, imposes unreasonable burdens on the defendant, and will frequently work great injustice.

As against these theoretical and speculative objections—for none finds support, either in the experience or the decisions of this, or any other state—we have the experience and decisions of other jurisdictions showing these criticisms to be unjustified.

In this connection, we commend to those opposing this measure a careful study of the following cases, to wit: Fidelity, etc. Company vs. United States, 187 U. S., 315, Cropley vs. Vogeler, 2 App. D. C. 28, General Inv. Co. vs. I. R. T. Co., 235 N. Y., 133, Hanna vs. Mitchell, 196 N. Y. Sup. 43, Dwan vs. Massarene, 192 N. Y. Sup. 577, Wittman vs. Giele, 123 Atl. 716 (New Jersey) and Eisele vs. Raphael, 101 Atl. 200 (New Jersey).

As pointed out in Fidelity, etc. Co. vs. United States, supra, summary judgment procedure does not deprive a party of a jury trial, or otherwise violate the due process clause of the Constitution. "It prescribes the means of making an issue. The issue made as prescribed, the right of trial by jury accrues."

Again, as declared in General Inv. Co. vs. I. R. T. Co., supra: "The rule in question is simply one regulating and prescribing procedure, whereby the court may summarily determine whether or not a bona fide issue exists between the parties to the action. A determination by the court that such issue is presented requires the denial of an application for a summary judgment and trial of the issue by the jury at the election of either party."

The experience of other jurisdictions, coupled with the further fact that in no state having summary judgment procedure has any attempt been made to abolish the same, should convince us of the wisdom of enacting similar legislation in California.

In order that the summary judgment procedure, now applicable in the municipal and justices' courts of the larger cities shall conform to such practice in the superior court, a bill has been introduced so as to amend section 831*d* of the Code of Civil Procedure.

ADMISSIONS—Assembly Bill No. 1305

Our systems of practice provides no effective method of settling or reducing the issues in advance of trial—in other words, of eliminating fictitious issues respecting matters which in reality are not in dispute. On the contrary, the present procedure enables litigants to conceal their true positions, and often to take their opponents by surprise at the trial. In a large percentage of the cases, fictitious and unmeritorious issues are raised by the pleadings. As a consequence, a very considerable portion of the time of the court, as well as of counsel, is wasted in an effort, first, to ascertain what matters are really in dispute, and, secondly, to introduce the evidence relative to the same.

As pointed out by Hon. Owen J. Roberts, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court:

"With regard to civil procedure, a number of things are suggested which are difficult to work out in this country. They work well in Great Britain, and it seems to me that the ingenuity of the bar and the bench in this country ought to be able to reach them in some way. The first of them is the elimination of issues and the elimination of proofs in advance of trial.

"One of the greatest ways that trials can be speeded in this country would be just that * * * Everyone of us has had experience in our own courts of hours wasted in trial in proving papers formally, as to which there is, in honesty and fairness, no dispute. * * * Surely it is a disgrace that in our courts today, in mine and yours, counsel are calling witnesses to the witness stand, having them sworn, showing them their signatures, and asking them to identify the documents and papers about the authenticity of which neither side has the slightest doubt, or can have the slightest doubt. There certainly ought to be some way by which we can in this country settle issues and settle evidence in advance of trial."

In this State an attempt has been made to provide two methods for obtaining admissions and discovery in advance of trial.

The first of these is prescribed by section 1000, C. C. P., and is seldom used. The decisions construing this section have so restricted its application as to render its provisions of little, if any, practical value toward obtaining a bona fide disclosure of the facts in advance of trial. The Supreme Court in Ex parte Clark 126 Cal. 235, and the District Court of Appeal in Kullman vs. Superior Court, 15 Cal. App. 276, have construed the provisions of this section to mean that it must be made to appear by clear and unequivocal proof, as a condition precedent to the right of a court to require a person to deliver up for examination his private books and papers, first, that such person has a book, paper or document containing evidence material to the issues before the court, and second, that the precise book, paper or document containing such evidence must be so designated or described that it may be identified.

The other method allowed under our practice is that of taking the deposition of a party. Almost invariably, the taking of a deposition entails a great deal of labor, consumes a considerable amount of time, and is quite costly, frequently out of all proportion to the results obtained.

The fact remains that, under our practice, not only is it possible, but it frequently occurs that each party conceals his evidence and his legal theory until the time of trial. In other words, we have no practice whereby a party may determine with certainty, in advance of trial, what probative facts are really in dispute, and thereby settling the issues before the witnesses are brought into court.

The proposed bill represents the first step toward remedying that defect. This measure is based, partly upon rule 42 of the Michigan court rules, adopted by the Supreme Court upon the recommendation of the Bar of that state, and also partly upon sections 322 and 323 of the New York Civil Practice Act.

In opposition to this measure, it is urged that while the purpose thereof is good, the remedy is too severe, also that it will give the court too much power, that it will compel a party to determine a vital fact at his peril within five days without giving him any power to compel testimony, that it will work frequent injustice, and will increase the work of attorneys unreasonably.

Again we feel warranted in observing that these criticisms are purely theoretical, for they are not supported by the experience of any other jurisdiction. In a communication received by the writer from former Supreme Court Justice, Jeremiah T. Mahoney of New York, the latter, discussing the subject here under consideration, wrote :

"I see no reason why attorneys in actual practice should criticise any sections of law merely because more work may be caused before the case is actually reached for trial.

"In this Department, we believe that if the work of preparation is completely done before the trial, the trial is a matter of shorter duration and more expedition. Therefore, our entire Practice Act has been constructed along the line of permitting things to be done before the trial that used to be done at the trial. Today, if an attorney waits until the actual trial to do something that he had an opportunity to do in connection with the trial before the trial, he is the subject of criticism. Examinations before trial, discoveries, motions for judgment, for summary judgment, to strike out in connection with pleadings, etc., have all had the effect of speeding up our trials."

NEW TRIAL AND APPEAL—Assembly Bill No. 1306

The United States Supreme Court, having recently adopted rules requiring findings to be rendered in equity and admiralty suits, the Judicial Council and the State Bar Committee have concluded to await the outcome of this experiment in the federal practice, and accordingly have withdrawn the recommendations heretofore made, looking toward an amendment to our practice which would make the rendition of findings discretionary with the trial judge.

On the other hand, the necessity of making findings in practically all civil cases emphasizes the importance of improving our practice, in order that the errors which so frequently arise in connection with the preparation of findings, as well as all other errors which can be remedied in the lower court without a trial de novo, may be properly called to the attention of the trial court and there rectified, without the unconscionable delay and heavy expense involved in prosecuting an appeal.

The necessity of minimizing the unjust delay and reducing the expense involved under our existing appellate practice, cannot be too strongly emphasized. If the trial court has failed to find upon a material issue; if, through inadvertence, some of the findings appear to be conflicting; if a finding has been made upon an issue respecting which no evidence, through oversight, was offered, but as to which proof could readily have been furnished, as, for example, the corporate existence of a party, or the legal capacity of a party to sue, or the assignment of the cause of action to the plaintiff—where such errors, and others of a like nature, which can be readily corrected in the trial court, are committed, why should not the same be promptly brought to the attention of the lower court on a motion for a new trial, thereby avoiding years of delay and considerable expense?

Probably all of us can cite one or more instances where the opening brief for the first time disclosed that appellant was seeking a reversal because of the commission of an error of the kind above noted. Under our existing practice, once the appeal has been perfected, the lower court is powerless to rectify the error. Meanwhile the appellate courts are burdened with the labor of considering appeals prosecuted because of errors which could easily have been corrected in the trial court, without the delay and expense of an appeal, had the attention of the lower court been called to these errors on motion for a new trial. Meanwhile, also, in all such cases from two to three years of delay must elapse until the appeals are reached, during all of which time judgment creditors are deprived of the just fruits of the judgments awarded them.

The lay public abhors and rebels at a system of jurisprudence which makes possible such unconscionable delays and such outrageous expense.

To eliminate, or at least reduce wherever possible, the congestion existing in our courts, to eliminate unnecessary, time-wasting features of practice, to lessen the burdens imposed upon litigants—all these are matters of prime concern, if we are to make the administration of justice truly expeditious, efficient and economical.

Speaking before the American Bar Association a few years ago, Elihu Root declared:

“Every lawyer knows that the continued reversal of judgments, the sending of parties to litigation to and fro between the trial courts and the appellate courts, has become a disgrace to the administration of justice in the United States. Everybody knows that the vast network of highly technical rules of evidence and procedure which prevails in this country serves as a denial of justice in the name of form. It is a disgrace to our profession; it is a disgrace to our law, and a disgrace to our institutions.

Admittedly, the purpose of proceedings relating to new trials and appeals is to correct alleged errors committed in the trial court. No sound reason can be advanced why litigants should be denied the opportunity of having such errors corrected in the lower court without the expense and delay arising from a retrial of the entire case or resulting from an appeal.

Equally without justification is the practice which permits an appeal to be taken without requiring, as a prerequisite, that such alleged errors be called first to the attention of the trial judge, and thereby provide the means whereby such errors may be corrected with a minimum of delay and expense.

The measure herewith presented undertakes to give to this State a practice substantially similar to that in effect in Pennsylvania.

The proposed new section (659a) requires the moving party to support his notice of intention to move for a new trial with points and authorities, and likewise imposes a corresponding duty upon all parties wishing to contest the same. This section further provides that failure to comply therewith may be construed as an abandonment of the motion, or as an admission that the same should be granted, as the case may be.

Since the publication of the proposed measure relating to this subject, in the June, 1930, issue of the State Bar Journal, the criticism has been made—and one with which we agree—that since the responsibility for prosecuting the motion for a new trial properly devolves upon the attorneys in the case, the clerk should not be required to call the motion to the attention of the judge until he has been requested to do so by counsel. Accordingly, we have recommended an amendment to the present section 661 C. C. P. to cover this point.

Likewise, the proposed measure includes certain amendments to sections 661 and 662 C. C. P., made necessary in order that these sections shall conform to the provisions of the proposed new section, 659a.

During the plebiscite taken with reference to the measures submitted by the Council and the Judicial Council Committee of the State Bar, the point was raised—and we think the criticism well taken—that the contemplated amendment to section 956 C. C. P., as originally drawn, might have been construed to mean that the prosecution of a motion for a new trial constituted a jurisdictional prerequisite to the taking of an appeal. No such result was intended by the authors of the proposed amendment.

What is sought to be accomplished by this amendment is to encourage the prosecution of a motion for a new trial in all cases where such a motion may be entertained, and by which motion there shall be brought to the attention of the trial court, and also opposing counsel, all of the prejudicial errors claimed to have been committed therein, to the end that such errors may be promptly rectified in the lower court, thereby eliminating, to a very large extent, the unconscionable delay and the excessive expense now involved in prosecuting appeals to correct these very same errors.

Accordingly the proposed amendment to section 956, C. C. P., has been revised to meet the objection above noted. If amended as revised, the section will vest in the Appellate Court the discretion to dismiss appeals, or refuse to consider alleged errors, in those cases where the errors complained of could readily have been corrected in the lower court, had the latter's attention been called to the same, on motion for a new trial, and where no good reason is shown for appellant's failure to point out such errors in the trial court.

The criticisms urged against this bill are directed mainly to the proposed amendment to section 956, C. C. P. These objections are: that it will require a party, upon ten days' notice, without the aid of any transcript of the testimony, substantially to prepare the equivalent of a brief upon appeal; that if, under such handicap, he overlooks some vital point and discovers it later, the Appellate Court need pay no attention to it; that the proposed revised procedure will add more delay, because it will compel the unsuccessful party to go through the formality of a motion for a new trial, which motion he knows will be denied in most cases; that it would work injustice because it frequently happens that party changes his counsel after the trial and the proposed amendment would preclude more able counsel in directing the appellate court's attention to prejudicial error overlooked by his predecessor; and finally it is contended this measure, in effect, will restore an antiquated common law practice, abolished many years ago in this State by the enactment of section 647, C. C. P., and which former practice prevented any question being reviewed on appeal, unless the attention of the trial court had been drawn to the supposed error by a proper exception.

In answer to the foregoing objections, attention is first called to the fact that in several other jurisdictions, notably in Pennsylvania and in England, the proceeding to review the rulings and decision of the trial court must be initiated in the latter tribunal within a very few days after judgment has been rendered, and must be submitted within a short time thereafter.

It is neither extraordinary nor unreasonable to require counsel to prosecute a motion for a new trial expeditiously, or to impose the condition that upon the presentation of such motion the aggrieved party shall fairly apprise the court of the grounds upon which a new trial is sought. For years, this has been, and still is, the practice in this State with respect to criminal cases.

Again, it should be kept in mind that in the majority of cases, but a single so-called vital point is involved. As to the remainder, it is quite rare that the decision of the action rests upon the determination of more than two important points. In other words, while the trial court may have made a considerable number of rulings adverse to the aggrieved party, experience abundantly demonstrates that such rulings, to the extent that they are prejudicial, are all involved in the determination of the so-called vital point or points of the suit.

Ordinarily, where the case has been properly prepared for trial, and assuming that counsel have kept notes to a reasonable extent during the progress of the trial, no difficulty should be experienced in preparing the memorandum of points in support of the motion for new trial, particularly where the motion is prosecuted diligently.

Where there are exceptional circumstances which render it difficult for counsel to present all of the essential points, obviously that fact will be called to the attention of the appellate tribunal. The latter, we must assume, will in the exercise of a sound discretion relieve the aggrieved party in all proper cases.

Likewise, it is exceedingly rare that there is a substitution of counsel for the purpose of prosecuting an appeal. Here, again, we have the right to assume that in every proper case the appellate tribunal, when passing upon the points raised on appeal, will take into consideration the fact of such substitution.

In the final analysis, it will be found that the objections raised do not go to the merits of the proposed amendments, but rather are based upon the fear that our appellate tribunals, once vested with this authority, will abuse the same.

PLEADING WRITTEN INSTRUMENTS—Assembly Bill No. 1308

In many cases the cause of action, or the ground of defense, is founded upon an alleged written agreement. Often a disclosure of the terms of the instrument discloses whether or not a cause of action, on the one hand, or a defense, on the other hand, exists, and hence is determinative of the suit. Similarly, many actions are commenced, and likewise defenses are interposed, arising out of an alleged agreement which, however, has no validity unless such contract is in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged.

In order to compel a disclosure of the terms of the instrument at the threshold of the litigation—in other words, in the pleadings—and thereby enable the court to determine speedily whether there is any necessity to subject the parties to the delay and expense of a trial, the Judicial Council recommended, at the last session of the Legislature through Senate Bill No. 89, that sections 447 and 448, Code of Civil Procedure, be amended.

The proposed change in section 447 provided that when an action was brought upon a written instrument a copy thereof must be set forth either in the body of the pleading or as an exhibit thereto, except where it is beyond the power of the plaintiff so to do, which fact must be pleaded.

The proposed amendment to section 448 incorporated a corresponding change with respect to the answer whenever a written instrument was relied upon as a defense.

As previously stated, the proposed amendments were presented under Senate Bill No. 89, introduced during the legislative session of 1929. When this measure came up for hearing before the Judiciary Committee, the Trustees of the Los Angeles Bar Association suggested that the proposed changes were of such a character that the bar ought to be given further time to study the same. Subsequently, on their recommendation, these sections were amended by merely adding a sentence at the end thereof, to the effect that if a party relies upon a written instrument, in whole or in part, that fact shall be pleaded.

It will be recognized that the sections, as amended in 1929, do not overcome the principal difficulties heretofore noted. No provision is made whereby the court, before setting the case for trial, may examine the terms of the instrument relied upon, in order to determine whether or not the parties should be subjected to the delay and expense of a trial.

We are therefore again recommending the adoption of the amendments to sections 447 and 448, C. C. P., as proposed two years ago.

While conceding that the purpose of this measure is good, those opposing the same contend that, until judicial construction defines when an action is "brought upon," or a defense is "founded on," a written instrument, the proposed change would be productive of prolonged litigation and delay. In addition, it is urged that to require either party to plead in haec verba the written instrument upon which the action is brought or the defense is founded, will enable an unscrupulous adversary to "frame" a defense to the document.

In answer to the first objection, it should be sufficient to point out that the phrases claimed to be novel and therefore subject to criticism, are used in the proposed amendment in the identical sense in which they have been used in this state ever since the enactment of the Practice Act in 1851 (See Practice Act of 1851, Secs. 53 and 54).

The remaining objection to the proposed measure would appear to be founded upon the theory that a substantial percentage of the bar belong to the category of unscrupulous adversaries, who "frame" defenses. Such an assumption is unwarranted. The notion that, in order to win a lawsuit, the evidence favoring one side must be kept hidden from the other until the moment of the trial, and the assumption that, to prevent perjured testimony, it is necessary to surprise your opponent at the trial, are conceptions which largely have been responsible for transforming many a trial into a game of chance or a battle of wits, and in turn bringing the courts and the profession into disfavor.

CHANGE OF PLACE OF TRIAL—Assembly Bill No. 1307

Under the existing practice (sec. 396, Code of Civil Procedure) upon the filing of a demurrer, no matter how frivolous, accompanied by a demand for a change of venue, the court must transfer the action to the county of the defendant's residence. Likewise, our Supreme Court has repeatedly held that, until an answer is filed, the lower court, in passing upon this application, may not take into consideration the fact that both the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by denying the application.

As a consequence, many defendants have availed themselves of the technical advantage thus afforded them, and have compelled the court to transfer the action to the county of their residence. This, in turn, has necessitated still another motion, at a later date, in some more or less distant county, whereby, after the answer has been filed, the plaintiff has the action retransferred to the county where the suit was commenced, and where both the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice entitled the plaintiff to have the cause tried in the first instance.

Save for the classes of cases expressly excepted by the code, a defendant may have an action tried in the county of his residence, subject, however, to the long established rule that the court, on motion, after the cause is at issue, shall change the place of trial when the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice will be promoted thereby.

The kinds of law suits first mentioned as being specially excepted are in the minority in comparison to the total volume of litigation filed in the superior courts.

Ordinarily, an action should be tried in the county where both the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted thereby.

The abuses which have grown up under the existing practice, and the delay and expense resulting therefrom, have been the subject of criticism on the part of both judges and attorneys.

In every action founded upon contract and in every suit in equity, unless it comes within one of the specially excepted classes, and likewise in every divorce suit, the dilatory tactics above mentioned may be followed. In more than three-fourths of the latter class of cases the plaintiff is the wife, who is usually in financial distress, and against whom this abuse works a special hardship.

Why should litigants be subjected to the delay and the extra expense entailed by two proceedings in two courts located in more or less widely scattered parts of the state, when the question ultimately to be decided, namely, where the action should be tried, can be determined in one proceeding, in a much shorter period of time, and at considerably less expense?

Similarly, why should the state and the counties be subjected to the duplication of expense involved in having two different trial courts pass upon the same issue, when the same work can be accomplished by one court and at about one-half of the cost?

To minimize as much as possible the abuses above mentioned, to avoid unnecessary delay and expense resulting from the duplication of proceedings, and thus expedite the dispatch of business, the Judicial Council, at the last session of the Legislature recommended, through Senate Bill No. 90, that section 396, Code of Civil Procedure, be amended so as to require the defendant to file a verified answer as a prerequisite to his motion for a change of venue.

Senate Bill No. 90 was passed by the Senate at the last session of the Legislature. However, this measure did not reach the Assembly Judiciary Committee until a short time before adjournment of the Legislature, and the bill was not reported out by that committee. Accordingly, we are again advocating the enactment of this amendment.

In opposition to the proposed amendment relating to change of place of trial, it is claimed that the abuse sought to be remedied is negligible, and, further, that such amendment will nullify the defendant's right to have a case against him tried in the county of his residence without the inconvenience and expense of traveling hundreds of miles to meet an attack upon him.

The first objection would appear to answer itself. If the conditions complained of rarely, if ever, arise, this criticism can hardly be of sufficient consequence to justify seriously considering the same.

The second objection is founded upon the assumption that, where the matter of change of place of trial is left to the discretion of the judge of the county in which the defendant is a stranger, such judge will likely decide the motion in favor of the home county plaintiff, regardless of the merits of the application. Of course, a judge who will be influenced by prejudice or bias in passing upon such an application is unfit to serve on the bench for any purpose. Indeed, this criticism goes to the personnel of the judiciary and their qualifications, rather than the merits of the proposed amendment.

REGULATING TRIAL CALENDARS—Assembly Bill No. 1309

In Pastenè vs. Pardini, 135 Cal. 431, our Supreme Court, in upholding the right of the lower court to settle the issues at the outset of the trial, used this significant language (pp. 432-433):

At the opening of the trial plaintiff's attorney stated what he believed to be the issues involved, and that the sole issue was the execution of the note, stating, further, his conviction that the cross-complaint was not proper in the action. The court, in passing upon the suggestion of the attorney, held that the cross-complaint could not be set up in the action, and settled the pleadings by declaring, "The only issue under the pleadings is whether the deceased, Pardini, executed the note." Appellant contends that by the ruling of the court above quoted he was deprived of his defense to the note, of non-delivery, want of consideration, and payment. It is not only the right of the court to settle or to designate at the outset of a trial the issues of fact which have been joined by the pleadings, and to direct and limit the introduction of evidence to those issues alone, but it is eminently a proper practice, and one which would serve greatly to expedite the trial of causes if more commonly followed. At the same time, when the court has so declared upon the issues, either party has the unquestioned right to except to the ruling of the court, and if by that ruling he shall have been deprived of any substantial right of defense, to urge that upon the attention of the Appellate Court. He may not only submit to the ruling of the court without future offer of evidence upon the excluded defense, but it is his duty to accept such ruling. (Bell vs. Brown, 22 Cal. 678; De Baker vs. Southern Cal. Ry. Co., 106 Cal. 279; 1 Pettygrove vs. Rothchild, 2 Wash. 8; Hozey vs. Buchanan, 16 Pet. 218; Indianapolis, etc., Mfg. Co. vs. Cavin, 53 Ind. 263.) The ruling of the court in thus defining and limiting the issues should properly be regarded as its refusal to allow evidence upon any other than the indicated issues.

Experience indicates that if the issues had to be settled before an action could be set for trial, we would save most of the time now consumed by objections interposed to the introduction of evidence on the ground that the same was outside of the issues, as well as avoid most of the delays occasioned by resisting applications for leave to amend. Under such a practice, most of the cases would be tried with far greater dispatch than is feasible under our existing procedure. Indeed, many causes would never reach the trial calendar.

Section 593, Code of Civil Procedure, at present reads as follows:

593. The clerk must enter causes upon the calendar of the court according to the date of issue. Causes once placed on the calendar must remain upon the calendar until finally disposed of; provided, that causes may be dropped from the calendar by consent of parties and may be again restored upon notice.

The foregoing provision was enacted in 1880. The procedure prescribed by the opening sentence of section 593 is not adapted to present conditions, and has not been followed for many years. The experience had with respect to this particular provision affords convincing proof that it is a mistake to undertake to regulate administrative or routine practice by statute.

It is suggested that the present section 593 be repealed. It will then be possible to regulate the setting of cases by rule, and thus pave the way for the adoption of a practice which will authorize the settlement of the issues in advance of trial.

CIVIL JURISDICTION OF MUNICIPAL COURTS—Assembly Bill No. 1302

The proposed amendments to section 29 of the Municipal Court Act, are intended to clarify certain doubtful provisions thereof and particularly to eliminate conflicts between the jurisdiction of municipal and that of superior courts. To that end, this section has been arranged in the form of several subdivisions, each distinctive provision being set apart in a separate subdivision.

Subdivision (1), divided into subdivisions (a), (b), (c) and (d), consists of a restatement of subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 and the last two sentences of the present section 29. It involves no change therein, except that the word, "exclusive," now appearing at the beginning of the present section before the words "original jurisdiction," has been omitted. The reason for this omission is to make it clear that justices' courts have concurrent jurisdiction, within their respective limits, of cases which otherwise could be filed only in a municipal court. On the other hand, by reason of the provisions of article VI, section 5 of the constitution, the vesting of jurisdiction in a municipal or inferior court over any particular class of cases, thereby automatically deprives the superior court of jurisdiction over the same class.

Subdivision (d) of subdivision (1) is a restatement of the last two sentences of the present section.

This subdivision applies only to actions to enforce and foreclose liens of mechanics, etc. The jurisdiction given to the municipal court in this class of cases is restricted to those arising within the city, or city and county, in which such court is established. (See Johnston, etc. Corporation vs. Superior Court, 62 C. A. D. 415, and Scott vs. Superior Court, 63 C. A. D., 551, wherein it was held that section 29 of the Municipal Court Act gives to a municipal court jurisdiction of only such actions to foreclose liens of mechanics, etc., as arise within the city or city and county in which such municipal court is established.)

Subdivision (2) is a restatement of the first portion of the second sentence immediately following subdivision (3) of the present section.

Subdivision (3) comprises the essentially new matter and represents a revision of the second portion of the sentence above mentioned, to wit: that portion thereof reading as follows:

- "And also of all such cases arising outside the county in which a municipal court is established, in which any proper defendant named therein resides or has his place of business within the county wherein such municipal court is established."

The first change effected has been to make it clear that a municipal court does not have jurisdiction of actions for forcible entry or unlawful detainer arising outside the county in which the municipal court is located. The constitution (Article VI, Sec. 5) provides:

"That all actions for the recovery of the possession of * * * real estate shall be commenced in the county in which the real estate, or any part thereof, affected by such action or actions is situated."

By the provisions of subdivision (3), it is proposed to give to each municipal court jurisdiction over all cases at law, and all actions to enforce personal property liens, involving not to exceed $2,000, arising anywhere in the world, outside the county, or city and county, in which the court is established (except cases arising within a city or city and county, in this State wherein another municipal court is established), in which all proper defendants therein, who are residents of this State, reside, and any property in controversy is located, within the county, or city and county, wherein such municipal court is established, provided that if the demand, or the value of the property involved, does not exceed $300 then such municipal court is given jurisdiction of the case if at least one proper defendant resides, or has a regular place of business, and any property involved is located, in the county in which such municipal court is established.

The effect of the provisions of subdivision (3) will be to give to the municipal courts jurisdiction of all cases involving up to $2,000 where all defendants residents in this State, and the property involved, are within a county in which a municipal court is established, leaving to the superior courts only those cases involving over $300 wherein at least one defendant resides in a county wherein no municipal court is established. These provisions should obviate all conflicts in jurisdiction between the two courts.

Subdivision (4) is a restatement, except in the particular to be presently noted, of the first sentence in the fourth paragraph immediately following subdivision three of the existing section. That sentence now reads as follows:

“Each municipal court shall have jurisdiction of all cases in equity, when pleaded as defensive matter, or by way of cross-complaint in any case at law commencing in the municipal court, of which it has exclusive jurisdiction.”

The use of the word “exclusive,” found in the existing provision, is unnecessary. In addition, the proposed amendment allows the pleading of equitable defenses, not only in cases at law but in any case properly pending in a municipal court.

Subdivision (5) is a restatement of the provision contained in the first paragraph immediately following subdivision three of the present section.

Subdivision (6) is a restatement of the provisions contained in the third paragraph immediately following subdivision (3) of the present section.

CIVIL JURISDICTION OF JUSTICES' COURTS—Assembly Bill No. 1303

In 1927, the Legislature amended section 1163, C. C. P., so as to give justices' courts concurrent jurisdiction with the superior courts in cases of forcible entry and detainer when the rental value does not exceed $75 per month, and when the whole amount of damages does not exceed $300. On the other hand, section 112, C. C. P., which defines the jurisdiction of justices' courts provides that such courts in townships having a population of less than 30,000, shall have jurisdiction of actions of forcible or unlawful entry or detainer, where the rental value is $25, or less, per month, and where the whole amount of damages is $300, or less.

This measure provides for the amendment of section 112, subdivision 2, C. C. P., so as to make the same conform to the existing provisions of section 1163, C. C. P. The adoption of such amendment will make it unnecessary to retain section 1163, C. C. P., and accordingly it is proposed to repeal the latter section.

PRACTICE GOVERNING APPEALS TO SUPERIOR COURT

The experience gained in disposing of the extraordinarily large volume of appeals taken to the appellate department of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, led the judges of that department to recommend a number of changes in the existing procedure governing such appeals. The measures hereinafter analyzed were drafted by the judges mentioned, and thereafter were submitted to and approved by the judges of the appellate department of the Superior Court of San Francisco. The proposed changes likewise have the approval of the Judicial Council. The synopsis hereinafter set forth was prepared by Hon. Hartley Shaw, one of the judges of the Appellate Department of the Los Angeles Superior Court.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE
RELATING TO CIVIL APPEALS TO THE APPELLATE DEPARTMENT OF THE SUPERIOR COURT—Assembly Bill No. 1311

The principal purposes of these amendments are, first, to provide for sending up to the superior court the original papers on file with the municipal court instead of certified copies thereof, and, second, to authorize the superior court to make findings of fact on appeal. The amendments to the respective sections may be analyzed as follows:

Section 988*a*. There is added to the first sentence a reference to section 648. According to decisions of the Supreme Court, this section is applicable to all bills settled under section 650, but many lawyers seem not to know this fact and the number is inserted here mainly for their information. The second paragraph of this section is amplified so as to entitle a party to have the action of the judge of the trial court in settling a bill of exceptions or transcript reviewed whenever he contends that it is erroneous. The present provision is substantially a copy of section 652, which is applicable only to the Supreme Court and has been construed by that court to apply only to a case where the judge refuses to certify to the taking of an exception which has actually been taken, and does not cover the case where a judge refuses to make a correct statement of the evidence or other proceedings. There is a good deal of complaint to the Superior Court of Los Angeles County that judges of the inferior courts do not fairly and accurately settle the records on appeal. Most of this complaint is in criminal cases but some of it is in civil cases. There seems to be at present no remedy for such conduct of a trial judge. Of course, it may be that all of these complaints are unfounded, but the proposed amendment here provides the remedy in case there is any basis for the complaint.

The last paragraph added to section 988*a* dispenses with the necessity of copying papers on file with the municipal court, and provides that the originals shall be sent up. Many lawyers seem to think that this is the law at present and prepare their records accordingly. Of course, this fact alone affords no reason for an amendment but there seems to be no good reason why such a practice should not be followed. It would save both trouble and expense to the litigants and to the clerks, and since all the courts appealed from would be in the same county*with the appellate tribunal, there should be no difficulty about papers becoming lost.

Section 988*b* is somewhat changed in form and contains the following alterations in substance:

To subdivision 1 is added the provision as to the notice under section 953*a*. This notice being the basis of appellant's record, it is frequently desirable for the appellate court to have an opportunity to examine it.

To subdivision 2 is added the provision making the judgment roll a part of the record on appeal from an order vacating or refusing to vacate the judgment.

To subdivision 3 is added the provision making a written motion or notice of motion and affidavits filed in support of, or in opposition to the motion, a part of the record on appeal from an order granting or denying the motion. This provision is borrowed from the present

Judicial Council rule relating to appeals from the superior court in criminal cases, and there seems to be no good reason why it should not be applied to civil cases. Some lawyers proceed on the theory that it is now the law.

To subdivision 4 and to the paragraph following it are added the provisions for sending up original papers to the superior court. In the final paragraph of the section, there is no change.

Section 988*g* is somewhat recast, the principal change being to provide that all the original papers sent up to the superior court, except the notice of appeal and the bill of exceptions or transcript, shall be sent back to the municipal court after the decision on the appeal. A provision for sending down the superior court's opinion, if any, is also added. The last sentence is rewritten, the only substantial change in it being to require a note of the judgment of the superior court to be entered in the margin of the original order or judgment appealed from. Under the present section, such an entry is only required in case of an order.

Section 988*i* is a new section and substantially a copy of section 956*a*, altered only sufficiently to make it applicable to the superior court. Many cases appealed to the superior court could be disposed of on appeal if the power to make findings were conferred upon the superior court. Under the present law, all of these cases are necessarily remanded for a new trial.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE PENAL CODE RELATING TO CRIMINAL APPEALS TO THE SUPERIOR COURT—Assembly Bill No. 1312.

One of the purposes of these amendments is to provide for sending up to the superior court, as far as possible, the original papers instead of copies. Another is to eliminate the present cross-reference in section 1467 to the title relating to appeals from the superior court. The exact meaning and the scope of this is somewhat indefinite. Without it, there is no adequate provision regarding the record on appeal to the superior court. In the case of Garrett vs. Superior Court, 79 Cal. App. 273, it was held that this section adopts the sections of the Penal Code providing for the record on appeal from the superior court, but considerable ingenuity of reasoning seems to have been required to arrive at this conclusion. These sections, if adopted, are not happily framed to apply to an appeal from a justice's or police court or a municipal court, and a good deal of construction is necessary to make them fit. Furthermore, since that decision was rendered the sections so referred to, which provide for the record on appeal, have been repealed entirely which might easily raise further question as to the effect of this cross-reference. The elimination of this cross-reference made it necessary to rewrite and embody in this chapter certain provisions regarding the procedure on appeal, and hence the amendment is considerably longer than the chapter amended and, consequently, the numbering of the sections is different. Examining them separately, the following changes from the present law would be noted:

Section 1466. This extends the provision about appealable judgments and orders, to make it conform to sections 1237 and 1238 as far as they can be applied to an appeal to the superior court, and adds thereto paragraph (a) of subdivision 1, to cover the case where, for instance, one of the inferior courts holds that a complaint states no cause of action and orders the prosecution dismissed. Section 1466 as it now stands provides only for an appeal from the judgment, although manifestly there are other decisions from which an appeal should be allowed. The present section 1466 adds the language "in like cases and for like cause as appeals may be taken to the supreme court", and possibly this language may be justification for construing the word "judgment" to include "order" but the question on this point can as well be removed by an amendment.

1466a eliminates the present provision for oral appeals. I am informed that this was in fact the intention of the framers of the 1925 amendment of section 1467, but if so, this intention was frustrated by the decision in Lillywhite vs. Superior Court, 80 Cal. App. 533, which holds that the effect of the cross-reference above mentioned is to import into the chapter the provision of section 1239 regarding oral appeals. According to our observation, the existence of this provision for oral appeals merely encourages the taking of unfounded appeals, it being so easy for the defendant's attorney merely to state at the time of the judgment that he appeals, whereas if he had some time for reflection he might perhaps conclude that the appeal was not worth while. It seems also that the time for filing written appeals as given in the 1925 amendment, 15 days, is longer than necessary and in the interests of cutting down delay it might be shortened. As I have written the amendment, the provision is for five days but after discussion with some members of the Council, I agree that it might be well to make the time 10 days.

Section 1467 provides for the manner of making up the record on appeal where it is necessary to present the evidence or proceedings not otherwise a part of the record to the superior court. This section authorizes a statement of the case or a reporter's transcript or a record consisting in part of each of these documents. A number of cases have come under our observation where a part only of the trial of a case in an inferior court has been reported by an official reporter, and there seems no reason why the appellant might not present a transcript as to that part of the trial and a statement as to the remainder. In many cases, there is no reporter in attendance at all, and hence, it is necessary to preserve the provision as to statements. There is much complaint in the appellate department of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County about the manner in which the judges of the inferior courts settle these records. Whether these complaints are well founded, of course, we cannot tell but, if so, there seems to be no remedy for them. In view of them, two provisions have been inserted in this section, first, one requiring that in all cases appellant shall have notice of the time when the record will be settled, provided the post office address of himself or the attorney appears in the files, and, second, a provision that a party dissatisfied with the record as settled may have his objections reviewed by the superior court. This section also provides that it is not necessary to copy exhibits and other papers in the bill of exceptions or transcript but that they may be referred to simply in some manner sufficient to identify them. The section also provides that the time for filing a statement or transcript may be extended not more than ten days by a Judge of the trial court. There is at present no statutory provision for such an extension, and, in view of the mandatory provision of the last sentence of Section 1468 as amended in 1925, it seems probable that no such extension can be made. Some of the cases tried in the inferior courts have records exceeding up to 1000 typewritten pages and, manifestly, five days is too short a time in which to require an appellant to prepare a record in such a case. It may be that the permissible extension should exceed ten days, although under the amendments as framed there will be five days before the notice of appeal must be given—which I have suggested extending to ten days—five days more after the notice of appeal for filing the statement or transcript, and the possible extension of ten days, making all together twenty days or, as suggested in the amendment, twenty-five days after the judgment for preparing the record. Under this section, a statement on appeal will be required only when it is necessary to present the evidence or other proceedings which are not otherwise a part of the record on appeal. The present section 1468 requires a statement in all cases, and this provision seems unnecessary. This amendment also eliminates the provision requiring appellant to insert in his statement the grounds of his appeal. This language is so general in character that almost anything is probably sufficient as a statement of grounds of appeal. The following is a fair sample of the grounds actually used, taken from a statement which I picked at random from our files:

"1. That the verdict was contrary to law. 2. That the verdict was contrary to the evidence. 3. That the evidence is insufficient to sustain the verdict. 4. That the court erred in the decision of law arising during the the course of the trial."

It is manifest that such general language as this can be of no assistance either to respondent in proposing amendments to the statement, or to the trial court in settling the statement, and yet it could hardly be held that it was not a statement of grounds of appeal. Either the provision regarding grounds should be amplified so as to require sufficient particularity to afford information to the opposing party and to the court or it should be eliminated. If it were amplified, the superior court would be continually confronted with the question whether the grounds were sufficient, and it seems that the better course is to eliminate this requirement entirely. If the respondent or the court finds evidence relating to any particular point in the statement or transcript, that should be sufficient warning that the point may be argued on appeal and that any other evidence relating to it should be inserted.

Section 1468. It is substantially borrowed from the present Judicial Council rule regarding the contents of the record on appeal from the superior court, slightly modified to make it applicable to the justices' and the municipal courts. The provision, however, making the instructions a copy of the record is omitted, and it is required by section 1467 that the appellant shall, if he desires to make any point upon them, insert them in his statement. This is, in part, for the reason that there is no statutory provision against oral instructions in the justices' court as there is in the superior court. This section also makes all exhibits and other papers referred to in the statement or transcript a part of the record and requires that in all cases original papers instead of copies shall be sent to the superior court, where they are on file with the trial court.

Section 1468*a* requires that the appeal be brought on for hearing within thirty days instead of sixty days as now permitted by the section. Neither of these provisions is applicable to superior courts having an appellate department because of the rules of those departments which provide for putting an appeal upon the calendar without any action of the appellant. To this is added a further provision for the dismissal of appeal for failure to prosecute it with diligence, or for any substantial irregularity, the latter part of which is borrowed from section 1248.

Section 1470 is copied from sections 1258 and 1260.

Section 1471 contains the latter part of the present section 1469 as amended in 1925, but with a provision regarding new trials in the lower court extended to include justices' courts in townships, etc., having a population of 30,000 or more, to conform to the 1925 amendment regarding such townships.

Section 1471*a* covers the same subject matter as the present section 1470 but does not exactly conform to it. It is more nearly like sections 1263, 1264 and 1265. The proviso at the end of the section regarding probation is probably unnecessary in view of the recent decision of the supreme court on that subject, but this amendment was originally drafted before that decision was rendered.

REGULATING PROCEDURE BY RULE

As a result of the efforts of the leaders of the bench and bar, two important developments in judicial administration have been initiated in the United States during the present generation. One of these has for its purpose the restoration to the judicial department of the rule-making authority. The other is familiarly known as the Judicial Council movement.

The first of these two undertakings represents the attempt to entrust to those charged with the responsibility of administering justice, namely, the bar as well as the bench, the authority to provide the rules and regulations governing the administration of the courts, and the practice and procedure therein.

The surgeon is not required to consult the statute books in order to determine whether or not to operate upon the patient, or in order to ascertain what kind of operation shall be performed, much less to determine what instrument he shall use in performing that operation.

The engineer does not look to the lawmakers to instruct him respecting the machinery and equipment he should employ, or the tools he should use in carrying on his profession.

Even the lowly carpenter selects his own tools, determining without legislative interference when to use the hammer and when the saw.

Is there any department of the government requiring a greater degree of technical knowledge and training than the judicial department?

Why, then, should the uninitiated define the technique and select the "tools and the machinery" for the operation of our courts, by determining the methods under which these tribunals shall be administered and prescribing the rules governing the practice and procedure therein?

At the annual meeting of the California Bar Association held in August, 1916, the special section, appointed at the preceding annual meeting to investigate and report to the Association upon the advisability of changing the Practice Act so that purely procedural matters may be prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court, rather than by legislative enactment, submitted a report recommending such change.

As pointed out by the section in its report, "The power to regulate practice and procedure is properly a judicial power, and the rules should be subject to promulgation and change as the exigencies of the administration of justice may require."

Following a very extended and illuminating discussion upon the subject, the association adopted a resolution, approving the principle of regulation of procedure by rules of court, and directing the president of the association to appoint a special section to consider this matter with the Supreme Court, and report at the ensuing session of the Legislature with reference to ways and means to accomplish the result designed to be accomplished by the adoption of such rules.

As a part of its report, the section recommended that section 129 of the Code of Civil Procedure be amended to read as follows:

"The Supreme Court shall have power to make and promulgate from time to time general rules of practice and procedure for all courts of record, as well as forms to be used in pleading, practice and procedure in such courts; and to change and rescind the same. When and as the rules herein authorized shall be promulgated, all laws in conflict therewith shall be and become of no further force or effect, provided always that such rules shall neither impose any tax, charge or penalty upon any legal proceeding, or for filing any pleading allowed by law, nor give any allowance to any officer for services."

More than fourteen years have elapsed since the section made its recommendations. Nevertheless, our court practice is still governed by rigid statutes, thereby giving the requirements and the formalism of our procedure the force of law, whereas these should be regarded merely as the means for the convenient attainment of a just result. It is such lack of progress which has lead the press and business leaders to charge, as did the New York State Chamber of Commerce:

"They (courts and lawyers) operate the system, they know its backgrounds and its needs, they have the opportunity to observe its failures and its weaknesses, and it should be their place to suggest remedies. This obligation they have not discharged satisfactorily. The technicalities, the delays and the cost of litigation remain unchanged. Such reforms as have been made appear to have effected comparatively little."

THE JUDICIAL COUNCIL MOVEMENT

The second of the two important developments above mentioned, namely, the judicial council movement, would seem to have made the greater progress.

Besides the Federal Judicial Council, twenty of the states thus far have established a group of this character. These states, naming them in alphabetical order are: California, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

In addition there are thirteen other states, namely, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Vermont, West Virginia, Wyoming and Minnesota, in which efforts are now being made to establish a judicial council.

While it has been asserted, and with much justification, that the judicial council idea represents the most significant step thus far undertaken in the movement to improve the administration of justice in this country, let us not be deluded into believing that these councils are the panacea for all the ills in the administration of justice.

Indeed, nowhere in this country have we organized a group of any kind, whether it be a judicial council, or any other type, which has been entrusted with the responsibility of coordinating the work of all the courts of a particular jurisdiction, of prescribing the methods governing the exercise of their administrative functions, and of defining the practice and procedure therein; much less have we granted to such a body the authority requisite to the proper discharge of such a responsibility.

Expressed in briefer terms we have not yet centralized responsibility for the proper and efficient operation of the judicial system, much less have we vested in any central authority, the power to effect the changes necessary to enable that system to meet the ever increasing demands made upon it.

"We have also read much," says Prof. Wigmore, Dean Emeritus of Northwestern University School of Law, "in the bulletins of the American Judicature Society of the need for a chief judicial superintendent—instead of a chief judicial umpire—who shall inspect the judicial transactions so as to observe their failures and to direct improvements which may prevent the recurrence of failures.

"At present, five or six sets of persons are put to work by the law to do justice according to the rules. But when something goes wrong—badly and obviously—it is no particular person's power duty or responsibility to take hold promptly, find out where the fault occurred, and endeavor to guard against repetition of such failures.

"* * * * * What we preach is a chief judicial superintendent, who shall have the power and the duty to inquire into each and every sort of botch-product of our justice-system, and to take measures to improve it against the recurrence of such failures."

SHALL WE LEAD OR BE DRIVEN?

We hear much of the success attained through the English reform of judicial procedure. It is significant, however, that this epoch-making achievement, which has become the pride of the bench and bar of England, was not initiated, much less was it inspired, by the legal fraternity of that country. On the contrary, an aroused public, speaking through the lay press, finally drove the profession into line. As one author recently expressed it, "The reform movement in England was initiated and dominated by laymen. It is commonly said that the lawyers were forced to reform and like it."

Will the bench and bar of America profit by the shortsightedness and the mistakes of our British cousins of a century ago?

Have we the vision and the courage to lead the way to a reorganized system of administering justice?

Or, because of a similar lack of vision, and of courage, shall we repeat English history, and, like our Anglo-Saxon predecessors, continue futilely to oppose the inevitable, until ultimately public opinion shall force us to accept the leadership of laymen in the task of modernizing our system of judicial administration, in order that we may have in fact, and not merely in theory, a system whereby justice shall be administered without delay, with the utmost possible efficiency, and at the least amount of expense to the litigant and to the public alike?

The New York Sun, in an editorial published November 16, 1927, observed:

"Steadily the current of lay opinion swings to the belief that if tangible reforms are to take place in American criminal jurisprudence, laymen and not lawyers in legislative office will have to be depended upon."

President Hoover, after paying a deserved tribute to the ability and integrity of the Federal Judiciary and the Bar, in the course of his inaugural address, added significantly:

"But the system which these officers are called upon to administer is in many respects ill adapted to present-day conditions. * * * Reform, reorganization and strengthening of our whole judicial and enforcement system, both in civil and criminal sides, have been advocated for years by statesmen, judges and bar associations."

The National Economic League, a lay organization composed of leaders in finance, commerce and industry, conducted a plebiscite in the spring of 1930, to determine what was considered the most important public question today, and announced that its membership had responded to the effect that the administration of justice was the most pressing problem.

The Los Angeles Times of May 19, 1930, commenting editorially upon the work of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement, and the efforts of the American Law Institute and other organizations toward effecting law reform, voiced the layman's point of view in this rather forceful language:

"Chief Justice Hughes, in a recent speech, said: 'I hail all such efforts.'

"It is well to join the Chief Justice in his applause, but to wonder at the same time if one reason for the apparent ineffectiveness of them to date is not the fact that legislation and recommendations for legislation have been preponderantly in the hands of lawyers, who may be so close to the problem that they can not see it. * * * Civil justice is so slow and so expensive as to be a continuing reproach to our civilization."

Is it possible that the rank and file of the bench and bar still believe that existing conditions can go on indefinitely?

Can it be that we fail to comprehend the meaning of the establishment of such quasi-judicial bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the various public utility commissions, the Workmen's Compensation or as they are sometimes called, Industrial Accident Commissions?

Does the more recent movement to bring about the non-litigious disposition of automobile accident cases by quasi-judicial bodies have no significance for us?

Tired of the delays and seeking relief from the excessive costs, attendant upon the submission of controversies to the judicial tribunals, financial and business interests more and more are abandoning the courts, and instead are turning for the adjustment of their disputes to arbitration tribunals, organized and supervised by laymen, and conducted in accordance with the most advanced business standards.

What will be our answer?

Have we the vision and the courage to lead the way "out of the wilderness" of unconscionable delay and intolerable expense, into the "Promised Land" of justice, administered expeditiously, efficiently and economically?

Or, will English history repeat itself, with the result that we shall find ourselves, by the force of public opinion, compelled to accept a reform movement for the improvement of the administration of justice, initiated and dominated by laymen?

CONCLUSION

The completion of this report virtually marks the conclusion of the writer's official connection with the Judicial Council of California.

Appointed by the Chief Justice as a member of that body at the time of its creation, the writer has been privileged to participate in its labors continuously up to the present time. To have been permitted thus to aid in the task of improving the administration of justice, to have been afforded this wider opportunity of serving the people of this state, has been indeed a rare privilege.

The honor thus conferred at the hands of the Chief Justice is one which is highly prized.

The contacts and associations which the writer has been privileged to enjoy as a member of the Council have been the source of the greatest encouragement.

Wholehearted in their cooperation, my colleagues on the Council have given generously and unselfishly of their talents and their experience, in the cause of improving our judicial system. Their single purpose has been the promotion of the public good—their reward, the satisfaction that comes as the recompense of service well rendered.

Indefatigable in industry, ever considerate of the views of others, sympathetic to every endeavor to better our judicial system, the Chief Justice, as Chairman of the Judicial Council, has exhibited a leadership which has proven most inspiring.

Combining the task of examining the conditions existing in our courts with the study of the causes which have given rise to those conditions which have led to widespread criticism of these tribunals—particularly the congestion and the delays therein—and involving, as it does, the responsibility of considering, devising and recommending the remedies for improving the administration of justice, the judicial council movement offers to the legal fraternity—to the bench and the bar alike—the greatest opportunity for genuinely constructive public service.

If California will provide its Judicial Council with funds, not merely adequate to employ clerical assistance, purchase stationery and defray traveling expenses, but sufficient, also, to secure the services of a research expert, devoting his talents exclusively and continuously to his task—such an investment will pay for itself many times over. Indeed, it will eventually prove an insurance against the adoption of fallacious and costly policies in our judicial system, such as the unnecessary multiplication of courts and judges.

The writer would esteem it a privilege to be allowed to assist in some degree, even though unofficially, in carrying on this great work.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY A. HOLLZER.

BIENNIAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

San Francisco, March 2, 1931.

HON. JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
Governor of California,
Sacramento, California.

SIR: In accordance with statutory direction, I submit herewith a report of the business of this office during the past biennium.

Reports of previous years have shown a steady increase in business handled. During the past two years the increase of civil business handled by this department can not be attributed solely to the increased population of the State and the normal growth and development of business. Much additional litigation resulted from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States holding unconstitutional certain license taxes of a character heretofore collected in this and other States. After such opinion, the Supreme Court of this State permitted actions to be filed by corporations which had theretofore paid license taxes, under a statute adopted in 1893. Though this statute was repealed by the last Legislature, yet all actions filed before such repeal have required the attention of this office.

Some five thousand cases pending at the time of the last biennial report, involving approximately $1,000,000, and seeking collection of license taxes imposed by the Motor Vehicle Transportation Acts of 1923 and 1925, have demanded constant attention.

The number of civil cases handled by this department during the past biennium, excluding the five thousand pending license taxes cases, has been far greater than during any previous like period. More than 67 civil cases have been carried to the appellate courts of California and to the courts of the United States. Consultations with officers, boards and commissions occasioned by the routine of governmental functions, and also by the increased growth of civil litigation, have required much time and attention. In addition to informal views expressed in writing on submitted questions this office has rendered 742 written opinions to the various officers, boards and commissions throughout the State.

This biennial report again shows an increase in criminal cases, 1266 more persons being charged with major offenses than during any preceding biennium. New legislation adding to the number of statutory crimes, and the gain in population, readily explain this increase.

One recommendation of the crime commission of 1927 was that section 7 of article I of the Constitution of California be amended to permit a defendant in a criminal case to waive jury trial and be tried by the Judge. Such amendment was approved by the people and became effective November 6, 1928. Experience has manifested the wisdom of such a law in the brief period since its adoption. Principally in the centers of population, persons charged with offenses have waived juries and been tried under the new procedure. All reports indicate that such trials are more speedy and more cases are handled in considerably less time than was formerly required. Of 710 persons tried by Judges, 490 were convicted and 220 acquitted, the percentage of convictions being 69. Of 3073 persons tried before juries in the past biennium, 2028 were convicted and 1045 acquitted, the percentage of convictions in such trials being 66. While a comparison indicates no great differences between the two methods of trial in the respective percentages of convictions and acquittals, yet it is obvious that the newer method has resulted in a great saving of the court's time, and by eliminating jury fees in such cases has materially reduced the expense incident to criminal prosecutions, while at the same time according the accused full protection in his rights.

The details of the reports of the district attorneys are hereinafter presented. Briefly they show that during the last two-year period 18,882 persons were charged with felonies or indictable misdemeanors in the superior courts of this State. Of this number 3577 were disposed of before trial. In 12,667 cases pleas of guilty were entered or convictions were had as a result of trial. In 2065 cases the trials resulted in acquittals, and 1363 cases were pending at the time of the reports. For the purpose of comparison the figures covering the last two biennial periods are herewith compiled.

During this period, 399 criminal cases were appealed to the courts of the four appellate districts. In addition thereto, 59 cases reached the Supreme Court, being cases in which the Supreme Court had original jurisdiction or cases in which hearings were granted after decision in the District Court of Appeal. The recapitulation of these 458 criminal cases shows that 318 cases were decided in favor of the people, 60 in favor of the defendant, 31 were dismissed and 49 are pending. Subtracting the 49 pending cases from the total of 458, 411 cases remain as a basis for statistical comment. The percentage of affirmances on appeal is 85.2. The latter is an increase of 5 1/5 per cent in affirmances.

Bond issues in the amount of $2,546,400 have been examined and opinions as to their validity furnished. All contracts for the construction of State buildings, many contracts of the State Highway Commission for highway construction, and contracts relating to the acquisition of lands for park and State purposes, have been examined as to their legality.

There have been three money judgments rendered against the State since the date of the last biennial report. All were in the City and County of San Francisco. They are as follows:

Whyte vs. State of California , No. 190118-----	$5,175.84
Quaker Oats Co. vs. Jordan, etc. , No. 190058-----	1,211.50
California Securities Co. vs. Jordan, etc. , No. 190057----	288.45

In the last biennial report the following actions were reported as being ones in which judgments had been recovered against the State. It was, however, pointed out that such judgments were not final because of appeals having been taken on behalf of the defendant. These actions have been determined by the Supreme Court and decided in favor of the State and hence should not be considered final judgments for any purpose.

Key System Transit Co. vs. Charles G. Johnson, Treasurer of the State of California, Superior Court, Sacramento.

REPORT

DIVISION OF BUILDING AND LOAN SUPERVISION

Office of the Building and Loan Commissioner,
San Francisco, California, September 21, 1929.

*To His Excellency, C. C. YOUNG,
Governor of California.*

SIR: Pursuant to the requirements of section 5 of the Building and Loan Commission Act, I have the honor to submit the thirty-sixth annual report of this department, relating to the condition of the associations under its supervision for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929.

The schedules herein contained are the results of tabulations of the annual reports of 222 associations, each of which reports as of the close of its own fiscal year, but in order to show the sum total of all assets as of June 30, 1929, we print the result of the "Called Reports" as of that date, which show assets of $443,235,793.05 as against $337,706,657.32 as of June 30, 1928, a gain in the twelve months of $105,529,135.73. This remarkable gain in assets was quite generally uniform, with all sections of the state participating therein. While money has come into the associations very rapidly the past year it has been absorbed by the borrowers who apparently have become "sold" on the long term installment plan of borrowing. While our examiners report that some associations have been quite liberal in amounts loaned, the fact remains that the great bulk of this money has been safely placed and is bringing good returns to the investor. No failures have occurred in the building and loan business in California for many years and in no case has the holder of a building and loan investment certificate ever had a loss of principal. This remarkable record accounts in large part for the popularity of building and loan certificates, but this record can continue only if association officers and directors continue to properly loan the funds entrusted to them by the investing public.

Building and loan laws have been materially strengthened during the last few years, but additional power should be granted your commissioner. Because of the advertised profitableness of the building and loan business, promoters and others are endeavoring to organize new associations in every part of the state regardless of the fact that in many sections the business is already overdone.

Your commissioner should be given the right to determine where associations could be formed and where permission should be denied even though the incorporators have the required capital. Guarantee stock associations are, practically, mortgage banks and ought not to be allowed to incorporate except under most rigid scrutiny and only in such cities and towns as population and necessity would indicate a reasonable chance for success.

On June 30, 1928, we had 216 active associations while on June 30, 1929, we had 233 associations, a gain of 17 for the year.

On April 8, 1929, license was granted the Building-Loan Federation to transact business in California. The Federation is, in fact, a reserve building and loan organization, to be operated on a nonprofit basis, for the purpose of extending credit to member associations possessing sound assets. An act was passed at the last session of the Legislature, and now operative, giving permission and making lawful ownership of stock in the Reserve Corporation by building and loan associations which are members of the Building and Loan Federation. I am of the opinion that the organization of the Federation was a step in the right direction and will be the means of stabilizing the business generally and will furnish protection when associations need it. Every association in the state should join the Federation and subscribe for the capital stock thereof, and the State of California should, in my opinion, encourage and foster the growth of this organization.

I am still of the opinion that building and loan associations are paying too much for money and that 5 per cent, instead of 6, should be the prevailing rate on full-paid investment certificates. All other restrictions and supervision will amount to but little if the basic principle is wrong. When building and loan associations were small with but a few millions of assets it was comparatively easy to loan and reloan at the average rate of 8.4 per cent per annum, but now that association assets are practically $500,000,000, increasing monthly, and a turnover of the entire amount every four or five years, it is quite easy to see that a reduction in interest loaning rates is imperative for the good of the state as well as for the good of the individual borrower.

Reduction in loaning rates, however, can only be possible by a corresponding reduction in dividends and interest payable.

Complaints alleging misrepresentation on the part of agents selling membership shares, and retaining the membership fee of $1 per share, have become negligible since the order was made that associations employing agents to sell shares must, before paying to the agent the fee, notify the investor by letter of the exact terms of his contract with the association, and explain that the membership fee is not returnable where such fee is charged.

Various interesting comparative statements covering the combined associations appear on the next several pages. This is followed by copies of the various laws governing building and loan associations. The remainder of this report is devoted to the detailed financial statements of each association.

Respectfully yours,

GEO. S. WALKER,
Building and Loan Commissioner.

Powers—Purposes for which formed.

633. Building and loan associations as hereinafter in this title defined, shall have power to receive money and accumulate funds to be loaned, and to loan the same to their shareholders, investors and others; to permit shareholders and investors to withdraw part or all of their payments, investments or stock deposits, and to prescribe the terms and conditions of such withdrawal; to cancel shares of stock, the payments on which have been withdrawn; to receive money and to execute certificates therefor, which must specify the date, amount, rate of interest, and when the principal and interest are payable, and also the withdrawal value thereof at the end of each year; to borrow money for the purpose of making loans and of paying withdrawals and maturities; and shall have such further powers as may be specifically set forth under this title; provided, however, that no such association shall, at any time, have or carry upon its books, for any member or investor, any demand, commercial or checking account or any credit to be withdrawn upon the presentation of any negotiable check or draft.

Every such corporation hereafter formed, setting forth the purposes for which it is formed, shall state, in its articles of incorporation, that it is formed to encourage industry, frugality, home building, and savings among its shareholders and members; the accumulation of savings; the loaning to its shareholders and members of the moneys or funds so accumulated, with the profits and earnings thereon, and the repayment to each of his savings and profits, whenever they have accumulated to the full par value of the shares, or at any time when he shall desire the same or when the corporation shall desire to repay the same, as it may be provided in the by-laws; and shall also state that it is formed for all the purposes specified in this title, and nothing in the statutes of this state, to the contrary notwithstanding, shall preclude any such association in any of its advertising from setting forth any of the foregoing purposes. (Effective July 29, 1927.)

Capital—How accumulated; classes of shares.

634. The capital of every such corporation shall be divided into shares of the matured or par value of one hundred or two hundred dollars each, as provided by the articles of incorporation, and shall be paid in by the subscribers in the manner provided by the by-laws. All such payments shall be called dues. Certificates shall be issued to each shareholder on the first payment of dues by him. Shares pledged as security for the payment of a loan shall be called pledged shares, and all others, free shares. All shares matured and surrendered or canceled, shall become the property of the corporation and may be reissued. The capital shall consist of the accumulated dues, together with the apportioned profits of the corporation, and shall be accumulated by the issuance of shares in any one or more of the following forms, viz: "installment shares," "full paid shares," "pass book shares" and "guarantee stock."

Installment shares.

(a) Installment shall be either "serial" or "permanent" in form. When issued in "serial" form the periodical dues on shares in each series shall commence with the date of the issue of such series and the holder must pay such dues and such amounts per share and at such times as the by-laws may provide, and such payments must continue on each share until, with the profits allotted thereto, it reaches its matured value or is withdrawn or canceled. On all such issues the dividends shall be apportioned or credited equally to each share in each series. No share of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of shares in a new series, except by way of transfer. Shares issued in "permanent" form may be issued at any time and the dividends thereon may be credited in the pass books of the members. Shares of either form may be issued in "classes" with a different periodical payment for each class designation, to be specified in the by-laws, and shall be issued with full participation in the profits subject to apportionment as dividends.

Full paid shares.

(b) Full paid shares shall be shares upon which a single payment of dues amounting to one hundred or two hundred dollars per share shall be paid at the time of subscription and upon which the holder shall be entitled to either such participation in the net profits, not exceeding the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the board of directors shall determine, or to an agreed rate of dividends not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semiannually in cash, such agreed rate, if any, to be specified in the body of the certificate issued. All such shares may be issued in separate classes as to participation, under regulations to be provided in the by-laws and which must be fully set forth in or upon each certificate issued.

Pass book shares.

(c) Pass book shares are shares which shall participate in the apportionment of net profits and be credited therewith at a rate not exceeding the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the board of directors shall determine, and upon which the dues may be paid in at such times and in such amounts as the holder thereof may elect until said shares reach their matured value or are withdrawn.

Guarantee stock.

(d) Guarantee stock shall be stock, provided by the by-laws, to be set apart and sold as a fixed, permanent or guarantee capital, and shall be issued with full participation in the profits subject to apportionment as dividends. When any such stock has been once so set apart, sold and issued it shall thereafter remain as a fixed, permanent and guarantee capital, and shall be subjected to all the conditions and liabilities attaching to the paid-in capital stock of other classes of corporations. Such guarantee stock shall protect and guarantee all other stockholders and creditors against any loss, and when once paid it must be kept unimpaired.

May issue investment certificates to minors.

(e) Every corporation specified in this title, in addition to being entitled to issue investment certificates to adults, shall also have power to issue one or more investment certificates to a minor of any age and receive payments thereon by or for such minor. If such minor be fourteen years of age or over, he shall be entitled to withdraw, transfer or pledge any such certificate owned by him and to receive from such corporation any and all interest or other moneys at any time becoming due thereon and his receipt or acquittance therefor shall constitute a valid release and discharge to the corporation for the payment of such money.

Investment certificates reserve required.

(f) Every corporation specified in this title issuing installment or full paid investment certificates, or both, shall at all times have issued and fully paid for, either an amount of guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or both such guarantee capital stock and permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or a reserve fund, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of its liability on its said installment investment certificates and full paid investment certificates; provided, however, that the aggregate of guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or both such guarantee capital stock and permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or a reserve fund, of every building and loan association issuing installment or full paid investment certificates, or both, must equal the following percentages of its investment certificate liabilities:

1. Ten per centum of any amount up to and including one million dollars.
2. Seven and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of one million dollars, up to and including two million dollars.
3. Five per centum of any amount in excess of two million dollars, up to and including five million dollars.
4. Three per centum of any amount in excess of five million dollars.

Guaranteed stock may have majority of directors.

(g) Corporations specified in this title, issuing guarantee stock, may provide in their by-laws that a majority of the board of directors shall be selected from the holders of such stock.

Entrance and transfer fees.

(h) Every corporation specified in this title shall also have power, by its by-laws, to charge and collect an entrance fee, for each share of stock, or membership share, or investment certificate, it may issue, not exceeding one dollar on each share or investment certificate having a matured or face value of one hundred dollars, and also to charge and collect a transfer fee, not exceeding ten cents on each share, or investment certificate, all of which fees shall be accounted for by the corporation like other funds of the association. No other fee, charge or deduction shall ever be made, or permitted to be made against any shareholder or certificate holder, or against any of his shares or certificates, hereafter issued, or the dues paid thereon for the purpose of creating a fund to be used in the payment of current or running expenses. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Retiring free shares.

635. The directors may in their discretion, under the regulations prescribed by the by-laws, retire any free shares of stock, other than those of the guarantee stock, by enforcing the withdrawal thereof, but whenever the withdrawal of any shares is to be enforced, the holders thereof must be paid the amount actually paid in, and the full amount of earnings at the date of retirement; provided, that shares of installment stock shall not be forced out until after they shall have become four years old.

Maturity of shares, and payment.

636. When any stock shall have reached its matured value, payment of dues thereon shall cease. Borrowing stockholders whose loans are fully paid shall have their securities released and returned to them. Holders of free shares of stock shall be paid the matured value thereof out of the funds of the corporation with interest at such rate as the by-laws shall provide, from the time the board of directors shall declare such shares to have been matured, until paid; but at no time shall more than one-half of the receipts of the corporation be applicable to the payment of matured shares without the consent of said board. The order of the payment of matured shares, if not otherwise determined by the by-laws, shall be in the numerical order of issuance.

Loans—Officers and directors may not borrow; no loans on guarantee stock or mining stock.

637. Loans may be made upon the “mutual plan” or upon the “definite contract plan.” Loans made upon the mutual plan shall be accompanied by a pledge of shares having a matured or par value equal to the face of the loan. Definite contract loans shall be repayable in a definite number of equal periodical installments, to be named in the note or obligation, each in an amount sufficient for the aggregate of all to repay the principal of the loan together with interest on the unpaid periodical balances, within the time and at the rate agreed upon. It shall be unlawful for any director or officer of any corporation governed by this title, directly or indirectly, for himself, or as a partner or agent for others, to borrow any of the funds of such corporation, and any officer or director violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony. Any officer or director of any such corporation who consents on behalf of such corporation to make a loan to any officer or director of such corporation shall be guilty of a felony, and shall also be personally liable to the corporation for the full amount thereof. Any officer, director, or employee of such corporation who asks or receives or consents or agrees to receive any commission, emolument, gratuity or reward, or any money, property or thing of value, for his own personal benefit or of personal advantage, for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person, firm or corporation any loan from such corporation, is guilty of a felony. It shall be unlawful for any building and loan association, corporation or society operating under the provisions of this title to loan any of its funds upon any of its own guarantee stock or upon its permanent nonwithdrawal capital stock as security. Any officer or director of an association who shall make any such loan for and on behalf of any association shall be personally liable to the corporation for the full amount thereof, and shall also be deemed guilty of a felony. It shall be unlawful for any building and loan association, corporation or society, operating under the provisions of this title, to loan any of its funds upon the security of, or to invest any of its funds in mining shares or mining stocks, or in the stocks or bonds of any corporation, other than in this title provided; and any officer or director who, on behalf of any such corporation, shall make any such loan or investment, or who shall consent thereto, shall be personally liable to the corporation for the whole amount of any such loan or investment, and shall also be guilty of a felony. (Effective July 29, 1927.)

Security for loans—Interest, rate to appear.

638. For every loan made a note or obligation, expressing and setting forth the exact rate of interest, must be executed by the borrower, secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust upon unencumbered real estate having an appraised value of not less than twenty-five per cent in excess of the face of the loan, except such loans as may be made upon the security of bonds specified in section six hundred forty-seven; or in lieu of a mortgage or deed of trust, loans to the extent of not exceeding ninety per cent of the then withdrawable value, may be made upon the pledge of free shares or certificates as security for their repayment. The board of directors may from time to time fix the rate of interest to be charged on loans. A borrower may at any time repay his loan together with interest or arrears due thereon and upon the surrender of the shares, or certificate pledged as security therefor. (In effect July 27, 1917.)

Arrears in payment; default; forfeitures.

639. Whenever any non-borrowing member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues upon free shares, the secretary may give him notice thereof in writing, and a statement of his arrearages, by mailing the same to him at his last post-office address given by him to the association; and if he shall not pay all arrearages within two months thereafter, the board of directors may, at their option, declare his shares forfeited, and at the time of such forfeiture, the withdrawal value thereof shall be determined and stated, and the defaulting member shall be entitled to withdraw the same without interest, upon such notice as shall be required of a withdrawing shareholder. Whenever a borrower shall be three months in arrears in the payment of his dues or interest or loan installments, the whole loan shall become due at the option of the board of directors, and they may proceed to enforce collection upon the securities held by the association. The withdrawal value, at the time of exercising such option, of all shares pledged as collateral security, shall be applied to the payment of the loan, and said shares from that time shall be deemed surrendered to the association and canceled.

May purchase real estate on foreclosure sale.

640. Any such association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other incumbrance, or in which it may have an interest, and may sell, lease, or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons.

Apportionment of profits; reserve—Guarantee stock participation and reserve.

641. Profits and losses shall be apportioned at least annually, and shall be apportioned to all shares in each class at the time of such apportionment, according to the actual or book value thereof. If the guarantee capital herein provided for if any there be, together with the reserve fund, or if the reserve fund, where there be no guarantee capital, shall not equal five per cent of the outstanding loans at the time of each apportionment of profits, the directors shall set aside, as a reserve fund, not less than five per cent of the net profits accruing since the last prior apportionment, and shall continue so to do until said fund shall amount to at least five per cent of the loans in force, at which figure said fund shall thereafter be maintained. Said reserve fund shall at all times be available to meet losses arising from any source not heretofore provided to be assumed by the guarantee capital. Every such corporation having a paid-in guarantee capital stock, may provide in its by-laws, that an amount not exceeding one per cent per annum on the average loans in force shall be set aside from and out of the net profits, at each annual distribution thereof, or a proportionate amount at each semi-annual distribution, from which to declare additional dividends on and provide a reserve fund that shall be specially applicable thereto. At least one-tenth of the amount so set aside shall be carried to such reserve fund until the same shall amount to at least twenty-five per cent of the paid-in guarantee stock. (Effective July 29, 1927.)

Withdrawals; conditions and limitations.

642. A stockholder or investor, desiring to withdraw from any such corporation or to surrender a part or all of his stock, or investment certificate, may do so by giving thirty days' notice, in writing, of his intention or desire so to do. On the expiration of such notice, he is entitled to receive the full amount paid in upon the stock or investment certificate surrendered, exclusive of the entrance fee, together with such proportion of the earnings thereon as the by-laws may provide, or as may be fixed by the board of directors; but not more than one-half of the monthly receipts in any one month must be applied to withdrawals for that month, without the consent of the board of directors, and no stockholder must be permitted to withdraw whose stock is pledged to the corporation as security for a loan, until such loan is fully paid. All withdrawals must be paid in succession in the order that the notices of intention are given. Whenever the demands of withdrawing stockholders or investors exceed the money applicable to their payment, the notices of intention to withdraw must be registered in the order of filing and payments thereon must be made in succession, in the order that such notices were filed and registered. The board of directors may permit the withdrawal of a part of the accumulations to the credit of a stockholder or member, on shares of installment stock not issued in serial form, without thereby reducing the number of shares held by him. (In effect July 24, 1925.)

Demands unpaid for two years, business may be taken over.

642a. Whenever an application for withdrawal of free shares or certificates shall have been on file, or the payment of matured shares demanded, and either shall have remained unpaid for a period of one year, all the receipts of the association from dues, interest, premium, loans repaid, and the proceeds of all other investments, shall, after the payment of expenses and general indebtedness, be applied toward the payment of withdrawals and maturities; and the board of directors or the official vested by law with powers of state supervision and license may direct that such payments shall be made upon a ratable and proportionate basis. Whenever such applications or demands, whether heretofore or hereafter made, have been on file and remain unpaid in whole or in part for more than two years the official vested by law with powers of state supervision and license, may in his discretion forthwith take possession of the property and business of such association, and retain such possession until its affairs be finally liquidated in the manner provided by law for the liquidation of associations by him. (In effect August 8, 1915.)

Who may become members.

643. Any person of full age and sound mind may become a member of an association by taking one or more shares therein and subscribing to the by-laws, and annexing to his signature his post-office address. A minor may hold shares in the name of a parent, guardian, or next friend, as trustee. The shares of stock in any such corporation held by any person, to the extent of one thousand dollars, shall be exempt from execution.

State supervision and control.

644. All building and loan associations, as in this title defined, doing business in this state, shall be under the supervision and control of such official or officials as are by law vested therewith; and except in the manner provided in this title, no corporation, firm, or association shall conduct or carry on the business of accumulating the savings of its shareholders, members, or investors, and loaning such accumulations to them, in the manner of building and loan associations.

Annual and other reports; penalties.

645. Every association organized under the provisions of this title, and every other association doing a similar business, shall annually make a full report, in writing, of the affairs and condition of such corporation, within thirty days after its annual meeting, to the official or officials vested with powers of state supervision and license. Such reports shall be verified by the oath of the officers making the same, and a copy of the same shall be delivered to every stockholder, from the office of the corporation, who may call for such report. Every association shall make any further reports which the said official or officials may require, and in such form and as to such matters relating to the conduct of the business of the association as such official or officials may designate. Any wilfully false statement in making and verifying said report shall be perjury. Any such association which shall fail to furnish the said official or officials any such report required, within thirty days after demand, shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, which may be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of this state; and all moneys so recovered shall be paid to the treasurer of this state, who shall pay the same into such fund as may be provided by law, for the purposes of the official or officials vested with power of supervision and license.

Foreign association; deposit required.

646. No building and loan association or other corporation, association or society organized under and by virtue of the laws of any other state or territory or of any foreign country, for the purpose of conducting and carrying on a business of a character similar to that authorized by this title, or whose by-laws, rules, prospectus, contracts or methods of business provide for the conducting or carrying on the business of accumulating the periodical payments or savings of its shareholders, members or investors in the manner of building and loan associations, or as authorized and provided in this title, shall enter the State of California for the transaction of business or for selling its bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, shares of membership, contracts or other similar securities or shall sell any of its bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, shares of membership, contracts or other similar securities or otherwise transact any of its business of a character similar to that authorized by this title, without first complying with all the requirements of the laws of this state relative to building and loan associations as defined in this title and in an act entitled "The building and loan commission act," approved April 5, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and until such building and loan association, corporation or society has applied for and received from the building and loan commissioner a certificate of authority or license to transact business in this state as required of building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state, and without having deposited with the building and loan commissioner the money or securities hereinafter in this section required for the transaction of such business within this state. Every such foreign building and loan association, corporation or society transacting business in this state of a character similar to that authorized by this title, or in such a manner as might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a building and loan association, shall become subject to the supervision of the building and loan commissioner, and shall conduct all its business in accordance with the statutes governing building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state.

Every building and loan association, and every other corporation, association or society organized under and by virtue of the laws of any other state or territory or of any foreign country, for the purpose of conducting and carrying on a business of a character similar to that authorized by this title, or whose by-laws, rules, prospectus, contracts or methods of business provide for the conducting or carrying on the business of accumulating the periodical payments or savings of its shareholders, members or investors in the manner of building and loan associations, or as authorized and provided in this title, desiring to enter the State of California for the transaction of business or for selling its bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, shares of membership, contracts, or other similar securities, must first deposit with the building and loan commissioner not less than fifty thousand dollars in lawful money of the United States or in bonds of the United States or of the State of California, or of any county, municipality or school district of said state, or of any public utility corporation, or of any irrigation district in said state, the bonds issued by which district are legal investments for savings banks or any notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, or mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight, title two, part four of division first of the Civil Code or in lieu thereof promissory notes secured by first mortgages or deeds of trust upon unencumbered real estate located within this state, satisfactory to the building and loan commissioner, all duly assigned or endorsed in blank, to be held by him as a guarantee fund for the protection and indemnity of residents of the State of California who shall invest in any of its bonds, debentures, shares, contracts, agreements or other securities, or with whom it shall do business.

With the consent of the building and loan commissioner any of the securities deposited as herein provided may be withdrawn at any time upon the substitution and deposit of others of form and character herein specified and of like or greater net value, so long as the aggregate net convertible value of all equals or exceeds the amount named herein. The fund thus created is not to be foreclosed or realized upon except for the liquidation of a final judgment in favor of residents of California who were investors in any of the above mentioned securities of such foreign association, corporation or society, and then only after certified proof thereof has been filed with the custodian.

Except as above provided, securities deposited as herein specified shall not be withdrawn until satisfactory proof of the liquidation of all liabilities to residents of California, approved by the building and loan commissioner, shall be filed with the custodian, when all may then be withdrawn.

Any person who shall be found in the state, as principal, agent, solicitor, or in any other capacity, soliciting or conducting the business of selling, disposing of, or taking or soliciting subscriptions for the sale of any of the forms of bonds, debentures, shares, contracts, agreements or other securities of any such foreign company, corporation or association which has not complied with all the requirements of this section and which is not at that time the lawful holder of a license to transact business in this state, issued by the building and loan commissioner, and then in force, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Investments permitted; approval required.

647. Any building and loan association may invest in or loan upon bonds of the United States, of the State of California, or of any county, municipality or school district of said state, or of any public utility corporation, or notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, or mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company, in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division one of the Civil Code, and may also invest in bonds or securities certified by the superintendent of banks to be legal as investments for savings banks in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and in full paid investment certificates issued by any building and loan association licensed by, and under the direct supervision of the building and loan commissioner of the State of California in accordance with the provisions of this title, the total of which investments shall not at any time exceed twenty-five per centum of the assets of such investing association; and may also invest in the capital stock of a building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, licensed by, and under the direct supervision of the building and loan commissioner; provided, all of the stock, excepting directors' qualifying shares, of such building and loan association so invested in, shall be originally issued to other building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state, or to individuals with written options to one or more building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state, to purchase said stock within six months after such associations may become legally empowered to own said stock, and provided, that said building and loan association so invested in, shall be operated for the mutual benefit and protection of its stockholder associations; provided, further, that any such loan or investment, made by such association, must first be approved by the official, or officials, vested with the powers of supervision and license; provided, further, the total investments herein permitted by a building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, licensed by, and under the direct supervision of the building and loan commissioner, all of the stock of which, excepting directors' qualifying shares, shall have been originally issued to other building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state or to individuals with written options to such associations as hereinbefore provided, may at any time exceed twenty-five per centum of the assets of such investing association. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Consolidation of associations.

647a. Any two or more building and loan associations may unite and become incorporated in one body, with or without any dissolution or division of the funds of either of them; or any such corporation, association or society may transfer its engagements, funds and property to any other like corporation, association or society upon such terms as may be agreed by an unanimous vote of their respective boards of directors, ratified by the written consent of the shareholders holding more than two-thirds of the shares in force in each of the respective contracting associations; provided, however, that any such consolidation or transfer must also be approved by the official or officials vested by law with powers of state supervision and license. (In effect July 22, 1919.)

648. The name "building and loan associations" as used in this title shall include:

Mutuals.

First—Corporations formed for the purpose of receiving money from, and loaning money to, their members only.

Corporations operating on similar lines.

Second—Corporations, associations, companies, copartnerships, and individuals transacting the business of issuing or selling bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, or other papers, by whatever names said instruments may be designated, whether said instruments are issued for money paid in advance or for money to be paid in installments, but with an intent, either implied or expressed, that the proceeds or accumulated installments thereof and thereon are to be withdrawable or repayable, with accumulated profits, at some future fixed, or indefinite date of maturity; provided always, that this section does not include persons, copartnerships or corporations engaged in any kind of banking business. (In effect March 22, 1909.)

Formation with or without capital stock.

648a. Building and loan associations may be formed under this title with or without guarantee or other capital stock, with all the rights, powers and privileges and subject to all the restrictions and liabilities set forth in this title. If formed without any capital stock or with guarantee capital stock only, the working capital may be accumulated by the issue of membership shares, units or certificates having a paid-up or ultimate matured installment value of one hundred or two hundred dollars each, and entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges and subject to all the restrictions and liabilities provided in this title for shares of authorized capital stock of a similar class. Any building and loan association heretofore formed may reincorporate under the provisions of this section and may substitute membership shares, units or certificates of similar classes for its outstanding or authorized shares of capital stock, other than guarantee capital stock by amending its articles of incorporation in the manner prescribed by section three hundred sixty-two of this code, except that such amended articles of incorporation must be adopted by a unanimous vote of the board of directors. (In effect July 29, 1921.)

Branch associations.

648b. No building and loan association organized under the laws of this state or of any other state or territory or of any foreign country, transacting business within this state, or any officer or director thereof shall open, maintain, or conduct a branch, other than its principal place of business in this state, without first having obtained the written approval of the building and loan commissioner to the opening of such branch; provided, that no building and loan association with a guarantee capital stock, or a permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or any officer or director thereof, shall open or maintain any such branch unless the amount of guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, actually paid in, in cash, or a reserve fund, or both such guarantee capital stock and permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, or a reserve fund, shall exceed the amount required by subdivision (f) of section 634 of the Civil Code by the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for each branch opened, conducted or maintained. Provided, further, that no building and loan association without a guarantee capital stock or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock or any officer or director thereof, shall open, conduct or maintain one or more such branch or branches, unless such building and loan association shall thereafter, while maintaining same, at each apportionment of profits, set aside to its reserve fund one per cent of its net profits since the last prior apportionment, in addition to the amount required to be so set aside by section 641 of the Civil Code, until said reserve fund shall exceed the maximum amount required by said section 641 of the Civil Code for such association by the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, for each branch so opened, maintained or conducted. Every building and loan association before it shall hereafter open a branch must apply for and procure from the building and loan commissioner a certificate of authority or license for the opening of such branch. The applicant shall pay for such certificate of authority or license a fee of fifty dollars, and said license shall continue in force and effect until canceled by the building and loan commissioner for cause.

The word "branch" as used in this section shall be construed to mean any office owned and operated by a building and loan association, other than at its principal place of business in this state, where subscriptions are sold, taken or solicited for bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, shares of membership, contracts or other similar securities of such building and loan association or where such shares or securities are sold or issued, excepting where such shares of stock or shares of membership are sold or issued only as security for or in connection with a loan by such association.

Every building and loan association violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a public offense and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars. Every officer, agent or employee of any such building and loan association and every other person who knowingly authorizes, directs or aids in the establishment of a branch of any building and loan association in nonconformity with a certificate of authority or license of the building and loan commissioner, then in effect, authorizing the establishment of such branch, or contrary to the provisions of this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Approved April 5, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 607.]

(Amendments effective December 18, 1911, March 23, 1912, August 8, 1915, July 27, 1917, July 29, 1921, August 17, 1923, July 24, 1925, July 29, 1927, and August 14, 1929.)

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby created a bureau, to be known and designated as the "Bureau of building and loan supervision," with powers of supervision, examination and license of all building and loan associations, mutual loan associations, cooperative home associations, and all other corporations, associations, and societies whenever, wherever and however formed, which are based, or are operating on plans or methods similar to building and loan associations as defined in section 648 of the Civil Code. Said bureau is charged with the enforcement of all laws designed for the formation, government or operation, in this state, of any such association, corporation or society, and is vested with power to determine what associations, corporations and societies come within the purview of the laws, and is vested with full power and jurisdiction over the issuance of all bonds, debentures, certificates, shares of stock, shares of membership, contracts or other securities, or interests therein, of all building and loan associations, mutual loan associations, cooperative home associations, and all other corporations, associations, and societies whenever, wherever and however formed, which are based, or are operating on plans or methods similar to building and loan associations as defined in title sixteen of part four of division one of the Civil Code, whether issued at the time of formation thereof or subsequent thereto. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Sale of guarantee capital stock,

SEC. 1a. No building and loan association formed with guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, shall sell, except upon a sale for a delinquent assessment made in accordance with the provisions of article two of chapter two of title one of part four of division one of the Civil Code; or offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any of its guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, until it shall have first applied for and secured from the building and loan commissioner a permit authorizing it so to do. Such application shall be in writing, shall be verified as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of pleadings, and shall be filed in the office of the commissioner. In such application the applicant shall set forth the names and addresses of its officers, the location of its office, an itemized account of its financial condition, the amount and character of its assets and liabilities, a copy of any contract it proposes to make concerning the sale of its guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, a copy of any prospectus or advertisement, or other description of said stock, then prepared by or for it for distribution or publication, and such additional information concerning the association, its condition and affairs as the commissioner may require. It shall also file with its application a copy of all minutes of any proceedings of its directors or stockholders or members relating to or affecting the issue of such stock, and also a copy of its articles of incorporation and of its by-laws and of any amendments thereto. Upon the filing of such application, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to examine it and the other papers and documents filed therewith, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make or have made a detailed examination, audit, and investigation of the applicant and its affairs. If he finds that the proposed plan for the issue and sale of such stock is not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof, the commissioner shall issue to the applicant a permit authorizing it to issue and dispose of its said guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, as therein provided, in this state, in such amounts and for such considerations and upon such terms and conditions as the commissioner may in said permit provide. Otherwise, he shall deny the application and refuse such permit and notify the applicant in writing of his decision. Every permit shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the stock permitted to be issued. The commissioner may impose conditions requiring the impoundment of the proceeds from the sale of such stock, limiting the expense in connection with the sale thereof, and such other conditions as he may deem reasonable and necessary or advisable to insure the disposition of the proceeds from the sale of such stock in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit. The commissioner may from time to time amend, alter, or revoke any permit issued by him, or temporarily suspend the rights of the applicant under such permit. The commissioner shall have the power to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this section.

Every building and loan association which shall directly or indirectly offer for sale, or negotiate for the sale of or sell, or issue, or cause to be issued any of its guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, contrary to the provisions of this section, or of the constitution of this state, or in nonconformity with a permit of the building and loan commissioner authorizing the same, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes, if any, specified in such permit, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, shall be guilty of a public offense and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars. Every officer, agent, or employee of any building and loan association, and every other person, who knowingly authorizes, directs, or aids in the issue or sale of, or issues or executes, or sells, or causes or assists in causing to be issued, executed, or sold, any of the guarantee capital stock, or permanent nonwithdrawable capital stock, of any building and loan association, in nonconformity with a permit of the building and loan commissioner then in effect authorizing such issue, or contrary to the provisions of this section or of the constitution of this state, is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Building and loan commissioner.

SEC. 2. The administration of said bureau shall be vested in a commissioner, to be known and designated as the "building and loan commissioner," who shall be appointed by the governor and hold office for a term of four years. He must be a citizen of the state; and he must not be in any way connected with any association or corporation or society coming under his supervision. He shall appoint a chief deputy building and loan commissioner with full power as such, who must be a practical, skilled accountant, fully conversant with the building and loan systems and accounts; he may appoint an appraiser and such other examiners, deputies, assistants, clerks and stenographers as shall be found necessary for the proper conduct of the business of his office and the making of examinations of associations. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Salaries and expenses.

SEC. 3. The commissioner shall receive a salary of six thousand dollars, per annum. He shall, subject to the approval of the board of control, have power to fix the salaries and compensation of an appraiser, examiners, deputies, assistants and employees. There shall also be allowed and paid the necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner and his deputies incurred while traveling in the line of their duties.

The commissioner shall procure and have an office in the city of San Francisco. Said commissioner shall also provide for such stationery, printing, postage and all other necessary expenditures as may be necessary for the proper conduct of his office. All said salaries and expenses shall be audited and paid in the same manner as the salaries and expenses of other state offices. Said salaries and expenses shall be paid from the "building and loan inspection fund." (Effective July 29, 1927.)

Bonds and oath of office.

SEC. 4. Before entering upon their duties, the commissioner and his deputies shall each execute an official bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, each of which bonds must be guaranteed by a duly authorized surety or bonding company, the premium on which shall be paid from the allowance for office expenses. Any bond executed under this section must be approved by the governor and filed and reported in the office of the secretary of state, and such commissioner and deputies must take the oath of office as prescribed by the Political Code for the state officers in general. (In effect July 29, 1921.)

Commissioner to license and report to governor.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to furnish all associations, corporations or societies, which, in his judgment, legally come under his jurisdiction, and that have otherwise complied with the requirements of law, a license authorizing them to transact business for one year from the date of said license; to receive and place on file in his office the annual or other reports required by law to be made by building and loan associations, licensed by him; to supply each with blank forms for such statement; and to make, on or before the first day of October in each year, a tabulated report to the governor of this state, showing the condition of all such associations, corporations or societies reporting to him, with such recommendation as he may deem proper, accompanied by a detailed statement of all moneys received by him since his last report and the disposition thereof. (In effect July 29, 1921.)

Examinations of domestic and foreign associations.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the commissioner, in person, or one of his deputies at least once in each year, without previous notice, to visit and examine into the affairs of every such association, corporation or society licensed by him, incorporated or doing business in this state; on such occasions he shall have free access to all the books, records, securities and papers of every such association, corporation or society, and shall first count the cash and check the bank balance of such corporation or association with the proper amount of funds as shown by the books to be on hand and at the date and hour of such examination, and shall then examine and verify the books, accounts, and securities, and, so far as possible and consistent, the values of all property owned or held as collateral security for moneys loaned, and otherwise use reasonable diligence to ascertain the financial condition and solvency thereof. He and his deputies shall have power to administer oaths in the line of duty, and to examine under oath the officers, employees and agents, or the custodian or receiver, relative to any or all the business thereof. Whenever the result of any such examination shall develop a condition demanding an extended audit of the books and affairs, the commissioner may, for such purpose, appoint a competent auditor at the expense of the association, corporation or society examined. The expense of such audit shall be fixed by the commissioner and shall not exceed fifteen dollars per diem, plus traveling and hotel expenses, for each day actually engaged in the making of the audit and the preparation of the report.

The commissioner or his deputies shall examine, or cause to be examined, the books and affairs of any such association, corporation or society formed under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign country applying for a license to enter this state for the transaction of business, prior to the granting of such license and annually thereafter, and for every such examination made outside the state the actual traveling and hotel expenses incurred shall be paid by the association, corporation or society so examined: provided, that the result of any similar examination made and certified by the duly constituted authorities of any state having similar laws of supervision may be accepted by the commission. (In effect July 29, 1921.)

Books and accounts required; appraisalment of real estate.

SEC. 7. To facilitate the examination specified in the foregoing section, he shall require every such association, corporation, or society to keep its books in such form as to accurately show its assets and liabilities in detail and to keep records written in ink, showing the appraised values of the real estate security held in connection with each loan, and signed in each case by the appraiser, officer or committee charged with making such estimated valuations. The commissioner may make a revaluation of the real estate owned, and of other securities of any such association, corporation or society licensed by him, on which the loan payments may be delinquent for six months or more, and may, for that purpose, appoint local appraisers, who shall be disinterested persons, at the expense of such association, corporation or society; the expense of such appraisalment to be fixed by the commissioner, but not to exceed the sum of five dollars for property located outside of any incorporated limits and three dollars for property located inside of any incorporated limits for each property so examined and appraised. Each appraiser so appointed shall be required to make a sworn report to the commissioner of his estimated valuations of all property so examined and appraised.

Power to issue subpoenas.

SEC. 8. The commissioner shall have power to issue subpoenas and require attendance of any or all trustees, or agents of any such association, corporation or society, and such other witnesses as they may deem necessary, in relation to its affairs, transactions and condition, and any such person so served with such subpoena may upon application of the commissioner be required by order of the superior court of the county where the corporation, association or society has its principal place of business to appear and answer such pertinent questions as may be put to him by such commissioner and be required to produce such books, papers or documents in his possession as may be required by such commissioner.

Powers of commissioner in unsafe practices and conditions, and in liquidations.

SEC. 9. If the commissioner, as the result of any examination, or from any report made to him or to the shareholders, shall find that any association, corporation or society licensed by him, is violating the provisions of its charter or of the laws of this state provided for its government, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he may, by an order addressed to the association, corporation or society so offending, direct a discontinuance of such violations or unsafe practices and a conformity with all the requirements of law; and if such association, corporation or society shall refuse or neglect to comply with such order within the time specified therein; or if it shall appear to the commissioner that any such association, corporation or society is in an unsafe condition, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, such as to render its further proceeding hazardous to the public, or to those having funds in its custody; or if he shall find that its assets are impaired to such an extent that, after providing for all liabilities other than to shareholders, members and investors, they do not exceed in volume the dues or principal payments paid in by the shareholders, members and investors and accredited to or on account of all classes of stock, shares, or certificates of investment, issued and outstanding, he shall, in order to prevent waste and diversion of assets, assume and take charge of the affairs and business of such association, corporation or society and possession and control of all its property and assets, and retain such possession pending action by the proper court. Upon taking such action, he may, under his hand and official seal, appoint a custodian, require from him a good and sufficient bond, and place him in charge as his representative. He shall immediately notify the attorney general of his action and of all the necessary facts in connection therewith; and thereupon it shall become the duty of the attorney general to at once apply to the superior court of the county in which such association, corporation or society has its principal place of business, for an order citing such association, corporation or society to show cause, if any it may have, within not exceeding ten days, why the action of the commissioner should not be approved and confirmed by the court, and made permanent. Such court may in such application, and after a full hearing, approve or disapprove of the action of the commissioner. If the court shall approve and confirm the action of the commissioner, such approval and confirmation shall operate as a permanent injunction against the further prosecution of business by such association, corporation or society, and the commissioner shall proceed immediately to liquidate the business and affairs thereof, and so continue until such liquidation has been completed. If the action of the commissioner shall be disapproved by the court, the commissioner shall cause all reasonable expenses incurred by him during his occupancy or possession, including not exceeding eight dollars per diem, for each business day, as the compensation of the custodian, to be paid from the funds of such association, corporation or society, and immediately restore the balance of the property and assets thereof to the possession of the proper officers.

The approval and confirmation of the action of the commissioner, by the court, shall operate to empower the commissioner to collect all moneys, debts and claims due to or belonging to such association or society and to give full receipt therefor; to release or reconvey all real or personal property pledged as security for loans; to approve and pay all just and equitable claims; to prosecute all actions necessary to enforce liquidations; and, on the order of the court, to compound bad and doubtful debts and to sell and convey real and personal property.

As soon as practicable after the approval and confirmation of the action of the commissioner, by the court, he shall cause an inventory of all the assets of such association, corporation or society to be made in duplicate, the original to be filed with the proper court and the duplicate in the office of the commissioner. He shall cause due notice to be given by publication, weekly, for four successive weeks, in some newspaper published at or near the principal place of business of such association, corporation or society, requesting all persons having claims against it as creditors, shareholders, members or investors, to present same and make legal proof thereof, at a place and within a time to be designated in such publication; and he shall cause a copy of such notice to be mailed to all persons whose names appear of record upon its books as creditors, shareholders, members or investors; and upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims the commissioner shall prepare or cause to be prepared, in duplicate, a full and complete schedule of all claims presented, specifying by classes those that have been approved and those that have been disapproved, and file the original with the proper court and the duplicate in the office of the commissioner. Due notice shall be mailed to all claimants whose claims may have been rejected. Action to enforce the payment of any rejected claim must be brought and service had within thirty days from and after the date of filing of the schedule of claims with the proper court, otherwise all such actions shall be forever barred. The commissioner may, under his hand and official seal, appoint one or more special deputies to assist in the duties of liquidation and distribution, under his direction, and may also employ such counsel and clerical assistance as may be needful and requisite, and fix the salaries and compensation to be allowed and paid to each. All such salaries, together with such other reasonable and necessary expenses as may be incurred in the liquidation, shall be paid by him from the funds of such association, corporation or society in his hands, and from the net realization of assets, in excess of such salaries and expenses, the commissioner shall first pay all approved claims other than to stockholders, shareholders and members; and thereafter he shall distribute and pay dividends, in liquidation to the stockholders, other than guarantee, and to the shareholders and members, as fast as funds to the amount of ten (10) per cent of such approved claims are available therefor, and so continue until all the assets have been realized upon and a final dividend in liquidation shall be declared and paid. Upon the payment of a final dividend in liquidation, the commissioner shall prepare and file with the proper court a full and final statement of the liquidation, including a summary of the receipts and disbursements, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed in the office of the commissioner, and after due hearing and approval by the court the liquidation shall be deemed to be closed. The approval and confirmation of the action of the commissioner, in the manner herein provided, shall operate to dissolve or stay any or all actions or attachments initiated or levied within thirty days next preceding the date of notification of the attorney general by the commissioner; and, pending the process of liquidation, as herein provided, no attachment or execution shall be levied nor lien created upon any of the property of such association, corporation, or society.

In every case where any such association, corporation or society shall have a paid in guarantee capital, and the realization of assets shall be insufficient to meet the liabilities due to all other classes of stockholders, shareholders, members and investors, the commissioner shall enforce, by action or otherwise, the liability of each and every of the holders of the guarantee capital stock for his or their respective pro rata of any such deficiency. Whenever, in all cases where there shall be a paid in guarantee capital, the commissioner shall have fully liquidated all approved claims, and shall have made due provision for any and all known but unclaimed liabilities, guarantee capital excepted, and shall have paid all expenses of liquidation, any surplus that may then remain in his hands, together with all the records and effects, shall be delivered over to the holders of the guarantee capital stock at a meeting thereof to be called by the commissioner for that purpose. (In effect March 23, 1912.)

Penalty for noncompliance with orders; sheriff may enforce demands.

SEC. 9a. Whenever it shall become necessary for the commissioner to take action against any association because of unsafe practices and of conditions unsafe and hazardous to the public and to those having funds in its custody, as provided in section nine, the refusal of any officer or director to comply with his written demand for possession of the property and assets shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and if such demand be not complied with within twenty-four hours after service the commissioner may call to his assistance the sheriff of the county in which the principal place of business of such association is located, by written demand under his hand and official seal, whereupon it shall become the duty of such official to enforce the demands of the commissioner. (In effect August 8, 1915.)

(In effect March 23, 1912.)

SEC. 11. (In effect March 23, 1912.)

Special examinations on request.

SEC. 12. Upon the certificate, under oath, of any ten or more officers, trustees, creditors, shareholders or depositors of any such association, corporation or society, setting forth their interest and the reason for the making of such examination, directed to the commissioner, and requesting him so to do, he shall forthwith make a full investigation of its affairs, in the manner provided.

Failure of commissioner to act.

SEC. 13. If the commissioner, having knowledge of the insolvent condition, or of any violation of law or unsafe practice of any such association, corporation or society under his supervision, such as renders, in his opinion, the conduct of its business hazardous to its shareholders, creditors or depositors, shall fail to take the proper action required by this act, or shall refuse or neglect to perform the official duties pertaining to his office, then upon conviction thereof the office of such commissioner shall be declared vacant by the governor, and a successor be appointed to fill the unexpired term.

Assessments for salaries and support.

SEC. 14. To meet the salaries and expenses provided for by this act, the commissioner shall require every association, corporation or society licensed by him or coming under his supervision to pay in advance, to him; and prior to the issuance of any license, its pro rata amount of all such salaries and expenses, and it is hereby made the duty of every such association, corporation or society to pay the same; such pro rata shall be fixed and determined by the proportion which its assets bear to the aggregate assets of all such associations, corporations, or societies, receiving licenses, as shown by the last reports of such corporations, associations, or societies to the commissioner. On or before the thirtieth day of December, in each year, the commissioner shall notify each of such associations, corporations or societies, through the United States mail, of the amount assessed and levied against it and that the same must be paid within twenty days thereafter; and should payment not be made to him within said twenty days, he shall then assess and collect a penalty, in addition thereto, of ten per cent per day for each day that such payment may be delayed or withheld; provided, however, that in the levy and collection of such assessment, no such association, corporation or society shall be assessed for, nor be permitted to pay less than ten dollars per annum, and any such association hereafter formed in this state, shall be required to pay not less than one dollar per month for the unexpired term ending December thirty-first, succeeding application; and in like manner any such association organized outside this state shall be required to pay not less than three dollars per month, for such unexpired term, for its first license.

SEC. 15. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to require every such association, corporation or society coming under his supervision, to procure from him, prior to the transaction of any business, a certificate of authority or license to transact business in this state; and it is hereby made the duty of every association, corporation or society to comply with such requirement. To procure such license, there must be filed with and approved by the commissioner, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, constitution and by-laws and all subsequent amendments thereto, accompanied by the license fee herein provided for; and after the expiration of the term for which a license may have been granted to it, no such association, corporation or society shall be permitted to continue to transact business without first procuring a renewal of such license on the terms provided in this act, and any such association, corporation or society violating the provisions hereof shall be subject to a penalty of ten per cent per day of the amount of the license fee required to be paid under section fourteen of this act, in addition thereto, for each day during the continuance of such offense. The commissioner is authorized and empowered to revoke the license of any such association, corporation or society under his supervision, the solvency whereof may have become imperiled by losses or irregularities; and immediately upon the revoking of any such license he shall report the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon take such proceedings as are provided in section nine of this act.

Agents' licenses and renewals.

SEC. 15a. No person receiving compensation therefor, other than an officer, director or salaried employee, no part of whose compensation consists of commissions, or other than a local resident agent who has resided in the county in which he holds such local agency for a period of not less than one year prior to the time that he took such agency, of a building and loan association or other similar corporation or society which is duly licensed by the commissioner, shall act as solicitor or agent for the sale of the shares of stock, shares of membership, certificates or other securities or forms of investment issued by, or for the securing of loans from any such association, corporation or society until he has first procured from the commissioner a license therefor. To obtain such license there must be filed with the commissioner a duplicate of the authorization or appointment issued to him by, together with a request from, a licensed association, corporation or society that a license be issued to him to act as an agent or solicitor for it, and accompanied by a fee of one dollar. All such licenses shall expire by limitation on the thirtieth day of June succeeding their issue, but may be renewed from time to time, for an additional period of one year upon a request therefor from the association, corporation or society originally applying, and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar. Any such license may be revoked at any time on the application of the association, corporation or society for whom it was issued, or may be revoked by the commissioner for cause.

The commissioner shall keep an alphabetical list of the names of persons to whom such licenses are issued with the date of issue and renewal, and the name of the association, corporation or society for whom such licensee is authorized to act. All such licenses shall be issued under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. (In effect July 27, 1917.)

Bonds of officers to be filed with the commissioner.

SEC. 15b. The commissioner shall require all officers and employees of every association, corporation or society licensed by him or coming under his supervision, having access to moneys or negotiable securities of such association, corporation or society in the regular discharge of their duties, before entering upon their duties and throughout the entire term of office and employment, and any subsequent term of office or employment, of such officers or employees to give to the employing association, corporation or society a good and sufficient bond. Such bond shall indemnify such association, corporation, or society against loss of money or property by reason of any dishonesty on the part of said officers or employees covered. The commissioner shall prescribe the amount and form of said bond and the term during which it shall run, and the sufficiency of the surety or sureties thereon shall at all times be subject to the approval of the commissioner. Each of such officers and employees shall renew his bond upon the expiration of its term. The commissioner may at any time require an additional bond or security, when, in his opinion, any such bond then in force is insufficient. All such bonds shall be filed in the commissioner's office.

The provisions of this section shall be considered to be the latest legislative expression upon the matters herein contained, irrespective of any other bill or law heretofore enacted, and it is intended that the provisions of the same shall supersede the provisions of chapter twenty of the laws of 1929. Articles of incorporation—Must be approved.

SEC. 15c. Before the articles of incorporation of any building and loan association, hereafter desiring to incorporate, under the laws of this state, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California, there must be attached thereto, the certificate of approval of the building and loan commissioner. Such proposed articles shall be submitted to the commissioner, and upon receipt of same, he shall immediately examine into all the facts connected with the formation of such intended corporation, including its location, and proposed incorporators. If it appears to him that such corporation, if formed, will be entitled to commence the business for which it is organized, and authorized under the law to conduct, the commissioner shall execute his certificate of approval; provided, however, that the commissioner may refuse to execute such certificate, if, upon his examination and investigation, he has reason to believe that the proposed corporation is to be formed for any business, other than legitimate building and loan business, or that the persons proposing to incorporate such corporation, lack the character and general fitness to engage in such business; and provided, further, however, that the commissioner shall not issue such certificate until he has given written notice by mail to every building and loan association licensed by him having a name raising the presumption hereinafter mentioned, directed to it with postage thereon prepaid, at its office at its principal place of business in this state, that an application for the issuance by him of such certificate has been made, together with the name of the proposed corporation applying therefor, and that a hearing will be held by him at his office at a time to be therein specified, which shall not be less than ten days after the mailing thereof, and the commissioner shall give such notices, and at the time and place specified in said notices shall hold a hearing at which any person, firm or corporation may appear in person or by agent, or attorney, and orally or in writing show cause why such certificate should not be granted upon the ground that the name of such proposed corporation is the same as one already adopted or appropriated by any building and loan association then existing in this state, or so similar thereto as to be likely to mislead the public, and if, upon such hearing or his examination or investigation, the commissioner shall have reason to believe that the name of the proposed corporation is the same as one already adopted or appropriated by any building and loan association then existing in this state, or so similar thereto as to be likely to mislead the public, he shall refuse to issue the said certificate, and the commissioner shall conclusively presume that the use of any word or words in the name of the proposed corporation the same as or similar in spelling or sound to any word or words already adopted, appropriated, or used in its corporate name by any building and loan association then existing in this state, except the words: "the," "and," "mutual," "guaranty," "guarantee," "building," "loan," "association," "company," "society," or "corporation," constitutes such similarity of names as to be likely to mislead the public; provided, further, however, that if any and all building and loan associations then existing in this state causing such presumption file consent in writing thereto with the commissioner, the commissioner may nevertheless issue such certificate; provided, further, however, that before any articles of incorporation amended to set forth a new name of any incorporated building and loan association shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of the State of California, or before any petition for a change of name of any incorporated building and loan association in this state is heard or granted by any court in this state, such corporation shall attach to said amended articles of incorporation, or present to and file with such court at the hearing, as the case may be, the certificate of approval of the building and loan commissioner of the new name proposed for said corporation, and said certificate shall only be granted by the commissioner, after and upon the same notice, proceedings, and reasons to believe, and subject to the same rules, presumptions and restrictions as hereinabove set forth in relation to the matters of the name of a proposed corporation. (Effective August 14, 1929.)

Any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Upon action brought by the commissioner, the court may also issue an injunction, restraining any person, firm, company, copartnership, or corporation from continuing to violate any provision of this section. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary and at any time upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller. (In effect July 24, 1925.)

Sec. 2. Loans will only be made upon the security of a first mortgage or deed of trust of real estate, the several classes of bonds named in section 647 of the Civil Code, and upon the security or pledge of free "Membership shares," or "Investment certificates" of this association.

Sec. 3. Loans upon the security of membership shares or investment certificates shall not be made in excess of ninety per cent of the withdrawal value of such shares or certificates.

Sec. 4. Loans made for a definite period on the installment plan may be repaid at any time by paying the balance then unpaid on the principal and all arrears of interest, if any. The corporation reserves the right to charge a penalty of two months' interest on the unpaid balance if repaid within one year from date of note, or a penalty of one months' interest on the unpaid balance if repaid after one year from date of the note but in advance of the time set forth in the contract.

Sec. 5. Whenever a borrower shall be three months in arrears in the payment of his interest or loan installments, unless otherwise provided in the note, the whole loan shall become due, at the option of the board of directors, and they may proceed to enforce collection upon the securities held by the corporation. The withdrawal value of all shares or certificates pledged as collateral security shall be applied in part payment of the loan and said shares or certificates shall be deemed canceled and surrendered to the corporation.

Sec. 6. All expenses incident to abstracts, examinations of title, execution of papers, attorney's fees, or sale of securities pledged as security for loans or advances, shall be paid by the party offering the security or securing the loan.

Sec. 7. Borrowers must furnish, at their own expense, acceptable policies of fire insurance on all improved realty pledged as security for loans granted, with the usual mortgage clause making loss, if any, payable to the corporation, as its interest may appear.

ARTICLE XII

PENALTIES

These certificates may be transferred by assignment, in person or by an attorney, but no such assignment shall be valid, except between the parties thereto until duly entered upon the books of the corporation. A transfer fee of ten cents for each share or certificate transferred will be charged by the corporation.

Sec. 2. In the event of loss of any certificates of stock, membership shares or investment certificates, the recorded owner shall be entitled to a duplicate upon making an affidavit setting forth the facts of the loss and the filing of an acceptable bond, with two or more sureties, in an amount equal to the book value of the certificate lost.

Sec. 3. The board of directors may provide that partial withdrawals, made "mid-term" shall not participate in the earnings on the amount withdrawn, that shall have accumulated since the last apportionment of profits.

RECENT RULINGS OF THE BUILDING AND LOAN COMMISSIONER ISSUED TO ALL ASSOCIATIONS

Entrance Fees

The following order of the Commissioner was issued under date of July 22, 1927:

To all building and loan associations of California—Because of the number of complaints coming to this office regarding building and loan stock selling agents in various parts of the state, who either fail to properly explain that the entrance fee is not returnable to the investor, or who sell a greater number of shares to an individual than it is reasonable to expect can be paid for from his income, it has become necessary for me to lay down certain rules for the benefit of all concerned.

It is therefore ordered and directed, that on and after August 1, 1927, all entrance fees, or initial payments made to agents on installment investment certificates, installment certificates of stock, or installment membership shares, must be sent to the home office, and an office record made of the same. Immediately upon receipt of such funds, the secretary of the association shall communicate with the subscriber for such installment shares, or certificates, not only acknowledging receipt of same, but must inform the investor of the nature of his contract, and specifically call his attention to the fact that the membership fee is not returnable; or, if it is, under what terms. If within a reasonable time thereafter the subscriber sets forth that he was not properly informed by the selling agent as regards the membership fee and the withdrawal value of his shares or certificates, the association must cancel his contract and return the fee or initial payment. If, on the other hand, the investor acknowledges by his answer that he understands the terms of his contract, or gives tacit assent thereto by his silence, the company may accept the subscription and pay the agent his stipulated fee.

Seven Per Cent Full Paid Certificates

On January 30, 1929, the commissioner sent the following letter to the various associations:

In my opinion the time has arrived when building and loan associations of California, irrespective of size or location, should immediately cease issuing 7 per cent, full paid investment certificates, whether they are for a term or withdrawable on the customary notice being filed.

I consider it an unsafe condition for any association to issue certificates upon which more than 6 per cent is promised. As I consider it now an unsafe practice for any association to issue such 7 per cent full paid certificates, I shall take advantage of section 9 of the Building and Loan Commission Act, which authorizes me, when I find an unsafe condition, to order and direct a discontinuance of the practices which I consider unsafe.

You are therefore hereby ordered and directed to issue no more full paid investment certificates after February 1, 1929, promising more than 6 per cent interest per annum thereon.

Section 9 of the Building and Loan Commission Act reads, in part, as follows:

“If the commissioner, as the result of any examination, or from any report made to him * * * shall find that any association, corporation or society licensed by him, is violating the provisions of its charter or of the laws of this state provided for its government, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he may, by an order addressed to the association, corporation or society so offending, direct a discontinuance of such violations of unsafe practices and a conformity with all the requirements of law; * * *.”

This order applies to new business only. A prompt compliance therewith will be appreciated.

Sale of Guarantee Capital Stock

Under date of June 10, 1929, the following order was issued:

Your attention is called to the fact that Senate Bill No. 874 has been signed by Governor Young and goes into force and effect on or about August 15, 1929.

One of the important features of this measure is that providing a building and loan association, incorporated with guarantee capital stock, “shall not sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any of its guarantee capital stock, until it shall have first applied for and secured from the Building and Loan Commissioner a permit authorizing it so to do * * *. The Commissioner may impose conditions governing the placing of such stock and may limit the expense in connection with the sale thereof,” etc., etc. The Commissioner may also “amend, alter, or revoke, any permit issued by him.”

While the provisions of the act enumerated above do not go into effect for some time to come, nevertheless I deem it proper at this time (and in order to give all associations now selling permanent capital stock due notice) to rule that no more than $5 per share will ever be allowed as a selling charge. I do not believe such ruling on the part of this office will ever work a hardship on those desirous of engaging in the building and loan business, but will be the means of preventing promotion that is liable to be detrimental.

Misleading Advertising Matter

The following instructions were issued on August 9, 1929:

To all building and loan associations of California—Because of the many errors and misleading statements made by building and loan associations in printed circulars and in newspaper and other advertising matter, it is hereby ordered and directed that all associations which have been in operation for less than one year must submit to this office proofs of all advertisements for newspapers, magazines, circulars, etc., before same are printed or published.

All associations located south of the Tehachapi, and south of San Luis Obispo County on the coast, may submit such proofs to our Los Angeles office, and those north thereof to our San Francisco office.
